

A very special birthday

MICHAEL IVANIN / OAKVILLE BEAVER

100 YEARS YOUNG: Audrey Webb Turner (nee Leaver) was born on Valentine's Day 1912. The long-time member of St. John's United Church celebrated her 100th birthday at Queens Avenue Retirement Residence surrounded by loved ones and friends. Above, Lucy Collier congratulates her great-grandmother, as Audrey's children Susan Eskein, left, Wendy Janisse and John Webb look on. Audrey has 12 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren. She attributes her longevity to hard work, good genes and attention to her health.

Individual Freedom

It's sometimes hard to do all the things you're capable of when you always seem caught up in things you have to do; like home chores, meals and cleaning. Not at Delmanor. You'll discover the individual freedom you've earned as we tend to the drudgery of daily living: laundry, meals, cleaning and even medication management if you wish. That gives you time to enjoy all the amenities, events and excursions that are yours for the asking. After all, in our Tridel inspired retirement community we wouldn't have it any other way. Now that's freedom.
