THE Victor Wringer,

Is brought before the public with the fullest confidence that it will meet the wants of all in need of a

FIRST-CLASS WRINGER!

The power is applied upon an entirely new principle, requiring only one half the power to turn of other Wringers. A child can wring a bed quilt with the Victor as easily as a towel by ordinary wringers. The rolls are SOLID WHITE RUBBER to the shaft, and put on by a process which makes them immoveable on the shaft; the shafts are geared upon both ends so that no strain comes upon the Clothes, which is very desirable, particularly if the articles are much worn or of a delicate nature. The handles are put on in a manner peculiar to the Victor, turning in either direction with equal facility; most wringers have the handles screwed on the shaft and if the Machine gets clogged, and the handles are turned back it unscrews, causing great trouble. This is entirely obviated in the construction of the VICTOR WRINGER.

CITY AND VICINITY

☞ GOLD in New York at 3 o'clock 116½

K. & P. RR.—A train arrives nightly with a full load of iron ore from the Bedford mines. The Grand Trunk esplanade is used for docking purposes.

REFLECTIONS.—A few nights since Cataraqui Ward had an illumination from a fire in the march. Last night a bright reflection indicated a big fire in Pittsburg.

SWIFT'S WHARF.—Steamers calling: Spartan, from Montreal; Corsican, from Hamilton; Kincardine from Oswego; Magnet from Ogdensburg; and Persia, from St. Catharines.

AT THE ISLAND.—The schooner Bismarck, which, with the Mystic Star, injured in the last heavy gale, were to be surveyed to-day, previous to repairing at Garden Island.

NO GO.—The excursion of the Oddfellows of Ogdensburg, advertised to take place yesterday, did not come off. There was a hitch somewere between the steamer and the Society. We appoint the Enterprise to investigate and report.

EXHIBITION RUSH!—Citizens will please remember that in a few days the Central Fair rush will begin, followed by a stove pipe rush. It therefore behoves customers to leave orders for stove piping at once at George Cliff's new store on Clarence street.

MISSIONARY SERVICES.—The Rev. J. F. Porter left town to-day to attend the P. M. missionary services in the county—at Colinsby to-night, in Ebenezer Chapel; at York Road meeting house to-morrow (Thursday) evening, and at Sharpton on Friday evening.

CLEANING UP.—The Corporation men are improving the looks of the back streets by trimming and cleaning up the sides thereof. The streets in several places require leveling badly. Numerous ruts or gaps want filling, and the macadam broken (notably on Princess street) to a more reasonable size.

THE LEVEE.—The City Hall is receiving a few dressing touches to-day in preparation for the Levee which will be given by the Y.I.C.B. Association in honor of the Grand Council, now in session here. It is intended to make the event a enjoyable as possible, and one that will be happily remembered by the guests.

PERSONAL.—Mr. A. Livingstone, one of the Welland Canal arbitrators, is at present on a short visit home here. He reports fair progress on the eastern section of the canal, but the most important part of the work has yet to be undertaken. The claims of the property owners are not so easily investigated and settled.

THE PARK.—The Band of "A" Battery discoursed an excellent musical programme in the Park last evening. The delightful temperature and moonlight enticed out a very large attendance. It is discouraging to reflect that these pleasant weekly entertainments must soon cease. They cannot be too much appreciated.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Monday as the Royal Mail steamer "Algerian" was approaching Hamilton a French Canadian named Fournier, a deck hand, was killed by becoming entangled in the rope and bound and strangled to the shaft of the hoisting engine. The deceased was the sole support of a lone and widowed mother.

SAD.—The number of sad-eyed, weary-limbed citizens to be seen on the street daily is very suggestive of the fact that base ball, purely as a means of exercise, is a mournful delusion and a hollow mockery. The same amount of muscle expended in cutting wood would bring sunshine to hundreds of panic-stricken homes.

TO-NIGHT.—It is to be hoped there will be a large and enthusiastic meeting of yachtsmen to-night, and that the arrangements regarding the regatta may be complete and satisfactory. There is no time to waste if we are to have a good attendance of the yachts entered for the Belleville Regatta of Monday next. We hope to record the meeting of this evening as a successful one.

'BETTER.—The "sports" of the police force are improving their aim by rising early and taking a few shots at the flock of pigeons which make a roost of the portico of the City Buildings. Yesterday morning a couple of the boys brought down twelve. The infraction of the by-law is pardonable inasmuch as the lodgement of the birds about the entrances to the buildings is becoming an unmitigated nuisance.

THE AMATEUR RACES.—The Committee are at work for next Saturday's sports on the water. The subscribers of last week are doubling their contributions gladly, and the prizes will therefore be of much greater value. Besides the ladies are preparing special prizes. Open races will be held for single and double sculls, another press race, a boy's race, and a bankers' race for a prize given by Mr. H Cunningham. If there be good weather there will be a full afternoon's pleasure.

RACE.—On Saturday next Ryan, of Brockville, and McLoughlin, of this city, will run a hundred yards race for $100 a side. Ryan is the same runner who beat McLoughlin at the St. Lawrence Park on the occasion of the late Shamrock Society's pic-nic; but then McLoughlin labored under disadvantages against which he will not have to cotend here. He is fleet-footed, when in training can make fast time, and being at present in excellent trim, Ryan will find him a worthy rival. McLoughlin's friends are backing him liberally.

RIFLE MATCHES.

The annual matches of the Kingston Rifle Association commenced yesterday on Barriefield Common. The attendance was very good—that of marksmen being especially fine, many of those who lately took part in the Ottawa matches entering the competition. In this respect the matches of this Association were never more successful. The weather yesterday was indeed very favourable. At times the wind was puffy, but not to affect the shooting to any extent. The opening shot was fired by Col. Jarvis, D.A.G. The All Comers' and Association matches were fired yesterday, of which the scores are appended; those of to-day are the Carruthers cup, Nos. 4 and 5, and the Consolation Match.

ALL COMERS' MATCH.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.—A very pleasant monthly meeting of this Society was held in the Vestry room of this church. A large number of members and their friends were present. After introductory religious services, several new members were added to the list and arrangements made for the distribution to members in good standing of a medal or badge in bronze, bearing on one side a figure of St. George slaying the dragon, and on the other the motto "Temperance in all things" or drink, do not touch, taste, handle." These medals are to remain the property of the Society, but are to be entrusted to those who have continued for three months constant to their pledges of total abstinence. After the conclusion of routine business an hour's entertainment was afforded to those present. Mrs. Corbett sang with much good taste and effect two songs of an appropriate character to the favorite old airs of "The last rose of Summer," and "Home, Sweet Home." A song was also most pleasingly contributed by Miss Katie Wilson. The church choir, accompanied on the harmonium by Mr. Reynor, added to the musical portion of the entertainment. To the literary portion, contributions were made by Mr. R. V. Rogers and Mr. John Robinson. The story read by the former gave account of a sign painter, who, when rather muddled, painted a sign for the "Green Dragon" Tavern, announcing "Finales," a mistake which led on his attention being called to it, to his making a finale to his bad habits. The other reading then, appropriately but accidentally, was "The last Glass." The Rev. F. W. Kirkpatrick then gave "A Railway Story from Germany" of much interest. Cards, medals, periodicals and tracts, lately received from England, from the Church of England Temperance Society, were then exhibited, and after a pleasant evening the meeting separated to meet again on the evening of the 2nd Tuesday in October.

SHORTS.—The election of the Hon. R. Beaven at Victoria city, B.C., is heralded as a victory for the Walkem government. Tramp, tramp, boys; walk 'em down!—The prospective judges of the baby show of the Kingston Central Fair are obliged to the Oswego Palladium for a suggestion. It is to leave town immediately after the inspection and telegraph their decisions from Fort Pelly, beyond Manitoba.—It seems like a vengeance on a ship owner's mockery of the elements to hear that the equinoctial of Friday upset the propellor "Equinox" with the loss of nineteen of her crew and three passengers.—The Ogdensburg Oddfellows are to-day tripping it out on the "Admiral." If they would only come up here we would show them how easy it is to be civil to visitors.—Tilton's lecture in Toronto is looked upon as a judgment for its outrage and abortion wickednesses of late.—The genial air, the calm and bright moon made last night quite heavenly. Everybody was out to enjoy it.—We call the Brockville Enterprise to order. It speaks of the Toronto Sun having been the spiciest daily in the Dominion. Sit down, sir! Sprightly Daily News is not to be slandered in this way—The monster Conservative Pic-nic for Kingston and the Bay is still beneath the horizon of coming events. It is too bad—for Wandering Willie will spoil it unless he does not soon receive another opportunity to speak.

THE CHAMPION PLUMS.—Eggs are out of season, and Mr. Harry Hitchen's hens will please cease their cackling; every body knows that they can beat all creation. Mammoth plums will now take their turn. Those brought to us by Messrs. Stacey and Stewart were very fine, each as large as the best peach you can see here this year, but to-day Mr. Alexander Gunn's gardener presented a basket lot which, both for size and quality, are entitled to equal distinction. In quantity they are excellent, a very important consideration with such careful, practical judges as you find in a newspaper office. We back these last plums against the whole city and county.

CHALLENGES.—A challenge has gone forth for a match between the St. Lawrence Brown Stockings and the Young Earls. There is a challenge between the Beavers and Earls for Saturday week. Decision has not been made in either case. The different clubs are anxious to wind up the season in as lively a manner as possible.

A Wedding Party.

DEAR WHIG,—It was about 10 p.m. that it was seen wending its way to a northern quarter of the city, and evidently it had come but a short distance. One cab had an amusing load, each seat being well filled, and, stretched from door to door, with feet and head projecting from either side of the cab, was a young man. His face, rendered haggard and pale by the moonlight and a white cloth with which his head was bound, might have been taken for that of a corpse but for the peals of merriment from others of the party. They arrived at the new home of the "happy pair," and while all within went "merry as a wedding bell," some mischief-loving boys, ever cognizant of an opportunity for fun, were busy with their endeavours to make good their part in the proceedings. Now it chanced that at the door the phaeton—one of ancient construction, which had been used by a few of the happy party, and as baggage waggon—contained numerous portable seats, robes, and a quantity of straw. These our industrious young friends proceeded to unload, and having formed a barricade of huge stones against the door, they piled them over all and retired to watch the sport. Meantime two of the bridal party had gone in quest of some water. A rather shallow, open well, at quite a distance, was the "spring" they sought, and the gallant young man finding no well-hook, attempted to descend the well, and when, as he thought, he had reached the bottom, he made one careful plunge, then raised the pail, but all in vain, for still the water was without a ripple, calm and shining as before. His fair companion not wishing to see him thus toiled, took off an outside wrapper and passed it down to him. This trial was a success, and now with lingering steps they turned to regain their friends, who by this time were safely imprisoned, all efforts to move the barricade from within having proved of no avail. What might have been the consequence had the young wife been obliged to lodge so numerous a company of friends the reader must imagine. The young man again proved himself a hero, and by his vigorous efforts the captives were released. Those boys should think before they add to the terrors of the matrimonial state. They may some day get there themselves.

Very truly yours,
YOUNG BACHELOR.

Sept. 15th, 1875.

TUTOR OFF PERAMBULATING.—People occasionally give you instances of the schoolmasters being abroad, but there never was a genuine case of absence till a Kingston gentleman on Tuesday struck on the following while passing alongside of a Gananoque fence. He claims the prize for orthographical distinction on this occasion, and meanwhile we will add it to our museum of natural curiosities:—

"Take notice Notice that the undersigned will Sell By action stove table bedstead and some other things to numeris to mension and saved for rent and will be Sold at the provincial hall at the our of one Clack noon on Monday twinth of september 1875 except the oner cams and pays up and take them away. C M Giuern."

TEMPERANCE.—Queen Victoria has authorized the following reply to a request that she become Patron of the Church of England Temperance Society, a branch of which exists in Kingston in St. James Church:—

"Her Majesty has already expressed her opinion in favor of the objects which the Society desires to promote, and consents to become patron of it, organized as it appears to be on a basis which includes all who advocate temperance without insisting necessarily on total abstinence. The Queen trusts that education and the enlightenment of the people, together with the improvement of their, moral and physical condition, will gradually do much to induce temperance, and to diminish the evils complained of."

BEAUTIFUL.—The weather has taken a pleasant change. As a newspaper writer feelingly puts it: "Of late people have been scrambling about at nights looking for additional bedclothes, but the bright sun has put a more cheering face on things generally, and the day of frozen waterpipes and skatorial contests has been put off to a more convenient season. The young folks can embrace the opportunity afforded by the pleasurable change in the weather to indulge in that practice dear to the feminine heart and promenade to their full content."

REGATTAS.—The Belleville people have subscribed $545 towards their regatta, making, they claim, the richest prizes offered at any place in Canada. Sailing and yachting is evidently the favorite in Belleville, judging from this result, which is one of which the managers of the regatta should feel very proud. We hope our yachtsmen will make the embryo Kingston regatta as attractive as possible.

HARD.—During the past few days several families of travelling vagrants have visited and made a canvass of the city for assistance. It would be an injustice to some of them to say that they are not needy, a few really merited kind assistance, but unfortunately there are so many of the lazy sort imposing upon the public that cool receptions are only what may be expected.

RETURNED.—Major Cotton, of "A" Battery, who was second in command of the Wimbledon, Canadian team has returned. He was just in time to enter the Rifle matches which opened yesterday and are in progress to day. He gives a satisfactory an interesting account of his trip and visit to England.

LEGACY.—Mr. Thomas Savage, William street, received a letter by the English mail covering a draft for a considerable amount, the proceeds of a legacy left to him by a near relative. Mrs. Waldron and her brothers were the recipients of a handsome sum from the same source a short time ago.

THE APPEAL.—Yesterday the appeal against the decision of the umpire in the Toronto Base Ball match was sent to the New York Clipper, which will likely make its award in the next issue. Acting strictly on the rules of the game, Kingston will surely get the benefit of the appeal.

GOOD FOR THE EAST.—It is now stated that the completed list shows that the entries in every department of the Provincial Exhibition (to open on Monday next) are larger than in any former year, excepting in stock.

POLICE COURT.

Dullness predominates everywhere except at the police station, and were it not for this social retreat newspaper men might languish and fade away, for without it life would lose its charms, its sentimentalism and sunshine. The balmy atmosphere and pleasantry of nature would fail to be appreciated without it. The sociality of the station is as good as food, and wine and medicine, and it has just such an effect upon those limbs of society denoted the members of the press.

A little late the Whig scribe hastened to join the usual orgies preceding the dispensation of justice by him who holds the scales in his hand and weighs out the costly article firmly and fairly. He was just in time to see the band play the occupants of the cells upstairs, the following impromtu lines being set to the music of "John Brown's song:"

There lies the whisky-bottle empty on the shelf,
There lies the whisky-bottle empty on the shelf,
There lies the whisky-bottle empty on the shelf,
But there's some more in the Demi-John.
Oh, bummers, don't you leave us,
Oh, bummers, don't you leave us,
Oh, bummers, don't you leave us,
We'll soon go marching on.

The Sergt.-Major quelled the rising enthusiasm of the audience by a graceful waft of the hand, which had more meaning that can be explicitly expressed in words.

Nugent mounted the railing; Tim Lane shouldered the baton, and looked every inch a military man; Grey yawned and leaned up against the door; the Sergt.-Major rested one leg on the end of the table, and the Chief leaned back and sat silent and thoughtful while the P.M. prepared himself for the customary sacrifice which, though differently conducted from those of ancient date and scriptural mention, have a something similar effect upon the moral and immoral tendencies of the community.

John Blonden will never forget the scene of which he was the central figure. Being of French origin and partly deaf he figured very poorly. He had been getting outside of too much good cheer, and this ain't much of a time for good cheer either.

The P.M.—What have you to say for yourself?

John—Aye! Nobody. Lane saw that the man hadn't got hold of the right notion, and placing one hand on his bald crown, the other on his chin, the whisker surrounding which looked like an Elizabethan frill, he repeated the question of the P.M. in a mild but emphatic form.

John—Aye! Prescott.

Tim—Prescott be be jiggers. Were he drunk?

Tim spoke in a louder tone but John understood not. He looked childlike and bland.

Then Wooten chirped in his ear, and still no go. The Sergt.-Major began to feel uneasy. He got off the ragged edge of the counter, and approaching the prisoner indulged in a unintelligible chat by means of one of McEvoy's Hibernicon bills, which he rolled up horn-like, connecting the delicate ear of the one with the sweet and honied lips of the other, but through which he failed to communicate the thunder of the Court. Hoyle raised his trombone to spake a piece, but the P.M. forbade, and rather curtly ordered his dismissal. Three of the bandmen helped him out doors, and they seemed in a deuce of a hurry about it too.

Joseph Beaupre wasn't entered upon the voters' list, and he couldn't understand why he should be taxed $2. He remarked, however, that he supposed that was politics.

Gray—You bet. Pass in your checks and step down and out.

John Percy, William Percy and William Stacey were caught in the very act of laying hands on some of Gunn's ounce plumbs. They had been nabbed before they had commenced business.

The P.M., addressing them said: I only wish there was a law in Canada like that in England, which gave me the power to have you flogged, you wouldn't want to see me more'n once. But rest assured I'll make it bad for you should I ever see you again here—six months picking oakun and chewing hemlock bark will a kind of tame you down. You all want what McCoy got last night—a real smart lacing. I hope the gardener will throw a thrashing in the next time beside arrest. Clear out of here you young pests, or by my faith I may make you feel unpleasant.

The allegations of Mrs. Stephenson against Mrs. somebody else didn't receive an airing. The complainant did not appear, and the case collapsed. The P.M. gently intimated to the fair defendant that perhaps it would be as well to use their pans for their legitimate purposes, from which our reporter inferred that instead of pulling hair, as women generally do when they come in collision, they have been bladding each other with their kitchen utensils. Hardware was on the rise.

And thus ended another of those performances which, though old, are as interesting as ever. Led by the frisky S. M. the bobbies sang "God Save the Queen" as the P.M. bowed his departure.

Y.I.C.B.A.—The Grand Council of the Young Irishmen's Catholic Benevolent Association, which opened here yesterday afternoon, continue in session to-day. The preliminary business has been gone through, and the election of officers for the current year took place this morning, with the following result, viz.: Grand President—J. Giblin, Toronto; 1st Vice President—Jos. Griffin, Peterboro; 2nd Vice President—J. Fannin, Kingston; Secretary-Treasurer—J. Spearman, London. This afternoon the Convention have been engaged in revising the Constitution, and it is expected the session will be brought to a close to-night or early to-morrow.

NOT HEFTY.—Oswego and Syracuse are not old thunder on cricket. The two cities played against each other on Monday, and Syracuse scored 22 in one inning and 40 in the other—62 in all. Oswego's 56, second 7, total 63, with 8 wickets to spare.

THE "MAUD."—This trim little steamer is on the Marine Railway receiving a little caulking, sundry small repairs and repainting. She will be off and ready for service on Thursday.

BASE BALL NOTES.

The Tecumsehs of London are off on a tour, with the following appointments:—

Detroit, Etnas, on Monday, 20th; Jackson, Mutuals, Tuesday, 21st; Kalamazoo, Wednesday, 22nd; Guelph, Maple Leafs, for the championship, Friday, 24th.

The New Haven professionals have disbanded for the season.

Professional Games.—St. Louis Browns, 6; Hartfords, 0. Philadelphia Atlantics, 13, Mutuals, 3; New Havens, 13; Atlantics, 6.

A friendly game of base ball was played at Westbrook on Saturday last between the Blue Stockings of Storrington and Frontenac Boys of Westbrook, resulting in an easy victory for the latter—56 to 23. After play was over both clubs, together with their friends, were invited to the Temperance Hall where an elegant supper had been prepared by the young ladies of the village. After justice had been done to the good things and a vote of thanks given to the ladies, the Storrington boys went home fully satisfied with the manner they were used. Mr. J. Shepherd of Storrington acted as umpire.

Liver Complaint.

The Liver is the great deputating (purifying) organ of the system, and his very appropriately been termed the "housekeeper" of our health. I have observed in the dissecting-room, and also in making post-mortem examinations of the bodies of those who have died of different diseases, that in a large proportion of cases, the liver has given evidence of having some time been diseased. Liver affections are equally prevalent in beasts. Every butcher knows that the livers of cattle, sheep, and swine, are ten times as frequently diseased as any other organ. A healthy liver each day secrets about two and a half pounds of bile. When it becomes torpid, congested, or if, from any cause, it be disabled in the performance of its duties, it is evident that the elements of the bile must remain in the blood, thus irritating, poisoning, and preverting, every vital process. Nature attempts to rid the system of those noxious materials by means of other organs, as the kidneys, lungs, skin, etc., which become overtaxed in performing their additional labor, and are unable to withstand the pressure.

The brain, which is the great electrical centre of all vitality, becomes overstimulated with unhealthy blood, and fails to normally perform its functions. Hence there is dullness, headache, impairment of the memory, dizziness, gloomy forebodings, and irritability of temper. When the blood is diseased, the skin manifests discolored spots, pimples, blotches, boils, carbuncles, and scrofulous tumors. The stomach and bowels, sooner or later, become affected—and constipation, piles, dropsy, dyspepsia, or diarrhœa, is the inevitable result.

SYMPTOMS OF LIVER COMPLAINT.

A yellow color of the skin, or yellowish-brown spots on the face and other parts of the body; dullness and drowsiness, with frequent headache; dizziness bitter or bad taste in the mouth, dryness of the throat, and internal heat; palpitation of the heart, a dry, teasing cough, sore throat unsteady appetite, sour stomach, raising of the food, and a choking sensation in the throat: sickness and vomiting, distress heaviness, and a bloated, or full feeling about the stomach and sides; aggravating pains in the sides, back, or breast, and about the shoulders; colic pains and soreness through the bowels; constipation, alterning with diarrhœa; piles, flatulence nervousness, coldness of the extremities, rush of blood of the head, with symptoms of apoplexy; numbness of the limbs especially at night, and chills, alternating with hot flashes; kidney and other urinary difficulties, dullness, low spirits and gloomy forbodings. Only a few of these symptoms will be likely to be present in any case at one time.

TREATMNET.—Take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, with small doses of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets, which act as an alterative on the liver. For Liver Complaint and the various affections caused by a diseased liver, these remedies are upsurpassed. The Golden Medical Discovery does not simply palliate the disease, but it produces a lasting effect. By its use, the liver and stomach are changed to an active, healthy state, the appetite is regulated, the blood purified and enriched, and the entire system renovated and restored to health.
