CITY AND VICINITY

☞ GOLD in New York at 3 o'clock 117¼

SWIFT'S WHARF.—The Corinthian and propellor Lake Ontario passed up from Montreal to Hamilton.

THE Kingston and Pembroke cars left ar four o'clock this morning, taking a quantity of freight to Harrowsmith.

OPENING.—Rev. H. Wilson will preach one of the opening sermons in the new St. George's Church, Belleville, on the 10th of Oct.

THERE are seasons for all dainties. Fruit is going out, and kippered herrings and Yarmouth bloaters come to the fore, smiling through Begg & Co's. advt.

THE EPIZOO is working this way. It has reached Brockville on one side, and St. Catharines on the other. It travels fast.

NEW PLANK WALKS.—New walks have been laid on King street, east side; on Clergy street, where greatly wanted, west side, and on Division street, west side, all between Brock and Princess streets.

THE DAMAGE.—The "Passport" had two plates on the port bow stove in about two feet above the water line, and sustained several small breaks in the upper work by the accident in the Beauharnois Canal.

JOSH BILLINGS.—The celebrated humorist lectures at Ottawa on the 11th, Kingston 12th, Cobourg 13th, Toronto, 14th, Belleville 15th, Brantford, 18th. He talks at some of the places about milk, in others on Hotels.

THE SECOND.—"It is now time to begin that interesting task—putting up stoves. Remember the second commandment!" Thus the Cobourg Star sounds the note of warning. We hope they are not given to worshipping stoves up there, however.

Y.M.C.A.—The eighth annual Convention opened yesterday, according to programme, in Montreal. Kingston was represented by Messrs. B. W. Robertson, G. B. Meadows, R. Mackay, W. C. Sands, F. Sharpe, Henry Savage, M. Gage and Chas. Tossell.

THE SERVICES.—Special religious services are being held daily this week in connection with the Roman Catholic Council now in session in Toronto. Rev. Dr. Chisholm, one of Bishop O'Brien's theologians preached on Tuesday morning on the sacrament of penance.

LOW FREIGHTS.—Vessels are now shipping grain from this port to Oswego, at one cent per bushel, which is a low enough rate surely. Deducting the elevating and shoveling from this there is a very small margin for running expenses. In case of shortage the vessel owner's labour and service goes for nothing.

ANNUAL SHOW.—The township of Loughboro Agricultural Society is not to abandon its annual show, in deference to the big Central Fair, but will give it at Sydenham on Friday, October 5th, with a fine list of premiums. Mr. Caldwell is President, and Mr. W. D. Mace the Secretary. Therefore the arrangements will be perfect.

BATES.—The Standard expects Sergt. Bates and his little flag to pass Napanee some of these days, "if indeed an ultra loyalty that oftentimes blazes at such daring boastfulness does not stop him before he reaches there." The Standard puts it more gently than its contemporaries. "Ultra loyalty" is an excellent word.

NEW STEAMER.—The Beaver communicates the fact that the keel of McCuaig's new steamer has been laid at Mill Point. She is to be 150 feet long, will have 26 feet beam, and the engine of the old "St. Helen," and a new boiler. She will be fitted up for passengers, and put on a new daily route between Napanee and Cape Vincent.

"THE" GAME.—The best game of base ball for the season is now on the tapis—a match between the "Printers" and the "Rockets" of Portsmouth. If the members of the art preservative don't send those "Rockets" higher than a kite, then we're not ourselves at all. They will surely show the suburb boys that they can do something beside "stick" type. We have seen them "stick" a ball pretty good.

NEXT WEEK.—Cool Burgess will appear in connection with the Townsend Family here on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week. Neither Cool Burgess nor the Townsend Family are strangers to Kingstonians. The combination is a strong one, producing attractions which in Ottawa gave much delight and amusement. Their specialities are very entertaining. They will undoubtedly be liberally patronized.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH BAZAAR.—Young men can attend this affair next week without being afraid of raffle and lottery drafts in their pockets. These means will not be employed to raise funds. The ladies will offer useful articles at fair city prices, and there will be such variety that young men need not be forced to buy baby clothing and table mats in order to patronize the affair. This will be a joy in itself.

ST. GEORGE'S HARMONIC ASSOCIATION.—Last evening the regular meeting was held under discouraging circumstances, owing to the heavy storm, which few people cared to face. However, the customary business was transacted, and a programme touched off. Songs were given by Messrs. C. Reid, Grafftey, Clifford, LeHeup, Brand, Thornton, and a reading by Mr. E. Rose. The next meeting is to be held on Tuesday evening in St. George's Hall, after the St. George's Society meeting, and will be open to all.

The Storm.

Yesterday evening a succession of heavy thunder showers came to hurry on the quiet rain. It was a night of particular disagreeableness—as dark as your deepest dyed felt hat—yes, darkness that might be felt. The most feeling thing ever performed was a walk home. One had to grope after walls and telegraph poles en route, or meet some ditch or building square in the face. It is often that people read and talk of "impenetrable gloom," but it is rarely they see it with such awful reality. A kerosene lamp in the suburbs was a beacon of delight, and a down town gas lamp a positive benefaction. It was the evening for the weekly prayer meetings, and therefore there were numerous outgoers till after nine o'clock, after which the heavy rain and the dreadful claps of thunder had the course all to themselves. And such thunder! It was bad enough all evening, but one clap came at midnight which awoke the dreamers rather suddenly, and made each particular hair of yo nervous ones stand on end. Everybody said that shaft must have struck somewhere, and we believe it did. Wait and see! The rain kept up almost incessantly till near daylight this morning, and there is to-day afloat a warm, genial air, and but for the high wind, a show pleasant autumn weather.

WELL SPOKEN.—Upon the authority of Mr. W. H. Campbell, presumably one of the owners, the Belleville Intelligencer of yesterday contains the following challenge:

"He will race the Katie Gray against the Laura, the Emma, or any other yacht now owned in Kingston, over any twenty mile course for any sum not less than $50. The race to be sailed under Royal Canadian Yacht Club rules next season. He would be willing to go at any time this year, but has now stripped his yacht and will haul her out for the season, in order to repair damages incurred at Kingston. Mr. Campbell further says that the Kingston people did not live up to their programme at the late regatta, having advertised their races to be sailed under R. C. Y. C. rules and yet allowing (in the second class) ballast to be shifted, no restriction as to crews, and boats to turn the buoys as they chose, and furthermore, that no charts were furnished to the yachts in the second class, and strangers were therefore left to find the location of the buoys for themselves."

THE NEW DOMINION.—This Hamilton journal, which has taken a fresh start in its literary career, promises exceedingly well. It presents eight well-filled and neatly-printed pages, and shows a popular as well as superior taste in its editorials, selections and choice of contributions. It must soon become a welcome visitor to every fireside. We say "every" advisedly, for it so far has shown an unexceptionable tone, and furthermore has on its chief staff gentlemen who will not permit it for once to depart from the path of respectability. A home paper can be made very busy without being quite as naughty as the daily press generally. The New Dominion will likely prove that. Its assistant editor is a late Kingstonian whose name we would proudly give were in not telling a tale out of school.

NAPANEE PERJURY CASE.—Some time ago a family named Rourke, of Enterprise, were accused of having a stolen robe in their possession. The young men interested in the prosecution, Henry Hart, Peter Hart and George Kinely, went to Rourke's house to get the robe, the consequence of which was the charging them with attempted rape upon Mrs. Rourke, and their committal for trial. At the subsequent Assizes they were liberated, the Grand Jury returning "No Bill." The tables have been turned upon the Rourkes by their indictment for wilful and corrupt perjury, and the trial of the case will come on at the Assizes now in session in Napanee. The cases of this kind are becoming so numerous that sympathy is changing, and man instead of woman will soon require the greatest protection.

A PLOT.—The sheep killed on Messrs. Clyde and Simpson's farms, near Cataraqui, were reported to be the victims of Mrs. Lowry's dogs, and these animals, the pets of this law-respecting and most estimable lady, were killed—ruthlessly, wantonly, savagely killed. Being a lone widow, she can sue for damages and make a touching appeal to the jury, such as all who know her will deem her very capable of doing. The dogs are said to have been condemned in innocency, the story of their alleged complicity having originated with a city official who was in love with Mrs. Lowry, but now hath all the fury of a lover scorned.

THE FORTIFICATIONS.—The work on the barrack and fortification repairs and renovations and on the Military College in Kingston has employed 100 men, mostly skilled laborers, for several months past, and $1,000 a week in Government money has been spent, relieving in great measure the pressure of hard times on the local labor market. The forts had in the three years passed, since the regulars evacuated them gone greatly to ruin, and would have crumbled before another winter's frost. Now they are weather proof.

JUST SO.—Information has been circulated throughout the Dominion by the Chief of Police at Chicago, of the operations of several persons who have started on a "victimising tour" in the way of selling patent rights, getting up stock companies, receiving subscriptions in money, taking notes, and—of course—leaving their victims finally in the lurch. The trick is an old one, and we have a lively recollection of a few persons having been "sold" by it not long since. The devices may be resorted to, to make this successful, and for these the public must be wary and watchful.

DROWNED AT GANANOQUE.—A Frenchman named La Rue, hailing from Quebec, was drowned at Gananoque. He was a deck hand on the prop. "Lake Ontario." Calling at Darling's wharf, La Rue jumped off the boat to make the line fast. It was so dark that he was not seen to fall, but the splash was heard. His remains have not been recovered. The water in the locality mentioned is very deep.

MARINE.—Arrived: Schooner Richardson with 167 tons coal from Oswego; sloop Vision with 75 barrels water lime, 200 sacks meal, 8 sacks flour, from Oswego; steamer Corinthian arrived at Kingston at 7 p.m. last evening.

POLICE COURT.

The Sergeant-Major was amusing the police by recounting a very funny incident that occurred in the early history of the city, when two angry and irritated looking men entered simultaneously, but at different doors, and demanded an instant settlement of their case. One of them had two little squares of sticking plaster on the right cheek and a cut lip; the other looked healthier, but a great sight worse in personal appearance. Both approached the Sergeant-Major and presented their cases for his opinion, "because," says the one with the wounded lip, "if I'm in the right I'm wanting damages, and I think I'm entitled to a pretty respectable sum."

Peter Toland, who had come down to tell the Sergeant-Major that he had met Mrs. Lowry at the sale on Barrie street, and that they were as friendly as a pair of matched poultry, looked askance at the two squabbling gents and changed his seat to the extreme end of the room, where he lit his pipe and smoked, and took in the scene with the attention and artful study of a landscape painter, and a city poundman. Once or twice, when the combatants made a dash towards his corner, he tightened his grip on his huge hickory walking stick, and eyed the row of police revolvers as they hung on the wall as if mentally considering the advisability of getting behind one for greater safety.

"A man has no right to digress on my premises; and has no right to digress across the boundaries of the civil land survey," bawled the smaller and most respectable of the intruders, who spoke as if he had complete command of the dictionary and spelling book.

"Hasn't he! Humph! It's a blawsted quee-aw thing if I mustn't look attaw my fowls, when they gee in the wrong coop," growled the chap with the plastered cheek.

The difficulty rose in this way. Simon McCarty lately bought a pair of fancy chickens. He had seen some beauties in the yard of William Farmer, the 2nd complainant, and he thought he might as well be in fashion and keep a hen'ery too. He hadn't just as comfortable a coop as William had, however, and last night during the rain fall the chickens took up their quarters among Farmer's brood. Simon missed them at a late hour, and covering his head with the first thing convenient, which happened to be his wife's morning wrapper, he sallied forth to hunt them up, and in the course of his perambulations he thought he would peep into Farmer's coop. He struck a light, whereupon there was the usual cackling, which aroused William from a dose at the fireside, and fancying the noise was occasioned by a thief, he armed himself with a spare axe-handle, and moved cautiously towards the coop, which he had just reached as Simon was about emerging with the bantams. The disguise was so complete that Farmer had no hesitation in coming to the conclusion that here was a sure case of attempted larceny, and immediately fell fly with the axe-handle and tipped up Simon and his chickens.

Though the assault arose from mistaken identity, and was not intentional, it gave rise to a dispute and excitement in which they floundered when they came in to state their case to the Sergt.-Major.

It was a beautiful sight to see the kindly manner in which the Sergt.-Major enquired into the particulars, and applied his ingenuity to the solution and settlement of the affair. His simple and touching good nature did it.

He was, we are happy to say, instrumental in making them fast friends once more, and they left the station pledged to eternally love and respect each other, and especially to think well of him who had joined their hands in fraternal gratitude. And if the Sergt.-Major never did anything else, this is something to live for.

At 10 o'clock sharp the cotillion commenced. John Hall, gay but very greasy looking, said "yes sir" when he was accused of so allowing more than his right in share of the revivifyer. He has been away all summer prospecting about St. John's Island, and only arrived yesterday. He made a flying tour of the saloons, dropping a few cents into the general fund here and there as he proceeded. He was exhausted in purse and strength when he met the police, who are always on the look out for the weak and the unfortunate. $2 or 10 days.

Mary Reddy was altogether too ready with her hands yesterday. She came to town with fourteen cents and a broken lead pencil, and kept the starchy clerks in a couple of places handing down goods and figuring up prices while she made her pick and stuffed the selections up the sleeve of her basque. One little bundle she rested on her pin-back. Unfortunately she was detected and was hied away for larceny. To-day she gouged her eyes, and cried and promised to leave the city immediately if she got a chance. She got it.

Mary Toland, with a Grecian cast of countenance, put away too much for either herself or the police to carry, and a truck was called in. She was fined $2 or 15 days, and asked to pay the truckman's expenses.

Edward Fitzsimmons was accused of larceny. No prosecutor appearing he was dismissed; but he got timely warning that if found loafing around the police would "scoop him" up, and he wouldn't be happy when he landed back there again.

John Smith was bound over in $500 to keep the peace towards his wife.

Here the oil run out, and the machine stopped.

FAIR WEEK.—This is a great week for fairs. Commencing to-day we have the Western Fair held in our own city and drawing its support from the largest and most productive section of the Province; the Toronto Fall Fair, designed to attract the exhibitors of the central section, and the Hamilton Fair, which will depend chiefly for its success upon the Niagara peninsula and the district westward to the Grand River. To-day, too, the New Brunswick Manufacturers' and Mechanics' Exhibition is in full swing at St. John.—London Advertiser.

SUCCESSFUL.—The Philharmonic Club Concert was a financial success, which, to the Club especially, is the most satisfactory of all the satisfactory features about the entertainment. Capt. Swales managed it for them, and to him the Club feel indebted for this result to a large extent. The Philarmonics will come again.

OUR susceptible contemporary gushes with all the fervor of a young poet. Hear her on the Philharmonics:—"Violins seemed to be endued with feeling, and amid the concord of sweet sounds which proceed from them, one could hear the gay and tripping music of the dance, the soft harmonious notes of love, and sounds of deepest woe."

American Cyclopædia.

NEW REVISED EDITION!

ENTIRELY REWRITTEN BY THE ABLEST WRITERS ON EVERY SUBJECT.

Printed from New Type, and Illustrated with several Thousand Engravings and Maps.

The work originally published under the title of THE NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA was completed in 1863, since which time, the wide circulation which it has attained in all parts of the United States, and the single developements which have taken place in every branch of science, literature, and art, have induced the editors and publishers to submit it to an exact and thorough revision, and to issue a new edition entitled

THE AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA.

Within the last ten years the progress of discovery in every department of knowledge has made a new work of reference an imperative want.

The movement of political affairs has kept pace with the discoveries of science, and their fruitful application to the industrial and useful arts and the convenience and refinement of social life. Great wars and consequent revolutions have occurred, involving national changes of peculiar moment. The civil war of our own country, which was at its height when the last volume of the old work appeared, has happily been ended, and a new course of commercial and industrial activity has been commenced.

Large accessions to our

Graphical Knowledge

Have been made by the indefatigable explorers of Africa.

The great political revolutions of the last decade, with the natural result of the lapse of time, have brought into public view a multitude of new men, whose names are in every one's mouth, and of whose lives every one is curious to know the particulars. Great battles have been fought and and important sieges maintained, of which the details are as yet preserved only in the newspapers or in the transient publications of the day, but which ought now to take their place in Permanent and Authentic History.

In preparing the present edition for the press it has been accordingly been the aim of the editors to bring down the information to the latest possible dates, and to furnish accurate account of the most recent discoveries in science, of every fresh production in literature, and of the newest inventions in the practical arts, as well as to give a succinct and original record of the progress of Political and Historical Events.

The work has been begun after long and careful preliminary labor and with the most ample resources for carrying it on to a successful termination.

None of the original stereotype plates have been used, but every page has been

Printed on New Type,

Forming in fact a new Cyclopædia, with the same plan and compass as its predecessor, but with a far greater pecuniary expenditure, and with such improvements in its composition as have been suggested by longer experience and enlarged knowledge.

The Illustrations

Which are introduced for the first time in the present edition have been added not for the sake of pictorial effect, but to give greater lucidity and force to the explanations in the text. They embrace all branches of science and of natural history, and depict the most famous and remarkable features of scenery, architecture, and art, as well as the various processes of mechanics and manufactures. Although intended for instruction rather than embellishment, no pains have been spared to insure their Artistic Excellence.

The cost of their execution is enormous, and it is believed they will find a welcome reception as an admirable feature of the Cyclopædia, and worthy of its high character.

This work is sold to subscribers only, payable on delivery of each volume. It will be complete in SIXTEEN LARGE OCTAVO VOLUMES, each containing about 800 pages, fully illustrated with several thousand Wood Engravings, and with numerous colored Lithographic Maps.

THE FISCHER PIANO.

The American Trade Journal writing up the Piano trade says: * * * "Messrs J & C Fischer, are, as we have said, not only the oldest and most experienced makers of fine instruments for the trade, but sell hundreds of their Pianos to good judges." * * About 17,000 of them are now in use.
