CITY AND VICINITY

Saturday, October 23, 1875.

SUNDAY MEETING.—Dr. Dupuis will again address the Sunday afternoon temperance meeting to-morrow—4 to 5 p.m.

IT DOES.—It costs more to travel west than east on the Grand Trunk. Against the rotary motion of the earth, the reason, we suppose.

SWIFT'S WHARF.—Steamers calling: Corsican, from Montreal; City of St. Catharines, from Montreal; Kincardine, from Oswego, and Magnet, from Hamilton.

THE COURT.—The sittings to-day and yesterday were uninteresting to those not individually concerned in the cases under trial. The criminal business will likely begin on Monday.

VENISON.—The first load of venison from the back country for this season was received yesterday by Mr. Makins, who is disposing of it to the epicures. It will be the makin's of many a fine dinner.

AGROUND.—The steamer "Picton" went aground last night in her passage up the Bay of Quinte, near Bath. A telegram informs us that she was taken off by the steamer "Alexandria" without sustaining any damage.

OUR ROAD.—The attention of the Belleville Ontario is most respectfully and lovingly called to the passenger and freight arrangements of the Kingston & Pembroke Railway, published in official advertisement to-day.

A YOUNG LADY says its the very dews how damp these lovely evenings become after eight o'clock, the best hours for the lonely promenade and communion of souls. The ground becomes as wet as if the rain had fallen.

SYMPOSIUM.—Last evening a "free and easy" of the London style was held in the parlor of Old Sam's "Albion." Song and sentiment were freely indulged in over the pipe, tobacco and flowing bowl. It was a delightful symposium.

TROTTING.—A trotting match will take place on the Cataraqui race course on Wednesday, November 17th, between two well known horses of this city, Tom Thumb and Lady Emma, for a purse of $200.

CANNOT COME.—Rev. D. J. Macdonell, of Toronto, writes the Young Men's Christian Association that he cannot come to Kingston to deliver his lecture next week, but he intimates that he will visit the city and give his promised address at no very distant day.

PENSIONERS had better have as little intimacy with the Magistrate as possible in the capacity of prisoners. The P.M. has hinted pretty strongly that any who are in the habit of offending the law frequently will have their pensions stopped, if reported to the pension officer.

SMUGGLING.—St. Catharines has the smuggling mania now. Coal oil is root of the evil. The authorities are full of suspicion but they havn't lit on the right men, and the question is now "What they are going to do about it?" Better wait until they see what the result of the "big push" in Kingston will be.

ONE ORGAN.—The Canadian Presbyterians intend to merge their four existing periodicals into one for the entire Church. It is to be published monthly, and will start with a circulation of thirty thousand. Thus the organ question is becoming more one sided every day.

HYMENIAL.—Miss Amy Young, daughter of Mr. John Young, Chairman of the Montreal Land of Harbour Commissioners, was married yesterday to Hon. Mathew, son of Lord Aylmer, of the Eastern Townships. Miss Kinghorn, late of Kingston, was one of the bridesmaids.

THE THANKSGIVING.—The sermons and services in the Anglican churches of the country to-morrow will be unusually interesting, as the Church's Thanksgiving for the late bountiful harvest and many mercies of the past year is appointed to be offered up.

THE NEW MILITARY SECRETARY.—Lieutenant Colonel the Hon. Edward George Percy Littleton, of the Grenadier Guards, eldest son of Lord Hatherton, has been appointed Military Secretary to His Excellency the Governor General. He will soon arrive in this blawsted country from England.

THE COMMANDANT.—The Canadian News, published in London, England, has the annexed in its last issue to hand.

"Major Edward Osborne Hewitt, of the Engineers, has received the appointment of Chief of the Dominion Military Academy, Kingston. The Major loses his Imperial status and promotion by entering the Canadian service, but we venture to hope that he will have no cause to regret the exchange he has made."

HOW THEY SETTLED IT.—The litigant city and county councils of Kingston and Frontenac will be interested in the following case, so analagous to their own frequently recurring one:—

"The long pending dispute between the city of Hamilton and the County of Wentworth, in reference to the maintenance of the gaol, court house and prisoners, is now definitely settled by the arbitrators: Mr. Bain, M.P., for the county, Mr. Edward Martin for the city, and Mr. J. W. Langmuir, Inspector of Prisons and Asylums, as a third party. The award sets forth that the city pay to the county the sum of $750 per annum for the use of the gaol; for the use of the furniture, $263 per annum; and eighty per cent. of the cost of maintenance of prisoners, including medicines and extras known as hospital dietaries ordered by the surgeon, current renewals of bedding, clothes and shoes, conveyance of prisoners to and from the court house, &c.

ACCIDENTS.

KILLED ON THE PEMBROKE RAILWAY.—A boy named Killins (note the name) met a sad and painful death at the gravel pit about five miles and a half this side of Parham, on the Kingston and Pembroke Railway. At these pits a platform is erected with an opening and slide, through which the gravel is emptied from the bank upon the platform cars run beneath. Through this opening it had been the custom of employees to jump upon the train, as it moved out, in order to manipulate the brakes. The unfortunate boy Killins was not engaged upon the road or in the gravel pit. He was on the platform when the cars started, and thinking to follow the example of others, as perhaps he had done before, he jumped down the slide, but instead of alighting on the cars he fell between them, and received such internal injuries that he lived but a few minutes, his sufferings being intense but very brief. He was conveyed to his home at once, but a lifeless body. The railway officials are not to blame for the melancholy accident.

—An employee of the Frontenac Lead Mines became nervous the other day while climbing the shaft, and falling sustained several bruises, but no serious injuries.

—An son of Walter Guthrie, of Loughboro, received a severe kick from a horse some days ago.

INDIAN SUMMER.—The farmers and octogenarians which latter include that reliable individual, the oldest inhabitant, are to-day on the market expatiating on the lovely weather. They pronounce it the genuine Indian Summer, the good bye of summer and fall, and warn us to look out for heavy squalls after this. This, is a severe destiny—it is too soon for us to plunge into the snow and ice of a rigorous winter. But there is no doubt but the past three days have been the Indian summer, they have every characteristic of it, and are the most charming visitation of that season we have had for twelve years at least. It is not pleasant to reflect, though, that the ordinary duration of this poetic season is four or five days. It may sometimes last from one moon to another—seven days—but only once in the memory of a fifty years' resident of Kingston has it passed more than its eleventh day out, in which respect it is inferior to Mr. Crooks. However it has started as if this year it meant a Big Push for distinction.

TEMPERANCE.—On next Wednesday evening the Temperance people will be addressed by Mr. B. M. Britton. We have no authority for saying so, but we are given to understand that at the adjourned meeting there is every probability the advocates of abstinence will decide as to whom they will support in the approaching election for the Mayoralty, the selection being made from the three candidates at present in the field.

LUNATICS IN GAOL.—A learned writer in a Montreal paper speaking of the confinement of lunatics in gaol, says "some people cannot be anything but hurt mentally, morally and physically by incarceration with lunatics." This is another strong argument in favor of the removal of the seven insane persons who are occupants of the gaol here. The prospects for both sane and insane persons is not very cheering, we must say.

O'CONNELL.—We hasten to announce that the Kingston people of literary tastes will be favoured with another visit and lecture from Mr. Nicholas Flood Davin about the beginning of next month, his subject being O'Connell. His reputation being endorsed by the audience who manifested so much delight with his lecture last evening, there can be no doubt he will be heartily received on his next public appearance, especially by his countrymen.

THE CHEESE MARKET.—This week Mr. William Burrowes has shipped to Montreal en route for England 24 car loads of cheese, making in all 8000 boxes of the value of $50,000. This for one week's transactions is pretty good for Kingston and very creditable to Mr. Burrowes. It also shows the importance of the cheese trade of this section. Its rapid developement is a marvel. The Liverpool quotation for cheese is 56 shillings at which it steadied for 18 days

GRAIN.—The country is being cleared of the immense quantities of grain of last season's yield. Holders, evidently satisfied of the improbability of an advance, are selling out freely at current rates—65c, 70c and 75c, which have undergone no change for some time. The American market to-day is weak and inactive. There is no encouragement from that quarter, and on it depends so much the rise or fall of prices here.

THANSGIVING OFFERINGS.—The collections to be taken up to-morrow at both thanksgiving services in St. Paul's Church will be devoted to the repairs fund of the Church. One of the best modes of returning thanks to Almighty God is in perfecting the houses devoted to His worship.

SABBATH QUIET.—People are the same in Quebec as in Kingston. Here they object to a military band playing while en route to Sunday service. This week fault is found with B Battery for firing a salute last Sabbath in honor of the arrival of General O'Grady Haly.

THE SPORTS.—A better day could not be selected for the athletic sports in the City Park this afternoon. There will be no drawback to-day so far as the weather is concerned. The games were to commence punctually at one o'clock.

THE MARKET.—It was a large one, and this applies to the attendance of the farming community as well as to the purchasers. Both the supply and demand were good. It was a busy scene. Prices the same as quoted on Thursday.

ST. GEORGE'S CATHEDRAL.—The thanksgiving services at the Cathedral take place, with services, at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., with an offertory devoted to the poor. The service at Cataraqui will be held at 4 p.m.

FOR ENGLAND.—The Rev. Henry Mulkins, Chaplain to the Kingston Penitentiary, is now again about to return to England,

POLICE COURT.

Come in, but take care of the paint, said P.C. Carson, as he lolled lazily in the Sergeant-Major's arm-chair and exercised his jaws and molars on a little piece of rubber gum, which he substituted for tobacco in order to avoid spitting and soiling the floor, which received a scraping and a little soap suds the other day to be in keeping with the improvements which are in progress. The air scented strongly, and but a few minutes sufficed to satisfy our reporter of the nature of the improvements and the elegant effect they would have upon the station. A set of lace curtains, a Brussels carpet and a new cushion for the arm-chair would make things pretty comfortable.

Who'd have thought it? soliloquized the P.M., as the name of Fanny Begy took his eye, whilst he hunted about the desk for his pen.

The Chief—Rather nice looking.

The P.M.—Yes, indeed, Fanny, I didn't expect to see you in this fix. I didn't think you would steal.

Fanny—I would like to know what you are talking about.

The P.M.—Stealing.

Fanny—I deny the charge.

The P.M.—Mrs. Farrol, let me hear you warble your original story.

Mrs. Farrol—I left four new spoons, silver plated, and a paper of needles on my window while I went outside to give the hens their feed, and when I came back they were gone—teetotally gone, paper, spoons and needles.

The P.M.—How do you know Fanny took them?

Mrs. Farrol—I seen her pass and I suspected.

The P. M.—Silly woman, is that all you know. I'm sorry to think you havn't more sense than to think the like. Gracious goodness, Fanny a thief! It's as reasonable to suppose she swallowed a haystack as that she committed the larceny.

The Chief—You know her?

The P.M.—Knew her when she was born, and her mother before her. They wouldn't steal if they had to eat broomhandles for a life time. The defendant is dismissed with the benediction of the court.

The P.M.—The old man's drunk again.

Stephen—And sorry for it. Forgive me.

The P.M.—Kind to yourself, when you went out of the house with all your wealth and let your family skirmish around as they please for refreshments.

Stephen—Not so bad.

The Sergt.-Major—He pawned his wife's back pin for a quarter.

Mrs. Clarke—Worser still, yer honour; he kicked the cat and broke the clock the old rip, if I had him home I'd curl his hair and thicken his pelt. Ah, you—

—The P.M.—Let there be no scenes in my presence. Don't be so affectionate. $2 or 30 days.

Isaac Sampson, a fishy looking youth with a goggle eye, was scooped in while endeavoring to make a bed out of a sugar cask on Carruthers' wharf.

The P. M.—You were a sort of upset last evening. How do you feel.

Isaac—Gallant.

The P. M.—How's that?

Isaac—I always feel gallant when I'm dreaming of my gal.

The P. M.—What do you do?

Isaac—Nothing. I was in the grocery biz, but the "boss" thought that outside air would be better for my health, so I got mad and discharged myself. I'm waiting for something to turn up.

The P. M.—Macawber like. I must lay on a fine. $2 or 30 days. How do you like that?

Isaac—I'll talk it over with Susan!

Daniel Wilson was leader in a crowd of young ragamuffins who danced the Can-Can on Queen Street, making the night hideous with their jubilations. Hoyle rushed upon them. They tried to escape, and Daniel would have succeeded but for a skilful aim which the officer took at his right heel, which he struck with a baton, upsetting the youth and knocking four pounds of blasphemy and the wind out of him.

The P.M.—The Can-Can! What's that?

Hoyle—One of the smash-downs the nigger minstrels play.

The P.M.—Oh, aye! That's all very well in the City Hall, where people can pay their money and take their choice; but these gratuitous shows are never worth a cent. Will you be a better boy in future?

Dan—Yes, sir.

The P.M.—Well go, my lad, and next time you swing your legs around so loosely give the police a wide berth.

James McGrath can't stand the smell of benzine no matter where it is or under what circumstances. His wife yesterday commenced cleaning her windows with spirits of whiskey. James left the paper down which he was reading, went out the back door and never let up until he had punished five glasses of grog. Then he was beastly full. $2 or 30 days.

William Madagan was mad again yesterday and threatened to extinguish the whole of neighboring women if they crossed his path. He was summoned for this, when fear taking hold of his small conscience bump he sold out his furniture for 25c, and skedaddled. He may be about town; but wherever he is it will be hard to keep down riot.

—John Ahern, who like's a horn as well as any one, was accused of exposing his person last week in a public place. He pleaded drunkenness as an excuse. The places that know him around town will know him no more; he got a fine of $50 and six months in gaol. He will probably lose his pension, the P.M. stating that in future he would report all such cases, with a view to that end. Persons of Ahern's disposition were a disgrace to Her Majesty's service.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.—Newspaper advertising is now recognized by business men having faith in their own wares, as the most effective means for securing for their goods a wide recognition of their merits. Newspaper advertising compels inquiry, and when the article offered is of good quality and at a fair price, the natural did is increased sales. Newspaper advertising is a permanent addition to the reputation of the goods advertised, because it is a permanent influence always at work in their interest. Newspaper advertising is the most energetic and vigilant of salesmen; addressing thousands weekly, always in the advertising interest, and ceaselessly at work seeking customers from all classes. Newspaper advertising promotes trade—for even in the dullest times advertisers secure by far the largest share of what is being done. While the advertiser eats and sleeps, printers, steam engines and printing presses are at work for him, trains are bearing his words to thousands of towns, and hundreds of thousands of readers, all glancing with more or less interest at the messages prepared for them in the solitude of his office. No preacher ever spoke to so large an audience, or with so little effort or so eloquently, as you may do with the newspaper man's assistance.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful selection of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Services Gazette. Made simply with Boiling Water or Milk.—Sold only in packets labelled—"JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, 48, Threadneedle street, and 170, Piccadilly, Works, Euston Road and Camden Town, London."

—The President of the Ocean Bank, New York, is charged with having planned a burglary of the institution in 1869, by which $450,000 was lost, and with having shared in the proceeds.

—A mass meeting of the Conservatives of West Toronto was held last evening for the purpose of confirming the nomination of the Hon. J.B. Robinson as a candidate for Parliamentary honours.
