Some of the Testimonials

rom Dr Duncan McCallum, Montreal:

I, the undersigned, have been suffering very much for the last two years from Rheumatism in the ankle joint, so much so that I was often prevented from attending to my calling, but three applications of Dr Birnbaum's Rheumatism and Gout Remedy gave me that relief from pain and stiffness which I did not experience for the last two years, and after eight days' use of this remedy I find myself entirely cured.

I owe this statement to the public, to the profession and to the merits of the genuine article. DUNCAN McCALLUM, M.D.

From Dr Munro, Prof Victoria University, Montreal:

From the trials I made in my practice with Dr Birnbaum's Rheumatism and Gout Remedy and from what I know about its composition, am convinced that its use will be highly beneficial for all the different purposes for which it is designed, even in such cases where internal medical treatment is required. It is well worthy the confidence of the profession, and I can strongly recommend it to the public, it being prompt, active and efficacious in exterminating pains and swellings.

NEXT WEEK.—The event will be Gage's grand opening.

ONE POUND OF TEA in a good tin box for 30 cents. All teas very low at Karch's coffee and spice mills, Earl Street.

ONE POUND OF TEA in a good tin box for 30 cents. All teas very low at Karch's coffee and spice mills, Earl Street.

SYDENHAM WARD.—A better choice for Alderman could not be made than Mr. Thibodo.

MACAULEY FARM.—Mr. Scott, of Pittsburg, was purchaser of 300 acres at $40 an acre. The remaining 400 acres will be sold by private sale.

THE steamers Admiral and Corsican were the only steamers calling at Swift's to-day. The Corsican, bound up, is detained by the gale.

IN LONDON:—Mr. K. N. Fenwick, M.D., Kingston, is registered at the office of the Canadian Government in London, Eng., last mail.

MEETING.—On Monday a meeting will be held in Victoria Hall of the supporters and those favourable to the candidature of Mr. W. Robinson for the Mayoralty.

THE MARKET this morning was excellent, large and well supplied. The farmers' waggons extended up Brock street as far as Dumble's, and out King street as far as McMillan's auction mart.

SNOW.—What several had been led to expect from the chilliness of the air came last evening shortly after dark—snow. The fall was very light. But a few flakes fell, and they disappeared as quickly as they descended.

VESSEL ASHORE.—We learn that the schr "Forest Queen," laden with barley, from Bath to Oswego, ran ashore this morning near Bath, in consequence of the violence of the gale. The tug "Lady Franklin" was telegraphed for and proceeded to her assistance.

GRAIN.—The farmers are clearing their barns of the surplus stock of grain, and the receipts during the past two or three weeks have been heavy. Several shipments have been made. It must be said that the American market does not justify any favorable chance for speculation, and this accounts, to some extent, for the steadiness of the market and the prices.

FOOT BALL.—It is the prevailing amusement, and the only one suitable to the season. Wednesday was a grand field day. The cricket ground was alive all day, and game followed game in rapid succession. It was understood that a match would take place between the city club and the students, but the latter were engaged otherwise and the contest did not take place.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.—Mr. James McMannus has chosen the officers who will act with him and constitute the executive of the St. Vincent de Paul Society. They are: Mr. Edward Hickey, Vice-President; Mr. P. Brown, Secretary; Mr. Joseph Swift, Treasurer. The Society is one of the most useful and benevolent in the city.

HARD TIMES.—The Picton Gazett looks hopefully upon the situation. It winds up an article in this glowing manner: "Let there be a general squaring up time this fall, throw 'hard times' expressions to the dogs, and go into the battle of life with a full determination to win by honest, earnest work, and you will be sure to have such success, as will 'please your friends and distress your enemies.'" Look at that, now!

WEATHERY.—A fearful gale prevailed this morning. It was perhaps the most violent of the season. It swept down the lake and the water in the harbor was shook up in lively fashion. One vessel is reported ashore up the Bay of Quinte—the only accident heard off as we go to press. The gale has changed into a tempestuous rain storm. The dust was blown about the streets in blinding clouds until rain fell.

UNFORTUNATE LOSS.—To-day's issue contains an advertisement of the loss of $20, the hard earnings of a poor and aged man, who cannot fear the loss without much personal suffering. The loss is very unfortunate to him, but it is sincerely hoped that the money has fallen into harvest hands, and that its return will be made by the finder, who will receive a reward which coin cannot purchase—the gratitude of a sorrowing, christian old man.

VAGRANT ACT.—The Hamilton Times man asks in that simple modest manner so characteristic of the young of that place, "Can the vagrant act be enforced?" He would think so if he happened to step off a bee line and solicit the P.M's. opinion of the law. The Times man wouldn't be so innocent after he had spent six months in a place where they wear striped coats and pants as well as stockings.

OBITUARY.—On Tuesday last, one of Wolfe Island's D. (Griffin) most respected settlers passed away very suddenly. For twenty years he had been a resident of this municipality. His illness was so brief that many of his friends were surprised to learn of his death. On Thursday the funeral took place, and its length and respectable appearance attested to the great regard in which the deceased was held. The Rev. Father Spratt conducted mass in St. Mary's Church, in connection with the interment. A large family and circle of relatives mourn his loss.

THE PREMIER'S VISIT.

DEAR WHIG,—It is pleasant to learn that the Premier's latter visit to the loyal old city is bearing good fruit already. Altho' his stay was brief, he managed to crowd into it the worth of many months, this proving that he has not forgotten that practical knowledge of public works, which as a mechanic, he had learned many years ago, by hard knocks, even though he be now at the head of the Department in this rising young country. He has approved of all the works which have been carried on up to the present time under the able supervision of the Government Local Engineer, Mr. Kf Gage, assisted by his capable clerks o. works, Messrs. Massey and Tandy, in the construction and remodelling of the Military College, repairing and improving the Tete du Pont Barracks, Forts Frontenac, Frederick and Henry, and the Military Hospital, and in the erection of two new gate houses on Barriefield, together with many other less noticable but equally desirable improvements, requisite for the protection of the Government property; and he has ordered the construction of strong massive foundations of masonry for the planting of ten new guns at Fort Henry, of unusually heavy calibre, now en route from England to Kingston. He has also ordered that the wall at the north end of the Tete du Pont Barracks be built, so that this once most dangerous locality will be greatly improved by a strait side walk and wall. Indeed this last visit of the Premier will most assuredly tell in his favor and strengthen his hands now that he has so many Irons (steel) in the fire, for he has shown his good intentions towards Kingston as the place whereof he is so proud for many good reasons.

Nevertheless the Premier has done one thing that may cause an unwarrantable growl, but is quite excusable, as it is in the interest of public economy. He has ordered a general reduction of wages, owing to the shortening of the hours of labor. This was inevitable, and if those most affected by it would only take a good plain common sense view of it, both the working men and the tradespeople, with whom they do business would cheerfully see o the situation, and be thankful, because there are many hundreds of just as good folks as they are throughout Ontario who cannot get labor or business to do.

Therefore, though the visits of the Premier are quite angelic, (few and far between) yet the good old city is no small sharer of the "spoils," as certain growlers choose to stigmatize every thing that savors of Government expenditure. Yet what would have been the state of Kingston to-day without the paltry sum (though it be) of about seventy thousand dollars which has flowed in a steady and constant stream into the tills and pockets of her working trading classes during 1874-5 very much from this maligned Government—the Treasury at Ottawa. Think of these things and HOWL YE GRUMBLERS.

ALL HALLOW EVE.—It is a great festival among our Irish adopted citizens, and is invariably celebrated with great interest and ceremony. Many Americans have also come to observe the day within a few years past. The house of every Irishman, and son of an Irishman, no matter how humble, will on that evening indicate its respect of the anniversary by the introduction of some ceremony applicable to the occasion. Ducking for apples is a simple yet amusing pastime, and this, if nothing else, will be gone through with. Put there are many other games that will be indulged in by old and young, and especially by lovers, to test the sincerity of the love pledges and intentions of young gents and ladies, who are paying attentions to each other. Many matches of marriage are made on hallow eve, and not a few broken off. At all events, it is a night of merry making, and as such will be largely enjoyed.

BASE FALL.—What was probably the last match of the season was played on Thursday between the Earls vs. St. Lawrence Brown Stockings. It ended in a dispute, and the umpire decided the game in favour of the Earls. The Earls' record for the past season is as follows:

WON.

	Score.
Against Beavers, May 24,	18 to 8
" Brown Stockings, July 27,	21 to 6
" " Aug. 18,	10 to 9
" Riversides, Aug. 29,	14 to 13
" Muldoons, Sept. 13,	7 to 4
" Brown Stockings, Oct. 28,	9 to 0

LOST.

	Score.
Against Actives, Aug. 13,	8 to 10
" Beavers, Aug. 18,	12 to 16

THE PIANO FACTORY.—Napanee and Belleville are bidding for the location of the piano factory, which it is talked of removing from here to some western town. We cannot blame these places for making a move of this kind. They know the importance of manufactories to a town, and are anxious to secure the piano factory, which would be as significant an addition to its industries as it would be a loss to Kingston. What is the City Council going to do about exempting the factory from taxation? Anything? It is time they made a decision.

DROWNED.—Oct. 30.—Adam Abbott and James Kiell were drowned this morning while engaged in hauling nets at Bear Point, at the head of Wolfe Island.

The first named is a son of Anson Abbott, and the latter a son of Peter Kiel, the Fishery Inspector. Abbott has but recently returned from California. The accident was observed by persons on the shore. The boat swamped in the gale, and all went down. There is great sorrow among surviving friends.

SIGNS OF WINTER.—It is reported from the country districts that the bears have not, as yet began to make any provision for the winter. This is not to be construed into any evidence of shiftlessness or improvidence on the part of the bears, but is believed by the grangers to be a sure indication that the cold weather will come at a late period this year. It looks exceedingly like as if the grangers have made another blunder judging from the temperature of late.

BARLEY.—It sells in Belleville at 60c, 68c and 85c; in Napanee at 65c, 70c and 80c, and in Kingston at 60c, 70c and 75c. Why this difference? Why should Kingston prices be the lowest when it is frontier and possesses the best shipping facilities of the three mentioned places?

ARRIVED.—The ss. Moravian arrived from Liverpool 21st at 10 a.m., with 44 cabin, 20 intermediate and 140 steerage passengers. The 'Moravian' brings fifty thousand sovereigns for the Merchants' Bank.

POLICE COURT.

It's as nice to be a policeman as it is to be a father. One winces and feels as snappish as if he were preparing to have a tooth pulled when turned out to take a snifter of midnight air and make his rounds of the streets, while the other—with the youngster—takes a turn around the kitchen fire en dishabille. And then they resemble the mother in that despite the slobbered face and fighting proclivities of the charge they must embrace and place their protecting arms around the helpless.

P.C. Hinde gave a practical demonstration of this fact in court this morning. He picked up a fainting lady on King Street last night. She couldn't stand or walk, but she could bite. Hinde didn't know this, however, and encircling her tidy little waist with his strong arms he raised her from the sidewalk, and was proceeding to carry her affectionately to the station when she opened her jaws and took a healthy hold of his chin, the flesh of which bears the indentation of her teeth. But she was like the babies—she was only playing, and so Hinde suffered in silence and with regards.

Her name is Jane Clanerty, a daughter of Mrs. Clanerty, of Clanerty Ridge, near Donegal.

The P.M.—Back again, I see.

Jane—I was niver here afore.

The P.M.—Well, perhaps you're here behind. See the show you have made of that man, and he pointed to Hinde, whose chin whisker was partially hid by a big linseed poultice and a patch of sticking-plaster. You must have a vicious nature, Mrs. Clanerty, to do that.

Jane—I didn't do nuthin'.

The P.M.—Who then?

Jane—It was me tathe. I wouldn't do sich a thing; and she winked over at the Sergt.-Major and Lane in the most bewitching manner.

The P.M.—That's the kind of treatment you give those who would do you a kindness. I do not care to—ah—use my prerogative—ah—but in your case tempering justice with mercy s all in my eye. I commit you to gaol for 15 days. Take your knitting with you, and make yourself to home.

Betsy Branigan and Willie Branigan must have been the comical pair of whom the American humorist wrote the touching narrative entitled "Betsy and I are out." They were about twenty-five and forty years of age respectively. She had just finished a piece of bread, plenteously covered with molasses, a ring of which extended some distance across each cheek; her golden hair fell in curls down her back, but not very gracefully, as it hadn't been papered, burned with the poker or combed for some days in all probability. Willie was the baggage master, and he had as many appendages and fixings as one needs for an expedition across the prairies of Manitoba.

The P.M.—Leave your household effects in the lobby. I don't want them displayed here, and the weary tramp tramped outside and laid down a pan, two jars, a blue stuff bag, a tea kettle, and sundry other utensils too numerous to mention.

The P.M.—Where are you going?

Betsy looked at Willie, who felt inclined to say nothing, but the question being repeated he replied that they were going housekeeping.

The P.M.—Why don't you rent a house and settle down?

Betsy—That's just what we's agoing to do. We's bot the furniture, and Willie says as how he had seen a nice house, and we was agoing to see it when that brute makes us come here because, as he says, we's tramps, and we's not, we's married.

Hoyle—Nobody said you was single.

The P.M.—The officer was quite justified in taking you. I dare say this is some of the fruits of the Globe's discussion on speedy marriages, and a sorry sight it is. And now methinks you are in plighty pickle—a dilemma of dangerous diameter, to speak scientifically like the Sergt.-Major. You are either Sergt. Bates, who is on an excursion through the country tempting some one to shoot the flag, or a fac-simile of that clown; and if you are seen about town in the rig you presented when taken into custody last night, some one will shoot you instead of the rag, and you'll never know what ailed you until the coroner and a dozen or so of those young medical butchers call around and stick pins in your liver to ascertain the cause of your singular fatality; or that bold and quizzical cuss, on Brockville Enterprise, may take a notion to gratify his curiosity and remove one of your ears for a door mat; or the News man, in search of some complaint against the Government may lead you to forget your early moral training, and lie, in which case, it would have been well had you continued to dig clams at Baltimore or have selected some other route. Thus you see you are pursued by a strange fatality, and although you may be good you are suspicious looking, and it was very kind of Hoyle to ask you in. My advice I give you freely, because I feel for your misfortunes. $2 a piece, cash.

Tom Flanigan shivered fearfully. He jammed both hands in his pockets and curled up his back like a Tom cat when getting in shape for battle. It wasn't the cold made Tom tremble, though. It was the D. T's. He was handed a chew of tobacco by Tim Gilligan, and remanded until he is able to go through the machine with a straight back and clear conscience.

THE MARRIAGE QUESTION.—Some of our western exchanges are publishing a couple of columns daily on the 'marriage question and the reason young men do not marry.' Some attribute it to the extravagance of the young ladies of the present days, while others claim that it is because so few are thoroughly conversant with household duties. There writers may exhaust all the ink in the world on the merits of their respective opinions, but they can't make us believe them. Young men won't get married because the women persistently refuse to saw wood and make fires in the morning. A young man may be ambitious to become a policeman or even to have his good name tarnished by running as Town Councillor, but no young man in his sane mind, has any ambition to saw wood or make fires. No siree!—Enterprise.

A HOAX.—The letter attributed to Thomas Carlyle declining somewhat ungraciously the degree of L. L. D., conferred upon him by Harvard University, proves to be the invention of a wicked newspaper man of Chicago. It was printed in a Liverpool paper as a genuine production, and thence copied pretty generally by the American Press.

A BIG HIT.—In a cricket match in England the other day, Mr. W. G. Grace, the famous cricketer, made a clean hit of 118 yards, or nearly the distance from W. R. McRae's store to Reid's butcher shop. That was a tremendous hit, and much longer than it looks when measured in a city.

ADDRESS.—Rev. Mr. Porter will address the Sabbath Afternoon Temperance Meeting in the Sons of Temperance Hall (to-morrow) at 4 o'clock.

APPLETONS'

American Cyclopædia,

NEW REVISED EDITION!

ENTIRELY REWRITTEN BY THE ABLEST WRITERS ON EVERY SUBJECT.

Printed from New Type, and Illustrated with several Thousand Engravings and Maps.

The work originally published under the title of THE NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA was completed in 1863, since which time, the wide circulation which it has attained in all parts of the United States, and the single developements which have taken place in every branch of science, literature, and art, have induced the editors and publishers to submit it to an exact and thorough revision, and to issue a new edition entitled

THE AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA.

Within the last ten years the progress of discovery in every department of knowledge has made a new work of reference an imperative want.

The movement of political affairs has kept pace with the discoveries of science, and their fruitful application to the industrial and useful arts and the convenience and refinement of social life. Great wars and consequent revolutions have occurred involving national changes of peculiar moment. The civil war of our own country, which was at its height when the last volume of the old work appeared, has happily been ended, and a new course of commercial and industrial activity has been commenced. Large accessions to our

Graphical Knowledge

Have been made by the indefatigable explorers of Africa.

The great political revolutions of the last decade, with the natural result of the lapse of time, have brought into public view a multitude of new men, whose names are in every one's mouth, and of whose lives every one is curious to know the particulars. Great battles have been fought and and important sieges maintained, of which the details are as yet preserved only in the newspapers or in the transient publications of the day, but which ought now to take their place in Permanent and Authentic History.

In preparing the present edition for the press it has been accordingly been the aim of of the editors to bring down the information to the latest possible dates, and to furnish accurate account of the most recent discoveries in science, of every fresh production in literature, and of the newest inventions in the practical arts, as well as to give a succinct and original record of the progress of Political and Historical Events.

The work has been begun after long and careful preliminary labor, and with the most ample resources for carrying it on to a successful termination.

None of the original stereotype plates have been used, but every page has been

Printed on New Type,

Forming in fact a new Cyclopædia, with the same plan and compass as its predecessor, but with a far greater pecuniary expenditure, and with such improvements in its composition as have been suggested by longer experience and enlarged knowledge.

The Illustrations

Which are introduced for the first time in the present edition have been added not for the sake of pictorial effect, but to give greater lucidity and force to the explanations in the text. They embrace all branches of science and of natural history, and depict the most famous and remarkable features of scenery, architecture, and art, as well as the various processes of mechanics and manufactures. Although intended for instruction rather than embellishment, no pains have been spared to insure their Artistic Excellence.

The cost of their execution is enormous, and it is believed they will find a welcome reception as an admirable feature of the Cyclopædia, and worthy of its high character.

This work is sold to subscribers only, payable on delivery of each volume. It will be complete in SIXTEEN LARGE OCTAVO VOLUMES, each containing about 800 pages, fuly illustrated with several thousand Wood Engravings, and with numerous colored Lithographic Mays.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with Boiling Water or Milk.—Sold only in packets labelled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, 48, Threadneedle street, and 170, Piccadilly, Works, Euston Road and Camden Town, London."
