Prof Dupuis' address, Convocation hall, Sunday, 3 p.m.

When a man sings his own praises he sets the tune too high.

The Queen's name is Alexandra Caroline Marie Charlotte Louise Julie.

One well-planed advertising campaign, carried out with energy, will convince any man of the value of publicity.

Inspiration: Friendship means the greatest love, greatest usefulness, most perfect trust, most open communication, noblest sufferings, sincerest truth, heartiest counsel and the greatest union of minds of which brave men and women are capable.

Worldly wisdom: It is not difficult to attract attention. Almost anyone can blow a horn or call through a megaphone. The idea is to make it worth while for the people to listen. Good advertising both attracts and holds attention.

Fashion notes: The Louis XIII collar is growing conspicuous abroad on street costumes. Its broad expanse of lace will be the first touch of spring. Cotton fabrics now must be fine and sheer. The silk and cotton, silk and linen materials are to be much used, the first being semi-transparent and extremely dainty.

BUSY IN CHINA AGAIN.

Methodist Representatives Going Back to Sze Chuan.

Toronto Star.

Recent advices from the missionaries of the Methodist woman's missionary society in China express expectations that they will soon be able to go back to work in Sze Chuan. The following is quoted from a letter to Mrs. E. S. Strachan, corresponding secretary for the foreign field, from Miss Brackbill, dated at Shanghai, Jan. 17th: Dr. and Mrs. Kilborn are also Methodist missionaries from the same province:

"In a previous letter I wrote you about ladies starting for Chung King, and more to follow. The consul is perfectly willing for ladies to go that far at any time, and I expect in a very short time he will give his consent for them to go farther. For some time I have been hoping and expecting we could start up the river after the Chinese New Year, probably March.

"Day before yesterday Mrs. Kilborn came in to ask what we were thinking of doing, and said if they could rent a house in Chung King they would go after the Chinese New Year.

"Later Dr. Kilborn called and said they had succeeded in getting a house and would likely go.

"The American ladies have a very large deaconess home there and not nearly enough ladies to fill it. I am sure this will be open to us if the way is not clear for us to go on to Chentu by that time.

"I had a letter from the teacher in Chentu a couple of days ago. He says everything is perfectly quiet, and they are wanting to know when we are coming back. Our places are all as they were left."

A Pleasant Evening Spent.

Last evening Mrs. T. R. Carnovsky entertained a large number of her friends at her home on Princess street. "Tommy" Gillen addressed the gathering, on his experiences in South Africa. Solos were rendered by Misses E. McVety and Davies, after which Mr. Eschoo, of Queen's, gave an entertaining talk on the manners and customs of the Persians and also sang in his native tongue. After refreshments were served, the jolly crowd amused themselves with various games. The well-spent evening was brought to a close by singing "Auld Lang Syne."

METHUEN'S GOOD LUCK

He Has Captured a Boer Lager,

INCLUDING FORTY PERSONS.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT FAVORS THE SUPPRESSION

Of Those Papers That Encourage the Boers to Prolong the War—No Doubt But That the Boers Murdered a Colored Man at Calvina.

London, Feb. 23.—Replying to a question in the house of commons, yesterday, secretary of war Brodrick said the government would support the action of Gen. Kitchener in suppressing newspapers in South Africa, and prohibiting the circulation of English and Irish papers that contained articles which would be likely to encourage the Boers to prolong the war.

Rt. Hon. William St. John Brodrick, secretary of war, read a telegram from Sir Alfred Milner, stating that there was absolutely no doubt that the Boers had murdered the colored man Esau at Calvina, Cape Colony.

Heard In New York.

New York, Feb. 23.—There is a well authenticated rumor that Gen. Dewet has been captured.

Captured A Laager.

Cape Town, Feb. 22.—Mr. Cartwright, editor of the South African News, recently arrested on the charge of printing a seditious and criminal libel, recently brought an action against the Cape Times for $25,000 damages for libel, the article complained of having appeared in the Owl, printed by the Times.

Gen. Methuen has captured a Boer laager near Brakpan. The capture included forty prisoners, many waggons and much stock.

Maj.-Gen. Pretyman, formerly military governor of Bloemfontein, has taken up the command of troops at Kimberley. He is succeeded by Maj.-Gen. Gold-Adams, lieutenant-governor of Orange River Colony.

A QUEER CASE.

A Youngster Bleeding to Death From Many Blood Vessels.

New York, Feb. 23.—Six-year-old Louis Mecari was carried to Bellevue hospital by his father last Friday, suffering from nose bleed. The Bellevue doctors have been unable to check the bleeding since, and unusual symptoms have developed in the case. Not only has the bleeding at the nose continued, but the small blood vessels in the boy's limbs have broken and the blood has left the limbs. This affection has all spread to the region of the spinal column. The physicians have found that the patient's blood had no power of coagulation. They are administering salty solutions to cause artificial coagulation, but so far this has proved futile and the patient is not expected to live.

PRICE FOR HEADS.

A Government Building Burned—A General Captured.

Manila, Feb. 23.—The government buildings at Iba, capital of Zambales province have been burned, the jail alone escaping the flames. The 24th infantry's supplies were destroyed by the fire. A steamer has been sent to Iba from Manila with stores.

A detachment of the 4th infantry has captured Gen. Vinejra, near Cavite, Viejo. Gen. Cailles has issued a proclamation offering ten Mexican dollars apiece for the heads of Americans.

A Millionaire Woman Hater.

London, Feb. 23.—The Australian lawyers are fighting with great relish and energy over the Tyson estate. The Queensland government desires to prove that Mr. Tyson was domiciled in that colony, as this would carry with it an enormous legacy duty; and the evidence has brought out many details, some amusing, some tragical, about the dead millionaire's character and habits. He owned principalities, and yet lacked a home. He was not a miser, but he had many habits which are usually ascribed to misers. He used no soap. He wore one celluloid collar eighteen months. He lived a furtive vagrant, unsocial life, piling up millions but extracting neither use nor pleasure from them. Mr. Tyson hated women, and believed they ruin the modern world with their luxury, as they ruined Rome. A wife, he held, was a "tiger in a sheepskin." "If there is any purgatory," he wrote, "some of our married friends are up to their necks in it."

Must Put In More Water.

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 23.—The latest news from the Union mine is that it has been found that the fire went further than was expected, having extended fifty feet up No. 6 shaft. More water will be poured into the mine to-day in order to extinguish any vestige of fire which may yet remain. This will mean considerable delay to the work of taking out the bodies still in the mine and it may be a couple of weeks before any more are removed.

Manila's Criminal Code.

Manila, Feb. 23.—Commissioners Wright and Ade, who are drafting the criminal and civil codes of the Philippines, have practically completed their work here, and to-day embarked with their assistants for the southern islands where they will investigate conditions and continue the work of organizing governments in provinces which are found to be prepared for self-government.

TO ENQUIRE INTO CHARGES

Made Against the British Troops by Lieut. Morrison.

Ottawa, Feb. 23.—The charges against British troops made by Lieut. Morrison of the Canadian artillery, are based on an extensively circulated, stop the war pamphlet. In it some of Lieut. Morrison's letters are quoted—and greatly misrepresented. In one part the pamphlet says, quoting from one letter:

"As I stood looking, a woman, the owner of a very pretty little cottage, standing in a rose garden on a side street, which had been destroyed, turned to me and pathetically exclaimed: 'Oh, how can you be so cruel?' I sympathized with her and explained that it was an order and had to be obeyed. But all the same it was an intensely bad sight to see the little homes burning and the rose bushes withering up in the pretty gardens, and the pathetic groups of homeless and distressed women and little children weeping in abject misery and despair among the smoking ruins as we rode away."

In the original letter the incident is thus described: "As I stood looking on she turned to me and said: 'Oh, how can you be so cruel?' I sympathized with her and explained it was an order and had to be obeyed. She was a good-looking female in distress and had quite the dramatic style of an ill used heroine. I certainly was sorry for her—we all were—until the house began to burn and a lot of concealed ammunition to explode and nearly killed some of our men."

SCANDAL IS THREATENED.

Revelations of Irregularities in Pay Roll is Promised.

Washinton, Feb. 22.—The house was treated to a couple of sensations yesterday, and members are wondering what the outcome will be.

The greatest stir came when Mr. Dinsmore of Arkansas exposed the fact that one of the employees of the house while occupying one position was drawing a salary for another and that the difference between the salaries was to be made up in one of the items of the deficiency appropriation bill.

This led to a general ventilation of the domestic affairs of the house, during which Mr. Bailey of Texas, declared that the situation was a scandal. He charged that there were employees of the house who were forced to divide their salaries with others who performed no work and challenged any one on the other side to deny his allegation.

He offered to produce sworn testimony in substantiation of his charges if an investigation committee was appointed. It was explained by Mr. Joy, Missouri and others that there was no law concerning the employees of the house. Mr. Cannon contented himself with saying it was evident matters were "very much mixed."

At the close of the session Mr. Bailey offered a resolution for the appointment of an investigation committee, which was referred to the committee on rules upon the assurance of Mr. Payne, the majority leader, that it would be reported at once.

THE WORST EVER KNOWN.

Very Little Chance of the Vessel Being Raised.

San Francisco, Feb. 23.—The sinking of the steamer Rio De Janeiro was the most appalling disaster this coast has known for many years. The Call, today, basing its figures on statements of the Pacific mail steamship company, in discussing the loss of the steamer, said it thought the blame was due to Capt. Ward in bringing his vessel in during a fog.

"Time and again," said Mr. Schwerin, "we have warned our captains never to leave or enter port during a fog. It is erroneous to think that when a pilot boards a vessel that the captain has no more responsibility. A pilot is simply a guide for a captain. I cannot state exactly the value of the Rio De Janeiro, but it is between $800,000 and $900,000. We have between $400,000 and $500,000 insurance on the vessel, part of which is carried by insurance companies and part of which we carry ourselves. The value of her cargo was probably between $150,000 and $200,000. I do not think she had any amount of specie on board."

In response to further questions, Mr. Schwerin stated that he did not think there was the slightest chance of raising the vessel.

DEPARTURE POSTPONED.

The Punitive Expedition to Sing Fu Won't Move.

Berlin, Feb. 23.—Von Waldersee, commander-in-chief of the allies in China, telegraphs, under Thursday's date, that on account of recent concessions made by China, he has postponed the departure of the punitive expedition for Sing Fu, the present Chinese capital. The expedition was to have started to-day.

Dog's Wonderful Escape.

London, Feb. 23.—A clever rescue of a Scotch terrier from a disused Wednesbury coal-pit was accomplished by three police officers. The dog had been heard howling for fourteen days, after having been thrown into the pit. A box containing fresh pork was lowered down the shaft. The dog crawled into the box, and was safely hoisted to the surface. It was in a weak and emaciated state, but was in no way injured. How it had lived so long without food is a mystery.

Claims Open In Dawson.

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 23.—This is the date fixed for the opening at Dawson of all crown claims and fractions except reservations for compensation. An application has been made by Christie and Bethune for a charter for the British-Yukon railway, to run from Dawson to the United States boundary, and for branch roads on Klondyke creek.

The coming maple sugar season in the New York state will be the best in years.

IS ANCIENT HISTORY.

The Question Raised By Col. Sam Hughes.

DIVORCE COURTS IN CANADA

MR. BRITTON TO TEST THE HOUSE ON QUESTION.

Long Service Medals Coming to Hand—Missed From His Place in Parliament—Premier Invited to New York.

Ottawa, Feb. 23.—On Monday Lieut.-Col. Sam Hughes will move for many papers in reference to his difference with Maj.-Gen. Hutton of more than a year ago. Parliament and the public have long since lost interest in the controversy and the house views with a natural apathy the resurrection of so much ancient history.

It is possible to close the session by Easter, but the older parliamentarians expect prorogation between the first and fifteenth of May. Under the most favorable conditions the duration of sessions can hardly be less than three months and the tendency of late years has been to prolong them to nearly double that period. Happily, just now a better spirit seems to prevail and some of the long-winded ones of last parliament are now making less costly speeches in the more appreciative neighborhood of their own homes.

The much talked-of long service decorations and medals will probably reach Canada early next year, which is wonderfully prompt action as compared with the issue of the general service medal, which loitered along for something over thirty years. Hundreds of those entitled to it have long since passed to their rest, but the records of the militia department show some fifteen thousand survivors, among whom are lord Wolseley and Gen. Sir Redvers Buller.

Everything in Ottawa just now is in a minor key and for this condition the death of our good queen is mainly responsible.

There is talk of more superannuations, and, indeed, with so large a civil service some retirements must always be eminent, and the suggestion of an increased indemnity to senators and members has not been coldly received.

The stern economist up west who reads the auditor-general's report, may possibly think that the senate is already sufficiently costly, but even the most virtuous body of men having the power to vote themselves higher pay may be tempted to do so. As a matter of fact there are members who are paid enough and to spare and others who are cheap at the price. The man in the gallery is well able to appraise the value of those who sit below, but parliament is sacred and comparisons are odious. Nicholas Flood Davin is missed from his seat near the front row and at no time more than just before the orders of the day are called, when it was his almost daily custom to discuss fully any subject which caught his fancy. He was a mixture of humor and prolixity and his flights of rhetoric frequently entranced the house, but as a political supporter he was sometimes an unknown quantity, and once he described the government he was supporting as a "cabinet of antiques," and credited the only brains of the machine to the deputy minister. Perhaps it was for inconsistencies of this kind that a great statesman not inaptly dubbed him "an inspired idiot."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will meet representatives of Canadian boards of trade or labor unions to hear arguments in favor of establishing technical schools.

Reliable sources at Ottawa declare that Hon. Mr. Blair is anxious to extend the Intercolonial railway to the great lakes, by way of the Canada Atlantic and Parry Sound railways, at the same time working in close sympthay with the Great Northern, the new line recently opened in Quebec.

B. M. Britton, K.C., member for Kingston, will test the feeling of house of commons in regard to the advisability of establishing divorce courts in Canada.

The minister of trade and commerce has asked steamship companies to tender for the carrying of mails between Canada and Great Britain for the re-opening of navigation in the St. Lawrence.

A contract for a dredge to cost $25,000 has been awarded to the Polson iron works, Toronto, by the public works department. The dredge will be used on Lake St. Peter.

The minister of marine will ask shortly for tenders for the construction of two steel steamers.

The Canadian club, of New York, has sent a deputation to Ottawa to invite Sir Wilfrid Laurier to deliver an address before the society in New York.

There is talk of moving the high commissioner's office from Victoria street to some other place in London, and obtaining more commodious premises.

Recalled For Over-Zeal.

Calcutta, Feb. 23.—Gen. More-Molyneux has been appointed to the Aden command in place of Gen. Penton, who has been recalled to the Nagpur command for sending troops to assist the sultan of Lahej against the Subaihis contrary to the orders of the government of India. This evidently refers to the recent fighting in southern Arabia between a rebel chief styling himself king of Arabia, and the local sheikhs, in which the former was totally defeated. Lahej is a little state in southern Arabia under British protection.

The religious items given on Saturday are culled from many papers and are considered reliable. The Whig never seeks to misrepresent any church or any person. We gladly publish "Catholic's" letter to correct an error; one made in clipping from our exchanges.

The spring trade continues to develop a fair amount of activity as the season advances. Trade in the country is in a sound, healthy condition, and the prospects for the wholesalers are very promising.

HE LEFT TWO WIDOWS.

Relicts of James Adair Get Tangled Up in His Will.

Toronto, Feb. 22.—A case in which a man left two widows, was settled in the assizes this morning. In 1860, James Adair married a girl near Bowmanville. They lived together until 1886, and had two sons and a daughter. In that year Adair left his wife and went to Dakota, she never hearing from him again. In 1897, Mrs. Amanda Adair was given a decree for alimony of $240 a year, which was never paid. In June, 1897, Adair died in Dakota, and the widow and daughter went west to see if they had been left anything in his will. There they found another Mrs. Adair, who had a daughter, Birdie May, eight years old. It appeared that in 1886 Adair procured a divorce from his Canadian wife, of which she was not aware.

In 1893 he insured his life in the I. O.F., for $1,000, and the Canadian widow, as creditor under the alimony decree, sued the child of the American widow, to whom the money was bequeathed. But very little evidence has been offered when chancellor Boyd suggested that the case be settled, each taking half.

It was finally agreed that the Canadian Mrs. Adair get $550 and the child $450, each paying their own costs.

THOUGHT HE WAS A BURGLAR

Bank Clerk's Precipitancy Almost Causes Tragedy.

Brockville, Ont., Feb. 21.—Harry French, a Merrickville man, had a thrilling experience last night. About ten o'clock he called on a friend, J. B. Crispo, accountant at the Union bank, who has rooms at the rear of the bank. Mr. Crispo was away, but had left Mr. Howarth, the junior clerk, in charge. Mr. French rapped on the door of Mr. Crispo's room, at the same time calling to let him in. Immediately there was a report of a pistol, and to Mr. French's surprise the door panel in front of him was shivered to splinters, as the contents of a thirty-eight calibre revolver whizzed past him.

His desire for social intercourse that evening with Mr. Crispo was abandoned hurriedly. Mr. French had been mistaken for a burglar.

DARE NOT DEFY ENGLAND.

Saturday Review Has a Word to Say Regarding the U. S.

London, Feb. 23.—The Saturday Review, discussing American affairs, says: "Those who fancy we are going to get anything in Alaska in return for further concessions in Nicaragua must be willing dupes. Our government has the game in their own hands. If they choose to take the European powers, who have every claim to be consulted, into their confidence, American statesmen are well aware, with difficulties thickening around them, that they dare not defy this country, much less Europe.

"Russia is giving an object lesson of the proper way of meeting an American bluff."

It is the intention of the officer of bringing Allan to this city to answer the charge. Dignault is described as a manufacturer.
