BRAIN FOOD.

Is of Little Benefit Unless it is Digested.

Nearly everyone will admit that as a nation we eat too much meat and too little of vegetables and the grains.

For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact everyone, engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are much more healthful.

Only men engaged in a severe outdoor manual labor can live on a heavy meat diet and continue in health.

As a general rule, meat once a day is sufficient for all classes of men, women and children, and grains fruit and vegetables should constitute the bulk of food eaten.

But many of the most nutricious foods are difficult of digestion and it is of no use to advise brain workers to eat largely of grains and vegetables where the digestion is too weak to assimilate them properly.

It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and harmless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the relaxed digestive organs, and several years experience have proven Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to be a very safe, pleasant and effective digestive and a remedy which may be taken daily with the best results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a patent medicine, as they do not act on the bowels nor any particular organ but only on the food eaten. They supply what weak stomachs lack, pepsin diastase and by stimulating the gastric glands increase the natural secretion of hydrochloric acid.

People who make a daily practice of taking one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal are sure to have perfect digestion which means perfect health.

There is no danger of forming an injurious habit as the tablets contain absolutely nothing but natural digestives; cocaine, morphine and similar drugs have no place in a stomach medicine and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are certainly the best known and most popular of all stomach remedies.

Ask your druggist for a fifty cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and after a week's use note the improvement in health, appetite and nervous energy.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

If you have a hard hacking cough that no other remedy seems able to cure, try a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. There is nothing to equal it for loosening the phlegm, allaying the irritation and healing and strengthening the lungs and bronchial tubes.

Miss M. Bradshaw, Wesleyville, Ont., says: "My brother was troubled with a very bad hacking cough, which stuck to him in spite of everything we could do, but after using three bottles of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup he was completely cured."

There are so many spurious "pine" preparations on the market that you should always be careful to get Dr. Woods's, the original and genuine.

CHICAGO CAPITALISTS AND SMELTER BY-LAW.

Changes Suggested in the Agreement—G. Y. Chown Believes in Dropping the Capitalists—A Feeling of Dissatisfaction.

A joint meeting of the civic finance committee and the council of the board of trade was held in the mayor's office yesterday afternoon to consider the proposal of Messrs. Terrill and Phelps, the Chicago capitalists, re changing the wording of the smelter by-law. There were present: Mayor Kent, in the chair; aldermen Craig, McLeod and King; D. E. Starr, A. Chadwick, C. Livingston, W. B. Dalton, G. Y. Chown, T. Hewton, R. J. Carson, and George Richardson.

The mayor stated that they had received a communication from Messrs. Terrill and Phelps, which had been considered by the finance committee. The capitalists objected to several clauses in the agreement, one of them being that the city should appoint an expert to see whether or not the specified $200,000 was expended in construction of a smelter.

The mayor stated that he had received reports regarding the standing of the two capitalists. The finance committee had read them, and considered them satisfactory. No further inquiry was deemed necessary.

Mr. King did not believe that it was fair to the capitalists to have the city appoint an expert, whose findings should be indisputable.

Mr. Richardson stated that the smelter would not cost $200,000, or near that sum.

The capitalists added to two clauses the words, "unless it would entail actual loss," which completely changed the meaning of the clauses. They would not agree to employ 100 men without this condition being added. The Chicago men also wanted the word "continually" cut out of the agreement, in speaking of the running of the smelter. The words, "fullest capacity," were also objected to. The $5,000 was to be put up "as an evidence of good faith." This would not enable the city to claim the money in case the company failed to carry out its agreement. It must be expressly stated that the money will be put up "as a forfeit."

Mr. Chown did not consider it worth while to discuss the modifications. He would offer them the original bonus, and if they did not accept it, all right.

Mr. Livingston suggested the striking of a small committee to consider the matter.

Mr. Chown did not want to bother with the capitalists any more; they had accused Kingstonians of being unbusinesslike.

Mr. Chadwick thought all possible efforts should be made to establish a smelter here on a solid basis.

Mr. Starr—"But they won't let us establish it on a solid basis."

Mr. Chown moved that the finance committee be requested to consider and report to the joint committee on the proposed modifications to the agreement. The meeting then adjourned.

The finance committee of the city council had previously dealt with the proposed amendments to the agreement, and had laid over the same clauses for consideration. A committee was already engaged in considering the suggested changes, and it was felt advisable to wait for this committee's report.

WANT DEFERRED PAY.

Will Wait Upon the Government Next Week.

The members of "C" field battery league held a meeting last evening in the parlors of the British-American hotel, the object being to take action in regard to bringing the claims of the batterymen for deferred pay to the notice of the government. The chair was occupied by Gr. T. A. Gillen, and he was subsequently appointed president of the local league, with Gr. Burton Gowdey, secretary-treasurer.

Letters were read from leagues at Toronto, St. Catharines, Hamilton and elsewhere, all stating the willingness of these branch leagues to send delegations to Ottawa, and asking the Kingston league to do likewise. After discussing the question at some length, it was moved and carried that Gr. Gowdey be the local league's delegate, to co-operate with the delegates of other places. The following resolution was adopted and will be laid before the minister of militia:

"That the Kingston members of "C" field battery, assembled in convention, feel that, after careful consideration, we have not been fairly treated as regards the pay to which we were entitled for our services in South Africa. We believe that a portion of our pay is being kept from us because certain untruthful reports were handed to the Hon. Dr. Borden, minister of militia.

"When in South Africa the money given us was a grant by the Rhodesian government for extra work, and not, as alleged by some parties, imperial pay. We wish to put on record the fact that Col. Drury, who was not in Rhodesia with us, on hearing that we had received a grant, applied for a portion for himself. He was refused, on the ground that, as he did not participate in the extra work for which the grant was given, he had no claim on it.

"We also wish to protest against the declaration of Col. Drury, who is reported as having stated to Col. Vidal, 'The men are satisfied with the pay they have.' He had no authority for so stating; we were not consulted. We are simply asking for justice nothing more. Some of our comrades received their share, and we cannot understand why all were not treated alike.

"When the empire needed our services we volunteered in answer to the call, ready to do and die, if needs be."

Copies of this resolution will be sent to certain members of the house. On Monday all the delegates will meet at Ottawa and ask to have an audience with the government.

A PRETTY HOUSE WEDDING.

Miss McKay Married to Mr. Smith of Montreal.

A pretty house wedding took place this morning at the residence of the bride's parents, Sydenham street, when Miss Eva McKay, only daughter of John McKay, was married to Lionel J. Smith, of Montreal. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Malcolm Macgillivray, of Chalmers church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Richardson, of the First Congregational church. The house was profusely decorated with flowers, especially in the drawing room where one corner was converted into a bower of palms, ferns and white blossoms, forming a background for the wedding party. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Alfred Birch. The bride was very lovely in her wedding gown of ivory satin duchesse, trimmed with Renaissance lace, with orange blossoms in her pretty yellow hair over which the bridal veil hung in long graceful folds. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, and was in very truth "a fair and bonnie bride." The bridesmaid was Miss Young, of Montreal, in a stylish gown of white silk organdie over white taffeta, with large drooping hat of black lace straw trimmed with foliage. Her shower bouquet was of pink carnations. The groomsman was Frederick L. Barlow, Montreal. The guests included only the immediate friends of the pride.

After Mr. and Mrs. Smith had received congratulations from all who had witnessed the marriage ceremony, dejeuner was served in the dining room, where the bride's table was decorated with white roses, while pink roses and carnations adorned the tables of the guests.

The handsome wedding gifts were on exhibition in the sitting room upstairs, completely covering the long tables on both sides of the room. The groom's gift to the bride was a solid silver tea service with ebony mountings, and a ring of diamonds and emeralds.

The bride's going away toilette was brown tailor made gown of camel's hair cloth, with revers of brown panne velvet on the jaunty little coat; golden brown blouse of hemstitched taffeta with tiny gilt buttons on the stitched tabs. Her hat was made entirely of violets, the only trimming being two shades of violet taffeta ribbon and large gilt buckle.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for New York and Atlantic City, and will then take the Mediterranean trip, going first to Genoa, and visiting France, Germany, Great Britain and Ireland, before returning to their home at Montreal in August.

Miss Eva McKay had a large circle of friends in Kingston, and while they are sorry to lose her they are sincere in the congratulations tendered to her husband upon having won so charming a bride. That the groom is as popular in Montreal as the bride is in Kingston is evidenced by the fact that his bachelor friends tendered him a farewell dinner at the Windsor on Saturday night and presented him with an elegant cabinet of solid silver.

As Mr. and Mrs. Smith drove away from Mr. McKay's house this morning they were followed by a shower of rice, emblematic of the good wishes of their Kingston friends.

Upper Decks Carried Across Shipyards by Cranes.

Toronto Star.

Work on the Richelieu and Ontario steamer Kingston, at Bertram's shipyards, is progressing rapidly. The engines and boilers have been installed and the upper works are in place. The paddle wheels are now being placed in position, and the interior decoration, which is to excel in beauty that of the Toronto, is being proceeded with. The work of erecting the upper works was extremely interesting. The double decks were built in two sections, the pilot-house in a third, and all were carried the length of the yard by the big travelling cranes and deposited in place. The contract calls for the Kingston to make her trial trip on June 1st. She will be easily ready by that date.

Trouble Of Census Takers.

Some of the census enumerators, who began their work yesterday, met with peculiar experiences. One old gentleman would not permit "the man with the book" inside his door. "You can stand on the sidewalk and fire away," the old gentleman said. One aged lady would not open her door to the census man, though he called twice. On the third trip he found her in the doorway, but she declined to have anything to do with him. It was 6 p.m., and the argument was postponed until a later date. "When I go back," said the enumerator, "I am going to ask that woman every question on the seven pages."

Had Fire Alarms.

The firemen had five calls within twelve hours during Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. Two calls were from box twelve, corner of Bay and Bagot street, both being for a blaze in the one chimney. A small fire in the kitchen of hotel Frontenac also brought out the brigade. The damage was slight.

The most serious blaze was that which occurred about half past nine o'clock last night, when fire was discovered in a shanty at the corner of Rideau and Ordnance streets. The place was vacant, but had been used during the winter as a club house for boys. The neighbors objected to the unsightly "shack" and also to the gathering there of boys; the fire is of a mysterious origin, but people will talk. The neighbors actually abused the firemen for responding so promptly. About two hours after the first alarm, the brigade was again called out, the building being found in flames the second time. The place was owned by Mrs. Chambers.

LAST EARTHLY SERVICES

HELD OVER REMAINS OF REV. GODFREY SHORE.

Floral Tributes on The Coffin—Rev. H. Gracey and Principal Grant Conducted the Burial Service—The Roman Catholic Bell Was Tolled.

The funeral of the late Rev. Godfrey Shore took place from his late home in Portsmouth on Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock. A large number of sorrowing friends were gathered in the house to hear the burial service. After the clergy had taken their places around the bier, the old paraphrase, "O God of Bethel," was sung. Then Rev. H. Gracey, of Gananoque, moderator of Kingston presbytery, addressed the mourning friends. He referred to the fidelity with which the dead minister had labored during his lifetime. Since coming to Canada great success had attended his work, and during his pastorate two churches had been built and paid for. These would stand as a monument to his energy and zeal. Even when his strength failed him, yet he labored on, doing far more than he was really able to do. The faithful servant of the church, now risen to a higher life, and united with the saints in light, leaves behind a memory which will never fade. And, the moderator said, the mournful gathering now followed the remains to the grave with the greatest respect, esteem and admiration. For Mrs. Shore, who had been such a blessed helpmeet to her husband, and who now was left to finish life's journey alone, was asked divine grave for support.

Principal Grant read a portion of I Cor. xv., and offered prayer for the bereaved, and asking that the Divine Father might be a shepherd to the congregation who had lost their pastor.

Beautiful floral offerings were placed on and around the coffin. There was a wreath from the Presbyterian congregation; a cross from St. John's Anglican congregation; a wreath from Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Crisp; a wreath from the teachers and pupils of the Portsmouth public school, in which the deceased took an active interest.

The coffin was borne to the hearse by the Presbyterian church elders, Rev. J. Fairlie and W. F. Crawford. In the cortege were Revs. M. Macgillivray, Prof. Jordan, J. Mackie, Prof. Ross, J. A. Crisp, C. Cartwright, S. Shibley, A. Laird and Prof. Nicholson. The flag on the Orange hall floated at half mast. As the cortege passed through the village, the bell on the Roman Catholic church of the Good Thief was tolled, a kindly and reverent act, a message of sympathy from a church of one faith to that of another. The remains were taken to Cataraqui cemetery for burial.

THE FIREMEN SLIGHTED.

Have Strong Feelings Against Some of Their Critics.

The firemen feel sore over remarks made at the waterworks committee meeting on Friday, when it was declared that they were receiving too much money for the work they did, and yet were clamoring for more. The men feel that they deserve to be better paid, as guardians of the people's property. Many of their so-called idle hours hang more heavily upon them than if they had constant work to perform. They are continually on duty, and receive little time for home life and less for spiritual duties. Well it is for the city to have a well-contented and satisfactorily paid brigade, fully equipped and ready for emergency. Burns' appeal to not despise the soldier is also applicable to the firemen. Thus spoke a citizen who is interested on behalf of the firemen.

To a reporter a fireman said: "Such remarks as those made at the committee discourage the men, who are apt to become careless at fires, when they think their services are undervalued. Few people know that many times we risk our lives. Oftimes I have gone into a burning building, not knowing but what it will be the last venture and that I shall smother in the smoke or fall into the debris. All we ask is a fair recognition, and what we hope for is a scale of wages. We are grateful to the press for the way they have advocated our rights."

The danger of the firemen continuing to flush drains, has often been pointed out. The brigade is weakened when a fire takes place, and if the underwriters hear about it, as they will very soon do, they will be heard from also.

Drugging Will Not Cure Catarrh.

Doctors say so. Victims of snuffs, ointments and tablets tell the same story. Catarrh is a germ disease. The germs excite disease in the lungs, throat, nasal passages and bronchial tubes. Germs are hard to get at, but destroy them and you cure the disease. How can it be done? By carrying powerful medication with the air you breathe direct to the diseased parts. You must be sure, also, that the medication will kill the disease germs. Catarrhozone is guaranteed to do this, that's why it has created such a sensation in the medical world. You simply breathe Catarrhozone; it destroys the germs—it heals—in a word it cures. Now you know everything about Catarrhozone, except what you can learn by using it. Catarrhozone never disappoints and is guaranteed to cure catarrh. Price $1; small size 25c., at druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.
