NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA.

A CURE FOR IT.

Not a Patent Cure-All, nor a Modern Miracle, but Simply a Rational Cure for Dyspepsia.

In these days of humbuggery and deception, the manufacturers of patent medicines, as a rule, seem to think their medicine will not sell unless they claim that it will cure every disease under the sun. And they never think of leaving out dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They are sure to claim that their nostrum is absolutely certain to cure every dyspeptic and he need look no further.

In the face of these absurd claims it is refreshing to note that the proprietors of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have carefully refrained from making any undue claims or false representations regarding the merits of this most excellent remedy for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They make but one claim for it, and that is, that for indigestion and various stomach troubles Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a radical cure. They go no farther than this and any man or woman suffering from indigestion, chronic or nervous dyspepsia, who will give the remedy a trial will find that nothing is claimed for it, that the facts will not fully sustain.

It is a modern discovery, composed of harmless vegetable ingredients acceptable to the weakest or most delicate stomach. Its great success in curing stomach troubles is due to the fact that the medical properties are such that it will digest whatever wholesome food is taken into the stomach, no matter whether the stomach is in good working order or not. It rests the over-worked organ and replenishes the body, the blood, the nerves, creating a healthy appetite, gives refreshing sleep and the blessings which always accompany a good digestion and proper assimilation of food.

In using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets no dieting is required. Simply eat plenty of wholesome food and take these tablets at each meal, thus assisting and resting the stomach which rapidly regains its proper digestive power, when the tablets will be no longer required.

Nervous dyspepsia is simply a condition in which some portion or portions of the nervous system are not properly nourished. Good digestion invigorates the nervous system and every organ in the body.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at 50c. per package.

They are manufactured by the F. A. Stuart Co., of Marshall, Mich.

Any druggist will tell you it gives universal satisfaction.

THE CHURCHES YESTERDAY

A SERMON PREACHED TO THE MEDICAL STUDENTS.

Rev. Dr. Robertson in Convocation Hall—The Services in St. Mary's Cathedral—A Memorial Service—Notes About Easter.

The queen of festivals was celebrated in St. Mary's cathedral on Sunday, with great solemnity. The altar was handsomely decorated with natural flowers and in the evening was illuminated with myriads of waxen tapers. Above the altar the words "Resurexit Sicut Dixit," and on both sides, "Alleluia." White and yellow streamers were also used in the decorations and the whole presented a very handsome appearance. At the early masses large numbers partook of their paschal communion. High mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. J. Meagher and Revs. Salmon and M. Meagher assisting as deacon and subdeacon respectively. In the evening grand vespers were sung and the Rev. Fr. Kehoe preached a very able sermon on the resurrection. Gounod's mass—a beautiful composition—was sung in masterly manner by the choir, the various soloists acquitting themselves admirably. The soloists were Miss Sullivan, Miss McCabe and Miss Lillie Lyons, Messrs. Koen, Beaupre and Bryson. At the benediction in the evening Miss McCabe gave the "O Salutaris," in a very pleasing manner, and Miss Lillie Lyons sang "Tantum Ergo," her effort being much admired. The choir will repeat Gounod's mass next Sunday. The festival was fittingly observed in the various conventual chapels.

The congregation of the cathedral handsome sum of $1,660.50. It was the largest ever taken up at Easter time in the parish of Kingston. Part of this goes to defray the expense of lighting and heating the church, and what remains over goes to clear off the outstanding debts of the parish.

The congregation of the cathedral will hold a grand picnic on Dominion day, July 1st, at some place in the vicinity of Kingston to be later on determined. The proceeds will go to sweep out forever and ever the floating debt of the church and parish, and also to help to defray the expenses of repairing the sides of the church which are now in a very bad condition.

At Sydenham Street Church.

The musical part of the services in Sydenham street Methodist church yesterday was very fine, and appropriate to the season. Miss Perley sang solos both morning and evening. A quartette, composed of Messrs. Hutchison and Spence, and Misses Perley and Armstrong, sang very sweetly in the morning, and by request repeated the selection at night. Rev. E. B. Lanceley spoke, in the evening, to medical students, holding up Christ as the Master Physician. Their success, he said, depended upon their character, their profession and their sociality. The minister sees the best side of man, the lawyer the worst side, but the doctor sees the man himself. This knowledge he should keep inviolate. In two weeks Queen's would confer D.D. degrees; on Wednesday M.D. degrees. The speaker would prefer the work of a doctor of humanity to that of a doctor of divinity.

St. John's Church, Portsmouth.

The services in St. John's church, Portsmouth, were very bright. The chancel was tastefully decorated with plants and flowers, kindly given or loaned by the members of the congregation. The music, as is always the case in this church, was particularly good. Besides the usual chants, Dyke's Te Deum, and at both services, the anthem, Festa Dies, by Bartlett, were sung, in the latter Mrs. Birkett taking the solo parts in a very pleasing manner. Rev. Mr. Crisp preached at the communion service in the morning, and Rev. Mr. Lewin in the evening. Notice was given of the annual vestry meeting to be held this evening. It is rumored that Rev. Mr. Dobbs will tender his resignation as rector, and that his successor will be elected.

Sunday School Rally.

The Sunday school of the Sydenham street Methodist church held an Easter rally yesterday afternoon, in the school room. Solos were sung by Miss Elleda Perley and Miss Mabel Bailey. An exercise drill, "He Is Risen," by nine boys, was very prettily carried out. Abraham Shaw, who, in the absence of superintendent Harrison, conducted the services, talked to the scholars on matters pertaining to Easter and its associations. A number of choruses were cleverly rendered by the pupils.

Church Paragraphs.

Quarterly communion was celebrated in St. Andrew's, Cooke's and Zion Presbyterian churches yesterday morning.

The Easter collection in St. Mary's cathedral last year amounted to $1,586. Yesterday's was somewhat larger.

Rev. Dr. Robertson, superintendent of Presbyterian missions in the northwest territories, gave an address in convocation hall yesterday afternoon. He spoke of the progress in the northwest.

In his sermon at Chalmers church on Sunday morning, Rev. Mr. Macgillivray declared that an idle Sunday, given to wickedness, is the worst day of the week. Rather than have such a Sunday, he would prefer to see regular labor on the Lord's day, for, as a work day, there would be less wickedness.

At the Portsmouth Presbyterian service last evening, W. F. Crawford officiated. The sermon was on the death of Rev. Mr. Shore, the pastor of the church. Reference was made to the high esteem in which the deceased minister was held by all classes and creeds, and of the kindness shown him during his illness, in his dying hours, and at the burial, by the other village congregations. Special mention was made concerning Rev. Father McDonald, who ordered that the Roman Catholic bell toll a knell as the funeral passed through the village.

The music at St. James' church yesterday was very fine. In the morning Woodward's Te Deum and Barnby's Kyrie were sung. In the evening Tour's evening service was sung, and the choir rendered Foster's anthem, "As It Began To Dawn." The solos in the latter were taken by Miss Bailey and Miss B. Tandy. The solo, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," was sweetly and effectively sung by Miss Mabel Bailey. The floral decorations in chancel and around the pulpit and desk were most chaste. Rev. J. K. Macmorine preached at both services.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Lieut. A. Clyde Caldwell, Lanark, has been appointed to take charge of the mapping work of the Royal military college. He is considered efficient in that department, having done considerable work for the military authorities in South Africa, for which he obtained praise from the chief of the intelligence department.

MARINE MATTERS.

Vessels Preparing for Opening of Navigation.

Navigation was opened at Ogdensburg Saturday by the arrival of the steamer Messena from Alexandria Bay.

Capt. M. S. Tucker, Philadelphia, has arrived in Ogdensburg to take charge of the steamer Unique. He is to be her commander when she reaches the Delaware river. She will be ready to sail in a month.

This season the steamer Argyle will be placed on the north shore route of Lake Ontario, between Cobourg, Port Hope, Oshawa and Whitby to Toronto, the route occupied by the Garden City last season.

James Playfair, who has large interests in lumber vessels, wrecking appliances, etc., in and around Midland, Ont., is having built at Dundee, Scotland, a steel steamer of Canadian canal dimensions. The Midland navigation company, now forming, will own the vessel. Her name will be Midland Queen.

Capt. Andrew Baird, owner and master of the schooner Mary, which wintered at Napanee, is engaged in practically making a new boat of her. New deck beams have been placed the entire length of the vessel, and will be covered with new decking. New hatch combings, pawl post, stem and many other parts of the gear are being put in of new material. These improvements will rate the vessel in the Dominion sailing register at A 1 instead of B 1 as heretofore. As soon as fitted out she will go to Oswego for a load of coal.

Thomas W. Casey, Napanee, writes to the Belleville Sun that he remembers two years in succession away back in the forties, when Capt. Jacob Bonter took his steamer from Belleville to Kingston on the 1st day of April. Daniel Davern, of Adolphustown, also has a distinct remembrance of seeing the steamer pass his father's farm on the bay. After it had passed an ice bed near that a bugler on board played "The Girl I Left Behind Me." A Belleville man tells the Sun it was the steamer Prince Edward, in 1849.

Kingston Men As House Surgeons.

For three consecutive years two Kingston graduates of Queen's medical college have received appointment as house surgeons of the general hospital, through high standing in their final examinations. In 1899, Drs. Watson and Williamson were the house surgeons; in 1900, Drs. Johns and Hiscock (Dr. Burton filling a vacancy); and in 1901, Drs. Howie and Grimshaw receive appointment.

20 Years Of Vile Catarrh.

Charles O. Brown, journalist, of Duluth, Min., writes: "I have been a sufferer from throat and nasal catarrh for over twenty years, during which time my head has been stopped up and my condition truly miserable. Within fifteen minutes after using Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder I obtained relief. Three bottles have almost, if not entirely, cured me." 50c. Sold by E. C. Mitchell and G. W. Mahood. 73.

An Ex Convict Beaten.

A young man, liberated from the penitentiary on Saturday, first sought the saloon for cheer. With his bonus money he soon attracted many "dry" individuals and made new friends. Early on Sunday morning he was attacked by roughs of his own calibre, and given a severe beating. The booty sought after by his enemies was a bottle of whiskey, which was taken away from the ex-convict, and in exchange for which were given bruises.

A Big Quarter's Worth.

Is always found in a bottle of Polson's Nerviline, the best household liniment known. It cures rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, headache, sick stomach, in fact is good for everything a liniment ought to be good for. Mothers find it the safest thing to run on their children for sore throat, cold on the chest, sprains and bruises. Never be without Polson's Nerviline. It will cure the pains and aches of the entire family and relieve a vast amount of suffering every year.

Their Memory Cherished.

When a home for the nurses of the general hospital is built, there will no doubt be erected within its walls a tablet or window in memory of the nurses who have entered into rest since the inauguration of the training school in 1892. These nurses all died while attending to their sacred duties, in alleviating the pain of the suffering; they were martyrs to their profession, for, though their work was at times dangerous, they never wavered until smitten with disease through contagion and overwork, they were themselves brought to death's bed and then fell asleep. Their memory will ever be cherished, and their faithful work commemorated by inscription.

Death Of C. S. Vanluven.

On Monday, April 1st, Christopher S. Vanluven, Battersea, entered into rest, at the age of seventy one years. Last summer he was attacked by a paralytic stroke, and has been ill ever since. For sixty years he lived on the farm where he died. He was for forty years a local preacher of the Methodist church, and highly respected wherever he went. His wife and three sons survive; also two brothers, T. W. in Battersea; Charles H., in Watertown, N.Y., and a half-brother, Leonard, in Battersea. The funeral took place on Wednesday and was largely attended. The burial service was conducted by Rev. W. T. Brown, Kingston, in the Methodist church, the interior of which was heavily draped in black.

Ladies' Aid Elect Officers.

The twenty-first annual meeting of the ladies' aid society, of Queen street Methodist church, was held in the parlor of the church on April 3rd. The annual reports were cheering, showing a steady increase in interest and finance. The treasurer reported cash on hand, $123.17. This sum has been raised entirely by free will offerings. The society also gave the trustees in July last a cheque for $400. Mrs. Toye presided at the election of officers, which resulted as follows: Honorary president, Mrs. (Rev.) Whiting; president, Mrs. George Cliff; first vice-president, Mrs. R. Meek; second vice-president, Mrs. T. Bateman; secretary, Mrs. W. H. Asselstine; treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Wormwith; executive committee, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Gardiner and Mrs. Johns.

Drugging Will Not Cure Catarrh.

Doctors say so. Victims of snuffs, ointments and tablets tell the same story. Catarrh is a germ disease. The germs excite disease in the lungs, throat, nasal passages and bronchial tubes. Germs are hard to get at, but destroy them and you cure the disease. How can it be done? By carrying powerful medication with the air you breathe direct to the diseased parts. You must be sure, also, that the medication will kill the disease germs. Catarrhozone is guaranteed to do this, that's why it has created such a sensation in the medical world. You simply breathe Catarrhozone; it destroys the germs—it heals—in a word it cures. Now you know everything about Catarrhozone, except what you can learn by using it. Catarrhozone never disappoints and is guaranteed to cure catarrh. Price $1; small size 25c., at druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

TWO AGED PEOPLE AT REST

DEATH OF MRS. HAYWARD AND ROBERT THOMSON.

Both Were Old Residents of Kingston—Robert Thomson Passed Away on Good Friday and Mrs. Hayward on Easter Sunday.

After an illness extending over two years, Christina Goodwin, relict of the late William Hayward, on Easter Sunday fell asleep in death. For the past seven weeks Mrs. Hayward has been confined to bed. Gladly was the summons of death's angel obeyed, and the patient sufferer, surrounded by those she loved, was united with the loved ones gone before. The late Mrs. Hayward was born in Kelsyth, Scotland, in June, 1818. Most of her life in Scotland was spent in Kirkintillock, near her birthplace. She married Alexander Brash, sixty years ago and three years later emigrated with her husband to Canada. The couple resided in Portsmouth for some years, and it was there that Mr. Brash died, nine years after his arrival, in this country. His wife afterwards moved to Kingston, and in 1855 married William Hayward, who died about fourteen years ago. Mrs. Hayward has resided on Earl street ever since.

The first family of children consisted of three daughters and one son—Mrs. Jewell, Harristown, Ont.; Mrs. D. Hoppins and Mrs. Thomas Hewitt, Kingston, and Robert Brash, township of Pittsburg. The children of the second union are: Mrs. Dr. W. D. Reid, Barre, Vermont, Mrs. F. H. Moody, Toronto, and Thomas Hayward, Kingston.

Mrs. Hayward was a member of the First Congregational church. She was a truly christian woman, of beautiful character, and beloved by a wide circle of friends. A sacred memory she leaves behind to be cherished by those who now bend over the bier with tearful eye, sorrowing for the removal from among them of one greatly beloved, but thankful for a life well spent and running over with a full measure of goodness and charity, at last called to the eternal home and united with the blessed communion of the saints.

The funeral will be private from the home on Tuesday afternoon.

Death Of Robert Thompson.

Robert Thomson, who died at his home on Bagot street on Friday, after an illness of two months, was born in Glasgow, Scotland, on March 26th, 1826, and was a son of Dr. William Thomson, for many years superintendent of the Hyland asylum for the insane at Greenock, Scotland. Early in life he entered the employment of the Newfoundland shipping company, remaining in this service till 1858, when he removed to Canada, after marrying Miss Jane Sutherland. He purchased a farm at Melbourne, Que., and remained upon it until 1870, when he removed to Montreal, to enter the employment of the Grand Trunk railway. Two years later he was transferred to Kingston as head of the freight department, which position he held till a few years ago, being succeeded by his son, William. Surviving are his wife, four sons and one daughter. The children are: William, Kingston, freight agent of the G.T.R.; Robert J., West Palm Beach, Florida; Donald S., Waukegan, Ill.; Gillespie, Richmond, Virginia; Miss Bessie, at home.

The late Mr. Thomson was a thorough Scotchman, a man of sterling qualities, noble character, and highly respected by all who knew him. He was ordained an elder in the Presbyterian church in Scotland over thirty-five years ago, and at the time of his death was one of the elders of St. Andrew's church. When in his prime, Mr. Thomson was very active in church work, and for years was superintendent of the Portsmouth Sabbath school. The only organization to which he belonged was St. Andrew's. In politics he was a conservative. The funeral, a private one, took place today. The burial service at the home was conducted by Rev. J. Mackie, of St. Andrew's church.

A FAITHFUL EMPLOYEE.

Thomas Clancey, Caretaker of Gildersleeve's Steamers.

"Capt." Thomas Clancey, the faithful watchman of the steamers Hero and North King, which lie in the harbor, is very proud of his charges. These boats are as clean and neat as any in the harbor, and show plainly the results of his labor. Capt. Jarvell will command the King this year, while O. Hickey will be chief engineer. "She's the best boat in the harbor," said Mr. Clancey this morning. "But the Hero is a good boat too, and one of the cleanest you can find. Capt. Bloomfield will have charge of her this spring until the steamer Caspian comes up. Mr. Boyd will be first engineer. Capt. Bloomfield turned the first wheel in the harbor yesterday, and blew the first three whistles."

Mr. Clancey is very proud of the medal, given him for his good care of the North King. The medal bears the words: "Awarded to Thomas Clancey, champion ship keeper of Canada, by Thomas Donnelly, inspector of steamers, Kingston, 1899." A bar bears the word, "Champion," in large letters. On the reverse side of the medal is a good picture of the North King. Mr. Clancy has been master of eight boats in his time, and has been with the Gildersleeve firm for forty years.

Shot His Toes Off.

Harry Blanchard, Mallorytown, who teaches school on Grenadier Island, was the victim of an unlucky accident on Saturday. He was preparing to go duck hunting, and while waiting for a companion rested the muzzle of the gun on his foot. It was accidentally discharged, blowing off a portion of several toes. The large toe will have to be amputated.
