The speedy recovery of the stock market since the panic is an exhibit that is unique. Outsiders are now again in the speculative arena. In some of the more active stocks, save Henry Clews, prices are approximating the highest figures touched before the anti-crisis stage of the boom. Values are destined to reach a still higher level. There is yet a wide range of railroads to which co-operative connections may be advantageously applied.

DESERONTO NEWS.

Batteries In Camp—Death of W. D. McRae.

Deseronto, June 10.—"A" and "B" field batteries arrived here on Saturday morning to camp. The roads from Kingston were in a horrible condition and when the men arrived mud was their principal adornment. The camp has been greatly improved since the government secured a ten years' lease from the Mohawks.

W. D. McRae, who during the past nine months of consumption, passed away on Friday morning. He contracted a heavy cold about a year ago and a little later went to the Belleville hospital for three or four months. He returned here eight weeks ago and opened up his bicycle repair shop, but was soon taken down again. He belonged to the masons and Sons of Scotland. The former lodge had charge of the funeral which took place to the Deseronto cemetery. Services at the church of Redeemer were conducted by Rev. Dr. McTavish. The mourners were his sister, Miss McRae, of Belleville; his brother Daniel, of Toronto; T. W. McRae, of Montreal, and Miss Alice McRae, of Belleville. There was a large funeral procession and the flowers were beautiful.

Planning The Visit.

This morning mayor Kent received a letter from Hon. R. W. Scott, secretary of state, stating that the invitation of the citizens of Kingston to the duke and duchess of York to visit this city during their Canadian tour, would be favorably considered. The intention is to have the royal party visit Kingston, lay the foundation stone of the new arts building at Queen's, and take steamer for a tour of the Thousand Islands and down the rapids.

GAMBLING DENS RAIDED.

COMPANY TO DEVELOP THE COAL CARRYING TRADE

Between United States And Canada—Royal Scots' Commander Retires — Results of McGill Medical Faculty Examinations.

Montreal, June 10.—The Belmont club on St. Lawrence street, and a Jean Baptiste club on Charles St. Borrommee street were raided by the police early Sunday morning and twenty men arrested in the former, and ten in the latter. A lot of gambling paraphaernalia was seized. The men were released on bail.

One of the direct results of the deepening of Canada's great system of inland waterways to fourteen feet is the announcement that a new and important corporation has been formed, composed of leading Canadian and United States commercial men, among the latter being W. F. Havemeyer, the New York sugar king, for the purpose of developing the coal carrying trade between the United States ports on Lake Ontario, and the city of Montreal. The company starts out with a well equipped fleet, which will, of course, be increased as fast as the growing trade will require it. The authorized capital of the Montreal and towing company is $250,000 and they have begun operations by taking over the entire business of Torrance and Muir, which amounted last year to 52,000 tons. The directors are J. Torrance, Henry Miles, S. O. Shorey, W. F. Torrance and G. Ernest Muir, the two last named being respectively president and secretary-treasurer.

Lieut.-Col. Ibbotson, of the 5th Royal Scots, has retired from the command, to be succeeded by Maj. G. W. Cameron, late of Strathcona horse.

The results in the McGill medical faculty for the year are announced this morning as follows: In the final year, the Holmes gold medal for the highest aggregate in medical subjects is awarded to R. K. Kerr, B.A., Montreal; the final prizes for the best examination written and oral, to James Bruce, B.A., of Moncton, N.B.; the Clemesha prize in clinical therapheutics, to L. F. Robertson, B.A., Stratford, Ont., and the McGill medical society's first and second senior prizes to H. M. Little, B.A., and C. K. Russell, B.A.

James Wilson, president of the railway trackmen's association of America, now in the city at the request of the C. P. R. trackmen, has ordered a strike on the Maine Central railway, whose Canadian terminus is at Sherbrooke. About 600 men will be affected.

Rev. H. T. Boyle, B.A., graduate of Trinity college, Toronto, has been appointed assistant minister of Christ church cathedral, of this city, in succession to the Rev. Prof. Steen.

Montreal bridge company has petitioned the Montreal council to grant one million dollars in aid of the proposed bridge across the St. Lawrence, between the east of Montreal and Longueuil.

As the result of Sunday morning's raid on the Belmont and St. Jean Baptiste clubs, nineteen men pleaded guilty this morning to looking at or participating in gambling and were fined by the police magistrate a sum aggregating $380. John Dailey and Peter Coleman the proprietors of the two places pleaded "not guilty" and were remanded.

HAS EMPEROR CONSENTED?

THE QUEEN'S VISIT TO BERLIN FOR THAT PURPOSE.

Owing to a Public Statement the German Chancellor Has Issued a Statement—To End the Boer War.

Berlin, June 10.—The Klein and Journal to-day prints a despatch from The Hague, saying that queen Wilhelmina's recent visit here was meant to obtain emperor William's consent to end the South African war, both the Zweibund and the Dreibund being willing to do so, through The Hague arbitration court and that the emperor consented and the court began work thereon.

The despatch has created a sensation here. The following statement is authorized by count Von Buelow, the imperial chancellor:

"Neither Great Britain, France nor Russia ever approached Germany to participate in any action aiming at ending the South African war. Germany has all along distinguished between offering her good offices and intervention. To render her good offices would be possible under certain circumstances, viz., if both parties to the war should request it, but it will be remembered that Great Britain joined the Hague conference only on condition that the Boer states were excluded."

"There is no doubt that Mr. Kruger, who is a serious statesman, came to Europe to obtain the good offices of several of the powers to end the war, but there is also no doubt that Great Britain does not want their good offices. At least it is true that since the South African war began Great Britain has never either verbally or in writing confidentally or officially broached such an idea. It is quite possible that the Boer side has now formally asked The Hague arbitration court to lend its aid to end the war some how and that the court has held a session regarding the matter. But that of course, is entirely different from any serious steps to end the war."

The Late Returns.

London, June 10.—Lord Kitchener, in a despatch from Pretoria, under Tuesday's date says the number of Boers killed, imprisoned or surrendered during May totalled 2,640. From June 1st to June 9th, twenty-six Boers were killed, four were wounded, 409 were made prisoners, and thirty-three surrendered and 651 rifles. 155,550 rounds of ammunition, 120 waggons and 4,000 horses were captured.

Diplomacy.

Butcher—Are you sure that your mother said a pound of the toughest steak I have in my shop?

"Yes, 'cos father he's got poor teeth, and if I takes back tender steak he'll eat the lot, but if it's tough the rest on us will 'ave a chance of getting some."

A Helpmate In Truth.

Marjorie—The new rector's wife is so worldly I don't think she can be of much assistance to him.

Madge—Why, my dear, she couldn't do more. Only for her they could never have planned the trip abroad next summer. She brought about no less than six Easter weddings in his congregation.—Leslie's Weekly.

Luckily He Isn't.

Mrs. Arlington—Is that young man that Ethel Wingate is engaged to smart?

Mrs. Lexington—Well, if he were as bright as she thinks he is everybody around here would have to wear blue glasses.—Somerville Journal.

Where It Was Due.

"Yes," she sneered during the customary exhibition of her temper, "I'm disappointed. I married you for pity, and now"—

"You don't get any," he interrupted, "for all our friends lavish it on me."—Philadelphia Press.

Could Endure It.

"Isn't it a great disappointment to lose a clew?" we asked of the eminent detective.

"Not when I am being paid by the day," he replied, with a mysterious smile.—Baltimore American.

A Poser.

"Little boys who go on the ice on Sundays get drowned, don't they, auntie?"

"Yes, dear."

"Well, what do little Eskimo boys do?"—London Gaiety.

Otherwise With the Poor.

"I feel sorry for the rich."

"Why?"

"When a rich man gets a counterfeit quarter, he can't remember where he got his dollar bill broken."—Exchange.

Had To Abandon Plan.

Vancouver, June 10.—Three men attempted to hold up a mixed train near Eholt. They got the train stopped, but were surprised to find there was an unusually large crew aboard and at once decamped.
