METHODIST MISSION RALLY

AT QUEEN STREET CHURCH—C. T. CURRELLEY'S ADDRESS.

The Gospel Needs In the North-West Were Presented—Excellent Solos Rendered By Various City Ladies.

Last evening a rally of the Methodist young people of the city was held in the Queen street Methodist church, C. T. Currelley, M.A., of Victoria university, who is presenting to the Canadian Methodists the claims of the northwest missions, addressed the meeting. He related many of his tragic experiences when engaged in mission work on the western frontier, strongly setting forth the gospel needs of that growing country. Pathetic scenes were depicted, showing the immediate need of more workers, and a strong appeal was made for increased liberality. Miss Davis, soloist of Brock street Methodist church, made a most favorable impression. She appeared to no disadvantage in the company of the older artists, considering their relative experiences. Mrs. Evans, always a favorite, was in excellent voice, and sang with her accustomed sweetness and favor, "Not Ashamed of Christ." Mrs. Strivewing's beautiful singing gained for her many admirers. Miss Mabel Bailey was at her best, and presented "Abide With Me," by Ambrose. Miss Louise Singleton was accompanist. Rev. Thomas Brown occupied the chair. Mr. Currelley will speak at Battersea, Sydenham and Verona this week and will occupy two of the Methodist pulpits on Sunday.

LANARK COUNTY NOTES.

Happenings at Perth, Smith's Falls And Almonte.

The Crescent lacrosse club of Perth, is in correspondence with several western lacrosse teams in view of a tour this season.

Master Gordon McIntosh, Almonte, while sitting on the iron railing at the end of the bridge near the Almonte town hall, tumbled over backward and had his head and hand badly bruised. The Lanark county council meets on Monday, June 17th.

Capt. Balderson has secured for the 42nd band, Perth, new uniforms, including trousers and serges. They fit splendidly. The main streets of Perth present a very busy appearance. Gangs of men are tearing up the plank walks, and preparing for the new granolithic walks. James Allen, sr., has re-opened his grocery store in the west ward, Perth, last Tuesday. Messrs. Noonan, Perth, shipped a load of hogs and a load of fat cattle and veals. R. Brown, Perth, shipped a load of cattle. The shipments were good ones, some splendid fat cattle being among the number. The calves were also a superior lot.

At the annual meeting of the Perth rink company, held a short time ago, these officers were elected: President, James McLaren; vice-president, W. B. Hart; secretary-treasurer, J. M. Hall; manager, George S. James. Last season the rink company was very successful, financially.

Messrs. Shaw, McKerracher and Peard have bought the salvage stock of J. H. Charles, dry goods merchant, Perth, who was burned out a short time ago. J. Mendles has bought the stock of W. H. Churchill, grocer, who had his stock damaged by smoke and water at the same fire. A. Kenny, who purchases hogs for the George Matthews company, of Hull, lost twenty-two hogs last Wednesday at Almonte. After being driven in from the country they were put into a car in the evening, and when Mr. Kenny went down about 11 a.m. to see that they were all right, he found them all dead from suffocation, a loss of about $100.

A lacrosse match was played on the Almonte agricultural grounds between the Almonte and the Carleton Place juniors. The game was a good exhibition of clean lacrosse and resulted in favor of Almonte by a score of four to nothing. The Perth collegiate institute football team defeated the Smith's Falls club, Saturday, by a score of two to nothing.

Thomas Campbell, of Victoria hall, Perth, has arrived home from Grand Forks, N.D. He put in 500 acres of flax during his stay here this spring. The young man, J. W. Kelly, sent up from Smith's Falls for obtaining money under false pretences, came up for trial before judge Senkler on Friday, C. J. Foy defending. After hearing the evidence, the juoge discharged him.

A Catholic Mission.

Wolfe Island, June 10.—Rev. Mr. Laird, Kingston, conducted service in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church on Sunday last. He preached a very forcible sermon. We hope he may soon visit us again. A mission will be held in the Catholic church next week by the Redemptorist fathers from Montreal. A very pretty wedding took place in the Church of the Sacred Heart, on Monday morning, when James McDonald and Catharine Ryan were united. A brother of the groom acted as best man, while the bride's sister looked after her. Michael Buggee, Rochester, N.Y., who was called to the bed-side of his sick sister, Mrs. James Moran, has returned home. The condition of Mrs. James Moran and Mrs. William Henderson is much improved. A horse buyer from Montreal, visited the island this week, but only purchased four horses; prices ranging from $80 to $100. Good horses on the island seem to be scarce. Michael O'Brien had the misfortune to loose two valuable milch cows this week. Andrew Stevenson is the proud possessor of a bouncing pair of twins. James Lyons is laying the foundation for a new residence. When completed it will be the finest on the island.

TRAVELS IN CLOUDLAND.

The Pleasures of Life Would Be Enhanced.

By a Banker.

Although the ingenuity of man has for many years past been engaged in efforts to construct an aerial machine which can be completely under control, and can be steered at will in any direction, yet, so far, only very partial success has attended those attempts. It, however, such a machine could be devised, and it were possible to take a sail into cloudland, without more risk than would attend a sail on the sea, the pleasures of life would be considerably enhanced.

The first thing that appears to strike the balloon voyager when the command "Let go" is given, is the strange sensation experienced, that instead of the balloon rising, the earth appears to be rapidly falling into space, leaving the aerial travellers, as it were, fixed immovably in the atmosphere. As the balloon continues to rise, so the great earth sinks down further and still further into the ethereal depths, until the momentary thought perhaps suggests itself whether it will be possible again to reach that fast retreating planet.

But suddenly she is entirely lost to view, for the balloon has penetrated a dense cloud, and for some minutes is immersed in impenetrable fog. Emerging from this, a scene is presented so sublime and so glorious that voyagers are filled with awe at the overwhelming splendour and grandeur of the magnificent pageant. As far as the eye can reach is spread out a rolling ocean whose pure snow white billows appear as if carved out of solid unblemished chalcedony. And those strange shapes and erected marble waves—some slowly curling over, as if breaking on the shore; some broken up and gyrating together, and piling up a great heavy mountain, higher and yet higher, like Pelion upon Ossian; some assuming weird fantastic forms which appear to be engaged in some titanic warfare, only to merge together and form still more grotesquely fanciful figures; while others in the distance appear as if a great army of snow-white and still stranger horses were advancing over the dazzling surge—yet all apparently impelled by some great unseen force, which sported with the smighty shining mass as 'twere lighter than a feather.

And now a great rent in the radiant aerial ocean reveals the green earth far below; the scattered villages appearing like a few stones collected together; while a broad, winding river, appearing like a piece of shining white thread, discharges itself into the distant sea, warring the voyagers to descend from those wondrous scenes of aerial beauty and sublimity, and again to assume the trammels of earth.

But a time will come when those trammels are for ever cast aside, when not only shall we be able to soar on spirit-wing to any part of this greatly honored planet, or, if we will, visit any of those myriad shining orbs which spangle the midnight sky; but, far more entrancing still—for our home will be in the glory—we shall be able to explore scenes so transcendent that it is outside the power of the finite mind to conceive, even in the wildest flight of imagination. Unless, alas! by forgetting our Creator, and refusing to accept the Saviour as our atoner, we are shut out!

PORTSMOUTH COUNCIL.

Court of Revision Appeals—Water Tables to Be Repaired.

The Portsmouth court of revision was held last night. On appeal from J. W. Henstridge, six young men were put on for statute labor. Out of six appeals from taxpayers, three were allowed, namely, William Westlake, house just purchased by him for $300, formerly assessed for $450, reduced by $150; lot on Richard street, assessed, $100; $25 struck off; Charles Beaupre's house on Union street, $50, struck off.

Alderman McLeod addressed council asking for a year's taxes off, owing to vacancy, and wanted to know if the council would bear part of the cost of moving the street railway track from Front street to Bay street. No action.

Council meeting was held after the court of revision, all members present. A communication was received from J. Forsythe to have drain opened up across the street in front of his house. Councillor Kennedy was instructed to superintend work, and have other water tables opened up. Tenders will be asked for crossings on Front street and boardwalks on Union and Bay streets, tenders to be received Tuesday evening, June 18th.

Has a Splendid Delivery.

Brockville Times.

The services in St. Paul's church, Sunday, were conducted by Rev. G. L. Starr, of St. George's cathedral, Kingston, and large congregations were present morning and evening, including many old friends from other denominations. Mr. Starr preached two admirable sermons, and greatly pleased his hearers. At the evening service he drew many practical lessons from the story of St. Paul's shipwreck, showing that duty, hope, the church and Christ, were five anchors necessary in life to weather the storms of adversity, sin, etc. Mr. Starr is a rising young theologian. He speaks extemporaneously and has a splendid delivery.

A Woman Robbed.

Is It Otherwise?

If you rise in the morning feeling bright as a lark, head as clear as a bell, enjoy a hearty breakfast, go through the day's work with vim, and are ready for good sound restful sleep when bedtime comes—then you don't require Abbey's Effervescent Salt, except as a pleasant drink.

Otherwise—Otherwise.

It's the can't-sleep, can't-eat sort of man that requires Abbey's Effervescent Salt whether he suffers in a more or a less degree. There must be something wrong with his digestive organs. His stomach, liver or kidneys are not doing their duty. He needs a medicine that will reach every organ involved, put him in a condition of health and keep him that way. Abbey's Effervescent Salt will do this for him—quickly surely, pleasantly.
