DOINGS OF THE BOYS AT BARRIEFIELD CAMP.

McKeegan to be Tried by Court Martial—Orders of the Day — Maj.-Gen. O'Grady-Haly To Visit Camp on Monday—Notes Picked up by the Whig Scribe.

Yesterday saw a big improvement in the condition of the military camp at Barriefield. It was the first fine day the men under canvas have had, and they enjoyed the change exceedingly. "Old Sol" beamed forth in all his bright effulgence, and beneath his warm smile the water gradually vanished and the mud gave place to solid earth. A wonderful transformation was wrought during a few hours. The camp soon began to grow bearable, but it is bad enough still. The lines of the 47th and 49th regiments were located in the lowest ground in camp, and were in an undesirably Lorrible position. The men had tried to improve their lot by spreading boards on the floor of their tents, but at every step the water and mud oozed up through the boards until they were as bad above as they were below. Yet this had to be their bed! Lieut.-Col. Biggar, D.A.A.G. (b) intended yesterday morning to remove the camp of the 47th and 49th to the high ground near the Pittsburg road, directly opposite the position where they were first pitched, but the change in the weather satisfied him that the camp would soon dry up under the burning sun. His surmise proved true.

The parade ground in the eastern end of the camp was, however, too wet for drill, and the regiments were kept off it. Several companies, most of them of the 16th, were marched out to Barriefield and drilled on the top of the hill between Fort Henry and the road, where it was high and dry. The red coats and white helmets of the infantrymen made a picturesque sight, when viewed from the city, as they performed their manoeuvres on the brow of the hill.

The 6th brigade furnished a headquarters' guard yesterday, and the 5th brigade to-day.

The divisional medical orderly officer to-day was Sergt.-Maj. Lynch, 42nd regiment, next for duty, Sergt.-Maj. Kidd, 16th regiment.

The divisional orders for Friday contained the following:

"The following are the senior brigade medical officers: Cavalry brigade — Surg.-Maj. Young, 3rd Dragoons. 5th brigade — Surg.-Maj. Willoughby, 40th regiment. 6th brigade—Surg.-Maj. McCammon, 56th regiment.

"When any corps turns out for parade or drill, officers, non-commissioned officers and men must appear in precisely the same order of dress. Officers are on no account to wear cloaks or capes when the non-commissioned officers and men are not ordered to wear them, and uniformity in the matter of head dress must be strictly adhered to by all ranks. The attention of officers commanding units is called to the fact that a large number of officers under their command are not in the possession of sword knots.

A board of medical officers composed as under will assemble at the field hospital on a day and at an hour to be named by the president for the purpose of inspecting and reporting upon the case of Sergt. Nowman, 56th regiment: President, Surg.-Maj. Willoughby, 40th regiment; members, Surg.-Maj. McCammon, 56th regiment; Surg.-Maj. Alger, 49th regiment. The proceedings will be forwarded to the chief staff office.

"Mails close daily at the divisional headquarters office at 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Incoming mails will be distributed to orderlies from units at 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., daily."

The Major-General Coming.

Gen. O'Grady-Haly, commanding the Canadian militia, will be in camp on Monday on a visit of inspection. The formation will be in line of quarter column. The officers commanding regiments are working hard to get their men into shape for the visit. Though the majority of the volunteers are recruits, they are getting into shape pretty readily, and will no doubt make a good showing when lined up to salute the general at 10 a.m., on Monday.

Following is the daily routine of the men under canvas: Reveille, 5 a.m.; rations, 6 a.m.; breakfast, 6.30 a.m.; first drill, 8 to 9 a.m.; second drill, 10 a.m. to 12 noon; dinner, 12.30 noon; third drill, 2 to 4.30 p.m.; tea, 5.30 p.m.; rations, 6 p.m.; guard mounting, 6.30 p.m.; retreat, 7.30 p.m.; first post, 9.30 p.m.; last post, 10 p.m.; "lights out," 10.15 p.m.

The rations are now being issued to the men at night, instead of in the morning, and this makes a big improvement.

County license inspector O'Rielly and city inspector Glidden visited the camp yesterday and inspected the canteens to see that the government regulations, prohibiting the sale of spirituous liquors, were carried out. They found conditions to be in compliance with the law.

The lumber issued for tables is being used to provide floors for muddy tents.

With The Field Hospital.

The members of No. 2 field hospital corps are getting plenty of work to do, and they are doing it satisfactorily. The boys have settled down to work in earnest.

Sergt.-Maj. Murray is confined to hospital ill, and Sergt.-Inst. Davidson is taking his place.

There were thirteen cases in hospital on Thursday night.

The stretcher bearers, to compose whom six men are detailed from each regiment, were put through their facings yesterday afternoon, and under command of Lieut. Mundell were taught the use of stretchers and the way to handle them.

One man was in hospital on Thursday night with the D. T's. His name was Pigeon. He must have been a bird.

Corpl. John McKeegan, of the 16th regiment, Picton, spent Friday night in the hospital, as a prisoner under guard. Before a court of enquiry, composed of Cols. Montizambert and Buchan, he was recognized as the member of the police patrol who charged upon Corpl. Martin, of the 40th, with fixed bayonet, and inflicted an ugly flesh wound on the side of the head. Martin was returning home from the city on Wednesday night, minding his own business, when McKeegan, who is alleged to have been drunk, assaulted him. When recognized yesterday by the wounded man he fell in a faint upon the ground, and was removed to the hospital tent under a guard. He will be tried by court-martial, and it is expected that his sentence will not be a light one.

Major Abbott lectured yesterday afternoon to the officers' class on the organization, personnel, equipment and transport of field hospital corps.

Drill with the new ambulance will be begun next week.

The Belleville Rifles.

Belleville, through some unaccountable means, managed to scare up a regiment to send to camp, and it's a pretty good corps, too, considering where it came from. They call it the "Belleville Rifles." It is composed of a fine lot of boys, over which the Kingston men are keeping a fatherly eye. Like other rural regiments, they are fast getting into shape. The regiment is in command of Lieut.-Col. Harrison, Ottawa, with the following staff: Senior major, J. R. Orr; junior major, A. H. Smith; quartermaster, Lieut. Sliter, Belleville; paymaster, Maj. Grass, Toronto; chaplain, Rev. T. J. Thompson, Belleville; surgeon, Surg.-Lieut. H. H. Alger, Frankford. No. 1 company, Capt. W. T. Watts, Belleville; No. 2, Capt. T. H. McKee, Stirling; and Lieut. G. L. Scott, Stirling; No. 3, Capt. W. G. Ketcheson, Lieut. Freeman Ketcheson; No. 4, Lieut. C. Walbridge, Madoc; No. 5, Capt. W. H. Ketcheson, Belleville, Lieut. George Keith, Belleville; No. 6, Capt. J. A. Arnott, Trenton, Lieut. Cruse, Trenton.

The right half section were practised at the butts yesterday morning, and the left half section in the afternoon.

Col. Harrison, Ottawa; Maj. Smith, Sudbury, and Capt. Watts, of the 49th regiment, "Belleville Rifles," are veterans of the Northwest rebellion.

The regiment has a splendid band of nineteen pieces, under command of bandmaster Calder, of Stirling.

Sergt. George Tilly, of No. 1 company, was with the first Canadian contingent at Paardeburg, Orange River, and on other South African fields where Canadians fought for the mother country.

Major Smith, in camp with the 49th, is the prospector for a large mining company operating in the Sudbury district.

The boys of the 49th started yesterday to make tables for themselves out of the lumber the government supplied. They did the work well, considering that they were not carpenters by trade.

With The Mounted Men.

The camping grounds of the Dragoons and Hussars was in very nearly as bad a shape as that of the infantry. The horses had to be moved yesterday to fresh lines nearby the road, so muddy had the ground under their feet become. C. H. Clarke is giving good satisfaction in the transportation to camp of the water furnished by the city. He has been at the business for many years.

George Clyde, of the York road, visited his brother, Col. Clyde, of the 4th Hussars. The colonel is very popular among both officers and men.

Two men of "A" squadron, 4th Hussars, are in hospital, one with neuralgia and one with kidney trouble.

"B" squadron boasts of the biggest and best cook in camp. He is a genius in his way, and he weighs a good deal.

The 3rd Dragoons, which form part of the cavalry brigade, is in command of Lieut.-Col. Sutton, Millbrook, whose staff consists of Maj. Brown, Colebrook; acting-adjutant, Capt. Johnston, Peterboro; paymaster, Maj. J. G. Hagerman, Cobourg; quartermaster, Capt. Garvin, Peterboro; surgeon-major, Dr. Young, Peterboro; veterinary officer, Vet.-Lieut. Poole, Peterboro. The squadrons are commanded as follows: "A" squadron, headquarters at Colborne, commanded by Lieut. Rogers, assisted by Lieut. McLaughlin. "B" squadron, Millbrooke, Capt. Syer, Lieuts. Shaw, Hall and Hayward. "C" squadron, Peterboro, Capt. Bradburn, Lieuts. Hall and Price. "D" squadron, Wellington, Capt. McDonald, Lieuts. McCullough and Purtelle.

The instructors detailed from the Royal Canadians Dragoons, Toronto, are doing splendid work in this brigade. They are clever instructors, and well liked by the volunteers.

Quartermaster Aikens, of the 4th Hussars, is one of the finest looking and best built men in camp. He has always had the reputation of being one of the most kindly and genial of men, and he is adding to that reputation every day.

Sergt.-Maj. Brown, of the 3rd Dragoons, was out to South Africa with the C.M.R. Lieut. Price also went out with the same corps.

Regret is expressed throughout the squadrons of the Dragoons that Sergt. Terrill, Wellington, was unable to be in camp this year.

Lieut. McLaughlin has a swell trap in camp with which he takes frequent rides into the city. He is the envy of all the other officers.

The members of "A" squadron, 3rd Dragoons wear puttees and long boots, which they furnished themselves. They hope that next year the government will furnish them with felt hats, which are much more comfortable and better liked by the men.

Here And There.

The following details have been found medically unfit for service, and are struck off the strength of the division from the 22nd instant: 3rd Dragoons, two troopers; 4th Hussars, one trooper; 40th regiment, one man; 47th regiment, seven men; 49th regiment, one man, Total twelve men.

The Y.M.C.A. tents were pitched last evening. T. J. Wilkie, Toronto, is in charge, assisted by G. H. Williamson, Peterboro; H. C. Hunt, Belleville, and P. Jamieson, Toronto. The Y.M.C.A. is also conducting a dry canteen.

The 47th regiment were practiced at the ranges yesterday. Corpl. Wagar made the best score.

The little children are well looked after at the Lockett shoe store.

IN THE RELIGIOUS WORLD.

A MARVELLOUS TRIBUTE TO A CLERGYMAN.

Methodist Missionaries in Algeria Wrongly Accused — Political Movement Against Rome in Austria—Presbyterian Century Fund Books Remain Open.

Rev. Mr. Hibbert, of the London conference, has lost his eyesight, necessitating his retirement from active work.

The Church of England has 232 clergy in Scotland, 820 in Ireland, 2,700 abroad.

A $20,000 hospital is to be erected near Glace Bay, C.B., by the Roman Catholics.

Permission has been given for erection of a monument in St. Paul's cathedral, London, to Sir Arthur Sullivan.

It was Henry Ward Beecher who said: "There are many people who think that Sunday is a sponge to wipe out all the sins of the week."

Rev. Dr. Chute, for ten years pastor of the First Baptist church, Halifax, has been appointed professor of Hebrew and biblical learning at Acadia.

A tombstone in the churchyard at Altham, England, says: "Heare lyeth ye body of Stephen Brown, who by one wife had five sons and twenty-three daughters. He departed this life 1616, Oct. 1st."

The king will throw open to the public not only the Albert memorial chapel, at Windsor, but the Frogmore mausoleum, where repose the remains of queen Victoria, prince Consort and dukes of Albany and Clarence.

The Presbyterian century fund is not yet closed, but more than a million dollars has been paid. For debt $896,000 was subscribed, and for the common fund, $565,000, nearly a million and a half. The books will be kept open until the close of this year.

The foreign mission committee of the Canada Presbyterian church has decided to start mission work at Macao, China, for the purpose of following up work done in Canada. The Chinese themselves want a mission amongst their own people and will help to support it.

At the Church of England diocesan synod, Ottawa, it was decided to build a new see house for the occupation of the lord bishop. It was also decided to unite with the other parts of the empire in getting up a century fund, the collections to cover a period of five years and the fund to be for the purpose of all the objects of the church.

Some months ago a Protestant fisherman at Cannes went up into the mountain villages of the Riviera with bibles and testaments, which he distributed amongst the people in the various places which he visited. Recently, two evangelists followed in his steps, with the verbal proclamation of the gospel of salvation and were warmly received.

During a visit to Toro, the kingdom joining Uganda, bishop Tucker ordained Apolo Kivebulaya, a native of Uganda, who has worked as a missionary in Toro. He has, for being a christian, been beaten, imprisoned, put in the chain-gang, had his house burned, all his property destroyed, and has borne it all with a smile and a song.

The deputation which went to Cannington, N.S., from Lindsay, to oppose the call of Rev. J. W. McMillan to Halifax, was a marvellous tribute to the popularity of that gentleman. The board of the church, and the ladies as well, pleaded with the presbytery to allow Mr. McMillan to remain, but the most unique circumstance was the presence of J. W. Flavelle, a leading Methodist, who represented the citizens of Lindsay in a protest against the Presbyterian pastor's departure.

In a stormy debate in the French chamber on the recent rising in Algeria, says the British Weekly, a demand was made for the expulsion of the English Methodist missionaries, who were accused of doing their utmost to prejudice the natives against the French, and of distributing amongst them arms and ammunition. The Methodist missions in Algeria are really carried on by French ministers under the direction of the French conference. The charges are too absurd to require refutation.

The political movement against Rome in Austria is spreading widely, says a religious paper, and promises to be potential in its effects upon the future of the nation. Beneath the 'Los von Rome' (Free from Rome) agitation there is, it is stated, a real hunger for God's Word, not only among the poor, but the well-to-do, both in the cities and the country. In spite of all opposition, Protestant congregations are developing, and it is asserted that there have been at least 10,000 converts from Rome.

Rev. Alexander Don, of Dunedin, New Zealand, has been called to take up the work Mr. Winchester has laid down in British Columbia. Mr. Don has been in China and knows the villages from which the Canadian Chinese come, and will thus be able at once to touch them sympathetically. It would be a glorious thing if the 15,000 Chinese in Canada now, were so influenced as to recognize Jesus Christ as Redeemer. The result in Canada would be incalculable. They are scattered in colonies all through the land. The churches everywhere should be on the alert to win and convert them into workers amongst their own people.

CHANGE FOOD

And Lose That Uneasy Feeling.

A man who has always been a "skinny chap," although hardly ever ill, tells of the way he put on flesh and reduced his irritability and nervous condition.

By chance he had a taste of Grape-Nuts Food at the table of a friend and enjoyed the flavor so much that he began to have it every meal. He says, "In a short time I found myself another person, the old feeling of discontent and uneasiness left me entirely, it became a pleasure to go about my work, whereas, before for years I had always had the feeling of being a little weary, now I seem to have a surplus of energy for everything; my weight has increased 11 pounds in 4 weeks, and am still gaining.

I have never been very sick and am satisfied if my improvement in health continues, I shall not be.

The change that this food has made in my life has been remarkable and so satisfactory that I am glad of the opportunity to tell you. Please do not publish my name." Name can be given by the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

The Great Mass Contributed.

A prominent Presbyterian states that the century fund of his church did not rise to its lofty height of a million and a half dollars by the contributions of the rich. It was accumulated by the givings of the great mass of the Presbyterian people. He says that in Kingston several wealthy Presbyterians ne'er gave one farthing to the fund.

A Very Important Question.

Last night the Chronic Kickers' club discussed Sunday steamboat traffic at Kingston. This question under consideration: "Can a steamer's captain force a customs officer to give him a clearance on Sunday?" It was agreed that the officer could not be forced. Sunday is a day of rest, and a holiday for all government officials. Therefore, unless the customs officer or officers desired to accommodate, no vessel dare leave here on the Sabbath day. The Chronic Kickers thought that if the Lord's day alliance could "fix" the customs men, there would be no Sunday excursionists or tourists by water.

Military Service To-morrow.

An open air divine service parade will be held at the military divisional camp, Barriefield, to-morrow, Sunday, at 10 a.m. All the troops in camp will be present, with the addition of the 14th P.W.O. regiment, who are parading at the armoury at nine o'clock for the purpose. The band of the 14th will lead the musical portion of the service, and the Rev. Chaplain Starr will deliver an address to the assembled soldiers. Space will be reserved for any ladies and gentlemen from the city desirous of being present. The Roman Catholics in camp will be marched to service in St. Mary's cathedral, headed by the band of the 59th Glengary regiment.

Aldermen Neglect Their Duty.

The fire and light committee was to have met at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, but at the specified hour, alderman Toye was the only member in his pew. Nineteen minutes later chairman Farrell entered. The reason of there being no quorum was obvious on reflection. This is the way the chairman philosophized, while alderman Toye kept "tab" on his fingers: One has married a wife, one is away peddling insurance—et cetera.

Alderman Walkem's "cold water" committee also failed to make connections. The chairman awaited his flock for the space of half an hour, and went away anything but satisfied. Alderman Dunlop alone turned up. Coal tenders for the waterworks were to have been opened.

Piles is a tedious and persistent disease which wears out the patience of its victims. It has several forms of torture.

Sometimes it's a maddening, itching sensation. At other times it's a knot of aching tumors highly inflamed.

The only way to cure the disease permanently is to use a remedy that has the power to permeate through the delicate membranes and tissues and remove all traces of inflammation.

The Pyramid Pile Cure possesses this power to perfection. It is formulated on scientific principals by specialists who understand the nature of the disease thoroughly.

Thousands have been permanently cured by it and the manufacturers have come to look upon it as a "remedy that never fails."

You need not go through an inconvenient course of dieting and supplementary treatment while using it. It is a complete cure requiring nothing on your part but a strict observance of the printed directions which go with each package.

It is manufactured by the Pyramid Drug Co., at Marshall, Mich., and may be had of all first-class druggists.

Don't experiment if you are afflicted with this troublesome disease. It may lead to serious complications if allowed to continue. Get this remedy and check the disease before it becomes chronic; don't allow it to drain your best energies and weaken your constitution.
