NEWS FROM OUR NEIGHBORS

WHAT OUR CORRESPONDENTS HAVE TO TELL US.

The Tidings From Various Points In Eastern Ontario—What People Are Doing and What They Are Saying.

Millhaven Echoes.

Millhaven, July 30.—A number of young ladies and gentlemen from Morven and Napanee have pitched their tents in James Fairfield's grove. They have christened their abode "Camp Comfort." Mrs. A. Milligan and children of Manitoba, are visiting relatives in the village. S. Milligan is in Rochester visiting his daughter. Dr. Demorest, of Napanee is spending her holidays with her sister, Mrs. C. Collins. William Vankleek had a narrow escape from drowning one day last week.

Narrows-On-The-Rideau.

Narrows on the Rideau, July 30.—Joseph Segault, Perth, has been through here repairing the telegraph line. Business is very brisk on the Rideau; houses are in good demand here. Miss Libbie Mooney is visiting friends in Westport this week. The much talked of picnic will come off on August 17th. Farmer Grennon has flooded this part of the country with Smith's Falls machinery. The supply of mowers ran out, and he will carry many orders over until next season. Visitors—Mrs. Fee and family, Chicago, at James Thompson's. M. Ryan, Smith's Falls; J. W. Mann, Brockville, and many others too numerous to mention.

Westport Wafts.

Westport, July 29.—William Jeackers recovering. Mrs. Richard Hogan has gone to St. Vincent de Paul hospital, Brockville, for treatment. Mrs. H. N. McNally, Mrs. Lynett and Miss Nellie Egan visited St. Anne de Beaupre last week. A little girl has come to stay at J. P. Hogan's. Miss Minnie Sproule, Harrowsmith, is the guest of Mrs. G. W. Castle. Andrew McNally and family, Frankford, are guests of his father, Oliver McNally. Mrs. Peter Ferguson and her brother, Albert Meade, of Copper Cliffe are visiting under the parental roof. Mr. Howard has returned to his home in Alymer. Messrs. Alguire and Leech and their wives returned from the northwest per steamer Rideau Queen last Saturday. The firm of Byrnes & Clark has dissolved partnership, and in the future will be run by the Byrnes Bros.

Colebrook Notices.

Colebrook, July 30. The ash house of George Riddle was destroyed by fire on Saturday morning. A number attended the Methodist Sabbath school excursion to Belleville and Trenton last week. Several stopped over at Trenton and experienced some difficulty in getting home, not arriving here until the third day after. Mrs. A. C. Warner and daughters, Georgia and Belva, and Mrs. F. S. Wartman and daughter visited friends in Trenton and Napanee last week. F. S. Wartman attended the Pan-American last week. Henry Bush has been making his annual visit with friends here. The school trustees have engaged Miss Maggie Caldwell as teacher. Alfred Galbraith whose barn was shattered by lightning, has had it remodelled. Miss Shangraw, Syracuse, N.Y., has returned to her home after spending a few weeks with friends here. Miss McKim, Newburgh, is visiting at C. Warner's. Mrs. Thad Babcock is ill.

Wolfe Island Topics.

Wolfe Island, July 30.—The farmers are all nearly through haying. The electric storm that passed over the island Sunday morning destroyed the barn and stables along with the entire hay crop of George McCready. He saved the waggons and harness. John Baun received a telegram containing the sad news of his sister's death at Bath. He attended her funeral. Quite a large number from here attended the excursion to Ste. Anne de Beaupre. Thomas Brickland is visiting his son in Bufalo and attending the Pan-American. Visitors: Mrs. Len. Hanlen, Watertown, N. Y., and Mrs. Robert White, Rochester, N. Y., at Mrs. McAllister's; Miss Mabel Hunt, Sydenham, and Miss Maggie McCarthy, Kingston, at Miss Vanness'; Eugene O'Connor, Toronto, at F. Brickland's. Burt Dawson is visiting his parents on the island and intends returning to New York in a couple of weeks. The Misses McAvoy, Brownville, are visiting at their grandmother's in the village. William Haley lost two valuable horses last week.

Sunnyside Smiles.

Sunnyside, July 29.—Grain is fast ripening and harvesting will soon begin. Two recent arrivals have come to stay a little girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Knight, and a little boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lilles. A number from here are attending the Free Methodist camp meeting at Elginburg. Henry Harpell, jr., is adding a stable to his already commodious buildings. John Johnston, Jonathan Abrams, Thomas Buck and Archibald Knight are making the growing of small fruit a success. The garden party held under the auspices of Christ church, Cataraqui, in the grove of John Heaton, was a success. Mr. Jones and little son, from Toronto, are spending a few weeks with Mr. and Miss Heaton. Mr. Heaton's father and his wife and daughter are here from England. Mr. Heaton has crossed the ocean several times. Mrs. Albert Aylesworth is quite ill. Rev. Mr. Greig, the newly appointed pastor to Cataraqui circuit, has been making calls in this section. Thomas Buck, Alfred Knight, Harvey Butler, and James Cooke are among those that use new mowing machines this year.

A Plucky Rescue.

Yarker, July 30.—A. A. Connolly and S. Winter are improving their residences. Miss Stella Burn and Miss A. Baxter are home from New York, B. S. O'Loughlin has gone into camp at Sydenham lake. William Hill is suffering from sunstroke. W. H. Wagar, ex employee of Bay of Quinte, hunted up a gang here to take place of strikers on the C.P.R. Two have returned. Miss Hermine Connolly leaves for a trip to Toronto and Niagara Falls. Mr. Knapp and wife, Watertown, N.Y., are at M. Cambridge's. The family of W. H. Wagar, have moved into the late residence of J. H. West. Conservatives in Adlington state they would not support Foster, for the reason he supported Tupper on the school question. Jessie and Lizzie Winter are spending their holidays at Odessa. Miss L. Gray goes to Lansdowne. Capt. William Montgomery spent a day at his home here.

Harold Oldham and Frederick Oldham were playing on the dock at Benjamin Camp, Sydenham lake. Frederick, aged four, fell in the water. Harold instantly gave the alarm. Miss Daisy Woodcock, daughter of Rev. F. D. Woodcock was the first to the rescue, and although not able to swim, she boldly plunged into the lake and caught the little fellow with one hand and managed to grasp a boom stick with the other, hanging on until help came, when both were rescued by E. W. Benjamin and others.

Doings At Jones' Falls.

Jones' Falls, July 29.—As the season advances this lovely resort is being thronged with arrivals from many points. Among the late ones registered at the Hotel de Kenney are: Harry C. Shimpton and wife, New York; A. L. Fennesy and wife, New York; D. N. Crocket and wife, Washington, D.C.; W. A. Jenner and wife, Syracuse, N.Y.; E. C. Cater, Montreal; W. E. Wright, Gananoque; Ger. B. Anderson, United States consul, Prescott; senator G. T. Fulford, Brockville, G. H. Cars, Smith's Falls; T. H. Percival, wife and child, Merrickville; Mrs. W. D. Carmichael and daughter, Kingston, H. T. Hanson, Stynstoch; and Messrs. M. Veit, D. Stein, A. Stein, M. Y. Hirsch, G. P. Slade, G. C. Clark, M. Stern, J. A. Strasser, New York.

A yacht brought a picnic party from Seeley's Bay on Saturday, and a similar gathering came from Elgin and Battersea, and spent an enjoyable time. Mrs. Carmichael and daughter, Edith, left on Saturday for Kingston. Mr. Chipman and family, of Ottawa, arrived on Saturday to spend the summer at their cottage. Lockmaster Stuart, under the direction of superintendent Phillips, is painting the fixings at the locks and bridges, which will greatly improve their appearance. A number from here attended the Anglican concert at Morton last Monday evening. A number will attend one in behalf of the Presbyterians there on Friday. J. Somerville, Elgin, is the guest of the Misses Stuart. Mrs. Sweet and daughter, Brockville, are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Smith. A party arrived today per Rideau Queen to camp at Cold Springs. A party are also camping at Cord Wood Island.

A Good Story Spoiled.

Syracuse Post Standard.

An American classic which appeared some two years since contained these stanzas:

Wan day on the section of Finnigan,
On the road sup'rintinded by Flanagan,
A rail gave way on a bit av a curve
An' some kyars went off as they made the swerve.
"There's nobody hurted," sez Finnigan,
"But reports must be made to Flannigan,"
And he winked at McGorrigan,
As married a Finnigan.

He waz shantyn' thin, wuz Finnigan,
As many a railroader's been agin,
An' the smoke off hump waz burnin' bright
In Finnigan's shanty all that night
Bein' down his report, wuz Finnigan,
An' he writ'd this here: "Muster Flannigan
Off agin, on agin,
Gone agin—Finnigan."

A new rendering of this extremely lively terse and humorous story has just appeared in an English paper. It is as follows:

A Mr. Flanrigan was a station master in a remote district in the north west of Ireland. After his appointment there was an accident, although not at all a serious one, on his part of the line, and Mr. Flannigan sent to headquarters a very elaborate report, covering the causes and consequences of the accident. Headquarters in due course acknowledged report, coupling with it a mild hint that the new station master might be less elaborate and more concise in future in making out reports. Unfortunately, in a few weeks more, an engine went off the lines near the same station, and after matters had been set right Mr. Flannigan proceeded, as in duty bound, to report to headquarters, and wrote as follows: "Engine off—on again—away she went—Flannigan."

Justice Now And Then.

Detroit Tribune.

Canada is the best single customer the United States has. With her 6,000,000 inhabitants, she imported from this country last year $109,844,000 worth of our products, and buys annually more in our markets than do the 60,000,000 people of Mexico, Central and South America, and the West Indies. No one can imagine that were Canada, at the next session of her parliament, to raise her tariff rates to correspond with ours, we could continue sending her $100,000,000 of our products per annum.

In The Highway.

S. E. Kiser, in Chicago Record-Herald.

Two men gazed at the selfsame star,
That gleamed out through the night,
One saw a wondrous world afar,
One saw a point of light.

The wind blew through the swaying trees
And stirred the grasses there;
And one heard wondrous melodies,
One but the swish of air.

And one of them was rich and proud,
Whom people served for bread,
And one pale-featured whom the crowd
Will honor—when he's dead.

Reports from Cincinnati tell of a new "sect," of agnostics, based on the teachings of Robert G. Ingersoll. A ritual for agnostic marriage ceremonies, for the "dedication of infants to agnosticism" and for "the confirmation of children in the belief of the non-existence of God," is ready.

A Chicago woman offers $1,000 to the first actively engaged business or professional man who can show that he has refrained from any form of lying for one month, the money to be awarded at a jubilee meeting next January. If no one wins, she promises to donate the money to some movement to further economic welfare.

It a certain anonymous, therefore, unmanly, correspondent of the type writer, gets through life with as few mistakes or "slips" in the Whig, considering the daily rush with hundreds of items, he will be very fortunate. Has he ever noticed how many have made a failure of newspapering in Kingston, and all probably as clever as he is?

Taken A Partnership.

London, July 30.—W. A. Clark's mineral enterprises in Russia have been the subject of much speculative gossip. The latest story is to the effect that he has entered into a partnership with grand duke Michael, to work copper mines in the Ural mountains. It is alleged that the grand duke, who owns the mines, offered Mr. Clark a share in them if he would take control. This offer results in Mr. Clark investing £1,000,000 in the property.
