WATERWORKS COMMITTEE.

OPPOSED TO LOWERING THE CITY RATE.

Wellington Street Main Break Will Cost $200—What the Finance Committee Wanted—Request of St. George's Cathedral Committee Granted.

The waterworks committee met yesterday afternoon, chairman Kent and aldermen Walkem, McCartney, Cooke, Campbell and Cunningham being present.

Regarding the owners of property, who were charged with water rates left unpaid by tenants, superintendent Hewitt reported that all but one had settled and the latter would pay up next week.

Chairman Kent referred to the break in the main on Wellington street. He had asked the residents whose places had been damaged to send in an estimate of their loss. Superintendent Hewitt stated that the cause of the accident could not yet be ascertained. He estimated the loss to the city at about $200. There was no unusual pressure on the main at the time, and the accident must have been caused by some defect in the pipe.

Ald. Walkem thought that the chairman should not have been in such a hurry in stating that the city was liable for the damage and asking the residents to send in their claims. It was a question whether or not the city was liable. Ald. Cunningham was of the opinion that the city wou'd have to bear the cost. It was decided to leave the matter of arbitration in the matter to the chairman and the superintendent.

Mayor Minnes addressed the committee regarding the budget. In view of the finances of the city being $4,100 less than last year, he asked that the waterworks committee accept half of the usual amount granted. The chairman thought that the finance committee was asking for too much, as the waterworks committee would be under great expense this year on account of the water rates being reduced for four quarters, to two quarters last year; the break in the Wellington street main, and the necessity of building some new drains. Mayor Minnes held that as there was a surplus of over $4,000 last year in the waterworks department, it would be quite easy to do as the finance committee was asking. The chairman and Ald. Cunningham held that the finance committee had no right or power to make the reduction. Ald. Walkem said that the waterworks was an asset to the city of Kingston! and any benefit to be derived from the waterworks was to be enjoyed by the ratepayers. Whatever shifting was made would not matter at all. It might be explained that the amount granted by the finance committee to the waterworks is for the corporation supply.

Ald. Cunningham thought it was hardly fair for the finance committee to come to a "green" committee and ask them to act on a matter of which they did not know the ins and outs. He desired first to find out the relation of the waterworks and the city.

Ald. Walkem was of a different opinion. He would rather give the city the reduction than see the taxes raised, and would be in favor of the water works committee accepting $1,000, instead of $750, as offered by the finance. Such a motion was moved by Ald. Walkem and seconded by Ald. Cooke, but was lost on a tie vote, Alds. Kent, Cunningham and Campbell saying nay.

Ald. Walkem thought that he would be a very poor man indeed if after serving for five years on the water works committee he did not know its workings. In view of his knowing the work thoroughly, he thought his opinion should weigh somewhat with the "green" men around him.

Felix Lennon wrote the committee, stating that he had worked for the past year and a-half thirteen hours a day. He had done much overwork, and received no consideration. He asked for an increase of twenty-five cents per day. It was decided to give Mr. Lennon an increase of fifty dollars a year, making his salary now $550.

Chairman Kent read a communication from St. George's cathedral committee asking that they be relieved of the water rates during the re-building of the cathedral. The bill, which included water used in connection with pumping out of the furnace pit, amounted to $62 to the end of December. Ald. Kent stated that the cathedral congregation was under an exceedingly heavy debt and was not asking too much when the circumstances were all considered. The congregation was erecting a larger and more costly building than was actually needed because they desired to keep it as a cathedral, and thus keep in Kingston the Ontario diocese meeting. Kingston was being benefited by this. The congregation had been very unlucky also in having their late building only half insured, and their debt now was extremely heavy. On motion of Ald. Cunningham, seconded by Ald. McCartney, the request of the petitioners was granted.

FRONTENACS WON AGAIN.

Hard Pressed by the Perth Team—A Very Happy Banquet.

What was probably the keenest and cleanest hockey match witnessed here this season took place Friday night at the Kingston skating rink, when the Crescents, of Perth, and Frontenacs played a friendly return match. Last week Frontenacs went down to Perth, and defeated the home team; the win being the first taken from Crescents this season. The score there was five to three, and last night Frontenacs added another victory after a close contest, the score being three to two.

The Crescents are a remarkably well balanced team. Their forward line work together beautifully, opening up a pretty combination. The defence, however, is a trifle weak, but this defect could easily be remedied by good generalship. If the team had a good coach they would make matters interesting for any intermediate team in Canada. The visitors were outclassed by the home players in respect to skating, but only in this one instance. Had the ice been keener the chances are that the visitors would have cut out a win. Throughout the match Frontenacs were hard pressed and only because of brilliant defence work did they save their posts. The teams were:

Crescents.—Goal, Stewart; point, Elliott; cover, McGregor; centres, McLaren, Wilson; wings, Meighen, Kelloch.

Frontenacs.—Goal, Hiscock; point, Hamilton; cover, Mills; centres, W. Hiscock, Young; wings, O'Leary, Oldrieve.

Referee Britton gave perfect satisfaction in his decisions.

After the match the visitors were banqueted at Hotel Iroquois, where about fifty sat down in the spacious and prettily decorated dining room. Host Martin had a tasty repast prepared to which those gathered about the well-appointed table did full justice. Mayor Minnes presided and he was supported on either side by alderman DeHertal, Perth; and alderman J. Morgan Shaw. Alderman Donnelly was also a guest. After the cloth had been removed, the accustomed toasts were drunk and excellent speeches made in response thereto. Songs were rendered by W. H. Hamilton, M. Malcolm, E. C. Dean and G. James.

The intermediate hockey cup of the O.H.A., about to be surrendered by the Frontenacs, occupied a place on the table.

The Perth hockeyists and the good sports accompanying them are a jolly crowd who know how to have a good time within bounds, and who are resourceful in contributing towards the joviality of a happy gathering.

Sporting Notes.

The Kingston skating rink will close its doors next week for the season.

The Aberdeen hockey team of Ottawa play at London, Ont., to-night and Monday.

The Seagram stable is the favorite for the Toronto queen's plate, at odds of three to one.

At Montreal, Eustice Myles, of New York, won the Canadian racquet championship from F. F. Rolland by a score of 15 to 2, 15 to 3, 15 to 6.

The Napanee curlers did not come down yesterday to play Rockwood and Kingston, on account of soft ice. They will come next week if the weather is colder.

At Duquesne Garden, Pittsburg, John Nillson, champion skater, lowered the indoor record made by Baptie recently by skating a mile in 2.54¼. Baptie's mark was 2.55 ⅘.

Norval Baptie, of Bath Gate, North Dakota, a citizen of the United States, by adoption, but a Canadian by accident of birth, defeated Harley Davidson, at Toronto, Thursday night, in a series of one mile skating races.

At the Ottawa boxing tournament in the second bout of the 125 pound class Chris. Graham, Peterboro, who was called to defeat Scholes, should the pair ever meet, was bested by E. Stone, Perth, an unknown.

One of the chief attractions of the Buffalo, N. Y., pan-American exposition and one which has not been a feature of any previous exposition, will be a complete and comprehensive athletic carnival. For the purpose a magnificent Roman stadium, covering approximately 400,000 square feet, will be erected. All kinds of sports and athletic feats will take place therein.

The records show that in twenty years, from and including 1880, of 270 championships competed for at the annual games of the amateur athletic union or association of Canada, only the odd seventy have been won by representatives of Canadian clubs, 189 of the balance having gone to representatives of the United States clubs and eleven to English or Irish.

According to The Hamilton Times, the president of the Canadian baseball league received an application from a young fellow in California, who wants a position on the league umpiring staff, and who in his application says: "I have never been far north, but I know some players who went from California to Canada, to play, and if they can play on snow shoes I think I can umpire on them."

One of the most interesting exhibits at New York sportsmen's show is Com. Leamon's ice yacht Harold, the pennant winner of the South Shrewsbury river races. She stands on exhibition just as she was taken from the ice, fully rigged and equipped. Her official time for one mile is fifty-six seconds. In the exhibition are excellent photographs of the local yachts Breeze and Whistlewing, while many enquiries have been made concerning the Snow Cloud, H. S. Folger's flyer.

The Biograph Monday.

An entirely new series of views from the biograph will be presented at the city hall on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The spectators will ride through Gen. Buller's camp at Frere and see the British lines; will see the last sortie from Ladysmith before the siege; will see the army service corps hurrying ammunition to the front at the battle of Magersfontein. Canada's brave sons of the first and second contingents will be shown, special attention being given to the parades and departures of the second contingent at Halifax. The great generals and the crack regiments of the British army will pass on the screen. These views have created great enthusiasm everywhere and a great attraction will be the singing of Miss Beverley Robinson, Canada's distinguished vocalist, who will render "The Soldier Boys of England." Owen A. Smiley, in his new monologues, is irresistible, especially one entitled "Britisher and Boer." A great treat is being arranged in aid of the soldiers' wives' league and crowded houses are assured.

THE RETIRING SECRETARY.

SKETCH OF MR. MALLAGH'S Y.M.C.A. WORK.

The Association's Membership Raised From 192 to 354 in Less Than Four Years—He Was Energetic and Successful Along Every Line — His Departure Sincerely Regretted.

"He has done all that may become a man;
Who dares do more is none."
—Shakespeare.

In these few brief but forcible words might be summed up the work of W. J. F. Mallagh, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., since his coming to the city four years ago. The growth, rapid but permanent, which the local institution has enjoyed under his management is a stronger testimony to his ability and energy than any words that could be said. He has labored faithfully, diligently, steadfastly to relieve from the shoulders of the institution an exceedingly burdensome load of debt, and there are none to say that he has not succeeded. His restraining, elevating influence on the young men gathered about him, as well as the example he set them in his own life and conduct, has done considerable to raise their moral status and fit them to become better members of society, better citizens of our beloved young nation and better members of the great British empire to which they belong. Not only with these young men was he popular, but he was popular with the directors and the citizens at large; therefore is his resignation unwillingly accepted and his departure from the limestone city universally regretted.

Mr. Mallagh entered the work of the young men's christian association as assistant secretary of the Brantford branch in the fall of 1894, and did such good service there that in the following year he was called to the secretaryship of the association in Paris, Ont. His work among the young men of that place was of a most helpful and satisfactory character, and a fitting preparation for the larger sphere he was soon called upon to enter. Through the resignation of George Williams, shortly after the new building in this city was completed and occupied, the position of general secretary of the local association became vacant and remained so for about six months. As the prosperity of a Y.M.C.A., like all other organizations, depends largely on the efficiency of its chief executive officer, the securing of an energetic and capable general secretary became a matter of very great concern to the board of directors of the local association, and to aid them in making a wise choice they took into their confidence T. S. Cole, at that time travelling secretary of the provincial committee. The board has no reason to regret having done this, for through Mr. Cole the right man was secured. Mr. Mallagh accepted, through Mr. Cole, the invitation to come here. He arrived on Sept. 14th, 1896, and the next day energetically took up the work from which, in a few weeks more, he will retire, much to the regret of all who are interested in the Y.M.C.A. and know the valuable service he has rendered young men during his residence in this city.

When Mr. Mallagh came here the membership roll had on it 192 names; there are now 354 enrolled members—a fact which of itself is indicative of the energy that has been put into the work by the retiring secretary. The finances of the association were in anything but a prosperous condition. There was a big mortgage of $12,000 on the building, and the brunt of the work of providing for the payment of the interest on this large amount, as well as that of looking after collections and subscriptions for current expenses, was borne by the new secretary. It must be, therefore, a matter for gratitude on the part of both Mr. Mallagh and the board of directors that before resigning his position he has seen the last dollar of that $12,000 mortgage paid off, and that he is meeting, too, with such marked success in the canvas he is at present making for subscriptions to meet current expenses.

Busy as secretary Mallagh of necessity always has been with the association's finances, he never seems to have forgotten that his great work was to use his position in such a way as that young men could be helped and their lives made better and brighter through personal contact and christian influences. It is safe to say that many a young man has been wisely counselled and helped to a better life, both in and out of the association, by its warm-hearted general secretary, of which, perhaps, nothing was ever said in his monthly and yearly reports. Bible study has always been a prominent feature in Y.M.C.A. work, but the class for men that meets at the association parlor each Sunday afternoon, as well as the Friday evening bible class for boys, were organized by Mr. Mallagh, and both were provided with capable teachers through his personal efforts.

Accepting the statement of scripture, "It is not good that man should be alone," about a year and a-half ago Mr. Mallagh was united in marriage to Miss Salmond, of Brantford, an earnest, christian young lady, who has shown herself to be a valuable helpmeet to her husband in his association work. Mr. Mallagh, as already stated in the Whig, is going into business life in Brantford, and with his family will leave for that city early next month. Many warm friends will regret their departure, but if there is anything in fervent wishes and sincere desires, the future of Mr. and Mrs. Mallagh and "Baby Marjorie" will be all that tongue can speak or heart desire.

Food That Makes Brains

How? and Why?

Scientific research discovers that the life forces that make intelligent selection from food to build different parts of the body, when ready to build and rebuild the brain, seize upon the delicate particles of Phosphate of Potash, which is furnished in certain portions of the wheat and barley kernals, and setting this element into active vibration uses it to amalgamate with albumen.

This new combination is carried by the blood to all parts of the body and is absorbed by the nerve centers and brain, to rebuild the delicate cells of which brain is made, and which must be renewed every day as the brain is used.

Use of brain burns up and destroys small portions of it, which must be rebuilt or "brain fag" results.

That's the story and that is why Grape-Nuts food is made, and made of the selected parts of wheat and barley that furnish Phosphate of Potash. This food.

Does Build The Brain

Grape-Nuts can be had of any first class grocer. Made at the pure food factories of the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.
