UNITED STATES FEELING.

REGARDING THE WAR IN SOUTH AFRICA.

A Writer to the Whig Says it Would be Idiotic to Interfere—Efforts of the Agitating Class Will be a Failure—What About the Poor Filipinos.

Cape Vincent, March 8.—(To the Editor.)—Thinking that perhaps a few impartial ideas concerning the position of the United States as regards Great Britain's attitude in the war with the South Africans might be of interest to the Whig readers, I have concluded to give, as near as possible, the conditions as they exist in this country. Notwithstanding the many important events transpiring in the world there is not one that is attracting more attention than the unhappy war being waged between Great Britain and the two South African countries. All nations are watching events closely, and wondering what the end will be—whether the most powerful nation on earth, everything considered, will be obliged to give up her undertaking and retire, defeated and crest fallen, or whether she will raise the flag of victory and accomplish her end.

We must recognise the fact that every nation on earth is at least indirectly interested in the South African war and the results of it, but the United States is among the least interested for several reasons. The policy of the United States has been, until lately, one of non-expansion as far as territorial acquisitions were concerned, and one of conservatism regarding its difficulties, wars, etc., of foreign countries. We have of course, been somewhat jealous regarding foreign intrusion, interference on the western hemisphere, and have really made the boundary line the Atlantic ocean on one side and the Pacific on the other, and with very few exceptions the government of the United States has been satisfied to keep hands off of affairs not directly interesting to the country and the American people, but of late, during the present administration our country has apparently discarded this law instituted by the founders of our country, and has sought to acquire territory in different parts of the world. This change of a time-honored policy by on present administration, has really placed the United States in a different light among other nations, and has left us in a position that is new and aggressive if not for the best interests of our country. But it is a question whether the American people back up the administration in its new policy of expansion, and still more of a question whether the inhabitants of "free America" do consider with the policy of territorial acquisitions by the use of military power, and especially against a weak and uncivilized people. So that only the future can tell what disposition will be made of the present policy of our government, by the American people; but it is safe to say that at the present time there is great dissatisfaction with the course of this government or administration in the Philippine Islands, where the inhabitants are fighting for their freedom—fighting to be free from a yoke of oppression, that a free and liberty-loving people, through their partisan governmental officers, have bought with gold.

The word America really means freedom, for the foundation of our government is built upon it, but it only means freedom when there is a wrong to be righted, where oppression and bondage exist and where personal liberty is assailed. Having considered briefly the policy of the government of the United States, past and present, and doing so with a knowledge that the present policy of our government at Washington has given us a right to be more interested and aggressive in foreign affairs, I will confine myself more directly to the subject of this article proper, which is the course this country should and will follow in the difficulties existing between Great Britain and the South African countries. The real cause of the present African war is understood by only a small percentage of our people, and this is not said in disparagement of the intelligence and knowledge of the American people; but because we are only indirectly interested in the affairs of South Africa. As we are not concerned to any great extent in the British-Boer misunderstanding, any attempt at interference on our part as a nation would be too idiotic to be considered for a moment. Still, notwithstanding the circumstances that exist, there is a strong effort being made by a certain element in this country to have our government take up the cause of the Boers, either by direct intervention or at least by placing this country in public sympathy with the South Africans. The efforts of this class of our inhabitants will be a complete failure, for this government, even with the expansion ideas of the present administration, will not interfere because it is none of our business, and as far as sympathy is concerned the United States, as a nation, will not offer that. To be sure congress may pass certain resolutions of sympathy for the Boers; public meetings may be held to excite public opinion in favor of the South Africans; petitions, by the thousands may be signed, a great Fenian invasion of Canada may be threatened; but such a course, which is confined to only a small portion of our people, will never amount to anything because it is wrong and because it will not be sanctioned by the American people.

As I have said before, this nation will never interfere in the South African war unless, perhaps, it is the wish of both contestants that the United States act as mediator in bringing the war to a close. For what reasons, then, do a portion of the American people sympathize, publicly and privately, with two small countries, thousands of miles away, and whose people are not in common with us? Why is it that the American Boer sympathizers are striving so hard against a friendly nation, and one whose people are in common with us and bound by ties that no other countries have? Is it their love of freedom of liberty? If so, let them extend such sympathy to the poor, uncivilized inhabitants of the Philippine islands, who are sacrificing their lives for their liberty—who are praying for deliverance from a bondage that has existed for many, many years and now bids fair to exist forever. Let those whose qualities of sympathy have apparently only developed of late, bestow such on those who are a thousand, nay, ten thousand times more deserving than the Boers of South Africa. While there may be some in this country who honestly sympathize with the South Africans as regards liberty and freedom, a large percentage of the sympathizers only use that reason as a blind, and in their hearts are not half as anxious about Boer freedom as they are about British misfortune. Their sole reason for creating sympathy in this country for the South Africans is to induce our government to take up the cause of the Boers, directly or indirectly. But the course of this element among us will not interfere with the friendly relationship that exists between Great Britain and our country, and all the sympathy that can be offered in resolutions, petitions and Macrum confessions—all the talk of alliance and secret treaties with Great Britain—all the threats of a Fenian raid, will not deter the American people from minding their own business.

Let those, then, whose outward sympathy for the South Africans is prompted by an inward hatred and malice toward Great Britain, dry up their tears and offer more substantial and material help by taking a part in the South African war; and this country will be rid of a disturbing element, while the Boers will have an aid that is more substantial than all the well-wishes a nation could give.

In conclusion, I would say that the ideas given above and which are founded on facts, are not given with any intention of taking up the cause of Great Britain in the South African affair, or to speak a word in disparagement of the cause of the Boers; but to let British as well as Boer sympathizers in this country and foreign countries know that the American people are going to mind their own business and tend to their own affairs.—HENRY N. POTTER, M.D.

A BULLET IN THE HEART

Some Conditions That Induce Similar Consequences.

TORONTO, Dec. 20.—A bullet in a man's heart causes death. So does a grain of sand, or anything else that should not be there. So with the other organs of the human body. Take the bladder for instance. Thousands of persons suffer from the disease known as "Stone in the Bladder," while a lingering death ends the agony of thousands more.

That this need not be is proved by the following letter:

844 Queen St. East,
Toronto, No. 24, 1899.

Dear Sirs.—Five months ago, and for three years previous to that date, I was enduring sufferings as severe as man can bear. I endured tortures such as I cannot describe, or you cannot understand. My trouble was Stone in the Bladder. I used one kind of medicine after another, but without getting the slightest relief. I thought I could never be cured, and death would have been preferable to my agony. I was persuaded, however, to try Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills. Before I had used three boxes the stone was dissolved and expelled without the least pain. I am now thoroughly cured, thanks to Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills, which did what no other medicine in the market could do for me!

A. STINSON.

Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills, the only medicine on earth that cures disease by killing the germs that cause it, are sold by all druggists at 75c a box; sample size 25c, or sent post-paid on receipt of price, by The Arnold Chemical Co., Limited, Canada Life Building, 42 King street west, Toronto.

WOMAN'S PLUCK WINS.

A Lady Who Cured Her Husband of the Liquor Habit Writes a Pathetic Letter.

She writes: "I had for a long time been thinking of trying the Samaria Prescription treatment on my husband for his drinking habits, but I was afraid he would discover that I was giving him medicine, and the thought unnerved me. I hesitated for nearly a week, but one day when he came home very much intoxicated and his week's salary nearly all spent, I threw off all fear and determined to make an effort to save his home from the ruin I saw coming, at all hazards. I sent for your Samaria Prescription and put it in his coffee as directed next morning, and watched and prayed for the result. At noon I gave him more, and also at supper. He never suspected a thing, and I then boldly kept right on giving it regularly, as I had discovered something that set every nerve in my body tingling with hope and happiness, and I could see a bright future spread out before me—a peaceful, happy home, a share in the good things of life, an attentive, loving husband, comforts, and everything else I told me that whiskey was vile stuff, and he was taking a dislike to it. It was only too true, for before I had given him the full course he had stopped drinking altogether, but I kept giving the medicine while his appetite was gone, and then sent for another lot to have on hand if he should relapse, as he had done from his promises before. He never has, and I am writing you this letter to tell you how thankful I am. I honestly believe it will cure the worst cases."

A pamphlet in plain, sealed envelope, free, giving testimonials and full information, with directions how to take or administer Samaria Prescription. Correspondence considered sacredly confidential. Address The Samaria Remedy Co., 23 Jordan street, Toronto, Ont.

YOU WOULD'NT DO IT.

YOU WOULD NOT THINK OF BLOWING POWDERS OR SNUFF ON A SORE ON THE OUTSIDE OF YOUR NOSE, WOULD YOU?

Why Do You Do it Then With the Little Catarrhal Ulcers on the Inside of Your Nose?—Japanese Catarrh Cure is a Healing Salve—It is the Only Real Cure For Catarrh.

A well-known lady of Springfield, Ont., writes a few common sense words regarding her experience in trying Japanese Catarrh Cure. She says: "Enclosed find $2 00 for six boxes of Japanese Catarrh Cure. A few days ago I received a sample box, and from the results obtained from this sample I am sure the remedy will cure me. I have great faith in a salve like this for catarrh and believe it to be the proper thing. We never blow powder on a sore of any kind, and I don't see why people advertise powders to cure catarrh. I have tried all the powders on the market, they relieve at the time, but I was worse when I stopped using them. Japanese Catarrh Cure is a healing penetrating, volatile pomade, it reaches every catarrhal diseased portion of the head and throat, and will permanently cure any case of catarrh wherever located. Sold by J. B. McLeod, Kingston. Price 50c.

A Great Mistake.

The old idea of taking blood thinning compounds in order to purify the blood is an error, as the system is thus left in vitiated condition. Merrill's System Tonic not only purifies the blood in a thorough manner but the iron contained in it again enriches the blood, leaving one with lot of good rich red blood. Fifty pleasant to take doses 50c. at J. B. McLeod's drug store.

Mr. Pringle stated while here that extra hands had to be employed at the Topeka postoffice to handle the mail for the editor, an extra staff had to be employed at the office of the paper to attend to the orders.
