Around the World in Beaches

Bavaro Beach—Punta Cana, Dominican Republic. No Caribbean beachfront compares to the blonde sands of Bavaro, where temperate waters and soft bleached sands craft a quintessential resort territory. Rabbit Beach—Lampedusa, Sicily. TripAdvisor's top nod goes to Rabbit Beach, a popular sanctuary off the coast of Sicily with turquoise waters and generous sandbars. Lake McKenzie—Fraser Island, Australia. Fraser Island is the world's largest sand island and is only navigable by 4x4 vehicles. This remote location makes for an unspoiled scene. Boulders Beach—Cape Town, South Africa. If you're looking for something more than surf and sand, visit the colony of penguins at Boulders Beach in Cape Town, South Africa. Sand Dollar Beach—Big Sur, California. With its dramatic bluffs, crescent beaches and beautiful jade caves, Big Sur is the affable underdog of the California coast.

Beachside in Canada

- Prefer staying close to home for your beach vacation? Check out these Canadian favourites.
- 1 Chesterman Beach—Tofino
In Tofino you can explore tide pools or set up shop on some amazing surf.
- 2 Wasaga Beach—Simcoe
This Ontario favourite is the world's longest freshwater beach.
- 3 Sandbanks Provincial Park—Prince Edward County
The perfect beach for a family sun getaway.
