A Manitoba Tribute To Laxa-Liver Pills.

Miss Blanche Windrem, of Baldur, Man Restored to Health after Her Mother had Despaired of Her Recovery.

Here is Miss Windrem's statement: "Some three years ago the glands on either side of my neck swelled up and remained so in spite of all the Physicians could do. Then my eyes got sore and I was greatly troubled with pains through my head, particularly the temples. At last I became so weak and run down that my mother almost despaired of my recovery. I then heard of Laxa Liver Pills and started taking them. The result is I am cured and I cannot speak too highly of the benefit I derived from those little pills. Price 25 cents

LETTER FROM LORD LORNE

BRITAIN NEEDN'T FEAR WHILE COLONIES WITH HER.

Can Defy the Powers—The Dash and Gallantry of the Canadians Impresses the Motherland.

Belleville, March 14.—The following letter has been received from the marquis of Lorne, who is honorary colonel of the Argyle light infantry, of this place:

"I am anxious to hear if any of our regiment suffered in the last fight at Paardeberg.

"The dash and gallantry of the Canadian force has been splendid. It will be thought forever with pride forever that Canadian troops helped to overthrow the ridiculous travesty of republican government at Pretoria, and supported the inauguration of constitutional liberty in the regions north of the Orange River, in South Africa.

"While the colonies understand the cause and object of our war, it matters little that the European continental powers, with the exception of Greece and Italy, fail to grasp the situation."

INHERITED ASTHMA.

Suffered Since His Birth and Found Help Only Through Clarke's Kola Compound — Now Free From Asthma.

Robert S. Taylor, New Westminster, B.C., writes: "I have been a constant sufferer from hereditary bronchial asthma since my birth, twenty-five years ago. I have tried every remedy ever heard of for this trouble, and spent hundreds of dollars with doctors, but to no purpose. Clarke's Kola Compound is the only remedy that ever gave me any permanent relief. I have also gained much in weight since being cured. I can honestly recommend it to any unfortunate sufferer from asthma." J. B. McLeod, druggist, Kingston, sells Clarke's Kola Compound, or write the Griffiths & Macpherson Co., limited, Toronto.

The Smartest Subaltern.

Montreal Herald.

Another thorough-going soldier in the Horse is Lieut. J. Edwards Leckie, who comes from Greenwood, B.C. He is a graduate of the Royal military college at Kingston, and is credited by some experts as a man unequalled in Strathcona's Horse for technical military knowledge. He abandoned a lucrative position for his present calling as commander of West Kootenay troop, No 2, "C" squadron. "The smartest subaltern in the regiment" is the tribute paid to him by an officer of the Horse.

To Consider Canal Bill.

New York, March 14.—The commercial organizations of greater New York held a conference at the New York produce exchange to-day. The chief topics discussed were the bills that the state canal committee admitted, and the means of carrying out the recommendations of that committee for the improvement of the canals.

ACCUSES HIMSELF OF CRIME.

Stranger's Story to Sheriff Proves to Be True.

Carlinville, Ill., March 14.—A. M. Garman, a native of Kentucky, came to this city and told the sheriff he wanted to surrender for a murder he committed Christmas night near Livermore, Ky. The sheriff was slow to believe his remarkable story, but finally telegraphed for information. The Kentucky authorities confirmed the story. Garman related the following story of the murder to the sheriff.

"At the residence of John Clarke, near Livermore, a dance was given. John Froge and I were enemies, and each was in love with Lillie Lambert. Froge was drunk, and in the ballroom he tripped me. When I asked him for an explanation he whipped out two revolvers and began shooting at me, firing eight shots. I rushed to a neighbor's near by, secured a shotgun, and returned, at which time he began shooting again. I fired and blew the top of his head off. My father, A. A. Garman, advised me to leave the state, and I have had no peace of mind since. I could not sleep, work, or think, and knowing I can prove my innocence, as it was purely in self-defense, decided to give myself up."

The governor of Kentucky had offered a reward for him.

Advertising Versus Merit.

The enormous sale of most medicines has depended entirely on large advertising. The enormous sale of Merrill's System Tonic has arisen solely from the merit of this wonderful compound. We say it is the best medicine to purify the blood, build up the system, strengthen the nerves and regulate the bowels made. Invest 50c. in one bottle and you will know we speak only the truth. Confidence

Is capital; is the basis of all agreements; is truth personified. When one has confidence in anything the battle is half won, but lack of it imperils success from the beginning. It is but natural and right that religious teachers should inspire confidence. If they cannot be trusted and believed in, who can be? It is with this thought that the following paragraph is given to our readers from a well-known citizen of Nova Scotia:

Upper North Sydney, Nova Scotia, May 2nd, 1896
Warner's Safe Cure Co.,
Rochester, N. Y.

Sirs:—Did I not write and tell you of the remarkable cure effected by Warner's Safe Cure on me this past winter I would indeed be ungrateful.

Last fall I was stricken down by acute rheumatism in its worst form. I could not go out or move around the house, neither could I sleep, and for five months I was afflicted with all the excruciating pains that this abominable disease is capable of giving to its unlucky victim. So bad was I that I dreaded to be handled in any way. I could not even bear being bolstered up in bed and feared to see any one approach my bed.

My mother had been benefited by your remedies and insisted on my trying Warner's Safe Cure. I did so and before I had quarter finished one bottle I could enjoy a good sleep; and before I had completed the use of one bottle I was as smart as ever in my life. That was months ago and as yet I have not been troubled in the least with rheumatism and trust that it may continue so. I shall always stand by Warner's Safe Cure.

Yours truly, W. P. MELONEY.

Upper North Sydney, Nova Scotia, Jan. 27th, 1900.

I was cured of an attack of acute rheumatism in its worst form nearly four years ago and have never had an attack since.

ALVIN JOSLIN'S HEIR.

Margaret Schriver Much Surprised by Charles L. Davis's Legacy.

Detroit, March 13.—Margaret Schriver, who is mentioned in actor Charles L. Davis' will as the principal heir of his $150,000, is now Mrs. Edward F. Simpson and lives in this city. She became acquainted with Mr. Davis when she was a little girl. He paid a visit to her father and hearing her sing thought her voice worth cultivating. At his suggestion she was sent abroad to complete her musical education. When she returned she was persuaded to join the "Alvin Joslin" company. Mr. Davis paid her marked attention, and finally during the second season, while the company was playing at Chicago, he proposed to her. He pressed his suit so earnestly that she resigned from the company in 1895, and returned home, becoming the wife of Mr. Simpson two months afterwards. She never saw Mr. Davis again and the fact that he left her his property came as a great surprise to her.

Merchant Enterprise.

United States paper.

An ad that took well with out-of-town people when there were boat or train excursions to town, was the distributing of cards advertising a few specials from various departments, with an inducement of a ticket with every purchase of 85, entitling the recipient to a hearty dinner in a good restaurant. Arrangements were made with a restaurant near the store for a supply of tickets at twenty cents each for their regular twenty-five cent dinner. Arrangements were also made with a good hotel, where the dinner cost fifty cents, for tickets at forty cents each, to be given to any customer who bought $10 worth of goods. This attracted a great deal of trade during excursion season.

Dr. Isaac Wise.

Cincinnati, March 14.—Rev. Dr. Isaac Meyer Wise celebrated his eighty-first birthday here to-day. He is the oldest rabbi in service in the United States. Dr. Wise was born in Steingrub, Bohemia, March 11, 1819. After more than half a century spent in America he stands to-day at the head of the reform Jews of the country. He is president of the general conference of American rabbis, editor of the American Israelite, the most widely circulated of Jewish newspapers, and president of the Hebrew union college of this city, which was founded by him.

L. A. W. Consuls Meet.

New York, March 14.—The meeting of all L.A.W. consuls in New York city will be held at the Grand Union hotel this evening for the purpose of forming a new consulate for the metropolitan district. The board has decided to devote more attention to the building of side paths in New York state. Local consulates will be formed throughout the state for the purpose of working for a trunk line of side paths, with a view to ultimately securing continuous cycle paths from New York to Chicago.
