WHO WILL BE IN COMMAND

MAY HAVE A CANADIAN SOME OF THESE DAYS.

There is No Lack of Talent in Canada to be Developed—No News as to Col. Sam Hughes' Occupation—The Regiment to Garrison Halifax.

Special to the Whig.

Ottawa, March 19.—It is expected that the provisional battalion for garrison service at Halifax will be completed on the 22nd inst. and leave Ottawa a few days later. The regiment will be similarly uniformed to the Royal Canadian infantry, in red with blue facings.

It is thought probable that hereafter, at least for drill and fatigue purposes, the Canadian militia will wear khaki, which has proved serviceable, both as regards texture and color, in the present South African campaign, which has developed so many reforms in modern warfare.

The names of several officers are mentioned as likely to succeed the late general officer commanding. Major-Gen. Leitch, Col. Lake and major Drummond have been named in this regard, but public sentiment seems opposed to the appointment of a Canadian. Possibly Col. Otter would fill the bill, but though we have a plentiful crop of lieutenant colonels we do not breed many general officers, nor indeed would it be reasonable to expect us to do so. As time and experience ripens, men like Girouard and others, now gallantly serving in South Africa, the country may look forward to a Canadian major-general for, as has been well shown, their is no lack of military talent in Canada to be developed under the fostering influence of our military college.

There is no authentic news here of what Lieut. Col. Sam Hughes is doing in the Transvaal. Various newspapers have credited him with having received staff employment, but of this nothing is known officially.

The new militia bill will provide for the appointment of officers to the rank of colonel under certain conditions which will therein be defined, and I understand that the number is not limited.

THE LATE DR. TEEPELL.

He Died in Watertown, N.Y., on Thursday Night Last.

Watertown, N.Y., Standard.

At ten o'clock last night (Thursday), at his late home No. 29 Central street, occurred the death of Dr. Eston W. Teepell, aged twenty-six years, ten months and twenty-four days.

Dr. Teepell was born in Storrington, Canada, on 21st April, 1873. His earlier education was secured in the schools of that place. About eight years ago he came to this city with his parents.

He entered Queen's university of Kingston, and graduated from the same in 1896, with high honors and with the degree of M.D. After his graduation he came to this city and began the practice of medicine. He was a member of the Jefferson county medical society.

In life Dr. Teepell was an honest, upright practitioner and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of the entire medical fraternity of the city. He had a large and increasing practice and overwork, more than any other one thing, was the indirect cause of his untimely death. It is not necessary to say that his loss both to the medical fraternity and friends will be great, because every one who was fortunate enough to have known him realize he was a young man of sterling qualities and high character.

His death, sudden as it was, was a severe shock to all who knew him as his illness was not considered serious until Sunday.

He is survived by his father Nathaniel Teepell, four brothers, George, Hurbert, Charles and Dr. Frank Teepell, and one sister, Miss Ida Teepell all of this city.

London, March 19. — The mayor of Sandwich presented to Robert Horton and his wife, of Cottage row, Sandwich, a £5 note in recognition of the fact that they had five sons in her majesty's service—namely, Sergt. Charles Horton, 3rd Dragoon Guards, in Ireland; and leading seaman Frank Horton, H.M.S. Assaye. William Friend Horton, a sixth son, and also of the Royal navy, was drowned in returning from the West Indies in 1898.

Boils Big as Hen's Egg.

Boils are simply a breaking out of bad blood, and all the poulticing and lancing you can do won't rid you of them. But once let Burdock Blood Bitters purify your blood and remove all the foul material from your system and the boils will disappear, never to return.

Mrs. Henley, Musquodoboit, N.S., recently wrote the following letter:

"In the spring of 1895 I was continually troubled with boils, one coming after another for about six months, some as large as a hen's egg. My blood was in a very bad condition and I was in miserable health all summer.

"In September I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and before I had finished taking it I felt a great deal better. I kept on taking the Bitters until I had used 5 bottles and can say I have been well ever since and have never had a boil on me since."

B.B.B. cures all blood humors from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore, and the cures it makes are permanent.

Pathetic Story From Colenso.

Mrs. Hughes, of Briton Ferry, Glanmorganshire, sent to the London Mail a pathetic story of brotherly affection. Mrs. Hughes has had three soldier brothers fighting in South Africa. One is with the 1st Devons, in Ladysmith, the others, Sergt. W. P. Mitchell and Pte. S. S. Mitchell, were in the second Devons, with Gen. Buller's army. The two brothers—sergeant and private—before starting for the Colenso engagement, which was to be their first baptism of fire, grasped hands and kissed each other, a token of affection which brought tears to the eyes of their comrades. In the engagement, private Mitchell had his thigh shattered, while his brother was severely wounded in the side. Both were taken to hospital, where, after amputation, Pte. Mitchell died in his brother's arms. The lad did not know that the brother who was offering words of tenderness and comfort to him in his closing moments was himself suffering from a severe wound.

LIPTON, RESTAURANT OPENED.

Sir Thomas's Plan to Furnish Good Food to the Poor.

London, March 19.—Years ago, Sir Thomas Lipton, known in America as the owner of the Shamrock, declared that if he ever became rich he would help to supply good food at the lowest possible price to poor people. The Alexandra trust dining-room, named after the princess of Wales, which Sir Thomas started by donating £100,000, opened the first branch in the city some days ago.

The meals which cost from a half penny to four and a half pence, consist of a hot meal, soup, steak, pudding and two vegetables, with a choice of pastry and tea, coffee and cocoa. For a halfpenny one can buy a quantity of vegetables or pudding. There are also intermediate dishes at various prices.

The arrangements include the sending of a good hot meal for a halfpenny a head to schools within a radius of three miles.

Another part of the scheme is to provide hot water carts to convey the meals to sick and bedridden persons, who are unable to walk to the dining-rooms which can accommodate 1,500 persons at a time and where there are ample facilities for serving from 10,000 to 12,000 persons daily.

The governors reckon on a profit of three per cent. on the capital invested, which will be used in extending the work. The present building is spacious and comfortable, and has all modern appliances. All the materials are of an excellent quality.

C.; commodore Archibald Rogers, Hudson River club; commodore William Seaman, Shrewsbury club, and commodore Ranhoffer, H. R. Y. C. The large sign over the picture reads: "Champion of Canada—owner Howard S. Folger, Kingston, Canada—designed and built by George E. Buchkout, Poukeepsie, N. Y. Whittmore was shot through the head while driving a baker's waggon in October, and his pockets were emptied. The fact that Snow was the last person known to have been with Whittmore, led to his arrest and indictment. Whittmore was nineteen years of age.
