New hospital campaign goes door-to-door as of July 2

by David Lea

With construction of the new Oakville hospital well underway, the Oakville Hospital Foundation is launching a door-to-door fundraising campaign to help equip the new facility.

As of July 2, foundation canvassers will begin making the rounds in town asking residents to become monthly donors.

The summer campaign aims to raise awareness and funds and provide an opportunity for people to find out more about the new hospital.

"The monthly giving program provides a simple and convenient way for individuals to support Oakville's hospital," said Tina Triano, foundation CEO.

"By arranging pre-authorized payments each month, donors can support our ongoing equipment needs every day of the year."

Once again Oakview Funeral Home is holding its Canada Day event where it joins local veterans in placing Canadian flags on the graves of veterans at Oakville's cemeteries. This will be the 19th year this has been done. Seen here, from left, Brian Ray, Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 114 president, veteran Nestor Yakimik, Oakview Manager Steve Reynolds, St. Simon's Rev. Canon Dr. Darcey Lazerte, Oakview's Christine Richard, and veteran Gord Starink. For a video of this event, visit www.oakvillebeaver.com.
