nother Triumph or Science....

RHEUMATISM and its kindred diseases have always been classed by physicians among the ailments for which their science afforded no sure and complete cure.

DR. L. R. HALL

DR. L. R. HALL'S RHEUMATIC CURE, has changed all that and has earned the sincerest thanks of thousands of sufferers.

People are slow to believe that rheumatism can be cured. They have tried many things, and all have failed, and the announcement of a new cure is received by many with sceptical indifference, and yet it may be stated very confidently that DR. HALL'S RHEUMATIC CURE NEVER FAILS, and there are innumerable BONA FIDE testimonials to back the statement. From one to six bottles will cure any form of rheumatism.

Sufferers from rheumatic complaints should read Dr. Hall's pamphlet on rheumatism, wherein their symptoms are described, and should lose no time in making a trial of the only sure remedy—DR. HALL'S RHEUMATIC CURE.

Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure is put up in 50 cent bottles, containing ten days' treatment. For sale by all druggists and dealers in medicine. The Dr. Hall Medicine Co. Kingston, Ont.

Wants 500 More.

This morning secretary Drennan, of the 24th of May celebration committee, received a letter from general manager Gridley, of the N. Y. C. & H. R. railway company, congratulating him upon the neat poster sent out advertising the celebration here on the queen's birthday. Manager Gridley asked to be supplied with 500 such posters, promising to use them to good advantage, as the road intended carrying a great many excursionists to Kingston on that day.

What is Going on in the Business World—The Market News.

The Arbuckles have advanced refined sugars five points per 100 pounds, bringing the price up to the trust's quotations.

Mail advices from Sicily report an easier market on olive oil, while from Lucca reports are to the effect that the situation there is a very firm one.

Rains in southern California have allayed apprehensions concerning the wheat crop in that section, and Pacific coast wheat crop conditions generally are now said to be exceptionally good.

The recent estimate made by Thalman Freres & Cie, Paris, of the French wheat crop this year at 70,000,000 bushels less than last year is considered by other authorities as an extreme view, and wholly premature.

The Los Angeles Fruit World of March 31st says: "Everything points to a heavy crop of prunes both in California and in the north-western states. The proposed prune combine shows many signs of weakness; the grocers are not coming forward promptly. The growers will be blamed for their failure."

Brome grass, introduced and recommended by the experimental farms, is being grown extensively in Manitoba, and has solved the problem of finding a cultivated hay fodder crop suitable for that region. It yields a safe and large crop of choice hay. There is a large and profitable trade in brome grass seed.

Mail advices from London say trade in currants has been moderate of late, but the market holds steady for all descriptions. The chief inquiry is for good value at 17s. to 21s. and the selections at around these prices are limited. Common to good provincials are offered at 14s. to 15s., but attract little attention.

London advices report a satisfactory business in Valencia raisins, with gradually increasing prices. Few can be bought below 33s, though sales on the date the letter was written were at 33s 6d for fair and 35s and 36s for best grades.

A Kingston Girl Weds.

On the 5th inst. a much esteemed Kingston girl was married to a prosperous young man, of Syracuse, N.Y. The happy couple were Miss Maud Sturgess and William F. Forbes, and they were married by Rev. Mr. Copeland, pastor of Frank street Methodist church, Syracuse. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Sturgess, Queen street, and has many young friends in the city who extend to her and her husband the best of good wishes. The groom is foreman in a large furnishing store in that city. The happy couple went on a bridal tour to Washington, New York and other eastern points. On their return they will take up residence in Syracuse, N.Y.

THE BOERS TAKE COURAGE.

WILL FIGHT TO THE LAST EXTREMITY.

Queen Congratulates Capt. Lambton of British Cruiser Powerful —Fighting Resumed Beyond Elandslaagte.

New York, April 12.—Under a Pretoria date comes to the Herald an interesting despatch which shows the state of feeling in the Transvaal capital, and conveying the news that the federals have taken fresh courage and have no idea of laying down their arms. The despatch is dated Monday of this week and reads:

"The relief of Ladysmith, and Kimberley, and Gen. Cronje's disaster coming together, caused the Boers to become panic stricken, and they temporarily abandoned Bloemfontein. Had Roberts been able to follow up his successes the war might have been at an end now, but the British reached Bloemfontein utterly fagged out and recuperation was absolutely necessary. This afforded time for the Boers to recover, and now the military situation is not necessarily more unfavorable than two months ago. The faint-hearted have been weeded out of the reserves and the fighting commandoes are now composed of resolute men. The decision to send the Poers to St. Helena makes it certain that the Boers will not surrender except in the last extremity. The average burgher prefers death than exile, and the only hope of conquering lies in her vast resources if these are minimized by the Boer tactics. The Boer artillery is stronger than it was when the war began owing to the capture of the British guns. A military attache, who is much respected in America, thinks six months the lowest probable duration of the war. The Boers will probably continue to fight if they lose Pretoria, which is unlikely to occur for a long time yet."

Expressed Thanks.

London, April 12.— The queen telegraphed to Capt. Lambton, of the British first-class cruiser Powerful which arrived at Portsmouth yesterday afternoon as follows: "I sincerely welcome you all on your return home and heartily congratulate you on the gallant and valued service you have rendered in South Africa. I hope to see you all shortly after my return to England." The duke of York also telegraphed his congratulations to Capt. Lambton, his officers and the ship's company of the Powerful.

A special despatch from Elandslaagte dated yesterday says: "Fighting has been renewed beyond Elandslaagte this afternoon, the Boers steadily advanced upon the British positions. There was a continuous rifle fire and the big Boer guns were in action. The British replied effectively and after two hours fighting the Boers were checked."

Can Go to Plant Crops.

Pretoria, April 12.— The Free State Gazette publishes orders to the effect that no person who has been commandeered for active service has the right to send a substitute without consent of the landdrost. In reference to the matter of leave of absence, the Gazette says that squads of ten per cent. of each command will be relieved for periods of twelve days, their relief being chosen by ballot. This is intended to meet the wishes of the burghers desiring to plant their crops.

Heard Cannons Roar.

Pretoria, April 11.— A heavy cannonade was heard this morning in the direction of Bulfontein, situated midway between Wynburg and Boshof, in the Orange Free State, and north of Brandfort.

Advices from Wepener, where a British force is surrounded, say the battle continues favorable to the federals. About 1,500 British troops are said to be there.

Advices from the Boer headquarters in Natal say that after a heavy bombardment the British are retiring in the direction of Ladysmith and the federals are going to their old positions.

Money in Frogs.

S. T. Bastedo, deputy commissioner of fisheries, has the following report on "Frogs": The increasing demand in the American market for this "delicacy" has been engaging the attention of a considerable number of our people in localities where the frog abounds with a view to establishing froggeries for the cultivation and propagation of frogs for market. Applications for leases have been received and the department has been considering what steps may be necessary in order to give encouragement to an industry which will no doubt be one of considerable profit to those engaging in it, and likewise an additional source of revenue to the province.

A Great Storm.

New Orleans, April 12.—Enterprise, Miss., was visited by a tornado Tuesday night just about midnight, which wrecked a dozen different dwellings, damaged others and tore down the bridge which spans the river at that point. The storm after venting its wrath upon the town, passed off to the north-west. No lives were lost.

Tried to Have Imitation.

New York, April 12.— James H. White, general manager of a kinetoscope company, and William McCarthy, were yesterday engaged in taking a picture of "The Battle of Spion Kop" at Orange, N.J., when they were seriously hurt by the explosion of a cannon.

Rioters at Work.

Allahad, April 12.—Several cases of plague have been reported at Cawnpore recently. A body of rioters yesterday attacked the Segregation camp and several persons were killed. The garrison and a force of volunteers were called out to suppress the uprising.

Renewed Demands.

Yokohama, April 12.—Advices from Seoul announce that Russia has presented to the Corean government renewed demands referring to Masampo.

The steamer Pierrepont will get in to Wolfe Island to-morrow, and on Saturday the islanders will be able to attend the market in large numbers.

Over two hundred people came to the city this morning on the K. & P. and B. of Q. railway trains.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

A Reply to Angus.

Kingston, April 12.—(To the Editor): I notice in your issue of the 10th inst. a letter concerning Mr. Cullen's appointment as engineer of the water works and signed "Angus."

"Angus" does not appear to be properly informed as to Mr. Cullen's qualifications.

First—Mr. Cullen certainly is a practical engineer, having served some eighteen years as such with the Kingston cotton company and the Montreal transportation company. The greater part of the time he was with the latter firm he ran one of their floating elevators without the assistance of any other engineer.

Second—With regard to the position of the city in not having secured the services of a machinist engineer, the city is not a whit worse off than it ever has been in the past. Mr. Vince, who successfully occupied the position for a great many years, was not a machinist and neither was the late engineer, William Hazlett. The underwriters should be just as well satisfied with Mr. Cullen as with either of his predecessors as he has had just as good experience in his work as they had if not better and is just as well qualified for the position.

Third—I do not think that in appointing Mr. Cullen, his friends had any intention of ignoring professional machinists or members of trade unions. It is clearly evident from the newspaper reports of the council meeting (I was not present at the meeting) that politics played an important part and that the fact that Mr. Cullen was a conservative helped largely, in addition to his recommendations, which were undoubtedly good, to get him the appointment, instead of it going to the nominee of the committee, who was a reformer.

As a rule I do not believe in allowing politics to creep into municipal affairs, but it is a well-known fact that before Mr. Hazlett was appointed to the same position, a caucus of the reformers was held and he was their choice and got the position on political grounds, the same as in the case of Cullen. The only disappointment to Hazlett was that the thirteen grit aldermen signed a round robin to give him a raise of salary and an assistant, but afterwards fell out among themselves and the scheme fell through.

With regard to Mr. Cullen's late employers having no more use for him, this is all nonsense as he was one of their most trusted servants, and I have heard that they were very sorry to part with him. However, the position he now has is a higher salaried one and they did not consider it justifiable to place any obstacle in the way of his accepting it and at his request recommended him for the position and knowning him as they did could hardly do otherwise.

It is well known that when William Hazlett was appointed to his late position both E. C. Hiscock and John McEwen, both machinists, were applicants for the position and Hazlett, who is not a machinist, received the appointment over them.

I cannot reply to the last clause in the letter of "Angus," as I am not posted in laundries but get my washing done at home.—FAIR PLAY.

Donnelly's Answer.

Kingston, April 12.—(To the Editor): In your paper last evening Henry Thurston states that William Cullen never allowed the water to get low in the elevator boiler. I gave the statement as I received it from a responsible citizen.

Another foreman of the M. T. company has now informed me that it was a hot journal caused the mishap. I trust that neither evidences of mismanagement will be forthcoming in the handling of the water works plant.—THOMAS DONNELLY.

WAS THERE FOUL PLAY?

Floating Valise Found in Sharbot Lake—Who Is J. Bowes?

The residents of Sharbot Lake are wrought up over a mystery. Foul play is suspected and the inhabitants are on the qui vive of expectation. The particulars are: On Tuesday last Hugh McLean saw floating in the lake near the railroad crossing a fair sized buff colored leather valise. He reported his find to M. W. Price, clerk of the division court, who, in company with M. Avery, J.P., fished the valise from the water. It was found to contain, among other things, a letter addressed to "My dear Niece," Miss Ida R. McCowian, Innerkip, and dated Oct. 17th, in which the writer expressed the hope that he would see his fair cousin on Thanksgiving day. The valise also contained recommendations from Tobais Caster, R. E. Forsyth and J. Barry, Claremont, Ont., a town situated near Toronto, on the line of the C.P.R. These were dated Claremont, April 7th. Other articles in the valise were a brown cap with dark red glazed peak, a duck jacket with cotton shirting lining, a C.P.R. time table, a purse, pamphlet and perfume bottle. What creates the impression that foul play had something to do with the floating valise is the fact that two large stones were found in it, one almost as large as a man's head and the other as big as a good sized turnip, evidently placed in it with a view to sinking the valise.

The letter to Miss McCowian was signed by James Bowes, to whom the recommendations were also made out. Both Mr. Pierce and Mr. Avery are investigating and have written to the persons above named with a view to throwing some light upon the owner of the valise.

Chancellor Boyd has decided that Mrs. Pauline Herres must go to parliament for a divorce from her husband who is now in the Hamilton asylum. Before marriage Herres was an inmate of Rockwood asylum.

HE WAS IN LADYSMITH.

REV. WILLIAM M'CULLOCH, FORMERLY OF TORONTO.

Worked Among The Troops — Describes Some Incidents of The Siege—In The Last Attack The Boers Lost Over One Thousand Men.

Toronto, April 12.—Rev. William McCulloch, formerly for several years general secretary of the central Y.M.C.A. here, was one of the besieged residents of Ladysmith. Mr. McCulloch went with his family to the Transvaal over four years ago, and in 1899 was received as a minister of the Presbyterian church. Last April he sent his family home, and went to Ladysmith to work among the troops. A letter written before relief had reached the beleaguered town has just been received from Mr. McCulloch. Speaking of the Boer fire, Mr. McCulloch says that although the bombardment had been proceeding for one hundred days, really little damage had been done to property. Over 100,000 shells had come into the town, but not 500 had struck anything to do damage and there had been very little loss of life from bursting shells; at first a few soldiers were killed, but latterly pits had been dug for them, which protected them from shrapnel. Only two civilians had been killed.

Mr. McCulloch continues: "The poor soldiers have suffered fearfully from fever and dysentery; over 2,000 are now in hospital, and the death rate is very high, some days as many as twenty pass away. Food and medical necessaries are very scarce and the poor fellows, weakened and run down through lack of food, readily succumb to all diseases and then there is no nourishing food to give them afterwards to build them up. Just fancy being reduced to one tin of condensed milk for thirty-four persons per diem. Milk food in this proportion will not impart much strength. The rations served out to all now are very small; hard biscuits, no meat, rice or milk, no vegetables of any kind; one sixteenth of an ounce of tea, one quarter of an ounce of sugar per day, and a small piece of tough beef, or a piece of horse flesh."

Referring to the siege, Mr. McCulloch says that on the whole it has not been very trying. "Only two determined attempts were made by the Boers to capture the town, and on both occasions they were repulsed with heavy loss. The last attack was on Jan. 6th, when under cover of night they advanced within our lines, and drove in the pickets. A handful of Imperial Light Horse, the Gordon Highlanders and some artillery, kept them at bay for three hours; they were then in overwhelming numbers, almost ten to one. The artillery made fearful havoc literally mowing them down. Three times the Boers advanced up the hill and each time they were driven back. They must have had over 1,000 killed and wounded, while our loss was 260; seventy of our brave men were buried in one long trench just as they were, buried in one long trench just as they were, distorted and mangled, while all night the wounded were being brought in. The miseries and horror of war are simply indescribable, and Britain will pay dearly for the conquest of the Free State and Transvaal in the serious losses we have sustained among our officers and men. As I write there is one incessant roar of heavy guns some twelve miles distant. Buller is coming and relief is not far distant, for which we are truly thankful."

Some Pretty Easter Windows.

The boot and shoe merchants are taking a great deal of pains to make their show windows present an attractive appearance for the Easter holidays.

One of the attractive windows is that in Haines & Lockett's store. In the background is a double arch of white in a field of pink. Each arch holds a large mirror, and is profusely decorated with Easter lilies. The base of the window is of green, and here a special exhibit is made of ladies' Empress and Sorosis shoes. Native palms, roses and other flowers are beautifully arranged. In their other window is a good display of Slater shoes.

Sutherland Bros. have also two pretty windows. On a background of green plush their lines of ladies' shoes are artistically arranged. They have made a specialty of ladies' Queen Quality shoes, and of gentlemen's Packard shoes.

Archibald Abernethy has also two very pretty window displays. Some very handsome lines of shoes are shown, while the display is decorated with Easter lilies and other flowering plants.

J. A. Johnston's corner window is also well arranged. From each shoe blossoms a large, white Easter lily, while an arch above is prettily entwined with them.

Died at Gravenhurst, Ont.

On Wednesday Frederick Welch, marble cutter, Princess street, received a telegram announcing the death, at Gravenhurst, Ont., of Dr. A. P. Cornell, sister of Mrs. Welch. No particulars of the death were received. The deceased has been ill for over two years. He was a graduate of Queen's medical department, and had enjoyed a good practice in Gravenhurst. He married a daughter of the late John Flanagan, once deputy warden of Kingston penitentiary. Their only child sleeps in Cataraqui cemetery. It is probable the father will be laid to rest beside his child. Mrs. Welch and A. J. Flanagan went west this morning. The deceased was about fifty years of age, and was initiated into Minden lodge, A. F. & A. M., some twenty-six years ago.

To Blow Out The Water.

Capt. Lesslie, engaged at work in raising the steamship Scottish King, ashore on the Newfoundland coast, has found it impossible to pump the ship free of water. He, therefore, has had a large air compressor shipped to him from Cornwall. His object is to blow the water out of the steamer's hull by fastening down the decks and filling the hull with air under high pressure.

Forgot The Date.

A Queen's professor, who was to have held an examination in Convocation hall this morning at nine o'clock, became absent-minded, as often is his custom, and did not turn up till ten o'clock. At that time, however, the large number of students, writing on the subject, had left the college, and now the senate will have to patch up matters.

Buying School Clothes

Is almost as important as buying school books. If all parents bought where the qualities are best, the styles handsomest and the prices lowest, we could have a monopoly on the trade.

However the vast majority seem to be coming here. They are appreciating the excellence of our School Clothing and the prices at which we sell it.

Friends are telling friends and neighbors are telling neighbors, and we are sure to do the bulk of School business this year.

There is not a question about prices—we can please you at any and all prices.
