PIMPLES
CURED BY
Cuticura SOAP

The most effective skin purifying and beautifying soap in the world, as well as purest and sweetest for toilet, bath, and nursery. It is the only preventive of pimples, blackheads, red, rough, and oily skin, red, rough hands with shapeless nails, dry, thin, and falling hair, and simple baby blemishes. It is so because it strikes at the cause of most complexional disfigurations, viz., THE CLOGGED, IRRITATED, INFLAMED, OVERWORKED, OR SLUGGISH PORE.

My face was covered with a pimply, ruptured, and itching skin. After using CUTICURA SOAP for six weeks my skin made a remarkable change, all the pimples went away, my skin getting as soft as velvet.
H. CROMB, 223 Melrose St., Chicago, Ill.

I was troubled with pimples, especially on the chin and forehead. I tried several home remedies, but as they proved to be of no value, I decided to use CUTICURA SOAP, and in six weeks I was entirely rid of them.
HENRY P. DAHLKE,
6111 So. Paulina St., Chicago, Ill.

My face was covered with pimples and blackheads. Some would be all red, and others would be full of white matter. The blackheads would be all over my face. I spent about ten dollars for soaps, medicines, etc., but they never did me any good. I tried CUTICURA SOAP, and it only took three cakes to cure my face. JOSEPH B. CLAMER,

OVER THE TEA CUPS.

Dame Fashion decrees that all my lady's dainty lingerie this season shall convey the faintest suggestion of violets, heliotrope, lilac or whatever perfume the individual taste may choose—only it must be a subtle, delicate fragrance. The sachet bags, so long in vogue, are passing away, and in their place the New York girls are using perfumed ribbons. A bolt is sent to the perfumer's, and is put through some chemical process, before the ribbon is wound upon it. Hats, gloves, and veils are lightly perfumed, and some of the New York modistes are adding a thin layer of perfumed wadding to the interlining of the sleeve ruffle that falls well over the hand.

But the very newest thing in perfume is the bath tablet. Slim glass bottles, each holding one dozen tablets, bear the label of the Philadelphia and Chicago chemists who have placed this novelty in the market. The tablets are to be had in violet, heliotrope, pink, etc., and, when placed in the toilet water, sizzle and fizz until quite dissolved, when a sweet fragrance takes the place of the little colored tablet. A quarter of a tablet is enough to perfume a basin of water, and the odour is lasting and delicious. Such a dainty accessory to the toilet will doubtless meet with a wide popularity as soon as it is known that the perfumed tablets may be bought in town.

For the second time, the angel of death has entered The Charity Circle of The King's Daughters, and the news of Mrs. Harry Hopkirk's death has caused deep sorrow to all the other members of that circle, by whom she was so well beloved. Miss Ella Mackerras was one of the ten girls who were the first members of The Charity Circle. Her interest in the work never tailed, and she so identified herself with the very spirit of the order, that she was in deed and in truth The King's daughter. Her marriage and removal to London, Ont., a year ago, took her from the old-time duties, but her sweet unselfish personality made itself felt in London, as in Kingston, and there, too, many friends mourn her sincerely. To her husband, her mother and her brothers, the deepest sympathy is extended. There is no measure to their loss, and their only comfort is that the first fruits, the best and most loved, has been safely garnered into the heavenly treasure house to await the great reunion of saints.

Because He loved her so,
Dear human flower so bright,
He called her for His realms of light,
To bloom celestial there.
And left to us the fragrant share
Of memories to forward lead
Our stumbling steps to that fair mead
Where asphodels immortal blow,
Because He loved her so.

Because He loved her so.
He glorified our darling one,
And cased the foot that steadfast ran
Upon her King's behest.
But while to her alone came Rest,
To us came Faith in things unseen,
And, through tears, Peace that had not been,
Had she not sought His way to go,
Because He loved her so.

The Montreal Highland Cadet Battalion will arrive in Kingston, by C.P.R., on the morning of Thursday, May 21th, to take part in the celebration here. The cadets, under the command of Major Fred. Lydon, are one hundred and fifty or two hundred strong, and will be accompanied by a pipe band, buglers, drummers, etc. Instead of returning to Montreal immediately after the celebration, they will remain in Kingston until Friday midnight, and will give a concert in the city hall on Friday evening. The Battalion includes several good singers and dancers, and besides songs and Scotch dances the programme will include firing and bayonet exercises, barbell, club swinging, and physical drill with or without arms. The object of the concert is to assist in paying for the expenses of the trip, and it is hoped that Kingston will turn out en masse in honor of the visiting soldiers. The battalion receives no government aid, and the expenses connected with uniforms, firearms, etc., are no small item for the boys of the corps.

One result of the absurd reports printed in some of the New York papers of extravagant expenditure at the Hastings-Benedict wedding at Greenwich, Conn., on April 30th, is that an enormous number of letters have been received by Mr. E. C. Benedict's family from light-witted people of various sorts. One old lady asks for money to enable her to take a journey to meet her four sisters whom she "has not seen in sixty years." Another woman demands $4,000 to pay off a mortgage on her house and insists that if the $4,000 cannot be sent at once $5 be sent anyway.

The Massey-Harris at the Antipodes

If you want proof of the staunchness of this splendid Canadian-made wheel it is only necessary to state that the Victorian Government of Australia recently purchased a number of them for use in its cycle postal department—at about the same time the New South Wales Government purchased American and other makes for a similar service—and Government statistics show that it cost over twenty times more for repairs on the American collection than for the Massey-Harris wheels—DOES THIS CONVINCE YOU?
