THE SYNOD COMMITTEES.

THE BUSINESS TRANSACTED AT THURSDAY'S MEETING.

Permission Given to Improve Rectory at Loughboro—The Augmentation Fund Supplemented by Subscriptions—The Stipend of the Coadjutor Bishop Under Discussion.

The executive committee of the diocese of Ontario met Thursday morning, the dean presiding. In attendance: Archdeacon Carey, rural deans Wright, Bogert, Jarvis, Loucks; Rev. Messrs. Cooke, Tighe, McMorine, Grout, Burke, Emery, Armstrong, Worrell, Serson, Cooke; Messrs. Walkem, McLaughlin, Wright, Carson, Pense, Smythe, Shannon, Rogers; judges Macdonald and Wilkison. There was an attendance of about twenty others of the clergy of the diocese, not members of the central body.

Archdeacon Bedford-Jones, as rector of St. Peter's church, Brockville, asked for power to make repairs to rectory.

The vestry of St. Paul's church, Loughboro, asked for permission to borrow money for parsonage improvements. Granted.

The vestry of St. George's church, Trenton, wrote regarding financial arrangements. Granted.

The archbishop here entered and took the chair.

Rev. C. J. Hutton reported subscriptions of $28,000 for the augmentation fund from twenty-eight out of sixty parishes.

Election Of Bishop.

Edw. J. B. Pense presented, as chairman of committee and of conference, reports of three committees, completing the arrangements for the election of a coadjutor bishop. The committee upon stipend reported prospective income from the Episcopal fund of $1,460 per year. For the first year the augmentation fund, now $13,000, will yield $520, besides $380 of accumulated interest. An appeal to parishes had yielded $716, making a total of $3,056, with seventeen parishes to report, which would swell the amount to $3,200. The second year will be provided for by assessment of parishes, if any balance be required after the two main sources of interest from capital should be short. In the third year, the augmentation and episcopal funds are sure to amply provide an income. The agreements with the archbishop by two sub-committees were presented, duly signed, providing for his grace's retiring allowance and for the election and consecration as already recorded in the Whig. These reports were adopted unanimously, and a committee struck, composed of the dean, archdeacon Bedford-Jones, Rev. Prof. Worrell, Rev. S. Tighe, judges Macdonald and Wilkison, Messrs. Pense and Smythe, to act with his grace on any matter arising out of the agreement and election. His grace then formally announced the calling of the synod for June 4th, for general business and for election of co-adjutor bishop. It was announced that the annual meeting of women's auxiliary would be postponed till the following week. The mission of Bancroft was given permission to take legal proceedings in the name of synod against the Central Ontario railway for appropriation of property without attempt at redress.

Reports Of Committees.

Rev. A. W. Cooke—Of diocesan library.

Rev. Prof. Worrell—Of divinity students' fund, reporting $367 on hand, though the Lenten offerings were only $367. But few students are presenting themselves.

Rev. S. Tighe, of finance and audit committees, declaring diocesan funds in very satisfactory state, including the securities; arrears of interest, only $2,900, a small proportion.

Rev. J. K. McMorine—Of domestic and foreign mission committee, showing receipts for the year of $1,966, besides the offering for the Alice Rogers memorial. They rejoiced that the general board was sending three additional missionaries to Japan, owing to the gifts of $1,040 from the Rev. J. M. Davenport and of $500 through Rev. T. Street Macklem.

Chancellor Walkem — Of investment committee, reporting interest as exceptionally well paid, and asking confirmation of loan of $50,000 to St. George's cathedral.

Chancellor Walkem—Of committee upon seniority of clergy, asking for a meeting to hear the protests of clergymen to the prepared list.

The dean—Of the mission board, reported in preceding issue.

Rural dean Wright—For the superannuation fund, showing receipts of $657 and $217 on hand.

Rev. A. Jarvis—For widows and orphans' fund, showing pensions paid of $3,350, but reporting an increase of overdraft of $500 to $1,193. A canon to readmit clergy to benefits was recommended.

Archdeacon Carey—For rectory lands committee, reporting $10,691 as paid rectors last year, on a four per cent. net dividend, and a decrease of overdraft from $248 to $116.

Rev. R. Serson—Of clergy trust fund, showing interest received $5,434, paid annuitants, $4,505; balance on hand, $726. Three annuitants have been added at $400 per year.—Rev. W. Roberts, archdeacon Carey and Rev. Dr. Nimmo. The two first have been on the clergy list since 1870.

Canon Spencer—Of episcopal fund, reporting income of $3,040 for the year.

Notices of motions for new canons were given by E. H. Smythe, R. T. Walkem, A. Brisco, Revs. A. Jarvis and J. W. Jones.

The archbishop before closing the session with the benediction, expressed great satisfaction at being able to attend the session, especially as the diocese had never made a better showing in its reports. He had expected to hold confirmations but was precluded on account of deafness and want of strength.

The bishop of Ottawa would kindly officiate for him in July, and as the bishop of Chicago was to visit Kingston he would cheerfully ask him to hold three confirmations in the city, as suggested.

Records Looked Up.

Secretary Macdonald has looked up the records of the board of education touching the sale of the old Gordon street school, and the building of the Frontenac public school, and not one reference is made in these records to the Queen street property being used to offset any council grant. The council was asked by the board to vote money for the erection of a school in the north-east end of the city. The council would not do so, unless the people were appealed to in the matter. The board then moved that the council take steps to submit to the people a by-law for the purpose of raising debentures to the value of $20,000. In the meantime, however, the council had sold the Gordon street school, receiving therefor $3,973, which, like all money from such sources, must be turned over to the board of education. Having the assurance of this money, the board decided to ask the council for only $16,000, although debentures to the value of $20,000 were voted.

A Change Suggested.

Pressure is being brought to bear upon mayor Minnes and other interested parties to have the military route march on the queen's birthday changed, so as to take the parade out King street, up Barrie to Princess street, thence to the fair grounds, returning by way of Princess street to the market square, where the parade would be dismissed. It is thought this would please all parties and be satisfactory to the military authorities. Mayor Minnes promises to interview Lieut.-Col. Montizambert, D.O.C., with reference to the proposed change. It is pointed out that all the excursions will arrive in the city between ten and twelve o'clock, naturally the people will flock to the main street to see the military parade and under present arrangement they will miss this, but if the route is changed as proposed, everybody will be able to see the parade.

Death Of Mrs. O'Rourke.

This morning at her home at the corner of Montreal and Charles streets, Annie Catharine Fitzgerald, wife of Arthur O'Rourke, entered into rest, at the early age of twenty-four years. Death resulted from catarrh of the stomach. Deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Fitzgerald, Montreal street, and leaves to mourn her death, her husband and an infant of eight weeks. Three brothers and one sister also survive, one brother Thomas, being in Chicago, and James, in Louisville, Ky. The late Mrs. O'Rourke was married a year and a half ago. The funeral takes place on Saturday afternoon.

Police Court To-Day.

At the police court this morning Daniel Byron, on a charge of drunkenness, was allowed his freedom, the case standing against him.

Samuel Babcock and James Kelly, corporation laborers, were charged with fighting on John street. Kelly could not be served with a summons. Babcock appeared in court and was dismissed.

The lad James, charged with the theft of a pair of rubbers from Mrs. Linton, was allowed to go; he is ill; the case stands against him.

A House Burned.

The house occupied by James Dennee, near Collins' lake, and owned by D. Cays, was burned Wednesday, together with contents. The house was slightly insured but the furniture, which was entirely destroyed, was not protected by insurance.

The barn of Benjamin Knapp, Cranberry lake, was burned a day or two ago. How the fire caught is not known, but it is supposed to have originated from a spark. The building was insured.

Cars Leave The Track.

This morning's Bay of Quinte train, while running into the city shortly after ten o'clock, met with an accident which caused considerable delay. When it had reached a point between Anglin's mill and the Rathbun company's office, the coaches and two or three freight cars were derailed. As the ground in the locality is level, the cars were not overturned.

The First Drill.

No. 2 field hospital had a drill last night at artillery barracks under command of surgeon major Abbott and hospital sergeant O'Hagan. These members have been appointed sergeants: F. F. Carr-Harris, V. Drury, W. G. Tyner and F. D. Dunlop. The company will drill every Monday and Friday hereafter, Corporals will be appointed at the next parade.

Had Not Deserted.

Eightmen of "A" battery did not return to the barracks last night, and it was thought they had deserted. A guard was detailed to watch the early morning trains, but the absentees were not found. Three of them returned this morning, and the remaining five are expected to turn up at any moment. They had simply been out for a "time."

Offered Governor-Generalship.

London, May 17.—The first governor-generalship of Australia, under the commonwealth bill, has been offered to the duke of Argyll, formerly the marquis of Lorne. It is believed, however, that his acceptance is improbable, as his wife, the princess Louise, objects to living in the antipodes.

Gratings should be placed over the windows in the rear of the drill hall. Already several panes of glass have been broken by stones thrown by pupils of Central school. It is impossible to prevent boys occasionally firing stones, and to save the windows gratings should be placed over them.

Married In St. Paul's Church.

On Wednesday evening the marriage took place of Miss Mabel E. Mitchell, formerly of the Whig, and Edward J. Mitchell, of the establishment of McKelvey & Birch. The ceremony was performed by archdeacon Carey in St. Paul's church. The bride was very becomingly attired in a gown of blue, with white satin and allover lace trimmings. The bridesmaid was Miss E. Mitchell, sister of the bride, and C. Harris assisted the groom. The young couple were recipients of many presents from their wide circle of friends.
