SPORTING PARAGRAPHS.

The Various Events Which Have Created Interest.

Mark Lynch and E. Rogers are matched to row a single scull race July 11th at Halifax for $300 a side.

At Montreal on Saturday the Shamrock lacrosse team beat Montreal in an intermediate league match by nine to two.

There is some talk of holding in the fall the international golf match between the United States and Canada, as also the Canadian amateur championship.

It is probable that in July there will be rowed at Nelson, B.C., a match for the championship of the world between Jake Gaudaur, the champion, and R. N. Johnson, of Vancouver. Nelson has one of the finest straightaway courses in Canada.

Joe Gans, of Baltimore, knocked out Dal Hawkins, of California, at the Broadway athletic club Saturday night in two rounds of the fastest fighting ever seen in the club house. The men were scheduled for twenty five rounds at 133 pounds and both scaled under the limit.

How Cornwall expects to make a showing against the Montrealers in their first championship match, to be played in Montreal on June 2nd, is more than the followers of the game in Cornwall can understand. There seems to be no proper organization in connection with the team, and so far there has not been a practice at which a dozen men attended, juniors included. There has been no captain yet appointed, nor trainer selected.

The French authorities controlling the athletic events to be held in connection with the exposition have announced that as a concession to America's desire to eliminate Sunday games, the sports which were scheduled to begin Sunday, July 15th, will, instead, commence Saturday, July 14th, the great French national holiday, and will be continued on the following Tuesday and Thursday. The finals, in which Americans are entered, will be put ahead, and the games will conclude on Saturday, if possible.

At New York Saturday the Crescent lacrosse team defeated the Capitals of Ottawa by six goals to three.

At the bicycle and motor races at Montreal Saturday John A. Nelson, Chicago, won two races individually, and C. W. Miller, New York, champion six day rider, took first place in the ten mile professional motor race, in which a new Canadian record of sixteen minutes for ten miles was made. The one-mile amateur was a race held over from the queen's birthday, as a time limit of 2:20 was not reached. Here the only regrettable incident of the day's racing occurred. The finish between S. P. St. Marie and W. H. Tate was so close that, while the crowd of Verdun, Joseph Allen, one of the judges, declared the race for Mr. Tate by the width of the tire; the other two judges decided that it was a dead heat. The race is to be run over again.

Visit From F. W. Wodell, Boston.

This summer F. W. Wodell, Boston, is likely to have a large chorus class in Napanee. He will reside in Kingston for two months, and the music lovers should not miss the benefit of his training and experience for some choral work. As he will be here shortly choir singers who would like to see some large choral work performed should communicate with Miss Ada W. Shirk, 259 Alfred street.

Does Not Apply.

Toronto, May 29. Justice Rose has decided that the clause in the election law requiring action to be brought within a year of the commission of the alleged offence, does not apply to the prosecutions instituted by the Ontario government against election bribers. This ruling applies to all cases now pending.

ITCHING LIMBS

For Three Years. Nights Itching and Burning Terrible.

Wife Suggests CUTICURA. Uses it. Presto! What a Change.

Feels Like Kicking Doctors for Three Years' Suffering.

The itching and burning I suffered in my feet and limbs for three years were terrible. At night they were worse, and would keep me awake a greater part of the night. I consulted doctor after doctor, as I was travelling on the road most of my time, also one of our city doctors. None of the doctors knew what the trouble was. I got a lot of the different samples of the medicines I had been using. I found them of so many different kinds, that I concluded I would have to go to a Cincinnati hospital before I would get relief. I had frequently been urged to try CUTICURA REMEDIES, but I had no faith in them. My wife finally prevailed upon me to try them. Presto! What a change. I am now cured, and it is a permanent cure. I feel like kicking some doctor or myself for suffering three years when I could have used CUTICURA remedies. Sept. 11, 1898. H. JENKINS, Middleboro, Ky.

BABY'S FACE SOLID SORE

My little nephew, John Staunton, was afflicted with the worst sores I ever saw all over his body. His head and face at times were a solid scab and he suffered dreadfully. He was a pitiable sight. His father used all the remedies that he heard of, and doctored with all the doctors. He wore a tar cap, also, which did no good, but got no relief until he used the CUTICURA (ointment) and CUTICURA SOAP. Now he is a clean, healthy child. March 3, 1899. P. E. FOLTZ, Pugh's Run, Va.

CUTICURA

That is to say, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, greatest of blood purifiers and humor expellers, purifies the blood and circulating fluids of HUMOR GERMS, and thus removes the cause, while warm baths with CUTICURA SOAP, and gentle anointings with CUTICURA (ointment), greatest of emollient skin cures, cleanse the skin and scalp of crusts and scales, allay itching, burning, and inflammation, soothe and heal. Thus are speedily, permanently, and economically cured the most torturing, disfiguring humors of the skin, scalp, and blood, with loss of hair, when all other remedies fail.

OVER THE TEA CUPS.

"A belief in the existence of luck is ingrained in most persons and seldom remains for long as an unsuspected stratum in their mental make-up. Blind faith in the one-sidedness of fortune's favors is a sort of hereditary instinct with most of us, like a small boy's love of mischief, or his mother's dislike to seeing him indulge in it. Luck, like the measles, varies in intensity, though, as many know to their cost, it seldom proves contagious. To meet the popular fancy it may usually be classed under three headings. Some of it is supposed to be good; that's the kind our enemies enjoy. Some more of it is indifferent, and that's the portion of our friends. Most of it is bad, however, and that's the sort that affects ourselves and falls upon us avalanche fashion, till it threatens to bury us so deep in misery that the sunshine of our lives is snuffed out like a candle. This, at least, is how many men and women sum up the situation; bad luck to themselves and all that is desirable to the undeserving.

There is little doubt that we are to blame for our own dissatisfactions. Our grumbling is only brought to a full stop by the sight of misery incalculably greater than any we have known, and much harder to bear than the many little troubles that come our way; troubles that are mountains as we approach them and mole-hills once they are passed. Luck, unlike a poet, is not born, but made. It cannot be acquired by prayer or purchase, or banished by bribery. To hard work alone it is ever amenable."

"A well-known leader of New York fashion is making a quaint little collection of tiny dressed dolls that are models of the frocks she wears herself. When the dressmaker sends home a new garment, she duplicates it by a tiny model on a doll. Everything must be perfect, even down to the real lace and solid silver or gold buttons and diamond buckles. The dolls are ranged in a glass case in their owner's dressing-room, with the date of their creation underneath."

"Many of the most fascinating women of history have been without a single beauty of feature. Therefore their attraction must have been depended on expression, either inborn or acquired. Its subtleties depend as much on temperament as on education. A perfectly irregular face is sometimes magnetic by reason of its animation and earnestness. Irregularity of that kind is preferable to a beautiful and immobile countenance that smiles perpetually like an everlasting blue sky. There is only a hair line between repose and stagnation and one is as pleasing as the other is dull."

"What made him propose to her in French?"

"He accidentally overheard that the only French word she could pronounce was 'Oui.'"

"What is the secret of personal influence? Who can tell? In a voice at times; in manner frequently: in the assumption of infallibility; in sympathy and in directness; in opposition and in a shifting which is quite opposed to directness; in broadly-outlined acceptance of your views with a fine shading of dissent which shows you to be quite right in vague essentials, but somehow all wrong in individual points; in smiles that attract confidence and in silence that gives assent, in the power of insinuating impressions without committing oneself to a positive statement, and in the impetus which lies in a thundering assertion, let who will dispute or disprove—in all or any of these things lies that subtle gift of power which we call the influence of a man's personality; and in none of them can we find much to lay hold of."

Ignorance is a blank sheet on which we may write, but error is a scribbled one on which we must first erase. Colton.

This world is full of fools, and he who would not wish to see one must not only shut himself up, alone, but also break his looking glass. Boileau.

Every really able man, if you talk sincerely with him, considers his work, however much admired, as far short of what it should be. Emerson.

Whenever you commend, add your reasons for doing so; it is this which distinguishes the approbation of a man of sense from the flattery of sycophants and the admiration of fools. Steele.

"The practice of writing private letters from the first to the third pages of a letter sheet, and then going back to the second page, is a matter of taste, but it will not do to follow that course of procedure in writing legal documents. The New York courts have just disallowed the provisions of a will written in this way. The testator wrote the will on three sides of a folded paper, commencing on the first page and continuing on the third page, at the top of which was written "second page," and completing and signing the instrument on a page marked "third page," which, in fact, was the second page of the sheet. The court held that the will was not signed at the physical end, as required by the statute. The law does not contemplate going backward in order to get forward," and the will was refused probate. The New York court of appeals sustains the decision, throwing out this form of will."

Last Thursday evening Miss Mowat gave a dance, and a writer in the Mail and Empire thus describes it:—

"Since the reign of lord and lady Lansdowne there has been no such celebration of the holiday at government house, and so perhaps everyone entered more fully into the pleasure of the hour. The presence of their excellencies undoubtedly added considerably to the smart affair."

Several in Ottawa have received invitations to the marriage of Miss Marie Girvin Owens, daughter of Dr. John E. Owens, of Chicago, and John Crearer, brother of J. P. Crearer, of Ottawa. The wedding will take place on Wednesday, June 20th, in Grace Episcopal church, Chicago.

Mrs. C. Valentine Schuyler and Mr. L. H. May, of Brooklyn arrived on Saturday and will spend this week at Mrs. Britton's.

Must not be confounded with common cathartic or purgative pills, Carter's Little Liver Pills are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

Pale and Bloodless.

Anæmia is the term which doctors use to indicate poverty of the blood. Probably 90 per cent. of the girls and women of to-day suffer from anæmia. This is a startling statement—but it is true. It is easy to distinguish anæmic women. They have a dark semi-circle under the eyes; a sallow or waxy complexion; thin limbs, weak chests and ill developed forms. They are languid and tired; subject to backaches and headaches, and sometimes to hysteria and fainting spells. If the poor and watery blood is not enriched, and the tired and jaded nerves strengthened, consumption must almost inevitably follow. In this emergency there is only one medicine that will promptly and effectively create new blood and strengthen the nerves, and that is

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE.

This remedy has cured more cases of anæmia than all other medicines combined. Read what an eminent Australian physician, J. G. Bourchier, M. D., F. S. Sc. (London) and late government medical officer says:—

Manager Dr Williams' Med. Co. 127 Redfern St., Sydney, N. S. W.

Dear Sir:—For some time I have been in the habit of recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to my patients with excellent results. As a tonic their effect is most satisfactory and permanent. In Anaemia, Chlorosis, and allied diseases I have found them very valuable, and in irregularities of the menstrual period they are unequalled.

(Signed) J. G. BOURCHIER, M. D., F. S. Sc. (Lond.)

A SEVERE CASE OF ANÆMIA CURED.

Miss Mabel J. Taylor, living at 1334 City Hall Avenue, Montreal, writes: "I write to give you the honest testimonial of a young girl who believes her life was saved by the use of your Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. In November, 1897, I was suddenly stricken with loss of voice, and for eight months could only speak in a whisper. At the time I was completely run down. I had no appetite, no energy; suffered from headaches, palpitation of the heart, and shortness of breath. I was given up by the best doctors, and the different remedies I took did me no good. While in this condition I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. By the time I had taken four boxes my voice was restored, and after the use of eight boxes I am feeling perfectly well. I cannot find words to express my thanks for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me, and you are at liberty to publish this letter, in the hope that it may be of benefit to some other sufferer."

The Genuine are Sold only in Packages like the Engraving. WRAPPER PRINTED IN RED.

University's Centennial.

St. John, N.B., May 29.—Dr. T. H. Rand, Toronto, who with Mrs. Rand came to Fredericton on Saturday, to attend the centennial of the university of New Brunswick, either lost or was robbed of his wallet, containing $150 while on the cars from Montreal. The belief is that it was the work of a sharp pickpocket on the train. Hon. Dr. Borden, and other of the upper Canadian dignitaries who are to attend the centennial have arrived. The exercises began with an oration by Hon. George E. Foster.

In Memoriam.

In memory of little Spencer Hagerty, township of Storrington, who died April 21st, 1900, aged nine months, fifteen days.

Another loved one has passed and gone
From this world of grief and pain,
Soon we'll cross the other shore
There we hope to meet again.

To us but for a little while
His infant smiles were given,
And then he bade farewell to earth
And has gone to dwell in heaven.

Tender Shepherd Thou hast stilled
Now Thy little infant's weeping;
Ah, how peaceful, calm and mild
Lie his narrow bed he's sleeping.

In this world of care and pain,
Lord Thou wouldst no longer leave him,
To the sunny heavenly plain,
Thou dost now with joy receive him.

Heavenly Father grant that we
Where he lives we all may live,
That we might reign with Thee above,
Though Thou hast taken what most we loved.

MAY BECOME CARDINAL.

Head of the Largest Catholic See in the World.

New York, May 29.—It is reported in Catholic circles that one result of archbishop Corrigan's visit to Rome may be an alteration of the boundaries of the New York archdiocese. The change that is now spoken of involves the creation of a new and larger diocese by cutting out the territory from Yonkers to Poughkeepsie, and consolidating the remainder of the New York diocese with the diocese of Brooklyn. The Brooklyn diocese is made up of the boroughs of Brooklyn and Queen's and the rest of Long Island.

Should the New York and Brooklyn diocese be made one, archbishop Corrigan will be the head of the most important and largest Catholic see in the world. He would have jurisdiction of a Catholic population of nearly 1,000,000. The Catholic churches in the greater New York archdiocese would number about 800. As the head of so vast a diocese archbishop Corrigan, it is said, would be made a cardinal.

Four Bishops Consecrated.

Chicago, May 27.—By the laying on of the hands of twelve bishops, and in the presence of 3,000 persons, at the auditorium, four new bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church were consecrated this afternoon. The newly consecrated bishops are David Hastings Moore, assigned to the Shanghai district; John William Hamilton, assigned to the San Francisco district; Edward Wallace Parker and Frank Wesley Warne missionary bishops, assigned to India and Malaysan. The ceremonies were brief and simple. The delegates to the conference and hundreds of their friends came forward when the services were at an end and crowded the stage to congratulate the four new bishops. On the stage were seventeen bishops, the four bishops-elect and eight elders.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Want Another Band Concert.

Kingston, May 28.—(To the Editor): I noticed in your issue of Saturday, 26th inst., that a citizen had said that the celebration committee should engage the 14th band to give a concert in the city park to make up for the failure of the band, through no fault of theirs, to render the concert at fair grounds on queen's birthday evening. I, too, was one of the people who took the family and paid what I consider an outrageous anount for seats on the grand stand and saw little or nothing. We all expected to enjoy a first-class concert of patriotic music, and I don't doubt but that we would have, had there been any light. The band was on hand before darkness set in, and commenced the programme, but, alas, the electric lights proved a failure, and the bandsmen were obliged to play what they could in the dark.

I don't think any person blamed the band for not giving the concert, but I feel that they should be engaged to give one of their grand patriotic concerts some night this week, or next Sunday afternoon, and everybody will be satisfied that all has been done right. It is well understood that there will be a surplus and the people who have the authority should see that this matter is attended to. As far as the fire works were concerned, I could have sat on my own door step and seen the greater part of them without paying to get into the fair grounds; it was the band concert we were attracted by.—RIDEAU WARD.

Grandson Reimbursed.

Toronto, May 29.—When Alexander Hart, Belleville, died he left an estate of $18,000. Since his decease his widow has died and his daughter has lost her sanity. Monday a grandson, Alexander McPhee, applied through the master, to obtain $1,184 for expenses and debts in connection with the estate, which he had paid. The motion was granted.

An illustrated talk about the moral side of golf by the Rev. S. D. McConnell, of Brooklyn, appears in the June magazine number of the Outlook, which is its eleventh annual recreation number. A novelty in fiction is given in a faithful story of Irish peasant life, by Jane Barlow. A delightful talk by Dr. Henry Van Dyke about Izaak Walton is an attraction.
