THE IRREMEDIABLE DEFEAT

WHAT THE EXPERTS THINK OF THE WAR.

The Basutos Were Incited by the Boers—Kruger's Money Invested in Lands and Mines—Emperor William's Congratulations.

New York, June 1.—In discussing the latest Transvaal war news, the London correspondent of the World says that exaggerated reports of the failure of the Boer peace mission to America widely circulated in South Africa, through the agency of the British authorities, have done much toward convincing the Pretoria government that there was no hope of outside assistance.

The cardinal question is, whether this collapse means the end of the war. The press generally anticipates a prolongation of irregular warfare in the mountainous and malarial region about Lydenburg, but the best expert military and political opinion regards the abandonment of Johannesburg and Pretoria as the plainest acknowledgment the Boers could offer of their irremediable defeat.

Boers Incited The Basutos.

London, June 1.—The Times has the following from Masuro, Basutoland, dated May 30th: "Correspondence has been found in the house of commandant Crowther, showing that the Boers invited the Basutos to rise and drive the British into the sea."

M. Donohue, a correspondent of the Daily Chronicle, was captured yesterday. Some discussion is carried on in England as to what will be done with president Kruger if he is captured. One idea is that he will be sent to St. Helena, another is that he will be tried for treason.

The Daily Express says: Mr. Kruger's agents have invested £140,000 of the president's money in lands and mines. This took place before the war broke out, and to this fact may be ascribed the failure of the officers to blow up the mines.

The report of president Kruger's capture caused popular delight, but it is known that the British government would prefer to end the war without incurring any responsibility for the president's future disposal. Once outside the Transvaal territory they regard him as impotent, and news of his departure for some hospitable European country would be received with relief. If captured he will be sent to Ceylon or St. Helena, probably the former island and his family will be expatriated with him. The president suffers from kidney disease, which reaction from the excitement of the war is likely to develop with fatal rapidity.

It is said that lord Kitchener will be made governor of the two republics, lord Roberts returning to England to take the place of lord Wolseley as commander-in-chief.

The Emperor's Congratulations.

London, June 1.—Emperor William, according to a Berlin correspondent of the Telegraph, has sent a telegram to the queen congratulating her upon the success of lord Roberts.

The Messenger Boy Arrives.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 1.—The North American to-day prints the following cable from Pretoria, dated May 25th, which tells of the arrival there of James Smith, the messenger boy who took the Philadelphia school boys' message to president Kruger; the cable says: "The message was delivered in the executive chamber at the capital, through the windows of which came the rumble of ox carts and the general confusion attendant upon the evacuation of the city by the families of the Boers. The British are reported to be approaching.

"There was an impressive silence in the chamber as the stern and venerable president of this doomed republic bent forward to receive from messenger James Francis Smith the packet which the boy had travelled 12,000 miles to deliver into his hands. Tears glistened in the president's eyes as he took the packet.

"In presenting the message Smith made a manly little speech.

"President Kruger's reply was grave and courteous. He tendered hearty thanks to the American people, and particularly to the liberty-loving lads of Philadelphia, for their sympathy, and charged Smith to return his greetings to the good people of America. Then with kindness he shook hands with Smith, congratulating him upon his long journey in safety, and expressing the hope that he would have an equally safe return to his distant home."

The entire group was then photographed.

Collins Bay Items.

Collins' Bay, June 1.—The death of Henry Smith has cast a gloom over our neighborhood. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. E. Robeson, and interment took place in Cataraqui cemetery. The horse of E. Godwin, of Kingston, dropped dead while he was driving through our village last Saturday evening. Dr. Latterney's medicine company stopped here last week. D. Clement and wife, of Deseronto, spent Sunday with his brother, B. Clement. The Misses Marsh visited friends at Cataraqui last Sunday. Miss A. Bell has returned from Montreal. Mrs. D. Rankin has returned after spending two months with her daughter at Toronto. Mrs. Sutherland is on the sick list.

To Purchase New Books.

The library committee of the board of education met yesterday afternoon. Chairman R. J. Wilson and Messrs. Elliott and Cram were present. It was decided to purchase about $125 worth of educational works, many of which are for the collegiate institute and required to be purchased by the department. The books will be bought from local dealers, as just as good terms can be secured in the city as out of it. C. H. Otto's services were retained to do necessary book-binding. It was also decided to secure a catalogue of the books in the collegiate institute library.

Montreal Methodist Conference.

The Montreal Methodist conference began its regular sessions this morning, many laymen attending. The election of president resulted in the return of Rev. J. E. Mavety, of Granby, Que. There was a keen contest and of the 215 votes cast he received 110; Dr. Rose, Ottawa, standing second.

At the centennial celebration of the university of New Brunswick, at Fredericton, N.B., Prof. Dyde, of Queen's, spoke. His sentiments of cordial esteem were received with much applause.

Physical director Boyland, of the Y.M.C.A., left on the Cape Vincent boat this morning for his home in Philadelphia. A Queen's student will have charge of the Y.M.C.A. work here during the summer months.

Henry Dubois, Toronto, purser of the R. & O. N. company's steamer Carolina, on the run between Quebec and Chicoutimi, was in the city to-day en route to Montreal to take charge of his post.

Capts. Cunningham and Skinner have returned from London, after taking along with others a field officers course. Major Galloway, as acting commandant of the infantry corps and school there, is most popular.

The Red Cross concert in the opera house, Windsor, Ont., netted $83, which, with $50 donated by the diamond jubilee celebration committee, of Walkerville, will be sent to Col. Otter, commanding the Canadian soldiers in South Africa.

Col. Montizambert returned this afternoon from Port Hope, where he inspected No. 3 company of the 46th battalion, the drill hall and armouries. He stated that there was a monster celebration in that town last night over the reported British occupancy of Pretoria.

This afternoon Samuel Harkness received from Capt. Irwin, commanding 39th separate company, Watertown, N. Y., a cheque for $28, value of flag destroyed by a bandsman on the queen's birthday. Mr. Harkness offered to accept $20, but the company sent the original cost of the flag.

UNDER ARREST AT CHICAGO.

The Bank Burglars Have Been Run Down.

Toronto, June 1.—For the five mile cross country run, which will be held under the auspices of the new Ontario amateur A. A., to-morrow afternoon, thirty-four entries have been received, including three from Hamilton. The event is expected to be most successful.

The daring burglars who tried to break open the Standard bank safe in Parkdale, who made a big haul at Aurora, and who tried to rob a bank at Dundas, are under arrest in Chicago. Shortly after two o'clock to-day detective inspector Stark received the following message from the Chicago chief of police:

"Have arrested Frank Rutledge, alias Dyer. He has in his possession, 8346. Also a man answering description of No. 3 in your letter. Gives name of Frederick Harris, about twenty-seven years old; has $204. Also No. 4, who gives the name of Jones, about six feet tall. All well armed. Have all their baggage. Am awaiting orders. Wire at once."

An officer will leave at once to bring the men back. No. 2 is still missing.

The total duties collected at the port of Toronto, during May were: $410,032, as compared with $373,393 in May, 1899, and increase of $36,639.

James Lobb, for a number of years one of the aldermen of the city, and also chairman of the high school board, died last night, aged sixty-eight.

The young man found in a dying condition in Leader lane, yesterday, and who died at St. Michael's hospital last night, has been identified as Arthur Chapman, 367 Preston avenue, a jeweler employed by P. W. Ellis & Co. He had been given a holiday to celebrate Pretoria day, and when he did not return home his wife went to the police and reported that he was missing. Sunstroke was the cause of death.

The West Elgin commission resumed its sitting at the parliament buildings this morning. The evidence presented was that of officials at Osgoode Hall as to the condition of the ballot boxes and of the box sent to the buildings containing all the votes cast in the elections. J. S. Cartwright, clerk of the crown in chancery, who examined the ballots that were destroyed, said there was no evidence to show that the ballots had been tampered with.

Are Hard At Work.

The eight or ten candidates for the city clerkship have, figuratively speaking, taken off their coats and are hard at work canvassing for the position. The leader in the race as far as can be observed, seems to be alderman Wright; he seems to have a firm hold upon the conservative party, and as the appointment will be made in recognition of political service, it looks as though he would "cop the job." However, a suggestion thrown out by alderman Donnelly might upset other calculations. His scheme is to almalgamate the office of city clerk and city solicitor, placing city solicitor McIntyre in control. The idea meets with popular approval. If work which now costs $1,800 per annum can be as satisfastorily and effectively performed for $1,200 or $1,400, there is no reason why it should not be done. The carrying out of this scheme might be forerunner of another change, namely, the concentrating of the books of the water works department and tax collector to the office of the city treasurer, and have the work performed there which would create a large saving in salaries.

THE CITY'S BUILDING TRADE

CONTRACTS AWARDED FOR VARIOUS WORKS.

Great Improvements Being Made to Bethel Church—Many Residences Being Renovated—Enlargement of the City Hotel.

The building trade in the city is again assuming better proportions than have for some time existed. Quite a number of residences are in course of construction, and scores are being repaired and enlarged. Power & Son have prepared plans for the extension of the City hotel, and the placing of that hostelry in an up-to-date condition. Tenders for the work will be called for in a few days. Proprietor Randolph is already having torn down the old stables and buildings in rear of the hotel. Just across the street Crumley Bros' new store is being rapidly rebuilt and extended. When completed it will be one of the finest stores in the city.

The following contracts have been awarded for the enlarging and improvement of D. Stewart Robertson's residence on Sydenham street: Masonry, A. Newlands; carpentering, George Hunter; painting, T. Milo; Power & Son, architects.

Power & Son are the architects for the renovation of Isaac Simpson's residence, King street. The following contracts have just been awarded: Masonry, W. McCartney; carpentering, Hunter & Harold; metal work and plumbing, McKelvey & Birch; painting and glazing, A. McMahon.

The trustees of the Bethel Congregational church decided to put in a minister's and choir vestry and a domed recess for their choir, besides making other improvements to their neat little church. Arthur Ellis, architect, prepared the plans, and under his instruction the work has already been started. It is estimated that the improvements will cost over $500. J. Hooper is doing the carpentering work and Tree & Litton the ornamental plastering.

The property committee of the board of education has requested architect Ellis to prepare sketches for porticoes for Frontenac school and the collegiate institute. He is now engaged upon the work.

The repairs to the residence of the bank of Montreal were completed to-day. Plans are now being prepared for improvements to the stables.

A number of other contracts are soon to be awarded, and Kingston's tradesmen and laborers will find plenty of work to-day. If the smelter by-law passes, trade will receive another powerful impetus, and architects expect that many new residences will be built in the east end of the city.

Will Close All Controversy.

The committee on seniority of clergy met on Thursday afternoon in St. George's hall. All the objections of a serious character, such as would affect the relative standing of clergy on the list, had been withdrawn, and the only objections remaining to be dealt with were those based on alleged differences as to dates, etc. These the committee disposed of, and chancellor Walkem will draw up a report for presentation to the synod. Under the terms of the original resolution this report will close all controversy for the future.

Queen's Scholarship Applicants.

There are a large number of candidates from twenty-six high schools and collegiate institutes in the province applying for Queen's university matriculation scholarships. The senior matriculation applicants number sixty-two, and those of junior matriculation forty. Last year there were only thirty-nine altogether. Latterly all the scholarships have been given for senior matriculation, but this year there are three for junior matriculation. The likelihood is that the freshman class at Queen's next session will be very large.

Water In The River Is High.

A Thousand Island park resident, who was in the city to-day, stated that the water in the St. Lawrence is higher this year than usual. In some instances private wharves will be found covered with water when their owners arrive. There is every prospect of a good season on the river, notwithstanding the number who will choose the Paris exposition instead. Vegetation in the parks and on the islands is more backward than it has been for many years.

Opposition Steamers.

E. F. Otis, editor and proprietor of the Thousand Island Park Herald, was in the city to-day on business connected with his paper. He states that it was reported at river points that the R. & O. boats would this season run excursions in opposition to the steamers of the "White Squadron." The rumor was also been considerably circulated in the city.

An Excess Of Zeal And Authority.

The park caretaker is ordering the nurses to take their children off the grass. This is an excess of zeal and authority. The grass is there for the children to romp on all they please. What else is it for? Not to look at surely, or otherwise the grass would be kept neater. The crusade should be cut short.

Sacred Heart Devotions.

This is the month of the Sacred Heart devotions, and this morning at half past seven o'clock high mass was celebrated in St. Mary's cathedral by Rev. Father Kehoe. There was a large congregation present, and many went to communion. A meeting of the league of the Sacred Heart takes place in the cathedral at a quarter to eight o'clock this evening.

University Upheaval.

Cincinnati, June 1.—The entire faculty of the university of Cincinnati went out with the pupils to-day. The resignations of all but two or three were asked for by Dr. Ayers, the president of the institution, who was recently appointed by the directors. Dr. Ayers came from the university of Missouri. He has made radical changes in the system. He claimed that the professors were becoming lax, over which there was much controversy, the citizens sympathizing with the faculty. Dr. Ayers, however, came under an agreement to have absolute control for a number of years, and his will, despite opposition, was law, and now it remains to be seen whether or not it was for the good of the institution.
