COMMERCIAL MATTERS.

What is Going on in the Business World—The Market News.

Since the first of the year there have been few failures among the retail dry-goods trade in Canada.

The St. Lawrence refining company have advanced the price of granulated sugar 5c. and yellow 10c. It is understood generally that the others will do likewise.

Among the lines of dress goods for the coming fall that are most popular just now with buyers are homespuns and frieze effects. This will be a great season for blacks.

Farmers are looking forward to a prosperous fall trade. Heavy leather for fall and winter footwear is scarce and tanners are getting ready a stock of it. Tan bark is scarce and it is difficult to get sufficient of it, to supply the demand.

It is reported that the entire sugar beet acreage has been planted for the LaGrange, Oregon, sugar factory for this season. One hundred growers have put out a total acreage of 2,400 acres, or an increase of ten per cent. over last season.

The Manitoba government will experiment and ascertain the adaptability of Manitoba for the raising of sugar beet.

Electric cars are now in operation at St. John's, Nfld., but only on the Principal streets. They are operated by the trolley system, and will run twenty cars over seven miles of track.

Canadian cotton mills are still loaded up with orders. Our mills have been doing a very nice business with the Chinese markets. The trade in South Africa, when the war closes, will call for special lines of cotton goods, and there is no doubt Canadian mills can ship there, and do a good business.

At the meeting of the Union broom supply company in Chicago, W. L. Roseboom, a member of the company, said that no change was made in the price of brush held by the combine. The price is $200 per ton. He refused to state just how much brush was owned by the company, but said it had sufficient to last until the new crop came in. It was expected prices would be advanced. As brush is not to be advanced broom will likely remain at present prices. There will, no doubt, be less old brush carried over this year than for some years, and the outlook for cheap brush is not flattering.

QUEEN IS CONGRATULATED

SENATE CONCURS IN ACTION OF THE HOUSE.

The Empire is United—War Not the Result of Jingo Spirit—Loss of Life Regretted, But a Benefit to the Whole Civilized World—The Grandest Empire of the World.

Ottawa, June 8.—In the senate this afternoon Hon. David Mills moved concurrence in the address adopted by the house of commons congratulating her majesty on the prospects of an early completion of the war in South Africa. The minister of justice thought that in the senate there would be no dissentient voice. They all rejoiced in the prospects of early peace. This war in no way had its origin in jingo spirit. No one in Great Britain desired the war for the simple object of conquest. All wanted peace, but no one who had read the correspondence on the matter could fail to see that unless there was war British subjects in the Transvaal would be placed before the world in a humiliating position, incompatible with the dignity and consolidation of the empire. Mr. Mills reviewed the history of the war, and said he could not understand how any man or any number of men in this country could have any sympathy with a population which undertook to govern a country in the way the Dutch had done. He was, therefore, pleased that the British were in possession of the capital of the Free State. He rejoiced that the English were in possession of Pretoria. We would further rejoice on the conclusion of peace. He hoped no hysterical feeling would restrict the predominance of English institutions in that country. He did not want to see power put into the hands of men who would use that power to upset British institutions. The only thing possible was the paramountcy of British power and rule. Britain must have a halfway house between Australia and India. No one in this country, English or French, but wanted to see this. They were all devoted to her majesty. Her influence had always been in favor of virtue against vice, of liberty against oppression, of honesty against dishonesty. Every person loved and was devoted to her majesty.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell pointed out that previous to the English acquisition of South Africa the Dutch treatment of the French was precisely similar to that attempted to be given to the English. Whilst regretting the loss of life in this war, he believed the result would be of benefit to civilization. It would show the world that there was an empire which, when occasion offers, can raise an army to defend herself and her colonies. More than that, it knit the empire together. They had had their wars which they remembered, The Manchester school had died out, the colonies had come to be part of the empire. They would not any longer be looked upon as dependencies, but as an integral part of the empire.

Hon. Mr. Gowan said no one could doubt that the address had the concurrence of the whole people of Canada after the events of last year. He believed the unity of the empire would in time develop into an imperial constitution, when the colonies would have representation in the imperial house of commons or some imperial council representing the empire. He did not believe there was an element of disunion in the empire. In Canada all must remember that the treaties made had been faithfully and honestly kept. Canadians could not fail to recognize the grandeur of being part and parcel of the grandest empire the world has ever known, and to appreciate the privileges.

The address was then adopted.

CASES TO BE TRIED.

Criminal and Civil Actions—Judge Wilkison to Preside.

The cases to be tried at the court of general sessions and county court which opens on Tuesday afternoon, are:

Criminal Cases.

John E. Dolan, Kellerville, vs. residents of Storrington. Assault and battery.

The queen vs. Goldsmith and Doheny, two prisoners in the Kingston penitentiary, for assault on officials.

The queen vs. Joseph McKendry. Obstruction of public highway in township of Kingston, near Glenburnie.

County Court.

John Claxton, Inverary vs. Patrick Blake, township of Pittsburg. Action for commission for obtaining purchaser for defendant's farm.

Annie McLean, Kingston, vs. Amos Hudgins, Picton, administrator of the estate of Hannah Macdonald. Claim for breach of promise on the part of deceased to bequeath plantiff her property or an alternate claim for six years wages for services.

Killed For Seventy-Five Cents.

Rochester, June 9.—Joseph Alessi, aged thirty-nine, an Italian charged with murder, in having killed Joseph Lombardo, a fellow countryman, was convicted of manslaughter in the second degree. Alessi shot his victim last July after a quarrel over seventy-five cents, which Lombardo claimed was due him in a fruit transaction. The jury recommended extreme clemency.

Coal Box Contained Body.

Niagara Falls, June 9.—The body of a man of forty years was found in a coal box near an abandoned building. By its side was an empty prussic acid bottle, which is considered proof of suicide.

The Ontario bank did a profitable business the past year. Net earnings were $125,876, or equal to 12.58 per cent. on paid-up capital of $1,000,000, as against 10.31 per cent. the previous year. The rest fund was increased by $90,000, making that fund $200,000. Shareholders got 5 per cent. and the balance at credit of profit and loss account is $17,687.

To-morrow will be Trinity Sunday, from which the gospels for the remainder of the ecclesiastical year are arranged. This festival is not celebrated with the usual splendor of other feasts, but is left to the church triumphant, owing to the solemnity of the event.

Miss Pourtl, London, Ont., while visiting her friend, Miss Sherk, Alfred street, is studying under F. W. Wodell during his summer vacation in Kingston.

A feature of this week's dry-goods trade was the more active demand for light goods for summer wear.

ROBERTS CLOSES THE WIRES.

War News Is Becoming Scarce—British Are Advancing.

London, June 9.—Gen. Buller has at last taken the offensive and by manoeuvering has secured a position west of Laing's Nek by which he can make the Boer positions untenable.

A blockade of the wires owing to the crush of official correspondence may account for the scanty press despatches. Some telegrams filed a week ago are only now arriving. Among these are spirited descriptions of the fighting at Elandsfontein.

According to one of them the streets were filled with women and children. Rifle shots could be heard everywhere. The British soldiers would stop firing and join in the chase after chickens. The burghers surrendered to anyone; kaffirs went about looting the Jewish stores and mounted infantry galloped hither and thither.

Lord Roberts' army has a new song. It runs thus:

We're marching into Pretoria,
It belongs to queen Victoria.

The Daily Express has the following from Pretoria dated Wednesday:

"The 1,000 prisoners who were deported from Waterval were told that they were about to be given up to lord Roberts. They entrained cheerfully and were conveyed to Nooitgedacht, instead of Pretoria.

"Gen. Louis Botha with a rear guard of 2,000 left Pretoria during the night. The British advance guard on entering was upon the heels of the retiring Boers. Botha has sworn to carry on the war in the mountains."

At Lorenzo Marquez station a crowd waited all Thursday night to see president Kruger, as it was reported that he would arrive by a special train to gain an asylum on board the Netherlands cruiser Freisland.

Middleburg is said to be full of Boer refugees and wounded. The railway still delivers goods at Bronkhorst Spruit, forty miles east of Pretoria. A British column is at Bremersdorp, Swaziland. Eleven British prisoners have been taken to Middleburg. The British at Beira are moving into the interior in detachments of 000 daily.

Boers Are Still Active.

London, June 9.—Gen. Forestier-Walker cables to the office from Cape Town, under date of June 8th, as follows: "Kelly-Kenny, at Bloemfontein, reports the telegraph has been cut at Roodeval, north of Kroonstadt, by a body of Boers estimated to be 2,000 strong, with six field guns. He is sending strong reinforcements to Kroonstadt, and I am in reinforcing from Cape Colony. I hope the interruption will be only temporary."

Short Of Ammunition.

Cape Town, June 6, (delayed.)—Gen. Baden-Powell is expected to arrive here to-morrow. It is the opinion that the Boers have not sufficient ammunition and food to resist longer than eight weeks at Lydenburg.

WOMEN MOB VICTIMS.

One Stripped to Waist and Daubed With Paint.

St. Louis, June 9.—Renewed attacks upon women have marked the strike disorders. One woman had her clothing stripped off by a mob and her body and hair daubed with green paint. Schools were invaded by other mobs and threatened and one was assaulted.

Meanwhile practically no new move has been made by the authorities. The police and posse are guarding the car lines, but the militia has not been called out.

Mrs. Lena Kaenther, a young woman who peddles lunches among the employees of the California avenue street car line, was attacked by a mob when she stepped from a car. Neither of the two policemen on the car made any attempt to check the demonstration against her.

She dropped her basket and ran with a crowd after her. Boys, encouraged by the women, pulled at her clothes and hat and dashed paint at her. There were no men in the crowd.

Mrs. Kaentner ran across an empty lot in the hope of reaching a hut, but was caught. Her clothing was torn off, and while two women held her another smeared her body and hair with green paint, while women and boys jeered and threw mud at her. Two shop girls were attacked by the same mob and they also were partly denuded before they escaped.

A reign of terror existed to-day. The arrival of more than 200 men brought by the transit company from eastern cities made the strike sympathizers frantic.

An organized "committee" of women visited the public schools, boldly entered the rooms, accused the teachers of riding on the tabooed cars and threatened them with bodily harm if they did so again.

At the Mount Pleasant school the leader of this committee seized the principal, Mrs. Rose Fanning, shook her violently and announced that she would be tarred and feathered if she or any of her teachers rode on the cars again.

Riots in North St. Louis last night, in which three policemen and a boy were shot, developed the fact that the rioters are armed with weapons that make little noise. It is believed they deliberately choose their victims. The gun is described as a "poacher" and is said to be widely used by trespassers on hunting preserves in Europe.

Priest's Body Found.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., June 9.—The body of Rev. John O'Donnell, the priest who escaped from the Providence retreat at Buffalo, where he was under treatment for melancholia, and committed suicide by jumping over the falls on May 25th, was found in the river near Queenstown. It will probably be sent to New York, where the Rev. M. J. O'Donnell, brother of the dead man, resides.

Pirates Capture A Launch

Hong Kong, June 9.—A steam launch owned by Chinese merchants here, towing four junks laden with kerosene oil, was attacked last night by pirates in an armed junk off Cape Suiman, eight miles from Hong Kong. After looting the junks the pirates made off in a westerly direction with the launch and her crew.

May Fight To The Death.

Paris, June 9.—The Transvaal exhibition of the exposition opened to-day. In consequence of the state of war in South Africa, there will be no ceremony. The Paris papers point to the fact of the opening of the exhibit as conclusive proof that the Boers are determined to fight to the death.
