THE WORK IS COMMENCING

THE EDDY MILLS ARE UNDER CONSTRUCTION.

To Guard Against Recurrence of Fire—No Cupolas to be Built—Aylmer Creamery Receives Big Order From Liverpool.

Ottawa, June 14.—Julius Scriver, M.P., has been appointed honorary colonel of the 6th Duke of Connaught's Royal Canadian Hussars, Montreal.

In all one hundred and thirty-seven new post offices have been opened in Canada during the months of March, April and May. Among the names which attract notice are Prosperity, Buller, Ladysmith, Loyal, Laurier and Premier.

Canada will have to put up $115,000 for space and buildings at the Paris fair, although it is unusual in universal exhibitions to make any charge for space. This was not known when the invitation was accepted.

Work on the woodenware establishment and planing mill of E. B. Eddy & Co. will commence at once. The building will be a three-storey one. It is expected that this branch of Mr. Eddy's business will be in operation in a month's time. The paper mill ruins are pretty well cleared away, and new buildings will shortly commence. Mr. Eddy thinks he will be turning out paper by Nov. 1st.

To guard as much as possible against a recurrence of fire, the architectural lines of the new Eddy establishments will be altered somewhat from what they were before the fire. All the roofs will be flat and covered with fire proof material. No cupolas or other wooden structures will be erected on them, as it has been found that although these add to the appearance of the buildings, they have a tendency to take fire easily and carry the flames to the buildings below, as was the case in the recent fire. The initial output of paper it is expected will be forty tons a day.

The Aylmer creamery this week received an order from Liverpool for 22,400 pounds of butter, to be shipped in fifty-six pound cases. The factory will now be kept hustling to its utmost capacity to fill the order and keep pace with the home trade.

CLERGY NOT FAIR MINDED.

The Insanity of Excitement Was Carried Home.

Brockville Times.

The June issue of our esteemed contemporary the Leeds Rural Deanery Magazine and Mission News contains the following reference to the recent synod at Kingston:

"Many misleading and seemingly maliciously false reports of the proceedings at Kingston during the election of the bishop have appeared in Kingston and Brockville papers."

After flatly denying that there was any disorder, recrimination or confusion in this connection and asserting that there was perfect harmony our esteemed contemporary concludes thus:

"A most ludicrous statement has been going the rounds of the secular papers that this was the hottest election ever known in this diocese. There has only been one other, when archbishop Lewis was elected in 1862, and it is notorious that party feeling ran much higher on that occasion. Most of the reporters of church matters in the daily press seem to be blessed with a delightful ignorance of all church matters, past and present."

The Brockville Times is particularly pleased to learn that there was such perfect harmony, even though they had had a dozen ballots, kept the session up till the small hours of the morning and finally failed to elect a coadjutor bishop. But we think that the quotations from the Leeds Rural Deanery Church Magazine and Mission News are grossly unjust to the members of the press. Reporters of the daily secular press work constantly under high pressure and, of course, are liable to be mistaken on minor points, but in ninety-nine cases out a hundred their reports are substantially correct. Reporting with them is like sawing wood or performing any other kind of work. Their sole aim is to get the main facts correctly and speedily. They have neither time nor inclination to misrepresent matters deliberately or maliciously. But if, as asserted, most reporters of church matters are so ignorant of ecclesiastical details, why do not these clerical critics see to it that they are assisted? A reporter is only too glad to get help from the clergy in these matters because it saves him time and trouble.

It seems odd that from a source whence we might reasonably expect moderation in judgment and that christian charity which is not puffed up or easily provoked, which suffereth long and is kind, we got, instead, hasty injustice. The reporter may, it is true, be blessed with a delightful ignorance of all church matters, but he knows by experience that the clergy are just as human as he is and that the newspaper is constantly doing much for the church gratuitously. Both the church and the press are on the side of right, and as a rule, work in harmony. But the reporter likes to be dealt with fairly and to defend himself when unjustly attacked.

It ill becomes the church to sneer superciliously at the newspaper reporter. On the day when the great Reporter of all, the recording angel, hands in his final chronicle of humanity we think that it will be found that the newspaper reporter has done his duty in that state of life in which it has pleased God to call him equally as well as his brother man of the clergy.

FRONTENAC COUNCIL.

The Clerk's Report as to the Sheriff Laid Over.

The county council met on Thursday morning at a quarter to eleven o'clock.

Moved by M. Avery, seconded by J. E. Campbell, that the council grant $200 to the township of Oso in the Burke case of small-pox. Burke lived at Sharbot Lake, and by order of the board of health was removed to an isolated place where he was cared for. Dr. Cuttle's bill amounted to $660, which included all expenses in connection with caring for the man. Mr. Avery thought that as the township was a poor one, the county council should aid in helping to defray the expenses of keeping down the disease. The house to which the man was taken has also to be bought by the township as it is of no use to the owner who bills the township for $300. This makes the total expenses $960.

R. J. Spoor moved in amendment, seconded by George Wright, that the matter be referred to the county solicitor for his opinion as to the right of the county council to make such a grant. He thought that probably the government would bear part of the expense. The amendment was carried, Mr. Avery withholding his motion.

The ladies of the infants' home submitted a statement of the counties and places where the inmates of the home for the past year have come from, and asking the council for the grant of seventy-five dollars promised the home last January. The report showed that there were thirty-three women and children admitted during 1899, of which number over half were from the county of Frontenac.

G. Y. Chown, secretary of the school of mining and agriculture, wrote the council calling attention to the fact that the account of $58.61, incurred in repairing the building adjacent to the dairy school, damaged by the falling of the jail wall, had not been paid.

Moved by H. Reynolds, seconded by George Wright, that the appointment of a jail physician be laid over until the November session. Carried.

The warden brought before the council the matter of affording better accommodation for jurors and witnesses. The sheriff requested him to draw the attention of the council to this matter. Caretaker Sheppard was granted in 1890, by the county council, the room now wanted by the sheriff. Mr. Sheppard had given up one of his bed-rooms on the lower flat for an office, and was granted one upstairs instead. Mr. Sheppard stated that there was the division court room for the use of witnesses, and that there was no necessity for the sheriff to ask for the room granted to him (Sheppard).

Moved by J. H. Hughson, seconded by George Wright, that the council pay over to the Waterloo and Sydenham road company the sum of $75, found due to them, the money being left in the hands of ex-treasurer Vanluven. This amount was due the road by the county on November 19th, 1897. The motion was carried.

The finance committee's report, submitted at this afternoon's session, recommended payment of these accounts: British Whig, $21.50; James A. Skinner, $4.30; Raney & Selby, 85c.; A. C. Johnston & Bros., 85c.; Robertson Bros., $4.15; F. Nisbet, $3.95; Kingston News, $22.15; Hart & Riddell, $1.08; F. Nisbet, $3.13; Robertson Bros., $2; Canadian Freeman, $14; F. Partridge, $3.50; W. Massie, jr., $10.48; Steacy & Steacy, $3.85; M. Kirkpatrick, $10; F. Partridge, $17.50; Peter Asselstine, $3.83; J. M. Farrell, $10; county clerk, postage, etc., $5.14; county treasurer, postage, $5.50; A. H. Miller, 75c.; F. Nisbet, $2.85; H. Ovens, $13.50; W. A. Mitchell, $15.92; J. Crawford, $4.50; T. McMahon, $132.90; W. Turkington, $71.75; Carnovsky company, $16.65; McKelvey & Birch, $11.72; Elliott Bros., $40.70; J. Mallen, $31.13; McKelvey & Birch, $58.17.

The county property committee recommended that the clerk's report regarding sheriff's account be referred to the quarterly board of audit. This means that the matter will not be discussed until the November session.

Wants To Seek Change.

Alfred Simmons has been attending the Kingston market for the past thirty-four years and never saw the attendance of farmers so slim as during the past two or three years. He blames the civic by laws for this. The law now allows farmers to peddle produce through the city, and the citizens are not as well protected as heretofore, because no jurisdiction is exercised over the produce thus offered for sale. In olden times when farmers were obliged to attend the market everything they offered for sale had to be sound and wholesome, of full weight and measure, but this protection is not now given the citizens. He is a firm believer in compelling the farmers to attend the market, where their produce may be regularly inspected by a city official, and the interests of the people protected.

Reducing The Church's Length.

The extensive interior repairs to Bethel church will be commenced by July 15th. A choir loft is being constructed, and a room built on either side of it. This lessens the length of the church, gives two good class rooms, and enables the preachers to be heard much more distinctly. The pulpit is being moved several feet further to the front. The change will effect a big improvement in Rev. Mr. Lennox's church.

House Of Commons.

Ottawa, June 13.—In the house today Mr. Monk made a formal charge in connection with the supply of emergency rations to the Canadian troops in South Africa. The charge will be discussed in the house to-morrow, when discussion will be in order. The whole day was spent in committee on the election laws, and good progress was made.

Goes To Quebec.

C. Wesley Walker will be stationed for the coming year on the Sawyerville, Que., Methodist circuit, as colleague to Rev. J. D. Ellis, B.A. It is a fine charge.

Synod Will Meet.

The bishop of Toronto can open Ontario synod next Wednesday evening, so the adjourned synod will then be held for another attempt at an election.

Samuel Connolly, recently appointed dog catcher, has not notified the city property committee of his acceptance or rejection of the office, and the committee thinks seriously of appointing another man.

A Y.M.C.A. Secretary Chosen.

The directors of the Y. M. C. A. have at last secured the services of a capable gentleman to fill the vacant position of secretary. Considerable time has elapsed since Mr. Mallagh resigned, but the good choice now made will make up for the long wait. Yesterday the Whig prophesied that a man, now studying in Chicago, would receive the appointment and take over his duties early in the fall. The prophecy has proven true, for this morning the secretary of the board of directors received a letter from John Page, accepting the board's offer, and promising to take charge of the work on Oct. 1st. Mr. Page is a graduate of the Y. M. C. A. training school at Springfield, Mass., and has had practical experience as secretary in the Berlin and Galt, Ont., associations. He is at present taking a course under Dr. James Gray, the great bible teacher, of Chicago. Though the local association acted independently of the provincial committee, they have secured one of the best men possible. A great Y. M. C. A. worker, not of this city, says that no man has, in his work, been so much blessed of God as has Mr. Page, and he foretells for him a brilliant and successful future.

Safe In Port.

St. John's, Nfld., Evening Herald.

On June 7th the SS. Scottish King, stranded at the rocks near Seal Cove on September 30th, 1898, was triumphantly towed into the harbor by the tug Petrel. This is an unprecedented feat in the history of wrecks on our coast. The tug with the derelict in tow left Fermeuse last night and as they steamed out of the harbor guns fired, tar barrels made a fine bonfire and flags were displayed everywhere. Both vessels had a nice run down the shore. Mr. Hansen, of the Petrel, had charge of the Scottish King, Mr. Turnbull looking after the pumps. A crew of twenty-five men from Fermeuse are on board and worked the ship down. Before leaving Nos. 1, 2 and 3 engine rooms were pumped dry, and No. 4 s't was raised by means of compressed air. Mr. Lesslie, manager of the Collins Bay rafting and forwarding company, Kingston, Ontario, is proud of his achievement, and with him is Capt. Pernier as nautical adviser. The ship, now lying at the dock pier, has been visited by hundreds. As she was brought into port the shrill whistles of all the ships sounded and the Berrica hoisted the signal "Welcome." The whole community must rejoice at this splendid event and there is a prospect of much labor being given. The ship will be docked and surveyed.

Married In Montreal.

Montreal Herald.

A quiet wedding took place Tuesday in Christ church cathedral, when the Ven. archdeacon Carey, rector of St. Paul's church, Kingston, Ont., was married to Miss Edith Marion Shibley, daughter of the late Schuyler Shibley, M.P., Kingston, and sister of Arthur Shibley, of 269 Elgin avenue, assistant secretary-treasurer of Westmount. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. canon Norton, rector of Christ church cathedral, assisted by the Very Rev. dean Lauder, Ottawa. The bride, given away by her brother, from whose house she was married, wore her travelling dress and was unattended. After the ceremony archdeacon and Mrs. Carey left immediately for a trip to Quebec, whence they sail by the Degama for London and the Paris exposition, to be absent some time. There were no guests but the immediate family, and no reception. Archdeacon and Mrs. Carey are both well known in Kingston, where the bride's family has long been prominent.

A Letter That Travelled.

John E. Johnston, Brock street, this morning received a letter from a friend in Ireland, which did considerable travelling before it reached him. It bears the postmarks of Kingston, Jamaica, Melbourne, Australia; San Francisco, California; Kingston, N.Y., and a dozen or so other places. The envelope was so badly soiled that many of the post marks could not be made out. From appearances it must have been all around the world. Mr. Johnston is at a loss to understand how the letter came to be sent to so many different countires. The address was very indistinctly written, and it would almost take a "Philadelphia lawyer" to unravel its meaning. The letter had been an "inmate abroad" for over eleven weeks, but has at last found a haven of refuge.

New Tariff For Hawaii.

San Francisco, Cal., June 14.—Local warehouses for some time past have been crowded with freight for Honolulu awaiting the new tariff which becomes effective to-day in Hawaii. Advices from Honolulu state that preparations were being made for the inauguration of governor Dole, and the new territorial government. To-day the consulate will be abolished after sixty years of existence. The records of the office will go to the state department at Washington. It is expected that consul general Haywood will get one of the new United States offices in the territory, probably that of collector of customs. The Hawaiian customs district is now a part of the district of California. All the deputies at the Honolulu office are to be selected from citizens of Hawaii.

Quadruple Murder In Maine.

West Newfield, Me., June 14.—The coroner's investigation of the fire and the murder of George W. Goodwin, son, housekeeper and hired man Tuesday morning has begun. George Champion, who had hired out to work for Goodwin and had been secreted there a week to avoid arrest on a Boston case, is still at large. The inquest, after a half day's work, was adjourned subject to call of the coroner. The county attorney wants to find George Champion before a verdict is rendered. Two little girls saw Champion at Goodwin's house the evening before the murder.

The Yankee Flag.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 13.—Flag day is being observed to-day. Patriotic societies throughout the country celebrate this day with appropriate ceremonies. June 14th has been set as flag day because it is the anniversary of the adoption of the stars and stripes by the continental congress in 1777.

"Diploma Mill" Officials On Trial.

Chicago, Ill., June 14.—James Armstrong, J. H. Raidall, Thomas Armstrong and Charles M. Hovey, officials of the Metropolitan medical college, an alleged "diploma mill," were to-day placed on trial charged with having used the mails for fradulent purposes.

Yesterday afternoon the Misses O'Donnell, Arch street, entertained a number of friends at a private picnic at Lake Ontario park. About twenty guests were present and thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

A blowhard always draws a crowd, even if nobody believes a word he says. A hazber in a Prince Albert coat looks as funny as a preacher in a golf suit.

Too many people fool away time on things that are expected to happen.

The more people travel, the less boisterous they are on the road.
