BRITISH FLAG FLIES.

Over The Gates Of Ancient Pekin.

TROOPS ARE POURING IN.

BRITISH MARINES IN A CLOSE COKNER.

Admiral Seymour's Command Said to be Surrounded and Without Food or Water—Rumors of a Massacre.

London, June 20.—Among the many columns of matter published in the newspapers here, bearing on the Chinese crisis, there is scarcely any news of consequence. There is nothing reliable regarding the situation in Pekin, or the position of admiral Seymour's column, though both are the subject of various rumors from Shanghai. A certain journal which daily serves up the frothiest Shanghai gossip, publishes this morning a report from that city that all the foreigners in Pekin, with their native staffs have been massacred. In the next column this newspaper says that the Russian relieving party, with many guns and a cavalry detachment, arrived at Pekin, on Tuesday morning in the nick of time. They attacked the city on two sides. There is nothing from any trustworthy source to confirm either story. The Daily Telegraphs Shanghai correspondent, quoting from a Chinese source, says that the British flag is flying at the gates of Pekin. Chinese officials at Shanghai are believed to have received news from the capital as late as Sunday, but the consulates at Shanghai have been unable to communicate with the legations since June 11th.

As regards admiral Seymour's whereabouts, the Daily News' Shanghai correspondent says he learns that his force is surrounded by Chinese in the middle of an arid plain, and that the troops are without food or water. There is no further reference to the relieving column having returned to Tien-Tsin, and there is no news whatever from that city.

It is much doubted whether the telegraph lines from Tien Tsin to Pekin are really cut, though it is certain that they cannot be used by foreigners. Among other Shanghai rumors is one to the effect that 600 native christians attached to the French missions at Yunnan Fu have been massacred. Others from the same source are that the emperor is dead, and that the empress is preparing for flight.

The British warship Undaunted arrived at Shanghai last evening. She is anchored off the Woo Sung forts with her decks cleared for action, ready for any emergency that may arise. The American transport Thomas, upon arriving at Nagasaki, Japan, en route for the Philippines, received orders to proceed to China and has arrived at Taku. She has 1,200 troops on board. From the European capitals come reports of preparations by all the powers to send further reinforcements to China, and reasserting of harmonious co-operation.

The Rome correspondent of the Daily News, referring to the international exchange of views for the future supervision of the government of China, says that the plan suggested by the United States seems likely to be favored. This plan is to raise the young emperor to the throne, with ministers, whose good will toward the powers can be depended upon, with Li Hung Chang probably at their head. It is also proposed to maintain a force of international troops in China.

According to the Times' Shanghai correspondent the native officials there regard the recall of Li Hung Chang to Pekin as an indication that the Manchu party have abandoned their hope of opposing the powers, and are completely changing front. In support of this view, the native press reports that the government has ordered the arrest of Gen. Tung Fu Siang, and handing over the viceroy of Chi Li to the board of punishments. The announcement that the British flag is at the south gate of Pekin is printed in the organ of Sheng, director of railways. It is presumed to indicate the arrival of admiral Seymour's relieving column.

The director of the Chinese telegraphs has organized a courier service to connect Tien Tsin with the nearest working station south of the city. A despatch received yesterday afternoon states that the governor of Yannan Shih Kai had been ordered to take his troops from Shan Tung to Pekin. A later message denies this, but if it is confirmed it will mitate the supposed collapse of the government's anti-foreign policy. The last contingent of the Japanese infantry was due to arrive at Taku Monday. A thousand British, 2,500 Russian and 1,300 German troops were also due to arrive there on that day.

The Feeling In France.

Paris, June 20.—Though the irreconcilables sneer at the government and accuse it of shortsightedness in failing to provide measures to meet the situation that has arisen in China, a majority, realizing the gravity of affairs in the far east, sink their opinions and urge the government to act energetically in the name of united France. Two thousand French troops were due to arrive at Taku yesterday and 2,200 more should arrive there by June 29th. Every effort will be made to hurry additional troops to the scene to enable France to assume her proper role of guardian of christian interests in China. Public feeling is thoroughly aroused to the necessity of the government acting the part that is incumbent on it, lest France should lose the prestige she formerly gained in China. A further inducement thereto is that prompt action will further cement the close union with Russia which is playing a most important part in eastern developments.

Netherlands To Send Ships.

Amsterdam, June 20.—The government of the Netherlands will send an ironclad and a cruiser to Pe Chi Li. Instructions have already been sent to the governor-general of the Dutch East Indies, Herr W. Rooseboom, to despatch a warship with troops to China.

Married To An American

Detroit, Mich., June 20.—Baron Von Ketteler, German minister to China, reported killed in the "Boxer" riots in Pekin, was a son-in-law of Henry B. Ledyard, president of the Michigan Central railroad. The baron was married to Miss Ledyard in 1897. The baron's wife was with him in Pekin.

Russian Demand For Damages.

London, June 20.—A despatch to the Central News from Shanghai says the Russian minister to China, M. de Giers, has demanded 5,000,000 taels for damages to the railway.

Alarming News From Rome.

Rome, June 20.—The propaganda has received a telegram from Mgr. Moscagatta saying the situation of ten bishoprics in China is alarming. Twenty Roman Catholic missionaries and eight sisters are missing.

Canadian Missionaries In Peril.

Toronto, June 20. There are at least one hundred and forty three Canadian missionaries in China, on the staff of the China inland mission, which has 800 missionaries scattered throughout China. Only three of them as yet are missing, and these are at Poh Ting, in the province of Chi Li. The only Canadian missionaries known to be in Pekin at the mercy of the "Boxers" are Miss Gowans and Miss Rutherford, of Toronto. They are of the missionary alliance staff. Miss Gowans was home last year on furlough, after nine years' service, and took Miss Rutherford back with her. The Presbyterian missions are in the province of Honan, and the Methodist in the far western province of Szu Chuan, both of which are as yet comparatively undisturbed. Generally speaking, the missionaries in the province of Chi Li are those of British organizations, chiefly of the society for the propagation of the gospel.

COMMUNICATION ESTABLISHED

Dawsonites Once More in Touch With Civilization.

Dawson City, May 17. We had been shut out from civilization, friends and news for many moons, owing to ice, in river, breaking up, but on the 16th inst. the cry of "Boat!" "Boat!" was heard, and everybody took up the joyful cry and rushed out to watch her steaming down the stream and pull into dock. It was a grand old welcome, as she carried all the back mail, everybody was anxious to hear from outside friends. As she steamed past the court house, we all ran out and joined the hue and cry, cheering, hooting and yelling like a pack of Apache Indians on the war path. Perhaps I do not miss the piano! There are a few here, but mostly all in gambling houses or dance halls, two places I do not frequent, consequently, I am "out in the cold." Was out in front of my cabin fly-fishing last night between eleven and twelve (midnight). It did seem funny! Caught nothing; but my friend, Sergt. Tweedie caught twenty-one grayllings. It was too cold and I was not feeling well so did not fish very long. The judge and I went duck shooting one night, but got nothing. We were accompanied by Maj. Henning, Capt. Starn, Tom Hinton and Alf. Watson. The latter is a Toronto chap in Ogilvie's office. Queen's birthday was a "whooper." We had a piper playing, in our rooms, and a Scotchman dancing the Highland fling and sword dance. The Yukon field force are going out June 15th, and Mrs. Wade is giving a farewell ball. KINGSTON.

CANADA'S FOREIGN TRADE.

The Returns Show a Considerable Increase.

Ottawa, June 20.—The foreign trade of Canada for the eleven months of the fiscal year ending May 31st last shows an aggregate of $323,596,476, or an increase of $46,399,394 over the same period in 1899, which up to then was a record year.

For the last eleven months the imports were $161,801,196, an increase of $26,615,000 over the similar period of last year.

The exports in the same period were $158,795,280, a gain of $19,777,914 over the same eleven months in 1899.

The customs revenue stands for the past eleven months at $26,615,581, an increase of $3,515,192 over the same period of 1899.

For the month of May the imports show an increase of $2,200,000 over May, 1899, and the exports of $1,250,000, while the customs revenue in the same time increased by over $300,000.

Queen Victoria's Long Reign.

London, June 20.—Queen Victoria today completed the sixty-third year of her reign. Exceeding the long reign of her illustrious and long-lived grandfather by three years and nine months. Talk of a regency has been heard for twenty-five years, but queen Victoria remains the head of the British empire and is not likely to relinquish the post in favor of the prince of Wales as prince regent, until she is compelled to do so by inexorable death. The queen was born at Kensington palace on May 24th, 1819, ascended to the throne June 20th, 1837, proclaimed queen the following day; and was crowned queen at Westminster on June 28th, 1838.

To Learn Scientific Farming.

St. James, L.I., June 20.—Several young wealthy Englishmen arrived here to-day, to start a colony of men who will apply themselves to scientific farming. Others will follow later. The commonwealth plan will be adopted so far as the earnings of the colony are concerned. A tract of 987 acres has been negotiated for at a price of $75,000.

Charles W. Mimmac, aged nineteen, employed at the Ogilvie mills, Winnipeg, was caught in a wire cable and driven beneath a roller drum. He died of his injuries.

John O'Brien of Toronto was placed in the lock-up at Port Dalhousie to sleep it off and was found dead in the cell.

KRUGER CAN'T ESCAPE

Retreat Cut Off By Destruction Of A Bridge.

BRITISH CAUSE IS AIDED.

DON'T KNOW WHAT TO DO WITH PRISONERS.

Rapid Repairs to Laing's Nek Tunnel Surprising — Canadians Still Doing Good Work—Boers Still Massing in Transvaal.

Lorenzo Marques, June 19.—The Malalane bridge, which crosses Hector Spruit, west of Koomatipoort, has been destroyed, interrupting railway communication between the Transvaal and this place. According to one report, dynamite was exploded beneath the bridge as a train was crossing it, and the engine driver was killed and several other persons were injured. Another report states that the bridge was damaged before the arrival of the train, under the weight of which it collapsed. The authorship of the destruction is mysterious, it being variously ascribed to persons who had been expelled and who has returned to the Transvaal by accident, and to a patrol from Swaziland. If the damage was done by a patrol, it suggests British enterprise.

Escaping Prisoners Blamed.

London, June 20. The Times Lorenzo Marques correspondent states that the railway company has issued a notice that all goods traffic has been suspended in consequence of the destruction of the Malalane bridge. The Boers suspect that the destruction of the structure was the work of three escaped British prisoners. The correspondent further says that, as the Boers are unable probably to look after the British prisoners at Nooitgedacht, they are seriously considering the question of expelling them from the country. Their prisoners comprise five officers and 927 men.

The news from South Africa is still of the scantiest nature. Nothing is known of what Gen. Roberts is doing. There is no news from him of later date than June 16th. Some of the critics regard the destruction of the Malalane bridge as a fortunate incident, however it was caused, because they believe it will prevent the escape of president Kruger and the Transvaal officials into Portuguese territory, and make it impossible to remove bullion from the Transvaal. It is not known that any British troops are in the neighborhood of the bridge. The Boers continue to be actively aggressive in the Orange River Colony. Gen. Rundle has moved back from Schepper's nek to Hammonia, as if he was still on the defensive.

The rapid completion of the repairs to Laing's nek railway tunnel affords the hope that Gen. Buller will be enabled immediately to renew his activity. A Natal farmer, however, reports that the Boers still thickly occupy the country under the Drakensberg. The colony is in no wise cleared of them.

From the casualty list issued by the war office yesterday, it is apparent that there have been engagements in the Orange River Colony that have not heretofore been reported. A reconstruction train was attacked by the Boers at Leeuw sprut, forty miles north of Kroonstadt, on Thursday last. This was the day of the Zand river attack, eighty miles distant. The British lost three killed, five wounded, and more than fifty captured.

Another list of nine killed and eleven missing refers to an action at Vredefort on June 7th, mention of which has not been previously made. Both indicate that Steyn's men have been busy raiding the British communications.

The Boers are gathering in force in front of Gen. Rundle, near Ficksburg. His forces stretch forty miles. As some parts of the line are weakly held, the British fear that the Boers may break through. Outpost skirmishes are of daily occurrence. The Boers there are commanded by De Villers and Hermann. Mr. Steyn is at Bethlehem, the temporary capital of the Free State. The Daily Mail points out that it is quite possible the wires have again been cut in Lord Roberts' rear, as no despatches later than June 16th, have been received.

London, June 20.—Rumors are current in the military clubs that lord Roberts is negotiating with president Kruger and Commandant-general Louis Botha in regard to terms of surrender. The negotiations, it is said, are being conducted through Mrs. Kruger and Mrs. Botha, who are both in Pretoria. They are not referred to in a despatch from lord Roberts, dated Pretoria, June 16th.

Held On Tenaciously.

London, June 20.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent furnishes to his paper a graphic description of the relief of Mafeking, in the course of which he says: "The Canadian artillery and the infantry on the left had a tougher job and more protracted, but not an inch did they budge, except to move forward."

Raising Another Debt.

Brantford Y.M.C.A. has a $16,000 debt to clear off. A determined attack will be started in October to lift the amount. At the annual meeting of the board of directors, held last week, W. J. F. Mallagh was unanimously elected to the office of treasurer. His fame as a financier has evidently preceded him, and his successful efforts in connection with the raising of the debt on the local building, will render his services invaluable. Kingston friends will always be glad to hear of his achievements, and wish him success in his new undertaking.

Sails For New York.

San Juan, Porto Rico, June 20.—Governor Allen sails to-day for New York, for a brief rest at his home in Lowell, Mass. He will return in July.

The Irish nationalist convention opened to-day at Dublin, with John Redmond, presiding.

THE YUKON'S CLAIMS.

Sir Charles Proposes to Give Parliamentary Representation.

Ottawa, June 19.—In the house to-day Sir Charles Tupper moved his resolution calling for representation in the dominion house for the Yukon territory. The motion was voted down. In supply Sir Hibbert resumed his motion to strike out the salary of Mr. Riley, of the interior department, which was also lost. A good day's work on the estimates was done.

Upon motion of Sir Wilfrid Laurier it was ordered that Mr. Fitzpatrick's motion respecting the salaries of the judges of provincial courts be taken into consideration in committee of the whole tomorrow.

Sir Charles Tupper asked whether the government had taken into consideration the suggestion he made a short time since that Canada make a grant towards the India famine fund. In view of the generous response to the appeal for the patriotic fund and the general prosperity he thought the government should make a grant.

Sir Wilfrid replied that, though not prepared to do so now, he would shortly be able to make an announcement.

Mr. Taylor brought up the case of Corpl. Courtney, of "A" battery, Kingston, who was placed under arrest for insubordination and reduced to the ranks for refusing to march the men of the battery to the canteen for beer on the 24th of May.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who replied in the absence of Dr. Borden, stated as the matter had been the subject of discussion in the press for some weeks, Mr. Taylor had ample time to give notice to the minister of militia of his intention to bring up the question. He promised, however, to bring the matter to Dr. Borden's attention.

Replying to Mr. Foster, Sir Wilfrid stated that he intended placing upon the order paper to-morrow a motion to hold sittings in the morning for the remainder of the session.

The special committee who are enquiring into the quality of the emergency rations supplied to the Canadian troops in South Africa and the circumstances under which the contract was awarded commenced taking evidence today. A morning and an afternoon sitting were held, the latter going on while the house was in session. The same programme will be pursued daily until the committee completes the enquiry. Two strong points in favor of the department of militia were brought out. One was that the material delivered by the contractor at Halifax, was equal to the standard sample upon which the contract was made, as approved by Dr. Neilson, the director of the medical service. The other fact developed was that free importation by Dr. Devlin, of the ingredients for his food was not authorized by either the customs or the militia department at Ottawa, but was permitted by the collector at Montreal.

DESPERATE SOLDIER.

Tried to Shoot His Comrades But Shot Himself.

Niagara Falls, June 20.—Pte. Wallace, of Co. "H," 15th United States infantry, stationed at Youngstown, lies at the Memorial hospital with an ugly wound in his leg. Wallace attended a dance at Youngstown. He got intoxicated, grew jealous and quarrelled with Pte. Charles Hurley.

Wallace went to the barracks, got his gun, and tried to shoot Hurley. A guard was called out and Wallace took to a room in the soldiers' barracks. Here he kept up a siege most of the night. Many shots were fired. Towards morning Wallace surrendered. Then it was learned he had been shot through the leg. It is believed the injured man is not in possession of his right senses.

Four Persons Burned.

Buffalo, N.Y., June 20.—Four persons were fatally burned and nine families were rendered homeless in a tenement house fire that started at 10:30 o'clock last night. Three of the four have since died. Four houses, Nos. 61, 63, 65, and 67 Scott street, were gutted. The dead are: Mrs. Juliana Milanda, thirty-four years of age; Vito Milanda, her eight-year-old son; Julia Milanda, her six-year old daughter. Baby Milanda, her two-months' old daughter, now lies at the Fitch hospital frightfully burned and at the point of death.

In Buying Silverware

You should exercise a little judgment. Remember all is not gold that glitters, and some dealers are willing to handle inferior goods that look "just as nice," but they won't stand any wear. You can find the trademark of every reputable silver manufacturer stamped on our goods and the prices are just as reasonable in proportion to the quality we keep.
