Dr. Fowler's

Extract of Wild Strawberry is a reliable remedy that can always be depended on to cure cholera, cholera infantum, colic, cramps, diarrhœa, dysentery, and all looseness of the bowels. It is a pure containing all the virtues of Wild Strawberry, one of the safest and surest cures for all summer complaints, combined with other harmless yet prompt curative agents, well known to medical science. The leaves of Wild

Extract

Strawberry were known by the Indians to be an excellent remedy for diarrhœa, dysentery, and looseness of the bowels, but medical science has placed before the public in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild a complete and effectual cure for all those distressing and often dangerous complaints so common in this changeable climate.

Strawberry

It has stood the test for fifty years, and hundreds of lives have been saved by its prompt use. No other remedy always summer complaints so promptly, quiets the pain so effectually and allays irritation so successfully as this unrivalled prescription of Dr. Fowler. If you are going to travel this be sure and take a bottle with you. It overcomes safely and quickly the distressing summer complaint so often caused by change of food and water, and is also a specific against sea-sickness, and all bowel Complaints.

Cures

Summer

As many of the imitations of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry are highly dangerous we would advise you to positively refuse them when offered and insist on the genuine.

THE VICTIM A CANADIAN.

WILLIAM SCOTT, OF BEDFORD MILLS, FOUND DYING.

Life Expires in a Rugged Village in St. Lawrence County, N.Y.—Foul Play Suspected—Constables Searching For His Companion, Who is in Hiding.

William Scott, formerly of Bedford Mills, on Friday, 15th inst., met death near Jayville, St. Lawrence county, New York state. A veil of mystery surrounds his sudden death, and the suspicious folk of the neighborhood hint at murder. Every effort is being put forth by the authorities to clear up the back county mystery to the satisfaction of the law and the excited people. Scott left his home at Bedford Mills four years ago, where his wife and seven children still await his return. But fate has decreed that he shall never return.

In the rugged and sparsely settled town of Pitcairn, St. Lawrence county, the village folk, farmers, woodsmen and campers are in a state of feverish excitement over the matter. The death of Scott, who was a jobber, occurred in a rude dwelling near Little Mill, a hamlet a few miles from Jayville. The constabulary of Pitcairn township were actively engaged on the 18th inst., and ever since, in a man-hunt, seeking John Youngs, the last man known to have been with Scott when he received the injuries which resulted in his death. Armed with a warrant these officers of the law have searched the woods from late Saturday night for Youngs, but no clue to the hunted man's whereabouts have been discovered. Youngs is eagerly sought, for it is believed that he can explain how Scott met with his injuries.

On Friday morning, 15th inst., Youngs, accompanied by Scott, who had been stopping temporarily with the former at Little Mill, started off with a horse and buggy, bound for Harrisville, Lewis county, for the purchasing there a quantity of camp utensils. They are first heard of in Harrisville, where it is believed they bought the utensils. Here it is said Youngs imbibed quite freely. According to a story told they were on the return trip and were about two miles from Little Mill on the road to Pitcairn when in coming down a hill the horses started on a wild run. Scott, according to a report, was thrown from the buggy when it struck a stump and in falling out his back struck the wheels. Youngs, it is claimed left Scott lying in an unconscious condition by the roadside and drove on to his home, where he arrived at night much the worse of liquor, it is said.

Friday evening a farmer living in the locality was returning from work when he discovered Scott unconscious. He notified his neighbors, and with their assistance cared for the injured man and later carried him to Youngs' house. There the injured man was given care. He lingered in a state of insensibility, battling with death, for over forty-eight hours and at eight o'clock Monday morning life departed.

About midnight Youngs, who had remained by the dying man's side for hours, said he was going to the barn to do some work. He went out and that was the last seen of him. Then rumors were rife among the people and grave accusations were made. Crime was hinted at. The people demanded an investigation. The matter was laid before a justice of the peace at Pitcairn Forks and a warrant was issued for Youngs' arrest.

On Sunday and Monday deputies searched the woods for miles about, but no trace of Youngs could be found. The dead man has a son-in-law, Pearl Greenwood, living at Brownville, Jefferson county. Scott was about forty years of age, five feet ten inches in height and weighed 155 pounds. Youngs is a wood chopper, and is said to have a wife in Canada.

The Stomach That Fails

May Not be to Blame—What is the Condition of the Liver and Kidneys?—You May Need

Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills.

When digestion is imperfect and proper nourishment is not derived from the food, it seems natural to blame the stomach!

But is it just?

Several cases are on record where people lived and digested food without stomachs. As a matter of fact the most difficult and by far the greater part of digestion takes place in the intestines.

Nothing so quickly interferes with digestion as sluggish, torpid action of the liver, kidneys and bowels.

Be reasonable and put the blame where it is deserved. Acquit the much abused stomach and get away down to the foundation of the trouble by setting the kidneys, liver and bowels right.

Sometimes people wonder why Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so remarkably efficient as a cure for dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles. They forget that these ailments are caused by derangements of the filtering and excretory organs.

Except in cases of mere temporary indigestion, stomach medicines and tablets are of little or no benefit. Chronic indigestion and dyspepsia of long standing are positively and permanently cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

To illustrate we refer to the case of Henry Moore, of Pickering, Ont., who writes as follows:

"In the fall of 1895 I used three or four boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for constipation and stomach troubles and never found anything to compare with them. I had suffered from these complaints for many years and taken many kinds of medicine, but it remained for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to cure me. Am now well and strong, but continue to take one or two pills a week to counteract the uric acid condition in the blood and to keep the bowels perfectly regular."

By acting directly on the kidneys, liver and bowels, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills promptly make these organs regular and active and permanently cure constipation, dyspepsia, indigestion and all stomach troubles. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Dr. Chase's Ointment is a positive and guaranteed cure for every form of piles.

Married In Toronto.

Toronto World.

A quiet but pretty wedding was celebrated last evening at the home of the bride's parents, 262 Seaton street, when Miss Ida, eldest daughter of W. H. Banfield, became the wife of Albert J. Hamilton, Kingston. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. W. J. Smith, of Yonge street Methodist church, in the presence of only the relatives and intimate friends of the family. The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Annie Banfield, and T. Anderson, Peterboro, stood up with the groom. The bride was attired in a travelling costume of blue broadcloth, while the dress of the bridesmaid was of white satin. At the conclusion of the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was partaken of, after which the newly wedded couple left on their honeymoon trip to Montreal and other eastern points. Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton were the recipients of a large number of beautiful gifts. On their return from their honeymoon, they will take up residence at Kingston.

Miller-Hurd Wedding.

On Wednesday the beautiful residence of T. H. Hurd, King street west, Gananoque, was the scene of a very happy gathering, the occasion being the marriage of his only daughter, Miss Flossie M. Hurd, to Frederick J. Miller, Times staff, Brockville. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry Gracey, in the presence of about forty guests. Albert E. Miller, Watertown, N.Y., and Miss Bertha Miller, Brockville, were the attendants, and Miss Lila Hurd, cousin of the bride, maid of honor. After a wedding dinner had been served, Mr. and Mrs. Miller left on the evening train, intending to visit several western cities. The bride received a beautiful lot of presents. Some of them from friends in New York, London, Kingston and Brockville. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Smith, Kingston, were among the guests present.

Diet Kitchen For Poor Babies.

Chicago, Ill., June 22.—A diet kitchen for babies is an innovation in social settlement work that has been undertaken here. It will be carried out at the Rouse mission, 32nd and Wallace streets. Throughout the summer it is expected that from 300 to 400 babies will be supplied with proper food and medical care. To each of the season babies will be given daily a quart of sterilized water, a quart of carefully prepared milk, and, when they are sick, cereal and beef broth and orange juice.

Students Going To Paris.

Chicago, Ill., June 22.—A number of students of the university of Chicago are about ready to start on a trip to the Paris exposition. As some of them can ill afford to pay the usual expenses incident to such a trip they propose to work their way across the Atlantic and back in cattle ships. All of those who have wheels will take them along and do their land journeying upon them.

Monument For Gridley.

Erie, Pa., June 22.—The fund has about been completed for the erection of a monument to Capt. Charles V. Gridley, commander of the flagship Olympia in Dewey's fleet at Manila, who lies buried in Lakeside cemetery in the suburbs of this city. The body of the officer was brought here soon after his death, which occurred only a few days after the battle.

Catholic School Inspector Chosen.

Toronto, June 22.—The Ontario government has recently, after long agitation and much difference of opinion, appointed a third inspector of separate schools for the province of Ontario in the person of Michael O'Brien, commercial master at Peterboro collegiate institute.

THE LITERARY BEGGAR

Sparham Sherbrake.

When "Bobs" has got his dukedom and
a garter on his leg,
When the other generals reap their just
reward,
Let me call your kind attention to a gentleman, I beg,
Whose weapon is the pen, and not the sword.

He's a literary beggar, but his influence
is great,
And where the British flag flies you
will find him
He's performed a signal service to the army and the state,
By helping those whom "Tommy" left behind him.

Some have branded him "the poet of the
crossword and the sweat," Cause their literary nose was out of joint;
But he reaped a golden harvest by his
"absent-minded," prayer,
For he wrote of what he knew—and to the point.

He's a literary beggar, and he wields
a magic pen,
Which literally filled that "hat" with gold
So when you're heaping honours on the military men,
Don't leave the soldiers' poet in the cold.

There are families by thousands who blessed the poet's name
When starvation stared them coldly in the face
And among the many heroes who are heralded by fame,
They will cry, "Let Rudyard Kipling
have a place."

"He's a literary beggar, and he didn't
kill a man,
But when rewards are going, let's continue
That he'll not be forgotten. Let us do the best we can
To keep the poet's memory alive."
