THE JUNE EVENT AT R.M.C.

BALL WAS A GREAT SOCIAL SUCCESS.

The College Finely Decorated—The Reception Was Cordial and the Cadets Were Gallant and Attentive—Some of the Gowns Worn.

The June ball at the Royal Military College has long been acknowledged as the special event of the season in Kingston. It is the signal for the arrival of fair girls from all parts of the Dominion; it is the occasion upon which so many of our own girls make their formal bow to society; it is the dance that is thoroughly enjoyed by young and old alike; and it is one of the few dances of each season when the chaperons are content to sit until three and four o'clock in the morning awaiting the sweet pleasure of their young charges to return to their homes.

The June ball of 1900 passed off last night as successfully as did the June balls of preceding years.

The cadets upheld the long-established record of the college for handsome decorations and cosy sitting out places. Instead of dancing in two rooms, it was decided that there should be but one ball room and the excellent music furnished by a Toronto orchestra was enjoyed by those who danced and by those who wandered through the rooms and corridors. The commandant and Mrs. Kitson received the guests at the head of the first stair case, and there was the usual crush, the usual good-natured banter and interchange of greetings between people who could not at first get near enough to compare programmes, but the crowd adjusted itself by and by and partners were secured when the first strains of the orchestra were heard. Several of the girls went to the ball last night with every dance on the programme engaged. Other far seeing (or possibly less sought after) maidens went with several numbers engaged and the blanks to be filled at the college. The majority, however, went on the blind ignorance of what names were to adorn their programme that evening, and that, after all, is one of the delights of such an affair. And yet, on the other hand, "there is nothing so uncertain as a dead sure thing," as was proved by the fact that the names that were placed on the programmes the night before were not by any means invariably the names of the partners who actually secured the dances when the time came. The Kingston girls looked well, and maintained the name that their city has won for having a greater number of pretty girls than has any other town in Ontario. There were also very many girls from other places, whose beauty of face and charm of manner ran a close race for belle ship with our own society favorites. And then there were six charming debutantes—Miss Harty, Miss Alice Kearns, Miss Kathleen Drummond, Miss Emily Low, Miss Jennie Dickson, and Miss Mary Miles (Toronto)—to whom the larger world of society had hitherto been a sealed book, and to whom the dance last night meant the enjoyment of new pleasures that are supposed to be the exclusive right of those who have "come out." It is to be hoped that the debutantes found the realization as sweet as the anticipation of their first ball, and that the memory of it will be so full of brightness that there will be no room for the shadow of disappointments. The shadows will come later, they are necessary for the perfection of every picture, but they can be dispensed with when a girl is enjoying her first initiation into society life.

The gowns were particularly handsome, and this partial list includes the names of the matrons and maidens who looked especially well last night.

Mrs. Kitson was gowned in black lace trimmed with knife pleated chiffon and ribbon ruching, long train of white silk, veiled with kiltings of black chiffon, diamond necklace and pendant.

Miss McCoig, New York, wore black jetted net over black chiffon.

Mrs. Martin wore an elegant gown of green satin brocade, with under skirt of pale green kilted chiffon and diamonds.

Miss Fitz Maclean wore a pale blue and pink satin brocade with touches of pink on the bodice, and carried a huge bouquet of pink peonies.

Miss Hanson, Montreal, wore white gauze over white silk, with ruchings of white satin bebe ribbon.

Mrs. Macnee wore black silk with black lace.

Mrs. Neilson, Ottawa, wore yellow satin with cream lace.

Miss Hendry looked particularly well in pale gray silk with silver passementerie.

Miss Logan wore white organdie trimmed with green chiffon and white lace.

Miss Chrissie Fenwick wore pale blue muslin trimmed with white lace and black velvet.

Mrs. Worrell wore black satin trimmed with pink chiffon and steel passementerie.

Mrs. W. M. Gilmour, Montreal, was gowned in striped blue and pink silk trimmed with pink chiffon, cream lace and pale green velvet.

Mrs. Butler wore grey silk trimmed with turquoise velvet.

Miss Thompson pink satin with white trimmings.

Miss Britton wore yellow silk with cream lace on skirt and bodice.

Miss Clara Britton was gowned in pale blue satin with chiffon trimmings and sleeves of tucked chiffon.

Miss Eva Mackay wore a finely tucked white organdie over white taffeta.

Miss Bea McGill wore white organdie with valenciennes lace and insertion.

Miss Kathleen Drummond made her debut in a pretty gown of dotted Swiss muslin trimmed with valenciennes lace and white satin ribbon.

Mrs. R. J. Hooper wore fancy white gauze over yellow silk.

Miss Mary Gray, Ottawa, white silk organdie over white taffeta.

Miss Stewart wore red silk with white fichu.

Miss L. Stewart wore white silk.

Miss Kate Moore's gown of white gauze spangled with silver sequins was made over white taffeta and had touches of burnt orange velvet on the bodice.

Miss Edith Low wore white organdie trimmed with valenciennes lace.

Miss Emily Low, white organdie with valenciennes lace and shower bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. W. F. Nickle wore a handsome pink satin brocaded with a large floral design in yellow. The pointed overskirt was outlined with ruched chiffon and showed a deep butterfloance of knife pleated pink chiffon. The bodice was trimmed with green and pink ends of broidered passementerie and real lace, with emerald green velvet at the waist and decolletage.

Miss Pansy Rathbun, Deseronto, wore a dainty gown of dotted white net over pale blue taffeta, with pink roses in corsage and coiffure.

Miss Beatrice Macdougall, Montreal, was gowned in white satin trimmed with white chiffon, with corsage bouquet of pink roses and her graceful air and charming affability made her one of the most popular of the out-of-town guests.

Miss Buchanan, of Toronto, wore striped blue and white organdie trimmed with black velvet bebe ribbon and carried a shower bouquet of American beauties.

Miss Alice Kearns was a tall, fair-haired debutante, whose pretty white organdie frock with a floral design of pale blue, was trimmed with valenciennes lace and moire ribbon.

Miss Florence Nash, New York, was becomingly gowned in striped white silk grenadine over pale blue satin with trimmings of handsome old lace and pale blue bebe ribbon.

Miss Agnes Richardson, wore white organdie with narrow frills edged with valenciennes lace on the skirt. The bodice was formed of rows of valenciennes insertion interlaced with satin bebe ribbon and the corsage was finished with a huge rosette of white chiffon with long ends edged with satin ribbon and fringe. The long sleeves were of valenciennes insertion and bebe ribbon, and the toilette was pronounced one of the prettiest in the room.

Miss Effie Fenwick wore her come-out gown of white organdie trimmed with white satin caught at intervals above the three skirt ruffles by bunches of lilies of the valley. The bodice was trimmed with white chiffon and lilies of the valley.

Miss Macdowell wore striped white muslin with green velvet.

Miss Jennie Dickson was a bright debutante in tucked white organdie trimmed with folded white satin and valenciennes lace and insertion; shower bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Macdonald wore striped white and mauve silk trimmed with white chiffon.

Miss Cameron, daughter of Judge Cameron, of London, Ont., is staying with Miss Ethel Macdowell.

Mr. Harold Rathbun, Mr. Kertland, and Mr. Matthews were three college graduates who returned for the R.M.C. ball last night.

Miss Kathleen Harty made a most attractive debutante in white mousseline de soie, over white satin. She was one of the particular favorites of the evening, her winsome manner adding much to her other charms.

Mrs. R. J. Craig wore black satin.

Miss Gertrude Craig was gowned in black gauze with corsage bouquet of pink carnations.

Miss McParland wore white satin.

Miss Mary Miles, a petite blonde from Toronto, was another pretty debutante in white organdie over white silk.

Complaint was made to the chairman of the parks this morning that carters engaged by the Salvation army were driving over the tennis lawns on the cricket field.

Chief Justice McColl, Victoria, B.C., has been appointed administrator until the new governor's arrival.—The British Columbia house will be called on July 19th, instead of on July 6th.

The time for receiving tenders for the enlargement of the house of Mrs. Briggs, King street closed at Architect Smith's office last night. The contracts will not be awarded for several days.

There is a great shortage of hard coal owing to labor strikes at the United States mines. One half of the Ontario orders now on hand will not be filled before the advance in price takes effect.

A large party of members of parliament are in Montreal the guests of the board of harbour commissioners, which arranged to show the representatives what has been going on in the way of harbour improvements.

A number of merchants are volunteering the use of their horses and rigs for Wednesday, the day on which the smelter by-law is voted upon. A citizen thinks it would be in the interests of all the merchants to do so, as no doubt it would.

The customs officers say they have another form of smuggling to contend against. Canadians wearing broad legged knickerbockers, journey to Ogdensburg and other American ports, and there fill out the waste space with valuable articles which they smuggle into the country.

St. Mary's cemetery committee met last night, Dr. Ryan in the chair. It was decided to erect a large storage tank beside the windmill at the cemetery, and to be of the same height as the windmill tank. Additional water pipes will be laid, so as to give better water supply throughout the grounds.

Bankrupt Stock No. 2.

The stock of ready-made clothing, tweeds, shirts, underwear, hats, caps, etc., lately owned by I. Boyd, has been purchased by the undersigned from the assignee at a low rate on the dollar and has been removed to the store lately occupied by E. B. Gallagher, where it, with the balance of the Gallagher bankrupt stock of gent's furnishings, will be cleared out at slaughter prices. A. Robinson.

A Good Investment.

The citizens will give the new smelter $4,000 a year but in return will receive $1,600 a year in school taxes, besides all the benefits of a great industry. Those electors who are dreading a slight increase of taxation are unnecessarily alarmed. So many more taxpayers will be brought in that they will help materially to meet the outlay. Taxation will not be perceptibly increased.

Miss Theobald, of Bhiwani, one of the ladies of the Baptist Zenana missionary association, is awarded a medal of the Kaiser-i-Hind order for services rendered in connection with the plague and famine distress.

The English Methodist church has collected over £750,000 towards the million guinea century fund, and as several Methodist millionaires have come forward with promises to pay any balance wanting, the million guineas are practically assured.

The cook in one of the London Salvation army shelters was for fourteen years a Capuchin monk and nightly slept in a coffin. About ten years ago he left his Swiss monastery and soon became a salvationist. He speaks French, German and English fluently and Latin fairly.

The closing exercises of the Novena, in connection with the feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, were held in St. Mary's cathedral last evening, a large congregation being present. At the conclusion the benediction of the blessed sacrament was said.

The Brantford Y.M.C.A. has a membership of 644, composed as follows: Seniors, 429, juniors, 125, special members who joined for the both privilege, 90. At the annual meeting on June 14th W. J. E. Mallagh, formerly secretary of the Kingston Y.M.C.A., was elected treasurer.

The emancipation of the Javanese is likely to be the fruit of their rapid evangelization, and hence the Dutch government discourages christian missionary efforts among these twenty-five millions of Mohammedans. Such is the unanswered charge made recently at a missionary conference held in Java.

Mgr. Falconio, papal delegate to Canada, visited Sherbrooke, Que., on Monday and was accorded a big reception. Bishop Larocque, of Sherbrooke, presented and address in French and English to the delegate, to which he replied in both languages. Archbishop Gauthier, of Kingston, imparted the benediction of the holy sacrament. The 53rd regiment formed the guard of honor. The delegate left on Thursday for Halifax.

It is computed that there are some six ~~or seven million Jews who do not~~ understand the Hebrew bible, so that the edition of ten thousand copies of the Yiddish version is far from meeting the whole need. Through the Russian ambassador in London, the emperor's permission has been received for the free circulation of this version among the millions of Jews in Russia.

A correspondent of the London Christian World, speaking of the New York Ecumenical conference says: "The conference marks the end of the apologetic stage in missions, and the beginning of a new aggressive departure. From first to last no time was wasted in justifying missions. There was no debate on the theme: Ought we to evangelize the world? The burning question was how soon, and in what ways best are we to do it?"

The committee of the Trinitarian bible society have arranged to send large supplies of Dutch testaments to the thousands of Boer prisoners. As the Transvaalers read scarcely any of the bible beyond the old testament, and have special editions prepared for them without the new testament, it will be a great and important work to put the new testament into the hands of so many who will have much time on their hands, and little else to read.

Every man is a missionary, now and for ever, for good or for evil. He may be a blot, radiating his dark influence outward, to the very circumference of society; or he may be a blessing, spreading benediction over the length and breadth of the world; a blank he cannot be. There are no moral blanks; there are no neutral characters. We are either the sower that sows and corrupts, or the light that splendidly illuminates, and the salt that silently operates; but being dead or alive, every man speaks.

Lord Overtoun has donated $25,000 to the Free church widows' and orphans' fund.

Toronto, June 23.—Hon. John Dryden will, during the present summer, visit Great Britain. His object will be to investigate the cold storage system from the British standpoint. Arrangements are not completed as yet. Mr. Dryden will leave next month.

For Weddings.

June is the month for weddings. Poets rave over woman—lovely woman! Musicians sing and write of her, and all agree that really beautiful women and really beautiful flowers are the loveliest things in the world. Our flowers and the loveliest women are always seen together. If you are leading a bride to the altar you will need some of our lovely flowers. We have still a few hundred Bedding Plants to dispose of which we will sell cheap to close out the balance of our Bedding Stock for this season. At the Floretum, Market Square.
