There will be a large crop of raisins in California, according to the San Francisco Chronicle's fruit crop report, in spite of some losses by frost. Apparently the crop will be above the average, says the report, but not so large as has been produced. The wine grape crop will be about an average one. There are a good many sickly vines (philloxera) in some districts, and north winds have been injurious. Table grapes promise a very large crop in the principal shipping district. All grapes have yet to pass the season when the results of colure, if there are any, become manifest.

A Death At Yarker.

Yarker, June 26.—Dora L. Galbraith, relict of the late Sidney L. Fellows, and daughter of Samuel Galbraith, of Camden, died at Yarker on June 21st, aged twenty-four years. On the evening of June 23rd, 1897, she was married, only to enjoy life the short space of two years and two months, when her kind husband was taken from her. Owing to her grief and loneliness since then her young life has gradually ebbed away. Since January she had been a great sufferer, but never was known to murmur. She leaves behind her an aged father and sorrowing mother, four brothers and one sister.

HAD ITS FIRST SITTING.

COMMISSION TO ENQUIRE INTO CORRUPT PRACTICES.

Counsel Appointed to Conduct the Investigation—A Registrar is Named—No Date For the Sittings Yet Announced.

Toronto, June 27.—The first sitting of the commission of judges to enquire and report regarding corrupt practices in dominion elections took place at Osgoode hall this morning. The session was private, the three commissioners, chancellor Boyd and judges Falconbridge and McTavish alone being present. Before adjournment for lunch a statement was given out that John D. Falconbridge, the judge's son, had been appointed registrar and that Messrs. A. B. Aylesworth, Q.C., and W. Nesbitt, Q.C., had been appointed "counsel to conduct the investigation on behalf of the parties interested." Mr. Aylesworth has been for several years the leading counsel on the liberal side in election protests, and is therefore in a position to know a great deal of conservative methods, while Mr. Nesbitt has occupied a similar position as leading counsel when conservatives were protesting liberal seats. The date of the opening sitting was not announced before adjournment.

Emil Beck, chef at the Toronto club, was in the police court this morning on a charge of abducting the wife and child of Julius Heinke, another chef. Both are New Yorkers, and both are married. Beck came to Toronto, leaving his wife and four children in New York. He was a friend of Heinke and of Mrs. Heinke, and some time ago the latter received a note alleged to be from a friend of Beck, stating that Beck was ill in Toronto, and that if she wanted to see him alive she had better come to this city. She came and found, apparently, that Beck was pining for her, so she stayed. Heinke came on to recover his wife, and last night burst into the Toronto club and threatened to shoot Beck. As the chef was needed just then, Heinke was arrested and laid charges against Beck of abducting his daughter and his wife. The case was adjourned this morning until July 4th. Mrs. Heinke very decidedly expresses a preference for Beck, and the only charge likely to succeed is that of enticing away the little girl.

There was a large and fashionable gathering at St. Thomas' church to-day, when Capt. Alexander D. Cartwright, son of Sir Richard, and Miss Ada Hart, daughter of Mrs. Hart, of Harbord street, were united in marriage. Capt. Cartwright is secretary of the Ontario rifle association and prominent military men were in attendance at the ceremony. A reception at the bride's mother's residence followed the ceremony.

Millions Must Be Spent.

New York, June 27.—Adolf Rothstein, the Russian financier, before sailing for Europe, said of the Chinese eastern railroad: "Up to the present we have expended some $40,000,000 but before the completion an additional $100,000,000 will be disbursed. The road will not be completed for, I should say, quite fifteen months, as we find we shall have to bore a tunnel some four and a half miles long on the Russian side of Harbin, the headquarters of the railroad. The benefits which American manufacturers will derive in the shape of the contract will be most important. The material and rolling stock contracts, I consider will reach an aggregate of about $40,000,000.

Makes Sure Of The Job.

Hamilton, Ont., June 26. — William Armstrong, thirty years of age, who boarded with Mrs. Robson, committed suicide this morning. He first took a dose of bug poison, and, as it failed to operate, he stabbed himself in the breast twice with a knife, and then cut his throat from ear to ear. His aunt found him in this condition in his room, and telephoned for doctors, and he was removed to the hospital, where he died. Coroner Griffin has ordered an inquest. Armstrong had work at the Hamilton bridge works, but was laid off a few days ago. This made him despondent.

The Beauty Of Trusts.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 27.— The Grand Rapids bicycle company, manufacturers of the Clipper wheel, has succumbed to the bicycle trust, and discharged most of its 250 workmen. By August 1st the plant will be abandoned, and the Clipper wheel no longer be made. A movement is under way to start an independent bicycle factory here.

Serious Fire Raging.

Belleville, Ont., June 27.—A serious fire is raging at Corbyville, about five miles out, in Thurlow, near Corby's distillery. Two engines have been sent from the city. Several dwellings and Palmer's hotel are reported burned, and a high wind renders the work of fighting the flames very difficult.

Glorious Rains.

Winnipeg, Man., June 27. — Heavy showers fell in the southern and western portions of Manitoba last night and early this morning. The Winnipeg district had four hours rain. The weather has cleared up again this morning, but the rain will do an incalculable amount of good.

Accidentally Drowned.

Birtle, Man., June 27.—John Mitchell, a Barnardo boy, who had been working with a farmer near Birtle, was accidentally drowned in a slough yesterday while watering horses.

To Watertown,
Monday, July 2nd, $1.25.

The young man sentenced by magistrate Daff to Central prison for indecency in the city park, was released to-day on order of the attorney-general, on agreeing to pay a fine of fifty dollars, and continue at his trade here for two years and four months.

Miss G. Gallagher, who secured a commercial diploma and a silver medal at Notre Dame convent on Monday night, is a daughter of Thomas J. Gallagher, outside steward for the Thousand Island steamboat company.

The steamer America took the 46th, 47th and part of the 40th regiments for a trip down the river this afternoon, leaving at four o'clock. The trip was a complimentary one given the men by the officers.

The congregation of Trinity church, Wolfe Island, held a picnic in Ryan's grove this afternoon.

DEWET HARD PRESSED.

Remounts Are Being Issued to the British.

London, June 27.—The war office is in receipt of the following:

"Pretoria, June 25.—A few of commandant Gen. Botha's men have returned and are among the kopjes along Poenaava river and indulged in occasional sniping at our camps at night.

"Remounts are being issued to the cavalry and mounted infantry. The burghers continue to surrender. Gen. Dewet is being hard pressed. It seems Dewet has succeeded in transferring most of his prisoners beyond Standerton en route for Middlesburg.

A FEW KILLED.

But Many of His Force Were Sick or Wounded.

London, June 27.—A special Shanghai despatch, dated last evening, says that communication with admiral Seymour was opened by the Tien Tsin relief force Sunday. Admiral Seymour was at that time said to be ten miles from Tien Tsin.

Three hundred of the members of his party were reported sick and wounded, and only a few had been killed. They were short of provisions and were returning without having rescued the legations.

Notes On Inventions.

A pistol, an electric bell and a cat-o'-nine-tails are the moving forces in an ingenious burglar alarm evolved by Barney Tegetheff, a grocer of St. Louis, Mo.

A new dump car, which is especially desirable for embankment work and filling in, has been invented. It is so constructed that the box has a rotary and can be unloaded in any direction desired.

An electric horse whip recently patented gives the animal a shock instead of a cut. A small battery is embedded in the celluloid handle, and this is controlled by a push button.

A clock which is said to have been running since August, 1898, the workmanship of P. M. Rovenskilde, is attracting much attention at Cabery, Ill., the home of its maker. It is propelled by a system of ball weights and a small current of electricity.

An Indiana man claims to have invented a process by which cakes of ice may be preserved for many months with no covering whatever from the action of the atmosphere except a coating of his preservative, the composition of which is a secret.

Marine Notes.

The steamer Pierrepont took the Cape Vincent trip this afternoon.

The tug Reginald, Sarnia to Montreal, passed down this afternoon with two oil barges.

The schooner Collier cleared this afternoon for Oswego.

The steamer Empire State is now ready for the Cape Vincent route, and will likely be placed in commission tomorrow.

The new steamer Unique, of Ogdensburg, said to be capable of going twenty miles an hour, had a run with the steamer New Island Wanderer yesterday, and in a sail from Alexandria Bay to Clayton, a distance of twelve miles, only won by three minutes' time.

Opening Up Iron Ore.

Desert Lake, June 26.—Rain is much needed. Statute labor has been completed. A number from here attended the Free Methodist camp meeting at Westport, Sunday. Our new minister, Rev. J. Wheatley, will hold service in the church next Sunday. J. Wilson is engaged in stripping off a vein of pyrite for Bedgood mining company. There is talk of having a diamond drill placed in this locality. Miss F. Snook, Sydenham, is visiting friends here. Our schools will close for the holidays on the 31st inst. W. Kellar, Sydenham, called on friends here last week. James Bawden, Kingston, is at J. Wilson's.

Ready For Occupation.

The new pavilion at Lake Ontario park has been completed. It is a handsome structure, similar in architectural beauty to the big pavilions found at all famous watering places. At one end is a spacious stage, flanked by dressing rooms, and at the other end is a raised gallery, beneath which is a refreshment stall. The seating capacity is 600, though twice that number can find accommodation to witness any performance going on inside. The building is artistically painted and illuminated by electricity, which glimmers through vari-colored globes. The effect at night when lighted up is very pretty.

Rockport Rockets.

Rockport, June 25.—The steamers North King and Argyle made their first call here on Sunday morning. Our cheese factory is in a flourishing condition; the patrons were paid for May at the average per ton milk of $18.33. J. Harpell, Kingston, spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. M. Hopkins. Rockport was a desolate place on Tuesday last as everybody went to the excursion to Ogdensburg. Some of our residents attended the masonic service held in the Methodist church at Mallorytown Sunday afternoon. There will be service in the English church Sunday evening, July 1st.

The Difficulty Settled.

The difference between the electric railway company and its employees has been amicably arranged. On and after Tuesday next, July 3rd, the men will work only ten hours each day, for the same wages as paid hitherto, that is $1.25 a day for drivers and $1 for conductors. The men forego their customary holiday enjoyed once every eight days. For overtime work the drivers will get 15c an hour, and conductors, 12½c. Three men in addition to the spare men employed in the barns, will be required to carry out the new schedule.

Evangelistic Meetings.

Burnstown, June 18. — Rev. Walter Russell, B.A., evangelist, was here last week holding revival services in the Presbyterian church assisiting the pastor, Rev. D. J. Graham, with great success. This was Mr. Russell's first visit to Burnstown, but should he return a warm welcome will be awaiting him. Mrs. R. Robertson is visiting friends in Carleton Place, Mr. and Mrs. D. McFayden and daughter have returned from visiting friends in Matawachan. Miss Maggie Leckie has returned from her visit to Clay Bank.

THE DISTINGUISHED DEAD.

WHOSE DUST LIES IN ST. ANDREW'S CEMETERY.

Many Men Noted in the History of Canada Are Here Interred—The Dust of the Late Sandford Macdonald and the Late Warden McDonald Here Lies at Rest.

Cornwall Freeholder.

The following reference to the Roman Catholic cemetery at St. Andrews, written by Col. J. P. McMillan, will be read with interest, particularly by the older residents of Stormont and Glengarry.

This is the resting place of many stalwart sons of the highlands of Scotland, who in their day, with matchless courage and patient endurance, not only reduced the forest into well cultivated fields for the production of all the requirements essential for comfort and plenty, but nobly fought for and bravely maintained the integrity of Britain's sway and imperial renown, when occasion required their strong arms to stamp out rebellious factions within, or to meet foreign invaders from without. They preserved, inviolate, the lands selected by them for the enjoyment of the priceless boon of independence, peace and happiness.

Notably among those buried here (happily remembered by many still to the fore) was Mrs. Neil McLean whose husband was an officer in the troublous times of 1837-38. She was the mother of the Hon. Archibald McLean, who at one period of his brilliant career, occupied the position of first commoner in the Canadian parliament, when gracefully filling the speaker's chair, and who later, as chief justice of the high court of Ontario, so creditably adorned the bench from which he, for many years with becoming dignity and graceful renown, administered equal handed justice throughout the land.

Another grave holds the remains of the late lamented Donald Aeneas McDonald, (familiarly known as Donald Miles), who in the forties represented the people of Stormont in the old provincial parliament, and later, and until incapacitated through age and bodily infirmity, presided as warden of the provincial penitentiary, Kingston, with much satisfaction to the government and advantage to the country, and about whose further history, were time and space to permit, much interesting detail might be recalled, which would afford instructive information to many of the younger members of the community desirous of becoming enlightened upon the earlier settlement of the country.

The dust of Rev. Aeneas McDonald, noted for his profound learning, acquired at the seminary, Montreal, where he for almost half a century conducted the higher branches of study, including those appertaining to theology and the priesthood, also lie here.

In another place are peacefully mouldering the mortal remains of the late lamented Hon. John Sandfield Macdonald, who was in his time a striking instance of what is familiarly termed "A Self-Made Man," who proved that to attain the higher and more honorable positions in the gift of the people, it is not necessary to be born in affluence, as he, though deprived of the means essential to have enabled him to obtain a finished collegiate training, yet, through his indomitable ability, reached more than once the higher positions at the gift of the crown in the old united provinces and in Onatrio when confederation was accomplished. As a politician and at the bar, he was for over forty years a leading and conspicuous figure in the town of Cornwall.

Odd Causes Of A Queer Wedding.

Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune.

One of the most romantic marriages that have occurred in Bowling Green, Ohio, for some time took place to-day, when Harrison Cheney, who is about seventy years of age, was married to Miss Agnes May, aged eighteen years. The marriage was in the way of the fulfillment of a promise made many years ago.

Cheney, when a young man, lived in a Pennsylvania town, and was a lover of one who married another. She took sick afterward, and upon her deathbed she asked Cheney to look after a little daughter. This he did, and she in time grew up and was married. She was taken sick with consumption, and, she, too, passed away, but not before she had pledged Cheney to look after her little girl, then two years old. His devotion to the little child culminated in the event of last night. Mr. Cheney recently came here from Union City, Pa., from which place the young lady came yesterday.

To Iron Shirt Waists.

When ironing shirt waists turn the sleeves on the wrong side, and leave until all the rest of the waist is ironed. Then turn and iron them last. Cafico's should be ironed on the wrong side; embroideries the same, and over a thick flannel. All ironed clothes should be hung on the clothes-horse until perfectly dry. The ironing table should be longer than it is wide; the top covered with two thicknesses of blanket, pinned perfectly smooth around the corners, and over this a piece of unbleached muslin, fastened tightly. On your right side have the ironing stand, on a small board or a heavy piece of brown paper; on the left a tiny piece of wax; beyond the iron and on the right side a saucer of water with a piece of soft muslin or linen, so that you may rub off any little piece of starch or a speck that you may find.

The Amateur Nurse.

Two more stories of the amateur nurse come from Cape Town. One woman whose enthusiasm was only equalled by her weight refused to have a chair brought for her to sit on while ministering to a wounded man, and perched up on the narrow hospital bed, with the result that an overworked surgeon had to come and reset the patient's broken leg. Another enthusiast read poetry industriously to her patient till a real nurse happened along and told her that the poor fellow had died just before the visitor made her appearance.

The Montreal Herald says: "Kingston wheelmen, who object to rendering Caesar's dues unto Caesar, are smuggling goods across the lake in their baggy knickers."

Miss M. Robinson, of the city, is visiting at H. Walker's, Florida.
