Fashionable Men.

Did you ever notice that the successful men are usually the fashionable ones. Perhaps not the extremely fashionable, but those who are careful that their clothes are made in the prevailing style, that they fit well and look well. The clothing we make will insure you satisfaction. There is no doubt about the character of the material we use nor the workmanship we put into perfecting these suits. We hope to have your order and we are sure we can supply you with that which will please you.

COMMERCIAL MATTERS.

What is Going on in the Business World—The Market News.

Great Britain imported last month fifteen per cent. more wheat than in May, 1899, and twenty and a-half per cent. more flour.

The recent decline in the raw cotton market has enabled French spinners to accept additional contracts for more or less distant deliveries of yarns.

The Fall River print cloth "syndicate" gave up the fight against lower prices on Tuesday, and reduced all grades of goods in their control to a basis of 2½c. for sixty-four square extras.

It is thought that if there is to be any weakening in the linen market in the next few months it will not be by manufacturers, but rather by the owners of goods, who are not finding the demand they expected.

British advices were unanimous as to the firmness in the situation for fabrics of cotton, wool and linen manufacture. The outlook is for firm markets for these lines for the next three months, and probably considerably longer.

Advices from Rouen, France, on the cotton piece goods trade of that centre say that producers still find difficulty in meeting with sufficient rapidity the demand for grey, white and colored goods, including cotton, flannels, long cloths and cretonnes.

Cheese sales: Winchester, 9¼c.; Perth, 9⅛c. to 9⅜c.; Brighton, 9⅛c.; Chesterville, 9 7-16c. bid; Brantford, 9⅛c. to 9¼c.; Ottawa, 9¼c. to 9 5-16c.; Campbellford, 9 7-16c. to 9½c.; Iroquois, 9¼c.; Kemptville, 9 9-16c. to 9⅝c.; South Finch, 9⅝c.

Failures in three weeks of June have been 86,105,000 — manufacturing, 81,788,215, and trading, 82,528,478. Failures for the week have been 207 in the United States, against 181 last year, and twenty-one in Canada, against twenty-two last year.

Robert Meighen, president of the Lake of the Woods milling company, is home from a tour through Manitoba. While admitting that the crop will not be as large as last year's bountiful harvest, Mr. Meighen says that some of the reports about damage have been greatly exaggerated. He also stated that the farmers were sure to get a higher price for their wheat this year, so that in the aggregate the farmers and the country at large will certainly not suffer much. The recent rains, he said, would alter the situation for the better.

ACCEPTS ON OWN TERMS.

THE FRONTENAC CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION MEETS.

H. A. Calvin Said He Would Accept No Mandates—The Convention Offered Him the Nomination Unanimously.

The Frontenac conservative association held a convention in the court house today. There was a good attendance of representative conservatives. H. A. Calvin, ex-M.P., was in the court house but was not in the convention when it began. The purpose of the gathering was to consider the selection of a candidate for the dominion parliament.

Mr. Calvin was asked by a reporter if he would accept the candidacy for the commons and he replied that he would upon his own terms; he would not agree to comply with the mandates of any other body.

The convention had only been in session for about fifteen minutes when the nomination of H. A. Calvin was made by R. J. Spoor, Wolfe Island, seconded by Charles Spooner, Glenburnie, and endorsed by J. B. Walkem, Kingston. His name was accepted unanimously by a standing vote.

Mr. Calvin had left the court house by the time the nomination was made and a deputation was named to seek him out and advise him of his selection.

While the search was being made for Mr. Calvin addresses were made by George Taylor, M. P., Gananoque, Mr. Brodeur, M.P., Dundas, Dr. Ryan and Dr. Smythe, Kingston.

Mr. Taylor was good enough to say that one of the very first requisites to be a member of the liberal cabinet was to show evidences that he could be a "blamed" scoundrel. He gave a lengthy harangue upon the binder twine scandal and described to his innocent hearers the awfulness of the conditions under which they were laboring. He gave a generally bad account of grit doings and sat down after twenty minutes' time satisfied that he had done much to demolish liberal rule in Canada.

At 3.15 o'clock Mr. Calvin reached the convention chamber and was enthusiastically received. He said that he accepted the nomination and added: "You have chosen me on my past record. In becoming your candidate and in going to represent you at Ottawa I am unfettered in which way you desire me to be and act." Applause followed his acceptance. Several speeches followed before the gathering dispersed.

ARMOUR CADETS HERE.

Arrived This Afternoon—A Smart, Orderly Crowd.

At half-past four o'clock this afternoon the Armour cadets, of Chicago, arrived in the city in a special coach over the K. & P. line. The cadets are attired in a natty uniform, distinctly American in style, and are a smart, clever looking lot of lads. Mayor Minnes, a number of aldermen and a crowd of citizens were at the station to welcome the cadets. Mayor Minnes gave them a hearty greeting on behalf of the citizens, and tendered them the freedom of the city. Chaplain Henderson, on behalf of the cadets, thanked the mayor for his kindness.

The cadets then marched to the city hall, where they will remain for the next five days. The company numbers about fifty. The officers are: W. B. McCreary, captain; E. Rees, first lieutenant; D. E. Harris, second lieutenant; Frank Kline, first sergeant; Charles Rodemachir, second sergeant; J. F. Ramier, third sergeant; Roy Marquardt, fourth sergeant; Thomas McNeil, first corporal; William Forbrick, second corporal; Charles Dale, third corporal; Harry Newbause, fourth corporal.

Drum and bugle corps—Warner Robinson, drum major; W. G. Leonard, chief musician; B. V. Burns, drum sergeant; Andrew Wolf, first sergeant.

Chaplain Henderson is accompanied by Mrs. Henderson and little daughter.

Prof. W. O. Leonard is in charge of the band.

Tuesday night the cadets will give an entertainment in the fair grounds.

On their way home the cadets will spend a day each at Belleville, Cobourg and Toronto.

Alderman Craig was busily engaged in making the cadets feel at home.

Doubted By Officials.

Washington, June 30.—Inquiry in official and diplomatic circles fails to confirm the report from Paris that the powers have reached an agreement in respect to China for the maintenance of the status quo fixing upon any army of occupation at 80,000 men, of which the United States will supply 5,000. It is said upon authority that no negotiations of the kind have been participated in by the United States.

Postal Carrier Pigeons.

The government of New Zealand now sends communications by carrier pigeons between Auckland and Great Barrier island, a distance across the water of thirty miles. The service is controlled by the postoffice department. The fee for a single message is one shilling, and a stamp for this amount has to be bought at the postoffice.

Lunacy In Ireland.

In the year 1880 the population of Ireland exceeded 5,000,000, and the lunacy report for that year showed the proportion for lunatics to be 250 to every 100,000 of the population. In 1897 the estimated population was only 4,500,000, but the number of lunatics had risen to 433 per 100,000.

Japanese Paper Shingles.

Paper shingles have been introduced into Japan by an enterprising Tokio firm as substitutes for the wooden article. The new idea is a slab of thick-tarred pastebeard, more easily managed than ordinary shingles, and costing only half as much.

Answered.

Hygienic Milk.

New York Tribune.

"I am so glad the winter is over," remarked a recently wedded wife, the other day, "because the cows will be sent to pasture, and they say Pasteurized milk is so much healthier."

PAY TO STRATHCONAS.

Dominion Will Treat Them the Same as the Others.

Ottawa, June 30.—It is understood that the government has decided to treat the members of Strathcona's Horse on the same basis, as regards pay, as the members of the first and second Canadian contingents. They are to be given an amount from the Canadian treasury sufficient to make up the difference between their imperial pay and the pay allowed to the permanent cavalry corps in the dominion.

Damaged Dutch Cheese.

London, June 30.—Boer official reports from Machadodorp aver that part of a British convoy was captured on June 23rd near Winberg.

The Lorenzo Marques correspondent of the Times says: "Both the burghers and the foreigners who are arriving here profess a strong belief that it will take from three to six months to subdue the Boers."

Another despatch from Lorenzo Marques says: "A consignment to a foreign firm marked 'Dutch cheese—damaged' proved, on landing, to contain army boots for the Boers. It passed the customs, nevertheless, with unusual despatch, and the British consul is making representations to the Portuguese government."

The Daily Express has the following from Machadodorp, dated Thursday, June 28th: "There is much condemnation of United States consul Hay for the failure of his visit. It is supposed he is with Mr. Kruger. The prisoners' camp at Nooit Gedacht is in a terribly unsanitary state."

President Kruger is supposed to be at Watervalonder.

CHAMBERLAIN'S FOLLY.

Earl of Carrington Refers to Secretary's "Alliance" Speech.

London, June 30.—In the house of lords yesterday, during the debate on the second reading of the Australian commonwealth bill, the earl of Carrington (liberal) attacked the alleged attempt of the secretary of state for the colonies, Joseph Chamberlain, to make political capital out of the bill.

Referring to the crisis caused by the appeal clause, he said that at one time the future of Australia rested in the hand of "the individual who, on a certain occasion, was so overcome by the glamour of a fifteen-minute conversation with the kaiser that he forthwith publicly announced that an alliance had been formed between Great Britain, America and Germany."

The earl also said that Mr. Chamberlain's so-called compromise on the appeal was no compromise, but an unqualified surrender.

REDS ON THE WAR PATH.

Settlers of Rainy River District Flee From Hostile Indians.

Winnipeg, June 30.—A Rat Portage special says the steamer Keewora has arrived there with 100 women and children, refugees from the Rainy River district, Minnesota, who are leaving owing to expected Indian troubles.

The residents of Koochooching, Minn., are deserting everything and moving across the river to Fort Frances, Ont., for protection.

The Indians of the district, numbering about 1,000, have divided into two hostile bands. The remaining women and children of the district are to be down on the next steamer and arms are urgently besought by the settlers. The excitement is intense.

PUNISHED IN CANADA.

Vice-Consul Gorman Must Pay Damages to Man He Accused.

Montreal, June 30.—P. Gorman, United States vice consul at Montreal, has been ordered to pay $100 damages and costs to Alfred Bone, whom he had arrested in November, 1898, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. It was claimed that Bone had obtained money from several Chinamen by representations that he could obtain admission for them to the United States. Gorman had Bone arrested on this charge, but the Chinamen who made the charges failed to substantiate them and the case fell through. Bone brought suit for damages against Gorman with the above result.

Bryan True To Old Love.

Kansas City, Mo., June 30.—J. Woods Merrill, secretary and treasurer of the United States monetary league, which will hold two sessions here during the convention, has made public a letter he had received from Mr. Bryan. It is self explanatory and as follows:

"Your favor of the 11th inst. at hand and contents noted. I beg to assure you that the press reports in regard to my consenting to the abandonment of the silver question or to a backward step taken by the Chicago convention is incorrect."

To Whom It May Concern.

Delegates to conventions and summer tourists in search of a healthy climate, who may be passing through Kingston, are at perfect liberty and are hereby invited to step off to examine and sample the lake breeze now on tap at this summer resort, with the view to comparing it with any stray zephyrs that may fan them on the road. By trying it a fair trial they will be convinced that this city was designed by nature to be a summer convention city, and the health resort of the continent, all bonuses to the contrary notwithstanding.

Offered Gunboats.

Melbourne, June 30.—In response to a request from the admiralty in London, three vessels of the naval auxiliary squadron have started for China. Premier McLean, of Victoria, has offered Great Britain 200 naval volunteers and two guns. Queensland has offered a gunboat.

THE SMOKE KILLED HIM.

FROM MOUTH OF MAN SITTING NEAR VICTIM.

Blood Vessel Was Ruptured by Inhaling the Vapor, and Death Resulted—A Very Sad Circumstance.

Willow Grove, Pa., June 30.—Cigarette smoke, blown from the mouth of a man sitting near him, caused the death of Charles Krickaka here yesterday. This fact was developed subsequently by the coroner's investigation.

Krickaka was one of the auditors at the orchestra concert in the park. Near him sat a man who was smoking a cigarette. Krickaka had never used tobacco in any form, and its fumes were extremely objectionable to him.

A particularly pungent cloud of the smoke unexpectedly overwhelmed Krickaka, and he inhaled a quantity of the offensive vapor. At once he began coughing violently, and the paroxysms continued until blood streamed from his mouth.

A blood vessel had been ruptured, and he was unable to call for assistance. Observing his helplessness, a guard assisted Krickaka to a pavilion.

After informing the guard of the cause of his illness, Krickaka fell into a swoon. A physician who was summoned was unable to afford any relief. In a half hour, without having regained consciousness, the victim died.

Krickaka's identity was disclosed by several envelopes found in his pocket. These indicated that he resided at 1128 North Seventeenth street, Philadelphia.

Coroner Grant R. McGlathery, of Norristown, was summoned. He instituted an investigation, and the facts as given were developed.

CANADIANS IN PRISON.

Col. Hughes Tells of the Misdoings of Men.

Lieut. Col. Sam Hughes writes to a friend at Lindsay, Ont.: "I was very sorry to find three Canadians left at Kenhardt, prisoners for being drunk. The boys had had heavy, wet marching and found the whiskey lying in bottles at the back of a liquor shop partly washed away by the breaking of a huge dam. The New Zealanders were worse than they were for liquor. My own notion is,—and I do not use liquor—that their offence might have been condoned or some light punishment given them. It annoyed me to find Canadians alone, prisoners. It was a very bad advertisement. Another member of the Canadian mounted rifles, evidently a Buffalo tough played sick at Victoria West. When he came through a couple of days ago it was learned that he had asked from a dozen or more of the fair sex, at moment—diamond rings were his favorite—and had promised to send them each one from Cape Town in return as a memento from him. The rascal was finally caught tampering with the mails, and bagged.

"Another poor fellow got punished at Victoria West for having bagged a pig and successfully passed through the lines without its having struck up a tune. I really think a fellow such as that—a model in every other respect—should have been made a corporal at least. But it was otherwise. However, the Canadians all are everywhere regarded as the fighters in South Africa. There is an aggressiveness about them that drives all before it."

ASHES AND ROSES.

Arthur J. Stringer, in Smart Set.

'Mid roses and rustle and laughter,
Tea, greetings and gossip as well,
The two of them met, a year after—
What, neither would care to tell.
Yet who could have said it mattered,
Although with the eyes to see?
For they gossiped and laughed and chattered
Of the marriages soon to be,
Of the fact of his lessening chances,
And the strangers come to town,
The dinners and plays and dances,
And the death of poor Nell Brown.

And he—oh, he spoke of his journey,
And how Gibson had made a hit
With his "Married," and Susie Gurney
Was the model who sat for it,
And they talked of Le Gallienne's novel,
And she argued that Browning was wrong,
With his rot about love and a hovel,
And hunger and babies and song!
And they chatted and sipped and debated,
Till a man who was gaunt and gray
Came and said that the carriage waited,
And hurried his wife away.

And so in the crowd they parted,
And the world went on the same,
And neither was broken hearted,
Yet unto them both there came
A thought that they dare not cherish,
A riddle they left unread;
How so much of them both could perish,
Yet neither, indeed, be dead!

ON THE SHADY SIDE

Mrs. M. Alouise Chase.

Ah, me! we cannot hide the fact
That we are growing old;
Old Time has left his stealthy track
With lines and crow's feet bold.
The marks of sorrow, toil and care
Are shown on brow and cheeks,
And hidden in the tresses fair
Lie silver-threaded streaks.
The lustre of the eye grows dim,
Bedewed with unshed tears,
With lost vivacity and vim,
But soulless orbs appear.
The agile form, erect and strong,
Bent by the weight of time,
Ere yet life's journey seems begun
Youth's day has lost its prime.
Past the meridian in life's race
How fifty years and o'er,
Says Father Time in keeping pace,
Today I justly score.
With busy fingers Father Time
Points back the way he led,
But measures not with plummet line
One step to take ahead.
We're growing old, too true, alas,
Our faded forms betray,
While o'er the ashes of the past
Linger sweet memories gray.
Thus longing youth and manhood's strife
The whitening embers blend,
Age sees beyond sublimer life
Its goal, time's perfect end.

WOMAN'S IDEAL MAN.

This little bit of verse is found in a late novel by Miss Helen Mathers:

Would you know, O curious Ben,
What true women want in men?
Only titles that are won
By some act that they have done;
Only manners that impart
Knowledge of their source—the heart.
