A WARM SUBJECT!

There's nothing in the world we're so much interested in as Coal. We studied it for years. It may sound queer to speak of Coal buying and selling it as a science, but that's what we've made it. Two important discoveries we have made are that complete satisfaction to our customers pays best, and that the way to win business is to deserve it.

HARTY IS CANDIDATE.

Unanimously the Choice Of the Liberals.

WAS SAID AT MEETING.

NOMINATION TO BE RATIFIED ON MONDAY NIGHT.

His Work Eulogised By His Friends—Liberals Will Rally Around the Old Standard and Return Their Candidate—The Nomination Endorsed By Numerous Speakers.

Unanimity of purpose and opinion characterized last night's special meeting of the Kingston liberal association for nomination of a candidate for the approaching campaign in Ontario. Despite many counter attractions there was a large turnout of sympathizers with good government, the WHIG hall being well filled.

President Pense said that the association adjourned two weeks ago for this nominating meeting, and had since been promised a visit from premier Hardy. This special meeting, therefore, precedes the public gathering of Monday night, which would be one of ratification. He was confident that the liberals were of one opinion regarding the choice of candidate. After so long a rest as a year and a half from an election—unusual for Kingston—the party workers would be a little rusty, but after Monday all would throw themselves into the fight and show that the liberals would win again. Alderman McKelvey, ex-president, was invited to take the chair. He called for nominations.

"As the one who first nominated Mr. Harty in Kingston and has had pride in supporting him throughout his successful career," said president Pense, "I think, now that his health is indifferent, I should be the first to move his re nomination, and I do so with the greatest pleasure. I have been able from many visits to and frequent correspondence with the Toronto administration to assure everybody that no person could do more for the city of Kingston and its citizens individually than did Mr. Harty. His health during the past few years has not enabled him to be as useful as he would have wished to the constituency or the government of which he is such an honored member. He does not enter the present contest for his personal good. We are asking him to stand in the breach at the risk of his health The government do not wish to lose his services. I know it is at their request and under our pressure that he will accept the nomination we are tendering to-night. I do not know of any member sitting in the cabinet we would renounce for the sake of mere change We are going to do our utmost to return our present member, that he may continue in the honorable position he has filled so long with credit to himself and benefit to the city. His health is somewhat impaired, but I trust that when he is again returned, as I am sure he will be if he accepts the nomination, that he will take a trip away which will result in restoring his health to its old-time vigor and that soon we will find him the same old vigorous William Harty we used to value so highly in Kingston."

Mayor Livingston seconded the nomination, being of the president's opinion, that Hon. William Harty would be returned. Not being able to go into the fight as vigorously as in the past was a good reason why all his friends here should turn out and work all the harder for his election. He knew they would do this, both for Mr. Harty's sake and for the support of premier Hardy's government The government wants Mr. Harty back again, and it is to the interest of both the city and the province that Mr Harty should be returned. The speaker knew the liberals of Kingston would be true to their principles, and if necessary would fight harder in this campaign than ever before and their efforts would be sure to bring success.

"I certainly am fully in accord with the nomination of Mr Harty," said B. M. Britton, Q.C., M.P. "Nothing would please me more, personally, than to have him accept the nomination. Although he may not be able to do as much as he would if in perfect health, yet what he lacks will be fully filled in by the reformers of Kingston. If the same enthusiasm and determination as manifested here to-night is evinced throughout the campaign, I feel assured of Mr. Harty's return, and that we have nothing to fear. What can Kingstonians gain by the defeat of the Ontario government? Certainly nothing. If that government is to be sustained, as we all believe it will, it is something for us in Kingston to have as our representative a member of the cabinet. Put your shoulders to the wheel to help along the campaign and to return Mr. Harty triumphantly."

Ex-alderman W. Robinson, the veteran of the liberal party in Kingston, had not intended attending the meeting, but at the eleventh hour he found it impossible to stay away. He endorsed Mr. Harty's nomination. When the speaker was making his maiden speech as the liberal party's candidate for the Ontario house, twenty eight years ago, he saw the smiling countenance of William Harty in the audience Mr. Harty polled his first vote for the speaker and ever since then he has been an active politician in the liberal party's behalf. The speaker reminded his hearers that through his election as a representative to the local house the conservative government was turned out and ever since the liberals have been in power. Every liberal in the city should turn out to help return Mr. Harty to support the best government Ontario has ever known. He did not intend taking any active part in the campaign, but would override that resolution and turn out along with the rest and work for the party's candidate. "We have a good member for Kingston and we are going to keep him."

Alderman Elliott had some hesitation in speaking after so many veterans. He was pleased that Mr. Harty would be tendered the nomination, and that the word would go forth that the nomination was unanimous. There was not a single dissenting voice, the party was united to a man in the choice of a candidate. He hoped Mr. Harty would see his way clear to accept. Every true liberal would put forth his strongest efforts in Mr. Harty's behalf. There was not any discord in the liberal ranks, but all stood shoulder to shoulder and everybody knows what the result will be. The speaker was proud to look forward to the return of Mr. Harty. It would be a graceful act or the part of the conservatives to allow Mr Harty to be returned by acclamation, but, however, the liberals enthusiastically stand together and their efforts will bring success. On Monday night next premier Hardy will be told that the people of Ontario will stand to him on the occasion of his first appeal to them, as they stood by Sir Oliver Mowat for upwards of twenty-six years

J. M. Farrell endorsed Mr. Harty's nomination on behalf of the young liberals. When the time came they would be found prepared and ready for the thick of the fight. Mr. Harty had repeatedly thanked the young liberals for the part they took in his last election. They had attended to that very necessary work, the registration of voters and they performed the duties successfully. They had again undertaken the same work and would be as energetic in it. Kingston would gain nothing by defeating Mr. Harty. The government has treated Kingston liberally in the matter of the dairy school, school of mines and other institutions, and even went so far as to amend the general act so as to oblige it in the matter of the recently passed bonus by laws. He urged the young men to turn out and work.

Alderman McKelvey expressed himself as being fully in accord with all that had been said in behalf of Mr. Harty Upon the occasion of visits of delegations from this city he was always on hand to assist in advancing Kingston's interests. It would be a great misfortune for Kingston if Mr. Harty was not returned. It was the duty of every citizen to support him and the best government Ontario has ever had. Ontario has prospered, it is the banner province of the dominion, because the men at the head of its government have been honest workers in its behalf.

Mr. Harty's name was put before the meeting the response being unanimous, a standing vote being taken. Three cheers and a rousing "tiger" greeted the result. While on their feet those present also favored Mr. Britton with a like salute.

The president announced that at Monday night's rally the nomination would be formally tendered Mr. Harty and ratified Mr. Hardy would be tendered an address and was expected to speak for an hour and a half. The young liberals had undertaken the decoration of the opera house. Flags and bunting had been spoken for but assistance in placing the same was required. Many visitors would be present, as Mr. Hardy wanted all the liberal candidates in the east to be in attendance The speaker was assured that at least three or four would be on hand. The services of the Laurier quartette of Toronto had been tendered and accepted, so that the musical portion of the meeting would be up to the top notch. Liberals were invited to attend early and bring the ladies. The opera house will be nicely heated. He felt sure the record of the government which Mr. Hardy would present would be most satisfactory, and the resolution of confidence it was intended to present would be unanimously adopted.

Ex-alderman Robinson took occasion to remark that meeting Mr. Harty on the street he had asked him if the present member would accept the nomination The speaker had been assured that if the nomination was unanimous it would be accepted. It could not have been more so, said the veteran The meeting closed with three cheers for the queen.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Jan. 29.—The large inclosed pavilion in Prospect park was burned to the ground early this morning. The pavilion was a mass of flames when it was discovered and the efforts of the firemen to check them were useless. It was nearly three hours before the fire burned down. The origin of the fire is not known but it is thought tramps, straying in the place, are responsible for it. The loss is estimated at between $25,000 and $30,000.

FOR A SERIOUS CRIME.

A Detroit Man Has Been Arrested—Lived in Toronto Once.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 29.—Arthur Roscoe Dick is held by the police here, charged by his thirteen-year-old daughter Edith with a serious crime that may send him to penitentiary for life. Dick was questioned by Capt. McDonnell and vigorously denied his daughter's charges against him. Dick formerly lived on Clifford street, near Cass avenue. Lately he moved on Michigan avenue, and opened a second-hand store, not because he is in need of money, but in order to be occupied. He is well to do. When arrested he had $45 on his person. He is an elegant dresser and refined in his manner. He is of medium stature, very blonde, and his conversation shows him to be clever. Some three years ago when the family was living in Toronto their home burned down. Mrs Dick was found burned to a crisp in her bed. It was claimed that she had been bound and gagged and that her death was in reality a murder. Dick was arrested, tried and acquitted, after having been imprisoned nearly nine months. He left Toronto with his children after receiving the insurance money. In addition he has been getting a large annuity. He refused to talk. Dick is thirty-five years old.

Asked Russia's Protection.

LONDON, Jan 29.—It is announced in a dispatch from Pekin that after Russia had offered China a loan on the same terms as Great Britain, China invited Russia to defend her against the possible displeasure of Great Britain. Russia, it appears, was evasive in her reply; but a similar guarantee asked of Great Britain against Russia was promptly agreed to.

NEW TRANSPORTATION DUTIES.

Two Methods Adopted—Question Considered in Reciprocal Spirit.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—A Washington despatch to the Sun says: "The regulations soon to be issued by the treasury department in regard to the shipment of Canadian goods through United States territory to the Klondyke gold fields are being prepared with great care by assistant secretary Howell. The new rules will prescribe two methods. The assessed duties may be paid on the goods at the point of entry into United States territory at Skaguay. In this case a certificate will be issued to shippers and the goods will be inspected at Lake Linderman, the point of exit, by the United States customs agent. If the goods are found to answer the description of the invoices the customs duties will be remitted.

"The other method is to receive from the shipper a bond insuring the payment of duties if required. A manifest is sent with the goods for the use of the government agents at point of exit. In case of favorable comparison between manifest and goods the bond of the shipper will be cancelled. No particular form of bond will be required Assistant secretary Howell has taken into account the complaints which have come from several quarters, notably the chamber of commerce of Vancouver, and he believes that the forthcoming regulations will be acceptable to Canadians generally. The negotiations have been made with due consideration of the wishes of the Canadian government and the interests of the two countries have been considered in a reciprocial spirit."

MURDERED HIS COUSIN.

Strychnine Administered—Killed His Former Sweetheart Same Way.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—A Huntingdonshire man of the name of Walter Horsford, thirty years of age, was arraigned at St. Neots, Huntingdonshire, to-day to answer the charge of murdering his cousin Annie Holmes, a young widow. Horsford is a handsome fellow and has long been a local favorite. He was married quite recently but was formerly intimate with Mrs. Holmes. A short time ago Mrs. Holmes died and was buried in the local church. After her burial a letter written to her by Horsford was found in the matress of her bed. The disclosures of the letter led to the exhumation of Mrs. Holmes' body and the subsequent examination pointed very strongly to strychnine poisoning. It is now learned that a former sweetheart of Horsford, Fannie James, died seven years ago in great agony on the day on which she had received a letter from Horsford. The body of Miss James was buried without question but her symptoms as now recalled suggest that her death was caused by poisoning and that the poison used was strychnine The evidence brought out by the prosecution to-day showed that Horsford had purchased strychnine upon several occasions.

Reaume for $150 and costs of hearing. Lyles is at present in New Orleans and the plaintiff will be unable to collect from him while he remains out of the country.

Deplorable Apathy.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Jan 29—Sandford Fleming has written a private letter to Vancouver bitterly complaining of the apathy in Canada regarding the Pacific cable scheme. He says he hopes that some power will push the scheme before Canada is side-tracked. It is thought Mr. Fleming shares the belief of premier Reed, New South Wales, that if it were not for Canada the cable would be built and promptly sanctioned by Great Britain and all the colonies interested.
