Imitations in Plenty

There are imitations of Columbia Bicycles everywhere—all said to be "just as good" as the famous American machine. But imitations are not

STANDARD OF THE WORLD.

The imitation may look like a Columbia, may even have some of the equipment the same, but it will not give the enduring, satisfactory service a Columbia will. The accumulated experience of 18 years is lacking with the imitators.

ATTACKING MEN PERSONALLY.

The Ottawa Journal, independent, and about the only independent paper in Ontario which, in the election now on, has remained true to its professions, calls the Hamilton Spectator, a Government apologist, to account for its personal attack upon Mr. Hyman, of London. The Spectator was quite displeased with the Tupper dynasty on the school question, and did not hesitate to say that its persistency in this course was doing great injury to the conservative party. That was before the tocsin of war was sounded. Now the Spectator is hot for the government, is inclined to forgive it all its sins, and wants it, for the good or evil it can do, and especially the evil, elected for another term. So it is particularly offensive towards liberal candidates and referred to C. S. Hyman as "the lawn-tennis whipper snapper." This calls to mind some facts which are best given in the words of the Ottawa Journal, thus: "Mr. Hyman is not only the best tennis player in Canada but a clever man and a forcible speaker, deserving of respect all round the board. But he was cheated out of his seat in parliament in such a dirty and contemptible way by the Hamilton Spectator's party, with the endorsation of that paper, that it naturally continues to rankle about him. He came between the wind and its nobility." Fancy a man being objected to because he is given to clean amusements. Mr. McIntyre, the conservative candidate in Kingston, is a lawn tennis and cricket player, and a good one, and because he is such, all honor to him, [who would think it disqualified him for political life?

A POWERFUL ARRAIGNMENT.

At the conservative rally the local candidate spent all the time at his disposal in trying to show that he could not do otherwise than support the government on its coercion policy. He went into a long argument, which charmed Sir Charles Tupper, and to the effect that the remedial bill was the logical outcome of the privy council's decision. But was it?

As good a lawyer as Canada has, and one quite capable of understanding legal questions, is B. B. Osler, an independent politically, and a brother of E. B. Osler, who is a conservative candidate in Toronto. He was asked to contest Haldimand, the liberals offering to withdraw their candidate with his consent and support Mr. Osler, and elect him with the aid of a large number of conservatives who are no longer under the influence of Montague's mesmerism and no longer disposed to follow him. Mr. Osler could not, on account of his professional engagements, accept, but he agreed to discuss public issues in the constituency, and on Tuesday evening he made his address in Dunnville. On the school question he had this to say:

"It was safe to say that as things stand now, Manitoba could not be coerced on the line of the remedial bill. This country could not, however, be governed by the mere declaration of the Protestant majority, but by a policy of conciliation toward our Catholic fellow-citizens. They all remembered the circumstances of the passage of the act of 1890 and its course through the courts. If the act of Manitoba had been disallowed the thing would have dropped and Manitoba would have had to find another way of arranging its school system. It was hardly fair to charge against the government for the non-disallowance of that bill, and the more so because some of those now in the government had nothing to do with it then.

"The fault was here, that when the judgment of the privy council was received in January, 1895, the government had taken a certain course. What did they do? They had a question of race and religion, a disturbing element difficult to handle, requiring nice adjustment. Their first duty was to stop the race and religion cry, to pacify, to negotiate, to confer with Manitoba, saying, 'Here is the judgment, which says there is a grievance; we will leave it first to you.' That should have been done.

"What was done? Before the formal judgment of the privy council was received, before the documents came to hand, the government were shaping the remedial order as a menace to Manitoba, and on the 21st of March Manitoba was ordered to correct the complaint. The matter had dragged along for five years. It was so serious that any time that was necessary should have been given for its adjustment. Instead, in their haste, the government put Manitoba in a hostile attitude. That was done erroneously, to use a very mild word. What was the reason behind that action? It was said that the government intended to go to the country, and that the remedial order was meant for use in the contest. Was that the position? If they stood on the order firm and strong they could carry the country by getting the solid Catholic vote added to the old line vote.

"Was that what was meant? (A voice, 'Yes,' and a voice, 'No.') 'Well,' said Mr. Osler 'the vote is even. If the issue was used in that way the government of the day was in the position of a man who sees a fire start—in this case the fire of race and religion—and looks on while the wind is blowing the fire in his neighbor's fields, looks on until he can no longer control it, and then the fire comes and sweeps him away. If that is the position, if the logic of events shows that this is true, and that the government utilized that race and religious cry in the manner stated, there is not an honest Catholic in this province that should not say that government will not get my vote."

That is the situation in a nutshell. Sir Hibbert Tupper prepared the club, the remedial bill, with which Manitoba was to be belabored into submission. Sir Charles Tupper proceeds to use it, and Mr. McIntyre stands by and shouts, "Hear, hear!" Isn't that it?

Has Great Ability.

While on a trip through the southern states this spring, deputy-reeve R. Mosier, Wolfe Island, had an opportunity of testing his wonderful ability to locate oil, coal, minerals, etc. He walked all through the Pennsylvania oil and coal fields and had no difficulty in locating the different oil pockets and coal deposits. At Albany oil deposits were located, and at Syracuse Mr. Mosier laid out all the salt deposits. He says he has been over the oil region in the vicinity of Verona, and informed Mr. Steele, who is boring for the Standard Oil Co., that where the well is sunk oil does not exist, but oil can be found not far distant. Despite the fact that scientists have declared coal beds do not exist in this part of Ontario, Mr. Mosier declares he has a large sample of hard coal found near the head of Wolfe Island. While in the United States he satisfied many non-believers of his ability to locate minerals, oils, etc.

CAMERON'S CIRCULAR OUT.

AND HE STANDS BY TUPPER IN THIS CAMPAIGN.

The Manitoba Methodist Conference Has Issued a Pastoral—Laurier Delighted Beyond Measure—Where Will the Catholic Vote Go?

MONTREAL, June 10.—Le Minerve this morning publishes a column and a-half circular from bishop Cameron to the clergy of the diocese of Antigonish. The circular commences by saying that in the approaching election the peace and prosperity of Canada are at stake. "This is the position," the circular continues:

"Will you elect representatives ready to support a leader who has promised to have the constitution respected and give a remedy for every injury which has been done for the purpose of undermining the charter of our dearest rights? Or will you choose men pledged to support another leader, practically opposed to the adoption of a remedial law?

"Last session we saw the two great political parties divided on the subject of remedial legislation, one trying to pass the bill approved by the Catholic minority, the other opposing the measure, and denouncing it as a coercive measure, and succeeding by its violent resistance in rendering impossible the adoption of that measure.

"Now, if the present government is sustained, the remedial bill will become law. A sufficient lesson will thus be given to fanatics, to extremists, to dishonest politicians, who will not dare any longer to trample the constitution under foot; to oppress minorities, Catholic or Protestant. On the other hand, if Sir Charles Tupper is defeated, it is not likely Mr. Laurier will do anything for Catholics."

A letter from Mgr. Langevin is next quoted, in which the archbishop of St. Boniface greenway. A federal measure is premier necessary.

The circular concludes: "We are doubly obliged to support the constitution by only voting for candidates determined to support the brave leader who has undertaken to pass remedial legislation. To vote for liberals in the present crisis is in reality a vote against the justice which should be done to the Manitoban minority.

"You can use this circular as you see fit." (Signed)—"JOHN CAMERON."

Standing Against Coercion.

WINNIPEG, June 10.—The Methodist conference, in a pastoral letter, which was adopted unanimously, makes a strong declaration on the school question. It reads as follows:

"Methodism from the first has been a friend of education. Our country has been, and still is, passing through a momentous political crises in connection with our public school system. The general conference of our church, as well as the various annual conferences, including our own, have placed upon record their unalterable opposition to any endowment by state of sectarian schools, and we cannot but view with anxiety the persistent and determined efforts to force upon our province an obnoxious system of separate Roman Catholic schools.

"It is hoped that our people will stand as a wall of adamant against any attempt to coerce this province in the matter of education, no matter by what political party the attempt may be made. Let us vigilantly guard our common school system against every attack; let us strenuously maintain the additional policy of Methodism, the absolute separation of church and state. Let us go forward in the fear of God and in dependence upon His omnipotent arm, building up a great christian and British civilization in this splendid heritage He has given us. Let us ever honor and reverence the bible as the magna charta of our civil and religious freedom."

The coercion organs, the Free Press and Northwester, which claim to give full reports of the conference, suppress entirely this pastoral letter.

Delighted Beyond Measure.

LONDON, June 10.—The Hon. Wilfrid Laurier spent Sunday quietly resting here, being the guest of C. S. Hyman, and only going out to attend divine service. Before leaving the city Mr. Laurier said in reply to the queries of the reporter:

"I am delighted beyond measure with my reception in this fine western country, and with the outlook, as reported to me, after a careful canvass by our friends. I am more than ever satisfied that the country is ripe for a change of government, and that not only those who have hitherto been liberals, but many moderate conservatives, have made up their minds to vote for a change. The prospects are that we will carry Ontario by a large majority, and that in Manitoba, the north-west and British Columbia, where the people will vote by ballot for the first time, we will carry nearly every seat. My advices from Quebec are that we will sweep that province, despite the unscrupulous campaign which is being waged against the liberal candidates. Then the Hon. Mr. Davies, the liberal leader in the maritime provinces, informs me, and I have many advices in confirmation of his statement, that we shall carry all the seats in Prince Edward Island and make large gains in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. 'The Tupper regime is doomed,' is the report that everywhere reaches me."

The Catholic Vote.

TORONTO, June 10.—The Catholic vote has been a subject of much anxiety to the politicians for weeks past. The supporters of Sir Charles Tupper hoped, and the supporters of Mr. Laurier feared, that the mandement of the Quebec bishops would have the effect of turning the Catholics of this province almost solidly over to the government. Neither the hope nor the fear proved to be well founded. Evidence is rapidly accumulating that the English-speaking Catholics will vote pretty much as they have been doing for some elections past, and that the French Catholics will go more largely than before with the liberals. There is a heavy French vote in Essex and Kent counties, and there are smaller settlements in Simcoe and elsewhere in the western part of the province, not to speak of the French population of Prescott, Carleton and Glengarry. Mr. Laurier stated in his London speech that he would have a majority of twenty-five in Quebec, and there is a general disposition to accept this estimate as trustworthy because it comes from him, and also because it is confirmed by many private intimations from residents of that province. The same influences that are at work to secure a victory for the French electors of Ontario, among the most potent of them all being a desire on their part to see a Frenchman, of whom they have good reason to be proud, prime minister of the dominion of Canada. Sir John Macdonald was always able to get a large majority of the French Catholics, and also of the Catholics of other nationalties, but he never had a French leader against him except at the last election, and then he was all but beaten. No one would assert that apart from the question of Sir John Charles Tupper has anything like Sir John Macdonald's hold on the Catholics, and Mr. Laurier, apart from that question, has greatly strengthened his. The significant feature of the political situation now is that the bishops' mandement does not appear to have produced much effect on either the French-speaking or the English-speaking Catholics.

BARGAINS, BARGAIN HUNTERS.

There Are Such Things as Male Bargain Fiends.

While engaged in his ceaseless hunt for news a WHIG reporter recently dropped into one of the largest retail dry-goods stores in the city, where bargain sales are regular events, and where the young lady employees are "up to date," observant and fairly good judges of human nature. The afternoon happened to be a dull one, and the clerks were engaged in "fixing up" the stock to make it as attractive as possible. In the course of a few minutes' conversation the weakness of women for bargains was touched upon. The reporter asked the clerks if they were ever bothered with male bargain hunters.

"Well, I should say so," she replied. Then calling to a companion she exclaimed, "M——, this gentleman wants to know if we ever have any bargain fiends."

They both laughed as if their funny bone had been tickled.

"Tell him about Fannie," said M——.

"Well," said the other, musingly, "Fannie is a real nice fellow. He's married, but he seems to prefer hunting for bargains to allowing his wife to do so. He generally comes in about half-past ten in the morning, wearing a serious look on his countenance. He doesn't look for any clerk in particular, but just goes around fumbling over the goods. We have become accustomed to him now and do not bother him. When he sees a thing he takes a fancy to he asks the price. He is 'up to snuff' in prices and values, and when he secures a real good bargain his face becomes even more serious. He simply says to the clerk that is nearest, 'wrap that up,' and hands over the money.

"What is his particular fad? Well, it runs mostly to ladies' shirt-waists and gentlemen's socks, although he buys quite a lot of stuff for ladies' wear. His wife must have enough shirt-waists to give her four complete changes every day in the week, but perhaps he has sisters. And socks! Gracious Peter! He must have enough to reach from here to Toronto.

"Some days he buys nothing but handkerchiefs and laces, and about these he is very particular. There's another young man who deals here quite a lot. He always makes an excuse, though, that he is purchasing for his mother or sisters. We call him 'Dollie.' The girls say he wears—you know, corsets. I know he has purchased more than one pair, because I have sold them to him myself. He never comes here on bargain days. He often comes in to match a piece of dress goods, or a piece of silk. We girls would rather tackle a half-dozen old women than he. We don't like him for one reason; he knows too much about things of which he should be ignorant."

NOTES FROM NAPANEE.

Death of a Resident—A Successful Political Gathering.

NAPANEE, June 11.—Another of the old residents passed over the great divide on Tuesday last in the person of Edward Vine, aged eighty years. He came from England and settled near Napanee, and has resided here ever since. He leaves four sons and one daughter. The sons are, Edward, at whose home he died; William, John and James; the daughter, Mrs. John Conger. He was twice married. His second wife survives. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon to the Napanee cemetery, and was largely attended.

The Brethren are holding a convention at Murvale this week. Several from here are attending. At the assizes, which opened here yesterday, judge Price presiding, John Evans was sentenced to one year in the Central prison for indecent assault. Robert Birrell is attending the Presbyterian convention at Toronto this week. Miss E. E. Deroche and Miss Leah Sherwood, attending Toronto university, passed this year's examinations very creditably.

On Tuesday evening last, at a mass meeting in the town hall, in the interests of Charles Stevens, independent candidate, Richard Wright occupied the chair. Mr. Stevens made a short opening address, and was followed by J. M. Godfrey, who gave a very fine address. He went into the school question more particularly and dealt with the question in its entirety to the general satisfaction of the large audience, who listened with the greatest attention. Despite the inclemency of the weather the hall was packed. The meeting broke up with three cheers for the queen and three for Mr. Stevens.

At the cheese board yesterday afternoon 1,195 boxes white cheese and eighty boxes colored were boarded. All sold at 6⅞c.

COMMENDABLE PROMPTITUDE.

A Resident of St. John, N. B., makes a Successful Trial of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

ST. JOHN, N. B June 8— Robert Moore, residing in indiantown, a suberb of the city, has recently made what is allowed by all who are acquainted with the facts to be a most remarkable recovery. He has been a sufferer from a serious complaint of the kidneys for seven years, and that time has suffered excruciatingly. He has also suffered considerably in pocket, having paid large sums for medical advice. Quite recently he happened to read of the many cures effected by Dodd's Kidney Pills, and with commendable promptitude made a trial of them, with the result that after taking three boxes of the remedy he was entirely restored to health.

Despondency And Depression

Too often result from causes, at the beginning easily remedied, but neglected, most difficult to remove. The liver, allowed to become torpid and inactive, paves the way for a host of diseases, constipation giving way to indigestion, until at last the unfortunate victim has to undergo all the horrors of acute dyspepsia. No remedy so speedily and with such certainty corrects all diseases of the liver and stomach and bowels as Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Vegetable in composition and always safe. Sold by dealers everywhere. One pill a dose. At Chown's drug store.

They All Smiled.

The invitation of warden Truscott to the members of the county council, to sit for a group photograph, was heartily received by the councillors. To-day they brightened themselves up and everyone of them wore his blandest smile. The photographer had difficulty in getting some to sit at ease, with others he found it a hard matter to subdue their broad smirk. Altogether, a fine lot of negatives were secured and a first-class group will be the result. The act on the part of the warden was a thoughtful one, as this year the old council will be wiped out, and the group will serve as a happy souvenir of past days.

METHODIST CONFERENCES.

THE SESSIONS FOR THIS YEAR ARE CONCLUDED.

The Question of Non-Recognition of Invitations Will Come Up For Consideration—Next Meeting in Ottawa—Some Additional Appointments Made.

STANSTEAD, Que., June 10.—The Montreal Methodist conference closed to-day, to meet in Ottawa in 1897. The following elections occurred: To Albert college board, Dr. Ryckman; to Alma college, F. Chisholm; general mission board, Hugh Cairns and W. H. Lambly.

A communication from the Bay of Quinte conference asked the conference to protest against the application to parliament for incorporation by the Wesleyan body. This is the name by which Mr. Horner's followers have called themselves, and now they seek incorporation. A committee consisting of Revs. Drs. Hunter, Ryckman and Williams, Messrs. W. H. Lambly and J. R. Lavell will watch the progress of the case.

The following statistics were presented: Number of members received on trial, 2,300. Total number of members, 37,360. The educational fund shows an increase; the missionary fund a decrease.

The sustentation fund reported an income of $1,403 during the year. The superannuation fund reported an income of $13,536, of which $8,747 came from ministers, and $4,789 from circuits.

A resolution of sympathy with Rev. R. Whiting, an ex-president, was passed.

A series of resolutions on procedure, suggested by the laymen's association, was presented and adopted. The association recommended the entire non-recognition of all invitations from circuits to ministers to become their pastors. Action was deferred till next conference.

Conference took up the question of superannuation. The Rev. Dr. Hunter applied for superannuation for one year. He entered the ministry in 1847, and now needed a rest. The request was granted to him, and also to the Rev. Messrs. Jas. O'Hara, Wm. Barnett and W. Adams. Rev. H. F. Bland asked for such relation, but it was thought he would prefer to continue in the active work, and this latter course was adopted.

In ministerial session the matter of candidates for the ministry was resumed and finally disposed of, R. H. Miller being accepted. Thus the conference has received only four candidates this year; three others who offered were declined as not reaching the new high standard. G. C. Cropp and C. E. The Town's Talk.

So many cures have been effected by the use of Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure that its the town's talk. If you are a sufferer from that horrible malady, go to Wade's drug store and get a bottle. It will cost only 50 cents.

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving way to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them, they will certainly please you.

From W. I have used it in Consumption, Asthma, Diarrhœa, and other diseases; and am perfectly satisfied with the result."

"Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians that he received a despatch from Her Majesty's Consul at Manilla to the effect that cholera has been raging fearfully, and that the only REMEDY of any service was CHLORODYNE.—See Lancet, 1st December, 1864.

CAUTION—BEWARE OF PIRACY AND IMITATIONS.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of CHLORODYNE; that the whole story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say had been sworn to.—See Times, July 13, 1864.
