POWDERLY'S DEFENCE.

The Labor Leader Belittles the Anti-Catholic Agitation.

A JOINT LABOR CONVENTION.

A Proposed Combined Session of Industrial Bodies to Draw Organized Working Men Closer Together—A Difficulty Settled.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., NOV. 15.—The seventeenth annual session of the General Assembly, Knights of Labor began yesterday morning in Industrial hall.

In order to expedite business, the Assembly decided that all resolutions must be submitted by or before noon on Thursday. Mr. Powderly then read his annual report.

After referring to the work done by the order, Mr. Powderly replied to the attacks made upon him by Protestant clergymen, who charged that he was conspiring with the Roman Catholic Church to overthrow the country.

He said:—"There is but one conclusion to arrive at. No sensible Protestant has had anything to do with these matters. No self-respecting man could descend to such depths of slander and villainous misrepresentation." He then asked that a committee of men who are not affiliated with the Roman Catholic Church be appointed to investigate and report upon the charges. He believed that capitalists are the instigators "in this strife." He belittled the anti-Catholic crusade, "which," he said, "is sweeping over the land," and declared that "all men whose perceptive faculties have not been dulled by prejudice will admit that the stand taken by Leo XIII. on the question of labor and industrial freedom, as well as political independence, is a grand and noble one."

Mr. Powderly urged the people of the United States to adopt that clause of the Swiss constitution which makes every citizen liable to military service, thus doing away with the maintenance of a standing army and of the state militia. He also recommended that the general executive board be authorized to consult with the officers of other organizations with a view to having the next session of the General Assembly, the next convention of the American Federation of Labor and the conventions of other industrial bodies held at the same time and in the same city. "I do this," he said, "with a view to bringing the active men of these organizations into closer fellowship, and to hold a joint session of delegates to all these organizations while the conventions are in session. To have a national joint session of labor, will of itself be a happy omen for the future."

He finally favored the free coinage of silver, and said he would address the General Assembly if required and show samples of fiat money not recognized by the Constitution of the United States, but which performs all the functions of money to the exclusion of the legal coinage of the Government.

The reports of General Secretary-Treasurer Hayes and the general executive board were presented to-day. The former said the order is in comparatively good financial condition, $51,000 having been received and a small balance being in the treasury.

The executive reported that they have advised conservative action when appealed to by members who were in dispute with their employers.

It is said that the charges which the Garment Cutters' National Assembly contemplated bringing against the general executive board because of its acquittal of A. W. Wright, who, it was alleged, "sold out" the garment cutters who were on strike at Rochester, N.Y., will not be brought, and that this will result in the Powderly-Hayes trouble not coming to the surface.

FIFTY-FOUR CENTS.

The Present Value of a Silver Dollar—Will Coin More.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Secretary Carlisle stated yesterday that he had made no change in his announced intention as to the coinage of standard silver dollars. The original official announcement made by direction of Secretary Carlisle stated that while the actual coinage of standard silver dollars had not been commenced, orders had been issued to the mints at New Orleans and San Francisco to prepare the ingots and blanks so as to be ready for coinage at a moments notice. The mints are now in readiness and await only the explicit orders to begin. When these will be given Secretary Carlisle does not care to say. He will be guided as he expresses it by the "emergency" of the situation. The Government receipts continue disappointing, and fears are expressed that from now on the net balance will continue below one hundred million dollars. This ballance is made up of eighty-five million gold and fifteen million currency. It is no longer a question of gold but a question of money. In proportion to the net balance the supply of gold is greater than it has been for some time, and even if all the balance was in gold it would simply have to be paid out to meet current expenses. No uneasiness is, however, felt in treasury circles as, until the net balance becomes so low as to destroy public confidence, no evil effect can result. Silver has declined to 70 cents per ounce in London which makes the bullion value of the standard silver dollar 54 cents.

Murderous Mrs. Halliday.

MONTICELLO, N.Y., Nov. 15.—Mrs. Paul Halliday, the triple murderess, in her efforts to counterfeit insanity, has become the terror of her attendants. Yesterday morning she manifested much violence as Mrs. Beecher, wife of the sheriff, was giving her breakfast and trying to make her more comfortable. She sprang at her with the ferocity of a tigress and clutched her by the throat and soon would have strangled her had not the sheriff came to his wife's assistance. As it was Mrs. Beecher was choked until she gasped for breath.

FIFTY MILLION.

The Revenue Uncle Sam Expects Under the Proposed Income Tax.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—A revenue of $50,000,000 is expected by the Democrats of the Ways and Means Committee from the moderate income tax which they propose to incorporate in the new revenue bill. The rate of the tax will probably be two per cent. and the exemption will be high enough to exclude the great mass of laboring men and people on small salaries. The limit now under discussion is from $2,500 to $4,000. If the income tax is adopted in the form now under consideration other changes in the internal revenue laws will not be necessary. There will be no increase in the beer tax, the whisky tax, the tax on manufactured tobacco or the tax on cigars. The question of duty on sugar is still an open one, but it is not unlikely that a duty will be imposed of about one cent per pound on both raw and refined sugars. The treatment of bituminous coal is an open question with the Democrats of the committee. Coal was on the free list in the original draft of the tariff bill in accordance with the pledge of the Democratic national platform to modify the McKinley law in the direction of free raw materials. The protest from the coal districts of West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and Alabama has been so strong, however, that some of the members are weakening and may vote to retain a small duty. Chairman Wilson hopes to present the completed bill to the Republican members of the Ways and Means committee by the latter part of next week so that they can have their report ready upon the meeting of Congress in December.

WILL BE BLOODSHED.

Whites Said to be Drilling With Winchesters in Honolulu.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 15.—S. W. Harvey, of Honolulu, banana dealer, who arrived by the Canadian-Australian steamer Warrimoo, says: A company of 500 whites have been drilling with Winchester rifles for a long time in anticipation of a disturbance. Each man has his man picked out, and after the first shot is fired I have no doubt there will be plenty of bloodshed. The friends of the provisional government do not so much hate the deposed Queen as they do her hangers on. Her following is detested. If the American and other warships do not turn in and hold the town of Honolulu down there will surely be bloodshed when the royalists come into power. There is no telling what would become of business under such a change. The prospect is not hopeful.

All Is Lovely.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Secretary Morton says there are no dissensions in the cabinet in the Hawaiian situation.

NEGRO MURDERERS.

Slayers of Two White Men Confess Their Crime.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—The two murderers of Prof. Van Hafe, the musician, who was killed during the attack on the stage near Donaldsonville, are in jail at Baton Rouge. They are also the murderers of a white levee contractor named Mike Kane, who was robbed and killed at a levee camp below Baton Rouge.

The names of the two men are Mansfield Washington and Dave Johnson. They are negro gamblers who make it a point to visit the levee camps on pay days and fleece negro laborers.

They were arrested last Wednesday on the charge of murdering Kane, and kept in separate cells. This had the effect of loosening Washington's tongue, and he confessed that he and Johnson had murdered VanHafe and later waylaid Kane and robbed him.

Does Not Look for Reform.

PITTSBURG, PA., Nov. 15.—Andrew Carnegie arrived in Pittsburg last night. "The business outlook for the winter is very discouraging," said Mr. Carnegie. "We will be fortunate if we get orders enough to keep our men at work. I think business will brighten up next spring, but do not look for any improvement before that time. The uncertainty of the tariff situation, I think, is the cause of the present business depression."

Mr. Carnegie does not look for radical tariff reform notwithstanding the Democratic platform.

"Platforms are made to get in on, not to stand on," said Mr. Carnegie.

Against the A. P. A.

BUFFALO, Nov. 15.—Some seventy-five members of the American Protective Association in Buffalo are to be indicted for conspiracy under the State law, "Chap. xiii., secs. 168, 169," and inciting to riot.

The case will be in the nature of a test, to obtain an opinion on the facts and law as to whether or not the organization comes within the scope of a criminal conspiracy, and the literature of the order such as to warrant it being placed under the ban of the Government as matter calculated to incite riot.

Suspected Poisoning.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—James E. Little, a retired broker, 55 years old, who resided at Huntington, L.I., died on Saturday last at the house of his nephew, L. N. Little, in this city. The latter reported to Coroner McKenna that he believed the old man had been slowly poisoned by a woman with whom he had lived at Huntington and who represented herself as his wife. He further said his uncle on his deathbed had told him of his suspicion that poison which had been administered by the woman was the cause of his illness.

A DECENT LIVING

Should be Recognized as a Basis for Settlement of Strikes.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Prominent men of all religious denominations met in the Jerusalem Chambers yesterday to devise a method of mediation in the coal miners strike and other labor disputes.

A resolution affirming that the principle of a standard of decent living ought to be recognized as an essential basis for the settlement of labor disputes, led to a difference of opinion. Dean Bradley, who presided, said he regretted that the programme had not been previously shown him. Had he known of this resolution he would not have consented to submit it to the meeting because, although all admitted the principle, its expression in a resolution was likely to be misunderstood.

Dean Bradley's opinion was concurred in by the Bishop of Ripon, while Canon Scott Holland spoke warmly in opposition.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—A dispatch from Madrid to the Daily News says: The English reporter and the two travelers, who were expelled from Melilla, are now declared by the Spanish newspapers to have been officially in disguise, and the ship conveying them is accused of signalling to the Arabs with lanterns. A party from the Spanish warships searched her in vain for contraband articles.

Swedish Explorers Meet Death in the Land of Ice and Snow.

WRECKED IN BAFFIN'S BAY.

Cast Upon a Desolate Coast, the Adventurers Met a Miserable Death—Sad Relics of the Ill-fated Expedition Found by Whalers.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The crew of the whaler Aurora, which has just arrived at Dundee, report that they discovered in Baffin's Bay the wreck of the schooner Ripple, the vessel in which two Swedish men of science, Bjorlfy and Kalvennius, left St. John's, Nfld., in June, 1892, to collect specimens of the flora and fauna of Greenland along Davis Strait.

The crew of the Aurora found two cairns near the spot where the Ripple had gone to pieces. One was covered with the remains of human bodies. Under the other were found manuscripts and a note written in English asking the finder to send the papers to Baron Nordenskjold or to the nearest consul. Near this cairn lay a skeleton supposed to be that of either Bjorlfy or Kalvennius.

FRANCE NOT ALONE.

A Powerful Nation Is at Her Back, Says M. Blanc.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—Casimir, who was president of the last Chamber, was chosen as temporary president of the Chamber. M. Blanc welcomed the deputies, who, he said, having been elected by universal suffrage, brought to the Chamber the hopes of the country in the future of the Republic. The issues on which the recent elections has been fought were triumphant and indestructible. Never had a session opened after more important and auspicious events. All would forever remember the marvelous fetes in which two great nations had been brought together by irresistible attraction, and in which the peace of Europe was glorified in touching fraternity. The Chamber would not forget the immortal despatch, in which a magnanimous sovereign in noble and sympathetic language had sealed the alliance between Russia and France and affirmed their pacific sentiments. Let France reassure herself. She was no longer isolated, having by her side a great and powerful nation. There must be no disquietude concerning the future and she must retain all her hopes.

In his speech at the opening of the Senate M. Challemel-Lacour, president of that body, referred to the Franco-Russian entente as a pledge of the stability of peace. The Senate, he said, sent to the Czar and his family the expression of its most profound respect.

Anarchists May Meet.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Charles J. Darling (Conservative), member for Deptford, moved the adjournment of the House in order to discuss the action of the Government in permitting Anarchists to meet in Trafalgar square. Mr. Balfour said that he blamed the Government for encouraging the holding of meetings to propagate dangerous doctrines. John Burns defended the rights of public meetings even if such meetings were held by Anarchists. No trouble, he said, would arise unless the police interfered. The motion was defeated without a division being taken.

Dr. Peters' Return.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Dr. Carl Peters, the German explorer, arrived in London yesterday on his way home from the United States. He will leave for Antwerp this morning. When asked about statements published in certain American newspapers concerning his experiences in Africa and America, he said he must decline to be responsible for anything without his signature affixed to the statements. He will probably seek permission from the German Government to publish his impressions of America.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Samuel Woods, M. P., of Lancashire, said yesterday that notwithstanding the interference of the Government in the coal miners' strike the men would not return to work if the employers insisted upon a reduction in wages.

Mr. Woods is a practical miner, and is president of the Lancashire Federation, and vice-president of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain.

The price of coal in London has risen three shillings more per ton.

Did Not Create French Rights.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Replying to a question on the subject in the House yesterday, Sir Edward Grey, Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, said that the apparent effect of the France-Siamese treaties was to restrict Siamese right and sovereignty over certain districts, but they did not create French rights on the right bank of the Mekong river or in the Province of Battambang. France, he added, had repeatedly stated that she was only temporarily occupying Chantibun.

Pointers For The Farmers.

It is estimated that the new crop of English wheat will furnish 45,000,000 bushels for consumption, in addition to which it is estimated that 4,000,000 bushels of old wheat were carried over.

The exports of wheat from Russia from Jan. 1st to Oct. 7th were 55,791,000 bushels; rye, 11,016,000 bushels, and corn, 6,293,000 bushels.

The wheat problem is working out its own solution in strictly natural lines, says a Chicago special. Prices have steadily declined for ten years, while the cost of production has not been materially cheapened in the meantime. The United States crop last year was 100,000,000 bushels less than 1891, and the present was 100,000,000 less than in 1892. It is estimated that the winter wheat area seeded for the 1894 harvest is fully 1,000,000 less than last fall. Every state report issued so far comments upon the fact that this is due to unremunerative prices. The government reports will emphasize this later on.

HOW DID PASCAL DIE?

Mysterious Death of an Idiot in the Backwoods of Quebec.

HIS FATHER'S STRONG DISLIKE.

An Unnatural Parent Sends His Son to His Death—The Suspected Murderer Says the Young Man Died of Natural Causes.

QUEBEC, Nov. 15.—Constable Simard of the Provincial police has returned from Roberval, Lake St. John, where he has been investigating the mysterious disappearance and death of the young son of a farmer belonging to that place. This is the story he relates:

A farmer named Pascal had an 18-year-old son who was an idiot. The man had a strong dislike for the poor young man, and some time ago repeatedly threatened to get rid of him by some means. He spoke of his intention to a notorious character of the place who offered to bring the hated son far into the woods with him, promising that the latter would never come back. This Pascal consented to do. When the mother of the unfortunate lad heard that her child was to leave for the woods with such a man she became alarmed and entreated her husband not to let the son go with him. The entreaties of the mother were useless, the son went and he has never returned. When his companion returned to the village about three weeks after the departure he explained the boy's disappearance by stating that young Pascal took sick in the woods and died. He buried him before coming back. Search having been made in the spot he indicated the body of the missing boy was found. The police are continuing their investigations in this mysterious affair.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The Melilla correspondent of the United Press telegraphs as follows under date of Monday night:—"At 11 o'clock last evening the electric search lights of the Spanish cruiser Alfonso XIII., Conde De Vendatin and Melilla suddenly illuminated the whole country around, taking the Moors by surprise. A terrible cannonade was opened by the warships and the forts at the same moment. The terrified Moors could be seen running about like madmen, seeking shelter in the caves. Many were killed. Yesterday a company of Spanish cavalry made an excursion into the country, going further than any other Spanish troops have gone since the war opened and meeting with no opposition. It is believed that serious operations will begin this week."

THE HYMENEAL GRIST.

A String of Happy Events For All But the Printer.

A large gathering at the residence of Arthur Collins', Clayton, N.Y., on Wednesday, Nov. 8th, witnessed the marriage of his daughter, Carrie, to Ernest J. Marcellas. Rev. Mr. Baldwin performed the ceremony. The bride wore corn and white lace. After supper the happy couple left amid a shower of rice and congratulations to visit friends in Adams.

At St. Edward's church, Westport, on 31st Oct., Miss Joanna, daughter of J. Donoghue, was united to James Kane, both of Westport, Father Twohey officiating. The company returned to the residence of the bride's father, where dinner was served. The bride was assisted by her niece, Miss Libbie Ryan, while J. Carsley supported the groom. The presents were costly and numerous.

Another of Sheffield's fairest daughters was lost to us last Monday, when Miss Agnes Burns became the bride of William James Dillon, of Enterprise, before Father Hartigan, Centreville, and many relatives and a few friends. Miss Lizzie Burns, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Michael Dillon, brother of the groom, was best man. The presents received were many and handsome. The wedded couple enjoy a wide and popular acquaintance. Misses Kate and Jane Burns arrived home from Utica, N.Y., to attend the wedding of their sister.

Belonged To Donoghue Bros.

The cattle shipped on the SS. Huronia, one of which was said to be afflicted with pleuro-pneumonia, belonged to Donoghue Bros., of this city. The cattle were purchased in Toronto. One lot was shipped from there to Howe Island in May, and another lot in June last. None of the cattle were afflicted with disease when bought and could not have caught it at the Howe Island farm, visited by Dr. McEachern, the government veterinary inspector. The Donoghue Bros. say that the beast which was sick on the steam ship only suffered from a severe cold, contracted in the passage between Canada and England. If it had pleuro-pneumonia, claimed to be a contagious disease, the other cattle on the ship would certainly have been affected. Dr. McEachern was satisfied that the beast did not catch any disease on the farm on the island. The animal was killed at Liverpool and part of one of the lungs is on the way to Canada to be examined by experts at Ottawa.
