GOOD FRIDAY AND EASTER.

To-morrow and Sunday the whole christian world commemorates two great events, (1) that Christ died for man's sins and (2) that He rose again for man's justification. The resurrection is the keystone in the arch of christian faith, and in regard to it anti-christians have fired their most violent darts. But christians manifest complete confidence in the facts as recorded in the scriptures, one writer remarking: "The way in which St. Paul staked everything on the truth of the resurrection shows both his estimate of its central place in the christian system and his unwavering confidence in the fact. Some profess to admit the fact of the resurrection of Christ, but explain away or throw doubt on other miracles. But if the great miracle of the resurrection of Jesus be fully accepted, this creates a strong presumption of the truth of other recorded miracles. It shows His character and mission to be such as would lead us to expect such displays of His divine power. Hence we rejoice in the assurance of the resurrection, because it is the pledge and earnest of our resurrection and of all the blessings of redemption." The christians of this city will, with glad hearts, honor the great event.

BALANCE OF TRADE.

A friend has forwarded an article to us regarding "the 'balance of trade' and recent financial events" in which it is shown that that fallacy of protection props itself largely upon other fallacies, among which is to be counted the balance-of-trade fallacy. According to this, when the statistics of a country's exports and imports show that the value of the imports exceeds the value of its exports, that country is buying too much and is on the road to ruin. When, on the other hand, the exports largely exceed in value the imports, the excess is called a "favorable balance" and the country is said to be getting rich. This view assumes that the balance is paid to the exporting country in cash. It might be supposed, however, that any country would be very glad to exchange products of a certain value for foreign products of a great deal higher value and might very readily get rich that way. It would seem to be certain that a house into which more is brought daily than is taken out will get full sooner than one from which the outgo constantly exceeds the income. Certain stubborn facts seem to testify that the latter is the correct view. And to support this belief the following is quoted:

"England is beyond question, considering its area and population, the wealthiest country in the world, and the country which is making the steadiest growth in wealth. Yet for the last thirty-five years the 'balance of trade' has been against her. Her imports constantly and largely exceed her exports. In the period between 1850 and 1890 her imports have exceeded her exports by the enormous sum of $13,250,000,000. Not in one year, nor in two years, has this thing been going on, but for the whole thirty-five years. Protectionists, therefore, who paint an excess of imports over exports as a dreadful thing, and enact high tariff laws to check imports, ought to be able to point now to England as a country in rags and tatters, bankrupt and repentant. They ought, if their theory about keeping our imports is sound, to be able to descant upon the folly of the mother country in buying so much beyond her ability to pay, and the greater folly of other countries in continuing to sell to her. An 'unfavorable balance' of $13,250,000,000! If Mr. Foster were prime minister of England he would doubtless feel it to be his duty to stop this excess of income over outgo.

"Prof. Bastable, of the university of Dublin, undertakes to account for it as being a result of England's profits in her various foreign enterprises and investments. Some $300,000,000 a year of this 'unfavorable' balance consists of the profits of British shipping, these profits being remitted from abroad not in cash but in the form of merchandise—grain, cotton, coffee, tea, silk, sugar, etc. Interests and dividends from investments in various foreign countries add to the influx of merchandise from which the English 'suffer.' English capital is constantly wanted for the development of mines, railroads, furnaces, mills, breweries, etc., in all parts of the world. Sometimes it is productive of handsome earnings which are sent home in the most profitable manner—in products that can be sold at an advance. It is plain that England can stand its excess of imports indefinitely, and her economists affirm that the country which exports more than it imports needs to consider its position."

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

The women, by the legislature, were allowed to study and practice law, but they were refused the franchise. That is, they are competent to discuss law, but not to make it.

The Ontario legislature has been prorogued, and nothing has been heard about the awful iniquities of which the government was alleged to be guilty. What's the matter with Mr. Meredith?

* * *

Why didn't the legislature grant $5,000 to the provincial fair? Because Mr. Meredith wouldn't let his followers vote for it lest it would be an acknowledgment of Mr. Harty's activity and lend him popularity.

* * *

The incapacity of Sir Adolph Caron as a cabinet minister is fully exhibited by Major-General Herbert's reports. The militia system is generally condemned, and the major-general knows what he is talking about.

In 1866 the estimated population of the earth was 1,350,000,000. In 1880 a more accurate enumeration put it at 1,456,000,000. In 1882 it was announced as 1,434,000,000, an apparent loss of 22,000,000 in two years, the showing being due to the greater accuracy in the statistics. The figures for 1891 are 1,479,730,000, which show an average annual increase since 1882 of 5,750,000.

An Odessa correspondent remarks: "We were under the impression that Canada enjoyed the privileges of responsible government, or government of the people, for the people and by the people, to an extent equal to any country in a similar position. The bright dream has received a rude awakening. The action of Sir John Thompson, the real leader of Canadian toryism, in reference to the Haggart and Caron charges, is as despotic and as autocratic as anything ever perpetrated by the Russian czar or Persian shah. Will it be necessary to rebel again?"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

They Endure Torture.

KINGSTON, April 13.—(To the Editor): A recent conversation with the governor of the county jail brought out the fact that prisoners awaiting trial, not convicts, but men who may, when tried, be acquitted and found innocent, are in a much worse position than the convict themselves. They are placed on the lowest scale of dietary, they have no regular exercise, and in summer, when the guards are outside in the grounds, have very little chance of exercise at all, and worst of all they have absolutely no employment for either mind or body. Can any one conceive a more fearful punishment? A sentence of hard labor must be luxury itself compared with the lot of those who, though committed for trial, are not yet proved guilty and sentenced. A library is a crying need in the jail. But, as Mr. Corbett pointed out to me, the county council has no business to be philanthropic at the cost of the taxpayers, and is not therefore likely to supply the need.

The governor welcomed my suggestion that private philanthropy might well step in here and provide a small library of sound reading. Novels, of course, are prohibited, but surely there are many books of another nature, scientific, historical, biographical, religious, etc., as well as old copies of standard magazines, which are simply littering up the houses of Kingston, and would be destroyed but for a natural reluctance to destroy a book.

Will you allow me to suggest that instead of sending these to the second-hand book store they should be forwarded to Mr. Corbett for the use of prisoners. He would, I am sure, gladly accept them, and allow their use to all under his charge who would profitably use them.

There is little fear that even books usually accounted "dry" would be despised where there is absolutely nothing to do.—ROBERT W. RAYSON.

From the Northern Regions.

PEACE RIVER Ranch, Ver., Feb. 12.—(To the Editor): Your card of June 11th, with several WHIGS of June and July came to hand by January packet. Winter arrived earlier than usual and November was cold and stormy. This is unusual. Eclipse of the moon, seen from the ranche, was fine. December was fine. Small game taken in abundance, giving the Indians ample means to furnish themselves with other necessaries. This has been better for the farmer for those in the trade have been able to pay fair prices for all kinds of farm produce. January was mild until the 10th, then there was a few cold days. The mercury then dropped from 30° to 45° below freezing point. On the 18th the Chinook winds brought a mild and balmy time and for several days the snow disappeared. February promises to be cold and stormy. Snow is now about twenty inches deep.—J. L.

Crimean Veterans.

TORONTO, April 13.—(To the Editor): The secretary of state for war has written to my father, Lieut.-Gen. Laurie, as president of the Halifax, N.S., army veteran society, that discharged soldiers of the Imperial army who served ten years and went through Crimean or Indian mutiny campaigns must apply through secretary Royal hospital, Chelsea, giving full particulars of their service, in order to establish their claim to special pension.—J. H. LAURIE.

Pyramids of Egypt—A Pyramid of Fame in Canada.

The Egyptian Pyramids are generally supposed to have been intended as mausoleums for the kings. They were begun, it is conjectured, about 1204 years before the birth of Christ, by Cheops and Cephrenes; four of these immense structures have attracted particular attention; the two largest are 480 feet in height; and one of them covers 13 English acres of ground.

These pyramids are wonderful in their construction, and have been visited by thousands from all parts of the world.

Our Canadian people have heard of these immense structures, but only a few have seen them. Canadians have in their own land a magnificent pyramid of fame, built by an agent which has conferred good on hundreds of thousands of our people. This agent and its indestructible pyramid of fame and popularity must remain a standing memorial of worth, honesty, greatness and goodness when the giant structures of Egypt will be reduced to dust, and their names forgotten. This agent of fame is Paine's Celery Compound—a preparation that gives a fresh life to the broken down and diseased of our land. While the pyramids of Egypt enclose and protect the dead, this agent restores to new life those whom the grave would claim as victims. It can be said with great truth and force that Paine's Celery Compound is a strong and mighty deliverer.

This magnificent and wondrous remedy is now attracting and commanding more attention than ever the pyramids of Egypt did. Men, women and children speak of it, and sound its praises. The nervous, sleepless, weak, neuralgic, rheumatic and broken-down are raised to the safe and solid rock of health, and years added to their lives.

Paine's Celery Compound is curing disease every day where doctors have failed. It is in this way its pyramid of fame has been reared in this Canada of ours. It is the only medicine possessing true worth and merit that has come to the notice of sufferers. It cures as surely as night follows day. One single trial is sufficient for the doubting and skeptical individual.

Judges' Salaries.

The dominion government has decided to increase by $1,000 the salary of each of the judges of the provincial courts. Sir John Thompson, Monday, gave notice of a motion which will increase the salary of chief justice Hagarty, chief justice Armour, chancellor Boyd and chief justice Sir Thomas Galt each from $6,000 to $7,000, and the salary of justices Burton, Osler, Maclennan, Falconbridge, Street, Meredith, Ferguson, Robertson, Rose and McMahon each from $5,000 to $6,000. The salaries of the judges of the court of queen's bench and of the superior court in Quebec will be raised to the same figures. The salaries of the chief justices and justices of the supreme courts of the other provinces will be also increased by $1,000, and will be, as before, $1,000 less respectively than those of the judges in Ontario and Quebec, except in Prince Edward Island, where the salary of the chief justice will be $6,000, instead of $4,000, and that of the assistant judges $4,500, instead of $3,200.

Death of an Old Settler.

The funeral of Wm. Gibson took place from his residence, in Yonge Front, on the 5th inst. The subject of this brief sketch was born in this township and was one of the descendants of the early pioneers. He had lived all his life-time in the township, and at his death was in his seventy-second year. He was highly respected by all who knew him as a man possessing a kind and genial disposition and of more than ordinary intellectual attainments. In religion he was identified with the Presbyterian church, and in politics an ardent and life-long liberal. His body was interred in the Yonge Mills cemetery, where rests the remains of a number of the early settlers who, during their life-time, were his associates and neighbors. He leaves a family of grown-up and well-to-do children to mourn the loss of a father, and a bereaved widow, who has the universal sympathy of the community. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Wright, who preached a very appropriate sermon from James iv.-14.

LETTER FROM CHICAGO.

"DON" GIVES SOME OF THE WINDY CITY EVENTS.

Boodling in the Aldermanic Ranks—A Great Disaster the Result of a Cyclone—The Device Typifying the City—Why Close the City Offices on St. Patrick's Day?

CHICAGO, April 11.—(To the Editor): Chicago would not be herself is she did not attract more than the ordinary share of attention and recently seems to be out-doing herself. It has been feared that our council was not overly pure and late developments prove that these presumptions are not unfounded, as nine aldermen have been arrested and indicted, charged with boodling. The rarity (?) of this offence makes it the more sensational. What the outcome may yet be is not known, but the surroundings are most congenial for bribery and corruption to flourish here. In the scoop which has been made is it not possible that the "small fry" may have been caught while the big fish escaped? This sensation, coming as it did, so near the time of the aldermanic election, may have had its potent effects, but the Australian ballot system (which is a novelty to Chicago voters) has, no doubt, also been responsible for the results. Of the sixty-eight aldermen elected, thirty-one are republican; thirty-four democrats and three independent democrats. Great is the rejoicing of the republicans because of Ald. Cullerton's defeat, as this ex-alderman's reputation is rather unsavory. The Australian ballot system and the active campaign against him, by the Inter-Ocean, has had considerable to do with this gentleman's involuntary retirement from the city council.

It was a fearful disaster that occurred at Nos. 14 and 16, Pearce street, last Friday evening, when the cyclone, which struck the city, bore down with it the new seven-story brick structure at the above numbers, crushing out the lives of nine human beings and maiming several others. The censure has been severe, (as it usually is when similar accidents happen) but who is to be blamed, the building inspector or the owner of the structure? For a short time there are likely to be the pros and cons in the matter, and then the whole affair will be relegated to the dead past. This is expected. In the large centers of population the press of business and the rush for money—for all that is worldly, leaves but little time for thought, for action, in such matters—people forge madly on, unheeding and uncaring, after the first shock, after the curiosity is satiated. This accident happened in a part of the city where the elite do not dwell; the poor find a place of shelter called a "home" there. The mass of ruins still remains guarded by a solitary policeman and the odor of a horse killed in the wreck.

Sometime ago the Inter Ocean offered three prizes for the best pen and ink sketch typical of this great metropolis—Chicago. A committee consisting of several of our most noted citizens was appointed to make the awards. Three weeks ago the important question was decided. Shall I say decided? At all events the awards were made. About three hundred sketches had been received and the first prize fell to the lot of Charles Holloway of Chicago. The figure is that of a tall female clad in a loose, sleeveless garment reaching almost to the ankles, on her breast a cuirass upon which are inscribed the words, "I will." Her head is crowned by a phoenix-hemlet, intended, doubtless, to typify Chicago's rise from her ashes of 1871! In her left hand she holds a square which rests against her thigh. Her feet are certainly not of a size to justify the charge, that Chicago feet are abnormally large. They are planted far apart and her attitude is such as to lead the most incredulous to think that she can stand immovable in the windiest wind that may strike this windy city. The determined expression and warlike bearing of this figure and especially the steadfast gaze of her massive eyes, is certainly striking. Whether this or the other two prize-winning cartoons will be generally accepted for typifying our city is yet to be evinced. Many of the drawings were cleverly executed, many ludicrous, but, be the outcome what it may, the Inter Ocean is certainly to be commended for its action in the matter.

The recent sale of the Santa Fe property at State and 12th streets to the elevated railway company is the largest real estate deal ever effected in Cook county, over $8,000,000 being paid for the property. A depot to cost $2,500,000 is said to be built at this point and the road will be running in time to accommodate the world's fair visitors.

The storms of the past few days have been quite destructive, and yesterday morning a cyclone in miniature damaged the Illinois state building at the world's fair grounds to the extent of $10,000 to $20,000.

Good progress has been made at Jackson park, where about 4,800 men are employed on the grounds and buildings. With the advent of spring and fine weather the work will be pushed rapidly. The greatness of the undertaking cannot be rightly utilized without seeing the work, both complete and incomplete, at the grounds of the world's Columbian exposition. I hope to see Canada make a creditable exhibit that she may dispel the too prevalent false idea, regarding her resources and her people. Action, immediate action should be taken and now is the time to assert herself.

A decidedly ludicrous and uneven contest was held in the city hall, last week. An evening paper published a scurrilous article about state's attorney Longenecker, and when the reporter who wrote the article called upon his lordship the following day a heated controversy took place culminating in an assault, in which the state's attorney melted Salt. Mr. Salt is a diminutive man, while the state's attorney—well, he is pretty "hefty." Acting upon the advice of his chief, Salt entered an action against the state attorney. This gentleman was arrested and giving bail for his appearance was released. He, in turn, entered an action for libel, but being a man of honor and feeling that, perhaps his part in the affair was not strictly worthy of the state's attorney, had an interview with the assaulted. Each gentleman withdrew his charge and apologies were profuse on both sides. Judge Longenecker not only made amends to Mr. Salt in private, but publicly apologized, while the evening paper in question published an apology, which, all being taken into consideration, was the proper thing, for all parties concerned, to do.

Anent the closing of the offices in the city hall, on St. Patrick's day, by order of the mayor of Chicago, Dr. P. S. Henson, of the First Baptist church, presented a resolution at the Baptist ministers' meeting, on the 4th inst., the gist of the same being condemnatory of such action on the part of the mayor, and to the effect that if there was any good reason why the city hall office should be closed on St. Patrick's day, why should they not be closed on the natal days of the patron saints of other countries? Or why should they be closed at all on such occasions? Can anyone answer?—DON.

BACKWOODS JUSTICE.

How the Case Was Settled—Lots of Logs And Wood Taken Out.

SHARBOT LAKE, April 12.—Taking a ramble through the north of the county we found the farmers preparing for spring's work. We saw a large lot of logs, binders, floats, etc., at Clarendon station awaiting shipment and being loaded as fast as cars could be obtained. The principal shippers here are W. H. Chambers, R. Burke, jr., Moses Chambers, A. McCoy, J. Robinson, John Donnelly, J. Boles, C. Donnelly and M. Barrigan. James Campbell has done a large business in his store during the winter and now has a popular clerk in the person of Charles Grills.

At Ompah station we saw our old friend W. J. Donaldson, the reeve of Palmerston, loading a thousand logs besides timber, etc., which he got out during the winter. A large lot of logs, etc., were also got out here by W. G. Mundell, Robert Black and others. A large business is done at this station and we were sorry to see every dwelling house vacant. We were, however, entertained hospitably by Mr. Donaldson in the vacant blacksmith shop. We saw signs of life and stir at Lavant, Folger, Flower and Calabogie. At the latter place there are numerous saw and shingle mills, but they had not commenced the season's work.

It is said that many years ago, that if a prominent Englishman would cross over to Ireland, for his amusement they would always entertain him to a wake, even though they had to prepare on the spur of the moment a subject. However, that may be I was highly amused and entertained by listening to and observing a back country majesty's court of justice. When the court was opening in due and ancient form, the crowd appeared terror-stricken with the awful power and dignity of the justice of the peace. The parties were three ladies, one a complainant and the other two defendants. The charge was that the defendants had made two socks and called them a pair, while there should always be three socks to properly form a pair.

The defendants acknowledged the crime. The magistrate threatened them with a fine of ten dollars each, but with the wisdom of a Solomon, which far exceeded a Blackstone, he lectured them for twenty minutes and then dismissed the case. This is said to be a fair sample of the backwoods court of justice. The ice has about left Sharbot Lake. We are pleased to see our old friend, T. B. Campbell, who has returned to live with us.

One of Jas. Ryan's boys had a very bad accident to his arm. Robert Muldoon and family removed to Manitoba. They will be very much missed. Robert was one of the most genial and jovial men who could be found. We all wish him and his family great success. It is thought that about the first of May the work of the building on the new line of the C.P.R. will be commenced. Jesse Shibley, clerk of the division court, is kept very busy. A very large number of suits are being entered. We see parties for twenty miles are visiting our stores and purchase largely. There is nothing like a good, strong, healthy competition.

A REGRETTED DEATH.

Mr. Lee Died From Lung Trouble — A Preacher Who Held Attention.

ODESSA, April 13.—J. G. Ettinger, Kingston, was in town on Sunday. Mr. Alport, Smith's Falls, is visiting James Johnston. Alpheus Hartman and John Graham have gone to Montreal and Ottawa in the interest of the Odessa chair company; John Cairns and son go to Hamilton and Will Caton to Toronto. Miss Doyle, teacher of the second department of the public school, is a victim of the prevailing epidemic of measles. She is at her home in Camden. Sydney J. Sproule is as happy as the day is long—it's a boy.

The Rev. R. Mallett, Morven, preached in the Methodist church on Sunday night. He took for a subject, "Dead Reckoning," and advocated holiness of life with complete emancipation from sin. The reverend gentleman has considerable of the sensational in his style of preaching and retains the interest of his audience. Miss Ida Lewis has been very ill with intermittent fever. Mr. Pringle, Napanee, is here to start the foundry going for this season. Mr. Babcock intends making this one of Odessa's principal industries.

This is to be a sweet season for Odessa. One day last week the firm of Mabee & Co., received in stock twelve tons of sugar. This is by far the largest importation of "Fly attractor" ever received here at one time. We doubt if there are many retail grocers in Kingston who handle sugar in such large quantities. We owe our very best apology to Capt. Walker of the S.A., for referring to her last week as Capt. Campbell. Her name is Walker and she is a "walker." The way she "walks into sin, drink and the devil" proves her to be a proficient and successful army officer. The ladies' aid are going to celebrate the public holiday on Friday evening next by a social re-union at the residence of Dr. Meacham.

A death that is the occasion of wide-spread sorrow occurred to-day. Wm. Lee expired this morning at nine o'clock, from the effects of that dread disease, consumption. Mr. Lee was confined to the house since last fall, and spent the winter fighting the disease for which there seems to be no cure. Mr. Lee was born in the old Lee homestead, one-half mile from Odessa, on May 1st, 1840, and lived here, by far the greater part of his life-time. He was of a genial, good-natured disposition, and was deservedly popular with all. He was married to the daughter of Andrew Emery, and lived a happy, agreeable life. The widow is the recipient of heartfelt sympathy.

Oh, What a Cough.

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails.

Every Little Helps.

A sarcastic exchange cuttingly observes that "the success of the World's fair is assured, since Bulgaria has declared that she will participate." But, in spite of this newspaper's irony, it is quite safe to predict that Bulgaria's exhibit will be one of the most attractive at the exposition.

Give the Ladies a Chance.

It is not surprising that there is more or less discord among the woman managers of the World's Columbian exposition. It took men 1,200 years to learn how to act together in freedom and harmony, and the women have not had fifty years' experience yet. Give 'em time—give 'em time.

MONTREAL, Aug. 4th, 1891.

My head was literally full of Dandruff and nothing applied gave visible relief until using Anti-Dandruff, a few applications of which has so thoroughly removed the dandruff there is not a grain to be found.

W. H. O'REGAN,
Ry. Mail Clerk.

Mayor McIntyre stated to-day that a wrong impression had gone abroad that the city council was against the belt line railway bill. This was not true as far as he was concerned. He did not want to do anything that would strangle a legitimate enterprise, but in the city's interests he wanted the bill passed embodying clauses that would guard the corporation's rights.

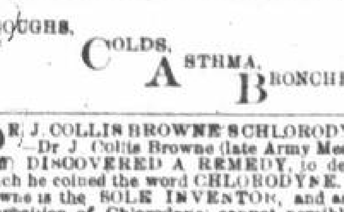
Dr. J. COLLIS BROWN'S



CHLORODYNE

COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS

IS THE GREAT SPECIFIC FOR DIARRHOEA, DYSENTERY, CHOLERA.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.—Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff) DISCOVERED A REMEDY, to denote which he coined the word CHLORODYNE. Dr. Browne is the SOLE INVENTOR, and as the composition of Chlorodyne cannot possibly be discovered by analysis (organic substances defying elimination) and since the formula has never been published, it is evident that any statement to the effect that a compound is identical with Dr. Browne's Chlorodyne must be false. This caution is necessary, as many persons deceive purchasers by false representations.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.—Vice Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated publicly in Court that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of CHLORODYNE; the whole story of defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, and he regretted to say, it had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE is the true palliative in NEURALGIA, GOUT, CANCER, TOOTHACHE, RHEUMATISM.

GENERAL BOARD OF HEALTH, London, Report that it acts as a charm, one dose generally sufficient.

DR. GIBBON, Army Medical Staff, Calcutta, states, "Two doses completely cured me of diarrhoea."

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE is a liquid medicine which assuages PAIN of EVERY KIND, affords a calm, refreshing sleep, WITHOUT HEADACHE, and invigorates the nervous system when exhausted.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE rapidly cuts short all attacks of EPILEPSY, SPASMS, COLIC, PALPITATION, HYSTERIA.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—The Immense Sale of this Remedy has given rise to many Unscrupulous Imitations. Be careful to observe Trade Mark. Of all Chemists 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d. & 4s. 6d. SOLE MANUFACTURER. J. T. DAVENPORT, 33 Great Russell Street, London, W. C., England.
