A POLITICAL RAILWAY.

The government that did not do something to reform the International railway management and have such evidence of its rottenness as was presented before the royal commission must be indifferent of public opinion and of its fate. Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, the manager of the line, freely confessed that political influence and political considerations made the cost of the road very great, while, for the same reason, the rates were made discriminatory, and the leakage was very expensive. "For instance," said he, "a conductor can collect tickets and not punch them, and then issue them again and again." The examination being continued these facts came out:

"May there not be a leakage from people being passed on the lines without getting tickets? Certainly, and in other ways; for instance, a conductor can collect tickets and not punch them, and then issue them again and again.

"Does that not happen on every road? Yes; but you can quite understand that on companies' roads, if there is pretty strong proof that this is being done, prompt dismissal of the conductors follows, but in case of government roads the difficulty is that unless there is absolute proof of the wrongdoing it is difficult to mete out punishment.

"Do you think there is more leakage on the International in this respect than on any other road? I am not prepared to say, but the leakage is no doubt heavy.

"Is not that leakage caused, to a certain extent, by the want of facilities to discharge suspected men? I have no doubt of it.

"Do you suffer much on your lines through deadheads? Taking the regular authorized passes, I do not think we issue so many as they do on companies' roads. But I am afraid there are a great many unauthorized passes given, that we know nothing about at the time, and only find out occasionally.

"Do you mean that conductors passed them? Yes; conductors passed them, and not long ago we discovered that one of our superintendents had been passing a great number of people, by giving them small slips of paper.

"If he gives a regular pass you will know it, because they are issued from numbered books, are they not? Yes; it should be known, but he did not do that, he gave them on small bits of paper, which were torn up, instead of being sent to the audit office.

"Surely that pass can be checked? An effort is made to check it, but it is no easy matter.

"Then conductors must have instructions to recognize those bits of papers? No doubt, from the party who gives them.

"Might you have some conductors who would not recognize them? Possibly, but it is very difficult for a conductor to dishonor them, as he is under the district superintendent's orders.

"Would the district superintendent dismiss him for that? No; but he could make it very unpleasant for him.

"The conductors surely know that there is somebody above the district superintendent? It is sometimes very difficult, even when an investigation is held, to get a conductor to admit the truth.

The whole discipline of the road is out of tune, and the whole force requires reorganizing. It is no wonder there is a large deficit annually in the finances of the road running up to three quarters of a million. It is quite possible that the road, by the closest economy, cannot be made to pay all its expenses, but it is quite evident that it is being too loosely run, and robbed, and that its revenues, if properly collected and husbanded, will go a long way towards the liquidation of its obligations.

"The liberals two years ago," says the Moncton Transcript, "in convention laid down a platform, carefully prepared after consultation to meet the wishes of the I.C.R. employes. It struck at the root of the abuses and evils, endorsed the proposal to move the management of the I.C.R. from Ottawa to Moncton; demanded the dismissal of Schreiber and also the adoption of a more regular time of payments; but what did the I.C.R. employees do? Almost to a man they voted against W. F. George in this county who endorsed that platform.

"To day the I.C.R. employees are realizing how base is the ingratitude of the tory leaders, and how they voted against their own interest in rejecting Mr. George! The latter was sincere in his desire to promote the interests of the I.C.R. employees; but the latter preferred to vote for a railway boss and to-day they are reaping their reward."

The question in which the people of Canada is interested is not whether the management shall be removed from Ottawa to Moncton, or whether a certain number of men shall be retained in the service of the railway, but how the road can be best run in the public interest, how much can be saved by an honest and economical conduct of its affairs. At present it is being shamefully plundered, and sooner than that sort of thing should be openly continued there will be a repudiation of the bargain which makes the I.C.R. a connecting link between the provinces.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

Mr. Gladstone's characterization of Lord Salisbury's recent speech on the Ulster agitation as "no longer the isolated expression of a single political incendiary," is very good. The expression is unique and original enough to be patented.

Grip put the situation correctly when it drew a picture of Sir John Thompson addressing a member of the civil service, and put these words in his mouth:

"Recollect, sir, that this government's determined to enforce honesty and efficiency in the public service. If you are caught forging or stealing, or otherwise violating the rules of the service, you will be suspended and tried, and, if convicted, sir, you will be reinstated and receive your back salary in full, less one month's pay to be docked for the looks of the thing."

THE COUNCIL MEETING.

TALKING OVER THE LOCATION OF A HIDE HOUSE.

The Matter Was Finally Sent to the Board of Health—The Auditors Send in Their Report—A Special Committee to Consider the Subject of Exemptions.

A regular meeting of the city council was held last evening. There were present Mayor McIntyre; Alds. Behan, Carson, Curtis, Dunlop, Elliott, Fair, Gaskin, Hardy, Herald, Meek, Oberndorffer, Polson, Robinson, Ryan, Skinner, Wilson and Wright.

In opening the proceedings the mayor said he hoped the aldermen would pay more attention to the reading of the minutes than they had done at previous meetings. Strict attention must be paid so that the minutes may pass without errors.

COMMUNICATIONS READ.

From J. H. Metcalfe, M.P., acknowledging vote of thanks. Fyled.

From Mrs. Sarah Mackenzie, widow of the late Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, acknowledging receipt of resolution of condolence. Fyled.

From the tax collector stating that the amount of taxes and percentage collected for 1891 to date is $126,384 46; percentage, $1,123.11; balance due, $8 723.38; collected since last report, $833 89. Referred to the finance committee.

From Mrs. J. Farrington, asking for a remission of street watering taxes. Referred to the streets committee.

The report of the city auditors, Messrs. A. McArthur and J. P. Oram, was read. The transfers from the assessor's rolls to the collector's rolls, and the calculations of the latter were found correct. In the final return of the collector's rolls for the year 1891, $86.99 was paid over to the treasurer in excess of the amount credited on the rolls. In the interim return of taxes, for the year 1891, made up to April 1st inclusive, the sum of $104 33 was paid over to the treasurer in excess of the amount credited on the rolls. A marked improvement has taken place in the condition of the collector's books as compared with previous years, but there were a few items to which the auditors desired to call attention. They are the proper division of taxes at the time of payment so that the separate schools may secure the amount to which they are entitled without delay. The errors in this connection at this audit amount to $345 61. The work should be checked over from day to day and the cash balanced. By this means errors may easily be detected and the work of the audit be greatly aided. The books of the treasurer were found correctly kept. A statement compiled from the various books was presented. Referred to the finance committee.

PRESENTING PETITIONS.

Ald Polson—From Alfred Martin and ninety others suggesting that the line of the extension of Sydenham street to Brock street avoid the premises of James Reid. By such change the cost of the extension would be greatly reduced, because there are expensive buildings at the rear of his premises. Another petition on the same subject from James Reid was submitted. Both documents were referred to the streets committee.

Ald. Ryan—From Bawden & Charles, asking for a rebate of auctioneer's license. Granted. From Sarah Holder, stating that water flooded her cellar. Referred to the streets committee.

Ald. Hardy—From John McKay, asking permission to erect a hide house in the vicinity of a tannery in Cataraqui ward.

Ald. Hardy, after intimating that J. McKay had been put to considerable trouble, hoped the council would grant the request.

Ald. Gaskin said the matter should be referred to the city solicitor; that the council had no right to deal with the subject.

Ald. Meek said the board of health had this matter in hand.

Ald. Hardy said he had lived near a hide house and had never been annoyed by a disagreeable smell. The council should be able to give him permission to build a hide house.

Ald. Polson said Mr. McKay's petition was a very important one. If his business is considered a legitimate one there should be certain limits in which he could carry on this business. The council should be able to assign Mr. McKay a position within a certain area and he should be given a guarantee that he would not be disturbed within a certain period.

Ald. Wright said he lived near a hide house on Colborne street for years and had never found it a nuisance. There were no complaints about it. He did not think a hide house would be a greater nuisance near the cotton mill than on Colborne street.

Ald. Meek said Mr. McKay's petition deserved consideration. While he was willing to submit to the board of health's ruling he met with another embarrassment. The question was whether the council would allow Mr. McKay to move his business out of the city. Dr. Fee was the only man who objected to Mr. McKay putting up a hide house on a lot near the tannery. A hide house was no more a nuisance than a tannery, yet Mr. Carrington was given exemption. The council should deal with this matter as soon as possible.

Ald. Herald wanted to disabuse the minds of some people that there had been a conflict between Mr. McKay and board of health. This was not so. The board of health only stood as an arbiter between Mr. McKay and the people who objected to a hide house being near their residence. The speaker was in favor of encouraging legitimate business, and was in favor of Mr. McKay's petition, provided it was referred to the city solicitor before being passed by the council.

The mayor said that Mr. McKay knew that he need not remove his business from its present location if it was not a nuisance. If a hide house is a nuisance the council cannot protect the proprietor.

Ald. Gaskin said that if Mr. McKay erected a hide house in Cataraqui ward, and if it became a nuisance, residents near it could bring an action against the city. He thought the application should not be entertained by the council, until the city solicitor gave his opinion whether the house would interfere with the rights of the people.

Ald. Robinson said that the bad drainage in the vicinity of Mr. McKay's hide-house was the cause of the bad smells supposed to come from his hide-house. There would be no stench, if the drain was rectified, and no more smell would come from the house than from the hide-house on Colborne street.

Ald. Behan said it had not been proven that the hide house was a nuisance, and he could not see any reason for the council to object to Mr. McKay's application.

Ald. Polson said he would regret if Mr. McKay was hounded out of the city by parties who acted out of spite towards him.

Ald. Meek said Ald. Hardy should withdraw his motion. It was evident Mr. McKay could build a hide house without the permission of the council. If he erected the hide house and if people proceeded against him, they would have to take into consideration other nuisances in the same locality.

The matter was referred to the board of health.

Ald. Robinson—From Hugh Doyle and others, asking permission to remove boardwalk outside of boulevards on Brock street. Referred to the streets committee.

Ald. Elliott—From R. Downey and others, asking for a local improvement sewer on Jenkins street. Referred to streets. Request of J. King and others to remove sidewalk outside of boulevard granted.

Ald. Skinner—From Kingston athletic association, asking the city to open up Earl street to the grounds for athletic purposes. Referred to the streets committee.

FINANCE REPORT.

Ald. Curtis presented the report of the committee on finance and accounts, recommending the payment of the following accounts: R. Rithcock, street watering, $28.50; John Lemon, street watering, $19.00; Adams, cutting grass, $20; James Bennett, market, $26; C. Clark, street watering, $52 50; J. Henderson & Co., stationery, $16 69; W. S. Drewry, trading Kingston belt line, $5; James Crozier, labor, park, $10 40; John Laird, painting stand, city park, $25; Walter Scott, benches, parks, $26; J. Douglas, sundries, city building, $6 35; S. A. Hentig, postage stamps, $6; W. McCammon, paid sundries, shambles, $2; Gazette Printing Co., board of health, $5; Savage Bros., $2.10; F. A. Bibby, funeral, $10; O. G. Johnson, flowers, $15; T. Wells, witness fees, $7 40; R. McVety, crockings, $40; J. Brackenden & Co., tile, $656 11; James Purtell, drain, $23; Bell Telephone Co., $6 35; E. McFadden, carting, $56 25; John O'Brien, stone, $4 67; D. Keegan, $12.31; W. D. McRae, $2; pay roll, $921 34; H. Skinner & Co., $6 75.

The committee recommended payment of pound keeper's salary at the rate of $240 up to June 1st, and at the rate of $150 from that date, when increased fees come into force under amended pound by-law.

Water works department—Labor pay list, ending June 8th, $229 96; expenses on suction pipe, $333 12; Fire and Water, one year's subscription, $5; K. & P. R. Co., freight, $1.54; Bell Telephone Company, six months' rent, $6 25; John Cunningham, $1.50; Chown & Cunningham, $14 19; T. Robertson & Co., $5 67.

The mayor stated he had called special meetings of the finance committee for the purpose of considering applications for exemption. He had failed to secure a quorum on any occasion. He would call another meeting and if a quorum did not attend he would ask the council to appoint a special committee to consider the exemption question as a whole.

The reports were adopted.

Ald. Gaskin submitted the report of the streets committee. Ald. Elliott objected to $125 being taken out of the general funds to build a boardwalk near the athletic grounds. The money should be taken out of the appropriation for Victoria ward.

The streets report was discussed by Alds. Skinner, Curtis, Polson, Gaskin and Robinson.

Ald. Polson presented the report of the committee on water works the particulars of which have been published. After a short discussion the report was carried.

Ald. Hardy presented the report of the committee on city property. Carried.

After several by-laws were adopted the council adjourned at 11:15 o'clock.

THE LATE REV. H. FARRER.

Lovingly Laid to Rest With Every Token of Appreciation at Last!

Correspondence Canadian Churchman.

We laid him out in cassock, surplice and white stole, with a gold cross on his breast, which he always wore and which was to him the symbol of that faith for which he labored so hard. On Monday afternoon the body was removed to St. John's church, Bancroft, which was handsomely decorated with flowers. Many people drove from twelve to sixteen miles, through mud and rain, and one walked nine miles to see for the last time the kind face of this faithful priest. In the evening hymns were sung and the litany was said by one of the congregation. On Tuesday night Rev. W. W. Burton, of Madoc, arrived, read the litany and gave a short address. On Wednesday morning there was a celebration of the holy communion by Mr. Burton, assisted by Rev. E. Peck, Montreagle. Then the body was removed to St. George's church, L'Amable, five miles distant, at which the funeral office was said. All had heavy hearts, and many robust men, as well as women, wept tears for the true servant of the Lord whom we laid facing the west, to meet us face to face and lead to the judgment. He was carried to the grave by faithful churchmen, four being churchwardens. All places of business were closed till the funeral was over. Many brother masons came from long distances. He was taken from us in the midst of work! Two churches just paid for, and lately consecrated by the bishop of Toronto! Just beginning to pay for a mission house! Just beginning to build another church at Coe Hill! Where is the Elisha upon whom can fall the mantle of this Elijah, a priest of the most high God?

A Note to the Boys.

OTTAWA June 12—General militia orders says that a muster shall be made of every corps of active militia at the termination of the annual drill. In regard to pay lists the orders say: "The name of every person on the pay lists shall be called out by the paymaster, together with the amount due to him, and each person shall answer by passing the paymaster as his name is called. Those failing to answer their names are to be at once struck off the pay list." There have been difficulties about the pay lists, and the major-general is determined to have all the regulations enforced in regard to this and other matters.

A Terrible Scourge.

A scourge is raging among the cattle in Arizona and the border of Mexico. Old rancheros have never seen its like. The animal's head swells to the size of a barrel its eyes become bloodshot and bulge almost out of their sockets and the joints in the legs get festered and pulpy. Then a chill sets in and in paroxysms of pain the beast quivers as if electricity was darting through its muscles and topples over stark dead. The disease runs its course in about twelve hours. Hundreds of cattle have died within two months and owners are powerless to check the malady.

This is a Fact, Sure.

A local grain merchant said to-day: "Freights from New York to Glasgow are recorded at 1s 3d per quarter and Liverpool 1s 4d, while steamship owners at Montreal are asking and obtaining 8 1 per bushel more than is charged in New York. Our steamship men should not raise so much fuss over the 1½ tolls on the Welland canal in favor of Ogdensburg when they are charging 8d per quarter more from Montreal than can be obtained in New York. If they are so anxious for trade to go their way they should give the same freights as New York."

The death is announced of David Kelly, an old Kingston printer, in New York. He was well known to the compositors of 1860, and was beloved by them for his generosity and kindness of heart. He was employed in this office for several years, but left to better his condition in the big city.

CAPE VINCENT TOPICS.

A BUDGET FROM ACROSS THE ST. LAWRENCE RIVER.

The Republicans Not Delighted With the Presidential Candidate—The Summer Tourists Are Arriving—Children's Day in Various of the Churches.

CAPE VINCENT, June 13—An interesting game of baseball was played on Saturday afternoon at Fox Creek. The contesting clubs were the Fox Creek nine and a team from the north shore. The game was hotly contested and was one of the finest ever witnessed in the vicinity. One point was in favor of the Fox Creek club—their stratagem. This was what won them the game. At the end of the game the score stood: Fox Creek, 45; North Shore, 32. The score shows the game to be a peculiar one, for the reason that many so-called crack clubs fail to get over a tenth part as many runs. It was reported after the game that the winning club would challenge the Princess street club, Kingston. Many of our ball players were present and enjoyed the game. The republicans of our village and vicinity are not celebrating the nomination of their ticket at Minneapolis. Never before in the history of the village has a presidential nomination caused such a luke-warm display of enthusiasm. But there is a cause, of course, for the lack of enthusiasm. It is the fact that a great portion of the party wanted Mr. Blaine nominated. He was the choice of a great majority of our republican inhabitants. The democratic portion of the village are on the anxious seat. The convention meets next week. The party here is divided, some wanting Mr. Hill, others Grover Cleveland, and a few neither one. After the democrats made their nomination the campaign will open and continue until election day in November.

C. E. Whitney has returned from a southern tour. Our high school will close the 17th. Mrs. M. S. Cornalr has returned from a visit to Clayton. E. D. Fox and family, New York, have arrived for the summer. It is reported that a boat will be placed on the Cape-Alexandria Bay route this week. Large numbers of black bass are being taken at Wilson's Bay by our sportsmen. W. P. Esterbrook, Rahway, N.J., has arrived and will stop at this place during the summer. Mr. Esterbrook is one of the greatest fishermen on the river. A new band will be organized soon. Our fair will be held Sept. 6th, 7th and 8th. The manager of the Broadway nine, is trying to find some club to play with. New seats will be placed in Firemen's hall.

Our court was in session on Saturday. The services held at the Presbyterian church, Sunday, children's day, were very appropriate. In the evening a programme was presented by the Sunday school, consisting of songs, recitations and choruses. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers. A large number were present at both services. At the recent election of the engine company of the fire department one of the company was elected a policeman to keep order at fires. None of the other companies elected any. Mrs. C. W. Loudraville is recovering from a severe sickness. It is almost certain now that this place will celebrate the 4th of July. The lodge of Good Templars is growing fast. River View will celebrate the 4th of July. There will be all kinds of amusements. The village, though small, has more enterprise than some of the villages of ten times the size near by. The summer guests have commenced to arrive. Trains have been late for a few days back.

The services held at the Methodist church, Sunday, children's day, were very appropriate for the occasion. In the evening a concert was given, which was one of the finest ever listened to. The choir was enlarged for the occasion and consisted of about twenty voices, which were assisted by several orchestra instruments. The music was fine, both vocal and instrumental. The church was crowded, many being unable to gain admittance. Manager Newman, of our baseball club, says the boys are in good condition and will play good ball from now to the end of the season. There is very little sickness here at present. Stanley Reed, of this village, is working in Picton.

A Winter of Comfort.

"During the many sessions I have worked in our drafty press gallery (House of Commons)," writes Aubrey C. Hamilton, Ottawa, Can., "this is the only one throughout which I have not been subjected to lumbago. The cause of this is that I used St. Jacobs Oil this winter, and my lumbago then disappeared like snow before the sun." Pain vanishes at its touch.

Sent Up For Six Months.

Weston Cameron, who robbed several persons on Grenadier Island and was caught in Kingston and taken to Cape Vincent on Thursday, pleaded "guilty" before Justice Borland. He was promptly sentenced to the Monroe county penitentiary for six months. Cameron gave his age as seventeen, and when sentenced showed no signs of sorrow or regret for his crime or disgrace at going to prison. Chief Reff escorted him to Rochester on Friday.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggist sell it at 50c a package—enough for five weeks.

THE NEW BON MARCHE,

F. X. COUSINEAU'S OLD STAND

GAS STOVES

Among the many valuable features contained in these improved Gas Ranges, the following are worthy of special mention:—

THE OVENS are very large and well constructed, the heat being evenly distributed to all parts. They will bake, roast, broil and toast with much less labor and expense than either a coal or wood stove.

THE BURNERS are constructed on the most economical principles, giving a very powerful heat with a very small consumption of gas. In addition to this the valves are so made as to preclude any possibility of their being turned on or off by accident—a very important feature.

THE WATER HEATER is made on a new and greatly improved system, the same gas that does the cooking also utilized to heat the water for bath and kitchen purposes.

By this arrangement the cost of the separate water heating burner of the old system is saved almost entirely.
