The Annual Excursion.

The str. St. Lawrence brought about 750 excursionists from Watertown yesterday afternoon. The occasion was the annual trip of the Watertown high school, always well patronized. A stay of an hour was made in the city in which time the excursionists visited the city parks and several places of interest.

Small But Popular.

Probably the smallest telegraph messenger in Canada, is little Johnnie Hinds, son of John Hinds, street car driver, who is at present engaged with the C.P.R. company. He is thirteen years of age and does not measure three feet in height. Although only a messenger for the past month the little fellow has become a general favorite with the business class with whom he so frequently comes in contact and his honest disposition promises a brilliant career.

Blood Supply.

To one cupful of boiling milk add same quantity of St. Leon water "cold." Drink before, with or after meals freely as necessity requires. You will feel such glow, inconceivable warming and thrilling the pulses, such bracing of nervous power, such elevation of vital and mental force inconceivable, surpassing all preparations to supply life ever discovered. "We possess overwhelming authority." The Palace Hotel, St. Leon Springs, opened June 15th.—F. A. THOMAS, manager.

Police Court—Saturday.

Jesse Livery, who claimed to be a deck hand on the str. St. Lawrence, appeared at court, this morning, charged with drunkenness. He said he came from Clayton, and if let off would get back "before you can say Jack Robinson." His word was taken on a reserved fine of $5 and costs or twenty days in jail.

The case against Charles O'Neil, for an infraction of the Liquor license act, was adjourned to July 2nd.

Last Night's Festival.

The festival and concert under the auspices of the society of the Children of Mary at the city hall, last night, was not very largely attended. Still those who did avail themselves of an evening's entertainment enjoyed themselves immensely. The arrangement of the hall was becoming and the bouquet girls and lady waitresses up to the occasion. To particularize in the programme would be to mention the violin solo by Prof. Andre, whose ability with this instrument is becoming more and more apparent every day. These selections were given: Instrumental duet, Miss J. Halligan and Mr. Halligan; chorus, "Die Mariners," by young ladies' sodality; solo, "Heaven Thou," Miss M. E. Quigley; vocal duet, "Nobody Asked You, Sir," Misses Kathleen McFarland and Maud LaChance; violin solo, Prof. Andre; chorus, "Come Where the Lilies Bloom;" instrumental duet, Misses Katie and Susie Branigan.

Why He Would Keep the Engine.

At the meeting of the fire, water and light committee, yesterday afternoon, Ald. Ryan suggested that an automatic gate be placed on the water tower, so that when a fire occurred in the heart of the city a good pressure could be forced in the mains by the engine at the pumping station. The engineer stated that he was considering the matter about which Ald. Ryan had spoken. Mr. Bolger said that if the gate was put on so that the water from the tower could be shut off and the engine allowed to force full pressure all the old mains and sewer pipes would burst. The new portion of the water works would stand, but the old pipes would not be strong enough. This was one reason why he recommended the committee to keep the Merryweather. In case of a large fire some of the old mains might break, and then the pressure on the hydrants would not be sufficient to force the water on the buildings. This would be the time when the Merryweather would save what she was worth and the interest on the money.

St. Mary's of the Lake.

The parents and friends of the pupils in the above institution were regaled with a feast of classical music both vocal and instrumental, on Thursday afternoon. From the tiny tots of seven to the misses of seventeen, various grades were reviewed. Solos, duets and trios were accurately and admirably executed. The rendition of Maurer's "Home, Sweet Home" kept the audience spell-bound. The elegant hall of the convent was tastefully decorated with the drawings and paintings of the pupils. There was also a highly creditable exhibition of plain sewing, knitting and fancy work. The Revs. Fathers Carey and Murtagh presided, and complimented the devoted sisters and their pupils in well-merited words of praise, thanking them for the names of the parents and friends present, for the exquisite musical treat, and grand display of useful and ornamental work, all of which fully proved, that the nimble fingers of the fair young pupils were constantly employed during the school year. The modesty, simplicity and easy grace of the pupils spoke loudly in favor of the discipline of moral session, and the refining influence of a select school education. The distribution of medals and prizes will take place on the 23rd inst.

A SKETCH OF BICYCLING.

LOOKING OVER ITS HISTORY IN THE LIMESTONE CITY.

The "Bike" Was a Novelty Over Ten Years Ago—The First Men to Ride on Them—The High and the Low Wheels Compared—Help the Cyclers Along.

FULL OF AIR.

In 1881 the first bicyclist passed through Kingston. His appearance caused considerable excitement, and was a nine days' wonder. Now a bicycle hardly causes a glance from our business people unless he is a rider, and there is a magnetism that attracts all riders to a machine which cannot be resisted. Such was the introduction of the bicycle to this part of the country, and in a short time the grand, graceful old ordinary was a common sight on our streets.

The novelty of owning and riding the first wheel in Kingston fell to the lot of Mr. Bailey, teller of the British North America bank. He rode an American Sanspareil, and, like all the wheels of that time, weighed between fifty and sixty pounds, straight spokes, straight handles, small hard tire, and to the present day riders, to attempt a ride to Napanee on a wheel of that kind, would seem the height of folly. Still some long tours and comparatively fast time was made. Shortly after Mr. Bailey, W. C. Carruthers, Harry Richardson, D. F. Armstrong and John Tweedell purchased wheels. In 1882 the Kingston bicycle club was organized at the City hotel, under the direction of Dr. Doolittle, of Toronto, "the second oldest rider in Canada." There were eight members: R. Wilson, Geo. Smith, Jack Tweedell, D. F. Armstrong, N. Coy, W. Carruthers, Henry Richardson and W. Newman. The officers were: Hon. president, John Carruthers; captain and secretary and treasurer, D. F. Armstrong; lieutenant and bugler, John Tweedell. The first races were held by the club the same year, in the city park, and resulted in W. Skinner winning the two-mile gold medal, and George Smith the one-mile event. J. Minnes was very successful and the club's fastest rider, defeating several Toronto cracks and winning the Carruthers gold medal twice in succession, which made it his private property. Later on S McBride and J. McKay were the club's fast men, winning several prizes each, and, until the introduction of the safety, having things their own way.

In the present club there are some very good and fast men. E. O. Sliter holds the record to Odessa and back, twenty-five miles, although he has never won a race on the track. He is considered speedy. A. McMahon has only one win to his credit and that made at Peterboro on 24th May, still he is known as a good 'un. It ought to be show up well on July 1st; Bert. Robertson is showing great speed on the track, and Hugh Nickle is one of the youngest and best all-round riders in the club. The team for July 2nd road race will probably be chosen from the following men: Sliter, Robertson, Nickle, Nicholson, Newlands, Greeza, Raney and Hughes. Now that we have one of the fastest tracks in Canada, one must look for the introduction of the light racing safety and next season find some of our boys entered for the championship events.

One often hears that the prices of bicycles are too high, that they are not worth half the money, etc. One of the leading English manufacturers stated recently that it is quite possible to put $225 into a first class bicycle, and that only the first one, when we recognize that they are made of the finest cold drawn steel tubing, bearings gauged to the one thousandth part of an inch, and that a thirty pound wheel will carry a man of 160 lbs. over all kinds of roads and sometimes after years of running shows scarcely any wear. Those who purchase new wheels under $100 must only look for inferior and poor material.

One wonders what becomes of all the high wheels. They can be found stored away in garrets and in the back stores of bicycle dealers, with an occasional one seen on the street. We must not ridicule the riders of high wheels, for they are undoubtedly the wheel in the estimation of a good many safety riders.

How we laughed at the dwarts when they first made their appearance, but their present popularity can be traced to ease in learning, safety on hills, being free from headers; but one can never experience that sense of freedom on a safety found on an ordinary. The safety or rear chain driving wheel, although undoubtedly the faster, will have its day, and then they will be as big an elephant on our hands as are now the ordinary and rational.

Bicycling is considered by the leading medical authority as being the best exercise in the world, head held shoulders above all other sports, and for ladies, if taken in moderation, the best exercise they can indulge in, and perfectly safe during any period of life.

Bicycles are being used extensively in Europe and the United States by business men, lawyers, doctors, ministers, priests, etc. They find wheeling the easiest, most comfortable and swiftest way of traversing the streets of our cities. And if those cranks, who consider bicycling only fit for play and children, would only look into the history of the sport they would find out that they have done more good for the improvement of roads in the United States than any other body, and that the United States government has listened to the tale of woe and inaugurated a reform in road construction all through the country.

Our own city fathers would have their eyes opened if they rode bicycles, and, instead of our street repairer filling with stone a hole, with smooth sides and edges, it would be dug out and made with sharp edges all around then packed with stone or dirt so that the next waggon that run on it would not scatter the stone all over the street.

On July 1st the cyclers will probably give the citizens a fine entertainment, and there will be more money left in the town than there has been for years.

Let our citizens and officials be a little lenient with wheelmen, and when they find them on the boardwalk, look at the street and see if it is not covered with loose and broken stones, the greatest bugbear to light wheels and pneumatic tires, and let all drivers of fast and fiery horses recognize the fact that bicycles are valuable to their owners and a means of locomotion and pleasure, and the public's life and limb is not in danger from bicyclists, but from the fiery and high strung horse, that gets frightened at every red parasol and bit of paper.

Although we must acknowledge that the majority of the citizens and farmers are very good and give wheelmen more than their share of the road, which is often not acknowledged, we only want more good fellowship all around and when a horse is frightened find where the blame lies before condemning.

Give wheelmen their rights, help them to introduce reform in road building, and keep our streets free of ruts which if properly used is good, but if allowed to lay loose is a pest to all drivers and wheelmen.—LIMESTONE.

Now For the Second.

Yesterday's trial road race to Odessa and return, to give the members of the racing committee of the bicycle club some idea of the relative merits of the various aspirants for positions on the team to represent Kingston in the C.W.A. road race of July 2nd, was a decided success. At 4:20 the following faced the starter at the Bath Road: Hill, Robertson, Hughes, Raney, Nickle, Nicholson, Sliter, Newlands, Greeza. All got well started with the exceptions of Greeza and Hill who collided, but, in a few seconds, were in pursuit of their fast disappearing companions. To Cataraqui all were bunched, but here the fast men went to the front until Sliter had put about a mile between himself and the next man. From Cataraqui to Odessa every man did his utmost against a "head" wind, knowing that to fall behind meant sure defeat, as all were in excellent condition and determined to have "a place."

The order at Odessa was: Sliter, Raney, with Robertson and Nicholson, Nickle and Newlands, neck and neck. In turning the flag Nicholson fell, bending his pedal, but mounted at once, losing but a few seconds more, regained his old place. Then began a desperate fight. Raney, unfortunately, wrenched his handle bars loose and had to fall back, but the other four dashed on with their utmost speed. At Westbrooke Nicholson passed Robertson and Nickle passed Newlands, and finally crept to second place, but was not long detained to hold it as he was again passed by Robertson and Nicholson at Clyde's Hill. Up McMichael's the three flew in a bunch with Newlands close behind and only a few feet apart. It was no wonder that the pace was hot, but finally by one of his grand spurts, Robertson gained a few inches on Nicholson and won second place, Nicholson being third, with Nickle a hundred yards behind, and Newlands following. Sliter, as all expected—and to whom great praise is due for his grand work—won first in the fast time of 1.21 mins., and showed quite clearly that he is Kingston's fastest man.

The time of the others was: Robertson, 1.21 min.; Nicholson, 1.24½ min.; Nickle, 1.25 min; Newlands, 1.26 min.; Greeza, 1.27 min.; Raney, 1.32½ min; Hughes, 1.33 min; Hill, 1.35 mins.

Hughes lost a great deal of time by his saddle turning. All regret it as he is undoubtedly fast and if all had been favorable would have taken a better place. All rode pneumatics with the exception of Nickle, who rode a cushion tire. For a new man Nicholson is a good one and we hope to see him do well on the 2nd. Now, let the Kingston's buckle to work and we will see them carry off one of the team prizes on the 2nd.

THE SPORTING WORLD.

The Things That Are Talked About by the Lively Boys.

The wheel used by D. Nasmith only weighs 25 lbs. He did a quarter in 38 sec. yesterday.

Mr. Johnson, the renowned pedestrian, will enter in the next six days go-as-you-please race at New York.

Messrs. Nasmith and Wells, speedy bicyclists, of Toronto, are here. They will practice on the track all next week.

No answer has been received from the Toronto quoit club to play here on Dominion day. The Montreal club will likely be here on that day.

A game has definitely been decided between the Pastimes and Princess street baseball club, to occur at Ogdensburg on July 4th. A prize of $100 is given, by the celebration committee there. A very interesting game of baseball may be looked forward to.

The local lacrosse team is practicing hard in anticipation of their game with the Canadians, of Toronto, on July 1st. As the Canadians are champions in the Toronto league the boys here expect a hard fight and will exert every effort to gain for themselves a reputation of which they may be proud.

Word was received from the Port Hope lacrosse club this morning asking for a game with the local team to occur at Belleville about the first of the month. The club suggests that each club pay their own expenses and the gate receipts be equally divided. As this is a fair offer a match will no doubt be arranged.

There was a good attendance at Cataraqui park yesterday afternoon and the running race between P. McLaughlin's Warlock and R. Spencer's Victoria was a pretty one. There would have been cause for a kick, however, had not Warlock won, as in starting the horses the judge allowed the runners off with Victoria fully three lengths the lead. The race was only a three-quarter mile dash so Warlock pushed forward at the quarter and flew under the wire a full length ahead. Frank Taylor gave the time at 1:20¼. J. Hamilton rode Warlock and A. Spencer Victoria.

HIDE HOUSE TROUBLE.

THE DISPOSAL OF SEWAGE AT VARIOUS INSTITUTIONS.

The Board of Health is Bound That the Drains About the Jail and Other Improvements Must be Made—There Were Some Lively Tilts at the Meeting.

The local board of health met in the council chamber yesterday afternoon. Those present were: Mayor McIntyre, Principal Grant, Dr. Walkem, Dr. Herald, Ald. Elliott, Isaac Simpson, W. R. McRae, Dr. Saunders.

It was moved by Principal Grant, seconded by Mr. McRae, that inasmuch as Mr. Kerr in his report recommended, in the interest of the health of the city, that the street lamps should now be disconnected with the gas mains, it be referred to the city solicitor for his opinion whether this should be done by the city or the gas company, and that the matter be left in the hands of Dr. Herald and Mr. Simpson as a committee. Carried.

The sub-committee appointed to see Mr. Macdougall, C.E., and Warden Lewis, in connection with the disposal of the penitentiary sewage, reported that the mayor, Dr. Saunders and Mr. Simpson, accompanied by Drs. Fenwick, Herald, city engineer Bolger and Dr. Fee, had discussed the matter. The asylum was incidentally visited and Dr. Clark interviewed, who expressed himself not at all satisfied with the present system of disposal of their sewage. Your committee recommend that the board press the matter of sewage disposal at the asylum upon the attention of the provincial government and urge Mr. Harty, M.P.P., to procure if possible immediate action in the premises. Two points were particularly impressed upon Mr. Macdougall's attention, first, the imperative necessity on grounds of public health of ceasing to discharge the prison sewage into the waters of the harbor and secondly the advantages which would accrue to the community generally from adopting, after experiment some scientific system by means of which the sewage will be utilized. Mr. Macdougall promised after hearing the city's case to report at an early date to the department of justice.

In answer to a communication Mr. Harty, M.P.P., stated that he would forward the pamphlet and mortuary statistics to the provincial secretary and will request action in conformity with the spirit of the resolution asking that the sewage of Rockwood asylum be disinfected and utilized.

The report of the committee on the penitentiary sewage was received and the committee re-appointed with instructions to communicate to Mr. Harty the views of Dr. Clark with regard to the asylum sewage and to press on the provincial government the necessity of taking immediate action in the premises.

Dr. Herald and R. T. Walkem, as a committee, reported that they had visited the county jail and found that in so far as is possible with present arrangements the premises are kept in a cleanly condition. The sewers are built of loose stone, are very filthy especially the main sewer between the court house and the jail. Night soil was found to be in the sewer 3 ft. 8 in. deep. There was water under the turnkey's apartments which made the rooms damp. The ventilation of the jail is bad, all the room smelling close and foul. They recommended that tile sewers be put in and at a sufficient depth to drain and basement of the jail building; that the pits be closed up and that the dry earth closets be placed in yards and that the accumulations be removed to the nuisance ground. That all the fixtures in the court house and jail be emptied into the sewers; that they be properly trapped and ventilated; that city water be used, as we are confident that the water in such a locality cannot be healthy; that some arrangement should be made whereby the turnkeys may have apartments in the jail above ground; that the ventilation of the jail be attended to at once. Drs. Herald and Fee had laid the matter before county council, but no action had been taken, and also Dr. Chamberlain, who agreed with the committee concerning the drains, ventilators, pits and turnkey apartments, who will, no doubt, report that the drains should be renewed, the pits closed, ventilation improved and the turnkey furnished with proper apartments.

Moved by Mr. Simpson, seconded by Mr. McRae, and resolved, that copies of the report be sent to the warden of the county, the provincial secretary, secretary of provincial board of health, and these officials be requested to see that the recommendations be carried out so as to remedy the defects complained of.

An application, from Leon Verbeck for the position of sanitary inspector, was read, but as Mr. Verbeck had secured a situation at Rockwood asylum since writing the application was filed. This, however, led to a long discussion.

Principal Grant wished to know of Mr. Gordon if the inspection made by the police was adequate.

Mr. Gordon thought that it was. However, it was difficult to say what would be required in midsummer. There would be need of another inspection in July or August.

The mayor—"There is no reason why the police could not go over the ground three or four times in the year."

Principal Grant drew attention to the fact that in the last inspection several places were reported as being in the same state of unwholesomeness as before. There was no need of reporting nothing being done.

Dr. Fee said that according to law a man was allowed to keep two loads of manure on his property.

Dr. Walkem contended that it was the duty of a man to see that the work was done.

Ald. Elliott—"There is no doubt a policeman has more effect on the people than a person in civilian's clothes."

Mr. Simpson thought it would be a good idea for Dr. Fee to wear brass buttons.

Principal Grant—"Perhaps it would be better for Dr. Fee to make the rounds."

Dr. Walkem—"You could not expect our medical health officer to do that, principal?"

Dr. Fee explained that there was an improvement in the cleanliness of the city every year. "The policeman, with their brass buttons, going around are a terror to the people and urge them to clean up. You cannot expect every yard to be clean. The worst people we come in contact with are the rich."

Dr. Walkem—"What do you call the rich?"

Dr. Fee—"Well, the people who are well able to get rid of their garbage."

The mayor will see Chief Horsey and have the police endowed with power to prosecute if the people refuse to clean their yards.

The communication of John McKay, referred to board from council, asking to be allowed to build his hide house near the tanneries in Cataraqui ward, was taken up and a lively time experienced.

Mr. Walkem said that according to the statutes the board was unable to act in the matter.

Dr. Grant—"Mr. McKay cannot establish a house without the consent of the council." We cannot define where he is to put that house, because we may act as his judges in time to come."

The mayor fought hard for the board to take some action with regard to settling the matter. Answering Principal Grant, he said: "That is very true, but the board of health has devoted a great deal of attention to this hide house and should have reached a conclusion as to the conditions under which it should be conducted. The council would have to refer the application to a committee who would know nothing about the matter while the board knows better how to act."

Dr. Walkem—"The board knows little about it."

Ald. Elliott—"Since the last meeting of the board I have come into the possession of some facts in connection with the hide house and I would like to give the board the benefit of that information. We, as a board of health, should take some definite action to meet this gentleman fair and square that he may proceed with his business. It has been justly said by the principal that the board was a legal court, but at the same time Mr. McKay could appeal to a higher court. He wishes to move to a place where there are coal oil storehouses, tanneries, etc., and the city should allow it. When he attempted to erect a house Dr. Fee went to him and said he could not build and told him he could build on the lot at the water's edge. I fail to see where Dr. Fee has got the authority to order a man that way. If for no other reason than to get the hide house away from where it is at present he should be allowed to erect on the lot he has chosen. The people want to get him away and he wants to go himself. Lately Mr. McKay has been all over the United States and visited some of the largest hide houses in the country. In the central part of New York city they are built underground with stone foundations. This is done right in the immediate vicinity of Brooklyn bridge where there are as many hides disposed of in one day as in Kingston in a whole year."

Dr. Fee—"I stand to rebut the statements Ald. Elliott says I made to Mr. McKay. I did not tell him he could not build there. As a friend I spoke to him and I supposes some of his friends used their mouths to spread it about. The residents of that locality have as much right to protection as those in the city."

Ald. Elliott—"You are not to be judge of that."

Dr. Fee contended that a south-east wind would blow the smell into the city, to which Ald. Elliott replied: "I wish to place myself right. I would like to ask the mayor, Dr. Fee and Mr. Walkem him and myself down there and say, 'there is where Mr. McKay wants to build.'"

The mayor—"He said, 'If you can so we will accept it.' He took me down, too."

Principal Grant wished to quell the tempest and said that Dr. Fee might go down there and express his opinion as any other man.

Ald. Elliott contended that any smell that might arise from the hide house was just as apt to blow out on the water as it was to blow in on the people.

Dr. Fee—"I would ask Ald. Elliott if he did not agree with me to say that my recommendation was a wise one."

The other members laughed the thing off and both Dr. Fee and Ald. Elliott were soon both leaning back in their chairs and holding their sides in convulsions.

It was moved by Principal Grant, seconded by Dr. Walkem, that the board refer Mr. McKay's petition back to the city council with the recommendation that the permission asked for by the petitioner be granted provided that the proposed business be carried on in such a way as not to constitute a nuisance.—Carried.

The medical health officer reported that the well on the property of B. M. Britton, corner of Barrie and brock street, had been fitted up, also that the drain to the property of Mrs. Derry, on King street, had been repaired with a new tile trapped, as directed by the board. In the matter of the communication of D. O'Connor, which was laid before the board December, 1891, regarding the need of a drain on Ordnance street, and which was laid over to be dealt with by the board of 1892, a tile drain is being constructed under the local improvement act. Attention was called to the need of sinks for the disposal of slop water.

Reported to the health department for the month of June: Typhoid fever, 5; scarlet fever, 1; General hospital, typhoid, 2; diphtheria, 1. Hotel Dieu, typhoid, 2.

The feeling in synod of Ontario over canvassing by two Kingston delegates was intense, and the heartiest applause during the session was given to Major Maine's motion to change the mode of election and disqualify canvassers. This canvassing has been practised for two years by these two persons who habitually circulated prepared ballots and it is a gratification to feel that some one has had the courage to take the unpleasant duty in hand of checking the contemptible action. Men who have not sufficient confidence in their standing to abide by an impartial vote are not the kind of representatives a church wants and should not be allowed to occupy places through personal begging and put-up jobs.

He Took Out a Policy.

A couple of weeks ago when an insurance agent was going through Rockwood asylum one of the patients took a sudden craze to have his life insured. The agent was finally obliged to make some kind of a bluff to get rid of the fellow and accordingly drew up a policy for $100,000 on a calendar. This morning the agent received into "cheque." "To Wm. Mitchell, chief cashier of the Ontario bank. Please pay to the order of ——the sum of eighty hundred and thirty seven dollars and charge to my account. This is only the quarterly payment."
