CHASING RAINBOWS.

AN OCCUPATION IN WHICH ALL SORTS OF PEOPLE ENGAGE.

They Try to Establish Empires in Republics, by Overthrow Existing Dynasties and to Further Imaginary Claims of Their Own—Scheme of an Irish Marquis.

The phrase "rainbow chaser" has gained a foothold in the language of the day, and is pretty sure of a place in the next issues of the big dictionaries. Meanwhile, for want of an authoritative definition of the term, one formulated by a well known politician may be found to answer. "A rainbow chaser," says this astute student of mankind, "is a person who soars after the infinite, dives after the unfathomable, believes in the impossible and is against the government."

If one accepts this characterization as correct, it naturally follows that examples of the class rush upon the mind with almost teeming confusion. New York city, and indeed the country at large, had an indulgent laugh some years agoat a group of these rainbow chasers. Each of the coterie was a bright but erratic young man with "views." Individually and collectively they denounced republicanism as a pernicious sort of rule, and in casting about for a substitute they decided on a monarchy. They learned that an honest old Tennessee farmer was the nearest living relative of the late George Washington, and they put him in the field as their choice for first emperor of America. They ventilated their opinions in a neatly printed weekly called The Imperialist. At the end of a month the paper collapsed for lack of funds, Mr. Washington in an interview repudiated the scheme as "utterly preposterous," and these particular rainbow chasers went out of the business for the remainder of their lives.

MARQUIS DE RUVIGNY.

An Irish gentleman with a French title is the legitimate successor to these harmless and now almost forgotten New York cranks. He is at present in America for the purpose of furthering the interests of the English royal house of Stuart. His home is Castle Morris, near Ballybeggin, Kerry county; his name is Melville Henry Douglas Bruce, he is traveling as the "Marquis de Ruvigny," and he holds the position of "registrar of the Legitimist Jacobite league." The object of this league, as the marquis told a reporter of the New York Sun, is to restore a Stuart to the throne of Great Britain.

"We are acting," he said, "in a perfectly constitutional manner, and are putting up candidates for parliament who will pledge themselves to work for the repeal of acts which at present stand in the way of the attainment of our object. We must secure the repeal of the act of settlement which placed the succession in the descendants of the Electress Sophia, the act which gave us the present Hanoverian reigning house, with its impedimenta of poor and petty princes to be kept at public expense.

"Our representatives are expected to repeal the act of union. We are Home Rulers—at least I am—and believe in separate government for England, Ireland and Scotland, a parliament in Dublin and Edinburgh as well as in London, and an imperial parliament over all. Dublin would then become a capital city, business would be revived there and landlords would cease to be absentees. Their interests would demand their presence in Ireland as they now demand it in London, and in consequence Ireland would benefit.

"Then the remaining religious disabilities imposed by former acts of parliament must be removed and the king might be of any religious belief. The Legitimist Jacobite league believes in religious toleration and is not a Roman Catholic organization, as might be supposed. I am a Protestant, and so is Rev. R. C. Fillingham, vicar of Hexton, chairman of our central executive committee. So are many other leading members of the league. We desire simply to place the legitimate heir on the throne, and she is the Duchess Mary of Modena and archduchess of Austria-Este, the wife of Prince Louis of Bavaria. She is a direct descendant of Charles I through Lady Henrietta, an elder daughter."

The duchess was born in 1849, and is the mother of four sons and seven daughters, her eldest child being Prince Rupert, now twenty-three years of age. To one not a rainbow chaser it would seem that the task that Mr. Bruce, of Castle Morris, has undertaken is as impossible of achievement as would be an endeavor to wipe out the amendments to the United States constitution adopted since the civil war. Yet this enthusiastic young Irishman is only one among the idealists and dreamers who swarm the world. A noble, who is careful not to reside in Russia, asserts that he is the rightful czar and that the present occupant of the throne is a usurper.

The Carlists still wait an opportunity to place their leader on the throne of Spain, and the Bonapartists yet dream of the day when the eagles shall again head victorious columns and a Napoleon shall renew the triumphs of the mighty Corsican. Mexican aristocrats have not abandoned the hope that a descendant of Iturbide may reign in the halls of the Montezumas, and even in far off China the descendants of the ancient kings watch with infinite patience for the downfall of the Tartar dynasty.

But dreams of thrones and crowns are not the only things that dazzle and addle the brains of rainbow chasers. Quite a number think themselves entitled to dormant or extinct peerages, and a much larger number (particularly in America) permit sharpers to delude them into the belief that they are entitled to large fortunes "deposited in the Bank of England" long years ago to await the appearance of the heirs. No denials from Threadneedle street are of avail, and the claimants go on claiming till they die.

As for the rainbow chaser in politics, he is known of all men, and is particularly on view during this the presidential year.

No Return.

After a lapse of seven years the following letter explains itself: Toronto, Ont., April 17th, 1887. "I would state that your remedy, St. Jacobs Oil, had the desired effect of curing me effectually of rheumatism, with which I suffered in 1880. I have never had any return since of the pain which I endured for months previous. It affords me great pleasure to say I have recommended it to a number of friends. Too much praise cannot be devoted to its healing qualities." J. ABRAHAMS, Passenger Agent, 51 York St. Hundreds certify that once cured, the cure is permanent.

THE KINGSTON MARKETS.

The Quotations as Gathered About the Square And Elsewhere.

KINGSTON, June 29.—Fruit growers have been pushing strawberries into the city in large quantities during the past week and no trouble has been experienced in disposing of them. They sold last at three boxes for 25c. It is expected they will be cheaper.

The quotations are: Eggs, 10c to 12c per dozen; packed, 9c; butter, 18c to 20c per lb., and packed 15c to 16c per lb; potatoes, 25c to 30c per bag; apples, $1 per bag; green onions, lettuce, radishes, 30c per dozen; beets and carrots, 40c to 50c per bag; red onions, $1 per bag; turnips, 40c per bag; parsnips, 35c to 40c per bag.

Mutton, 6c to 7c per lb; carcass, 6c to 7c per cwt; spring lamb, 80c to $1.25 per quarter, or 12½c per lb.; veal, 5c; beef, carcass, 5c to 7c, and from 5c to 12½c in the shops.

Pike, 8c per lb; pickerel, 8c per lb; whitefish and trout, 10c per lb.; haddock, 7c to 8c per lb; salmon, 20c per lb; cod, 10c per lb; eels, 5c per lb.

Flour, family, $2.40 to $2.50 per cwt; bakers' flour, $2.40 to $2.60; cornmeal, $1.50 to $1.80 per cwt; bran, $14 to $16 a ton; chops, $24 per ton; oatmeal, 85c to $1.05.

Sheep pelts, 20c to 25c; lambskins, 25c to 30c; veals, 40c to 60c; wool 16c to 18c per lb; hides, 2c, 3c, 4½c; deacons, 25c to 35c; tallow, 5c per lb.

The grain market still retains a very depressed condition, and there is no marked change since our last report. Prices rule extremely low and there is a fair export trade all the time but it looks as if there would be some surplus of old wheat when the new crop comes in. New wheat is now being marketed in the south and the fall wheat crop will be pretty general by the first of August and buyers will have to work off their surplus supply of wheat before that. Unless the growing crop gets damaged there is not much hope for better prices. Oats are rather weaker and is about the only produce that is now being marketed. Oats sell at 30c; wheat, 75c to 80c; peas, 60c; rye, 70c; buckwheat, 45c; barley, 38c to 40c.

Markets Elsewhere.

Toronto quotations are: Beans, per bushel, trade lots, $1 to $1.05; out of store, $1 to $1.20. Beef, fores, 4c to 5c; hinds, 8c to 9c; veal, 7c to 9c; mutton, 7c to 8c; lamb, 9c to 10c; spring, 14c to 16c. Dried apples, on track, 3½c to 3¾c; jobbing at 4c to 4½c; evaporated, 6½c to 7c. Eggs, fresh, 10½c to 11c; No. 2, 9½c. Hay, timothy, on track, $12 to $12.50; No. 2, $10. Straw, $6.50 to $7 in car lots. Hides, cured, 5c; green, No. 1 cows, 4½c; No. 1 steers, 5½c. Skins, sheep, $1.25 to $1.50; lamb; 20c to 25c; calf, 5c to 7c. Hops, Canadian, 1891 crop, 21c to 23c; yearlings, 14c to 17c. Honey, extracted, 8c to 9c; combs, 11c to 12c. Onions, native, per bbl, $2.50 to $3 out of store. Potatoes, per bag, on track, 25c; out of store, 35c; turnips, on track, 10c to 12c per bushel. Poultry, chickens, per pair, 50c to 65c; geese, per lb, 8c to 10c; turkeys, 10c to 11½c.

There were heavier receipts of export cattle and a considerable trade in this class at Montreal for the week. The butchers' trade, with lighter supplies was rather better, everything clearing at fair prices. We quote the following fair values: Cattle export, 5½c to 4¾c; cattle, butchers', good, 3½c to 4¼c; cattle butchers' medium, 3c to 3½c; cattle, butchers' culls, 2½c to 3½c; sheep and lambs, 4½c; hogs, $4.80 to 5½c; calves, $2 to $5.

Cheese Markets.

UTICA, N.Y., June 27.—Sales: 156 boxes at 8¾c; 775 boxes at 8½c; 1,974 boxes at 8¾c; 858 boxes at 8¾c; 337 boxes at 8½c; 230 boxes at 9c; 1,535 boxes conditional; 8,100 boxes at 8c to 8¾c.

In the human blood there is an average of 300 red cells to every white one. The red cells have an average diameter of 1-3,200 of an inch, the white ones 1-25,000 inch.

Uric acid in the blood is the cause of nearly all diseases, it visits every part of the body and is liable to fasten disease on any organ; the duty of the kidneys is to extract wastes from the blood, a cold will stop this action, a pain in the back follows, and unless relief is obtained, permanent inability of the kidneys to perform their functions follows, which may terminate in liver complaint, dyspepsia, blood disease, dropsy, diabetes or Bright's disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills assist the kidneys to natural work, and cure all complaints and results arising from same.
