The new bathing establishment will be a model one in all its appointments. Let the citizens guarantee that the individual who will make the venture will be liberally supported.

The Distressed People.

The Mayor has relieved several families, who were in great distress, by the money given by the armies. He has received a long list of persons desirous of charity, and is dispensing aid himself. Mr. Jack has been consulted, but has not been given the contributions of the Saved and Salvation armies to distribute, as we were given to understand.

Real Estate Sales.

Last week J. J. Whitehead sold the Drummond property, on College street, at present occupied by Mr. John Fraser, and 14 acres of land, which had been marked out for a college some years ago on the same street, to Mr. Gravel. Mr. Whitehead also disposed of lot 650, adjoining the Williamsville Methodist Church, to Messrs. Anglin and Shaw, trustees of the church, for $200.

Must Look For Another.

St. Andrews' Church congregation must look for another minister, Rev. L. Jordan, B.D., of Halifax, having by telegram intimated his acceptance of the call to Erskine Church, Montreal. While in Halifax Mr. Jordan was most successful. The membership largely increased. The contributions for missionary purposes doubled in two years, while the revenue of the congregation went up from $2,000 to $4,300 during the same period. Mr. Jordan's people recently increased his salary and put forth a very strenuous effort to retain him.

A FINE POOL PLAYER.

FURTHER PARTICULARS OF MALONE, CHAMPION OF THE STATES.

The Way He Defeated an Unknown From England—Eleven to One—A Young Man With Much Nerve—A Challenge to Any Player on the Continent.

Some people have denied that the pool player, who scooped the Kingstonians on Saturday, was J. C. Malone. We have his photograph before us and his identity is fully established. The Syracuse Herald says that J. L. Malone still wears the championship gold medal, and is prepared to meet any one who is willing to play with him. He is very quiet and pockets the balls without a sign of emotion under the most exciting circumstances. He has met all the leading players of the United States and Canada, is 26 years of age, and weighs 160 lbs. He challenges any man in the world to play him for $1,000 a side, and has deposited $250 with Richard K. Fox, of the Police Gazette, as a guarantee that he means business.

Malone's recent match with Dinning, the English unknown, in Syracuse is described as follows: The betting was lively at the start, the odds generally being in favour of Malone. The first break was made by Malone who just touched the pyramid and pocketed the cue ball. His opponent played for safety. Then Malone took three balls, and, after some uninteresting playing on both sides, put up the first button. Dinning took off his vest and suspenders. In the third game Dinning made two excellent shots. Malone pooled. The sympathy of the crowd seemed to give Dinning nerve and by fine play in the fourth game he pushed up his first button. The betting then was slightly in favour of Dinning, but as game after game passed over to Malone the betting ceased and the crowd apparently went to sleep. In the sixth game Dinning seemed to lose all confidence in himself, and during the rest of the series showed the utmost recklessness in his shots. In the eighth game Malone made a fine triple combination shot, scattered the pyramid, and put up his seventh button. He missed a bank shot in the corner in the tenth game, but in his next turn made a brilliant bank shot for the side pocket. One peculiar feature of this game was the fact that Dinning "froze" the cue ball three times in succession. It required but two more games for Malone to win the series. Score, Malone 11, Dinning 1.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH.

Desire for Mr. McMorine's Early Arrival. Successful Temperance Meeting.

The Bishop of Algoma, having requested that the newly-chosen incumbent of St. James', Rev. J. K. McMorine, be allowed to remain at Port Arthur until the opening of navigation, and the Bishop of Ontario being agreeable to the request, after consultation with one of the lay delegates, the other delegates, the churchwardens and the acting incumbent, have signed a firm but respectful request for Mr. McMorine's assumption of his parish duties here upon Easter day.

Last evening the monthly meeting of the parochial temperance society was held, with a large attendance, C. H. Corbett presiding and R. T. Burns, lay reader, performing the opening religious exercises. The opening hymn was "Pilgrims of the Night." Addresses were delivered by Arthur Chown and R. T. Burns, the latter in a well prepared paper extolling the virtues of self-denial in matters of luxury. Mr. Chown gave a summary of the benefits he had derived from forty years of temperance and abstinence from tobacco, and gave many illustrations of the evils of intemperance. He also addressed the youth earnestly, and, after touching upon the Scott Act campaign, concluded a very interesting address with a tribute to St. James' Society. G. Hague read a highly entertaining description of a journey by waggon in India. Mrs. Rogers and Miss Joice contributed songs. Pledge signing and renewing concluded the meeting.

AN OUTSIDE OPINION.

Printers' Strike at Brockville—An Outside Opinion of the "News."

Our local contemporary blunders on. For the last two weeks it has had a succession of misfortunes in its endeavors to stir up trouble and scandal among its neighbors, and for each offence it has received a good trimming down, for no quarter in the city is so vulnerable as the News office and the men into whose hands the once respected and respectable newspaper has fallen. Last evening it was a party to the treatment for a second time of a trouble in the office of the Brockville Recorder. When it first referred to this matter we treated it with silence, having ignored for a time the frequent references by the News to our affairs. This policy having failed we see no reason to withhold the letter of the manager of the Brockville Recorder, received last June, but put aside upon the grounds we have stated. It appears elsewhere in this issue, and the proprietor of the News has no one to thank for its appearance but himself. He will see how beautifully the unprofessional character we have given him is borne out by others. We thank him sincerely for his latest blunder.

A Little Too Hasty.

Several days ago the customs department was notified not to exact duty at the increased rate, except on cigars, until further orders. The Commissioner had issued orders as soon as the changes were proposed to enforce them, but Mr. Blake heard of the affair and stopped the act because parliament had not sanctioned the change through its Committee on Ways and Means.

Hope He Will be Retained.

John Cadwallader, who has been elected First Assistant Secretary of State, is head of the Canadian Consul Bureau. He is a Philadelphian, and must, from intercourse with the business centres, be cognizant of the benefits of foreign trade. It is to be hoped that he will see that Kingston's efficient Consul is retained. Col. Twitchell is esteemed by the business men of this city, and especially by exporters, who find him diligent in his duty and extremely affable.

A memorial service, commemorative of the late A. Wallace, a member of the Salvation Army, was held in their barracks last evening.

This evening a popular wedding occurs. Miss Elliott, daughter of John Elliott, unites her fortunes with Mr. Hodgson, of Raglan.

Chief Horsey has in his possession a case of instruments which was found on the street, and which the owner can have on identification.

Nearly twenty Orangemen are said to have withdrawn after the late meeting of the grand lodge. Discussions on local cases brought this about.

Oscar Telgmann has opened a piano parlor on Bagot street in the block once occupied by the Whig office. He has some fine instruments on exhibition.

Capt. Jas. Hanley states that new signal lamps for this port will be received from the Meteorological Office at Toronto as soon as navigation opens.

Another carnival will be given at the roller rink on Thursday evening. This time the prizes will be different: 1st prize will be 50 skate tickets, 2nd 25 skate tickets. This will likely surpass all former efforts.

Some one seems to have addressed to Rev. Mr. Jordan, of Halifax, such an anonymous letter as the Rev. Mr. Archibald received when St. Andrew's sent him a call. This is despicable work, and so long as it continues St. Andrew's will never get a preacher.

Last evening James Blackwell delivered a temperance address in the school-house at Garden Island. The audience was quite large and Mr. Blackwell's address very interesting. Garden Island will give a good majority for the Scott Act.

Winding up an Insolvent Estate.

William McRossie has been appointed assignee of the insolvent estate of J. O. Gardiner & Co., biscuit manufacturers. This firm's indebtedness is $14,000, and its assets $1,100. At the first meeting of the creditors Allan Chadwick was nominated as the assignee, but there was objection. Mr. Gardiner suggested Mr. McNeil, the firm's book-keeper. The creditors dissented and Mr. McRossie was appointed. Mr. Gardiner offered 10 cents on the dollar, and later on 25 cents on the dollar, by way of a settlement, and some were willing to accept, though whether they represented the larger claims it is not stated. Another meeting occurred this afternoon.

Asking for Dates.

The manager of the St. Quinten Opera Company has written to Mr. Martin, of the opera house, asking for dates. They desire to open for a season of three nights on the 26th. E. A. Macdowell has named dates for his appearance, March 23rd and April 17th. He is making a tour of the province. Harry Rich, who has been with Farron & Baker, talks of taking a ten and twenty cent show through Canada. He thinks that in the present financial condition of the country these low prices will be most acceptable.

SERIES OF ROBBERIES.

CUTTING OPEN A MAIL BAG AT THE GRAND TRUNK DEPOT.

Rifling the Contents—The Movements of a Hotel Thief—Captured with Jewellery On Him—The Funny Action of a Wilton Merchant—A Lynx-Eyed Domestic.

Saturday night a well-dressed man wearing a new rubber coat, was driven to the Grand Central Hotel, St. Thomas, where he hung around for some time. Mr. Bromell asked him who he was looking for. The stranger asked if George Grange was stopping at the hotel, and being answered in the negative, walked into the billiard-room. A few minutes afterwards one of the domesties told Mr. Bromell that a stranger was going through the bedrooms. Mr. Bromell went up and met the man coming out of Miss Bromell's bedroom. His daughter's room was barren of jewellery. Chief Fewings searched the stranger, and the jewellery found upon him was valued at $200; all the property of Miss Bromell and Miss Paddon. The thief gave his name as Charles E. Daly, and said he was a tea peddler and belonged to Napanee, where his father, Edward Daly, kept a store. Daly stated that he did not steal the articles, but that they were given to him by another man in the street. He had no money or railway tickets about him or in his valise. The rubber coat does not seem to have been worn before, and in his coat pocket were found a pair of new mitts, which give the impression that they and the new valise may have been gathered in from the last town he visited. At the police court Daly elected to be tried by the magistrate. He had written to friends and wished the trial postponed until their arrival.

ROBBING THE MAILS.

A Bag Found at the Grand Trunk Depot Cut Open—Letters Rifled.

This morning about 8:30 o'clock a mail bag, from Gananoque, was found under the freight shed at the outer Grand Trunk Railway Depot. A slit had been cut in it and the contents removed and rifled. Some of the envelopes had been opened. One of them contained MSS. for the BRITISH WHIG.

Enquiry at the office of the Post Office Inspector showed that the mail from the east had been delivered to the Grand Trunk authorities about 4:30 o'clock this morning. It was placed in the mail room. The door was locked, but the key was left in the door. Though one stood near by the bag was stolen. It is believed that a colored individual entered the room, shut and locked the door, and went through the mail. The matter is being investigated. It is not known whether there were any valuables in the bag. It is suspected that other bags are missing, and telegrams of enquiry have been sent to various places. Replies had not been received to the queries up to 2 o'clock.

A MERCHANT IN TROUBLE.

Excitement He Raised Because He could not find $105

A merchant from Wilton on Wednesday morning created a furore in a city boarding house by saying that he had lost $108 during the night. The money he had placed in the bed tick, and it was not there when he came to look for it. He betrayed a great deal of emotion, and the perspiration poured off him freely while he related his grievances. He was assured by the boarding house proprietor that his money must be where he had left it, and he ordered a search of the ticks. They were turned inside out, but the money was not found at first. The search was commenced at 6:30, and all the employees were engaged in it. Several times it was given up and renewed. At 11 o'clock the shoodle was detected by a lynx-eyed domestic in the corner of one of the bed ticks, and great was the jubilation.

Cutting in the City.

Dr. Darragh has taken up his residence in the city for the practice of his profession. Dr. Darragh graduated M.D. from Queen's University nineteen years ago. He studied when a student for a year with Dr. O. S. Strange, of this city; subsequently, being fond of surgery, he spent a couple of years with Dr. Donald McLean, the present Professor of surgery, in Ann Arbor, Michigan, who was then in the full flush of his practice in Kingston. Dr. Darragh practiced for several years in western Canada. For the last five or six years he has practiced with marked success in the townships of Kingston and Storrington. He comes to Kingston for its school privileges.

Not Smooth Sailing.

Dr. Elizabeth Beatty, of Indore, Central India, who graduated at the Women's Medical College here, does not anticipate smooth sailing in her new field of labor. The European doctor and the head native doctor are afraid all the female practice will be taken from them, and are using their influence with the Agent Governor General against her. They have so far succeeded that the Agent Governor General has prohibited the opening of another dispensary. This means considerable annoyance and difficulty, but no real obstacle, as Dr. Beatty's degree gives her equal rights with either European or native doctors.

A Temperance Meeting.

After the general business of Lorne Division, Sons of Temperance, had been transacted last evening, songs were given by Messrs. P. Moncrieff, H. Beach, T. L. Snook, F. Bristow and J. McIlroy; Miss Shannon contributed an organ solo, and Messrs. O. Elliott, Allen, Kelly and Leader gave readings.

Position of the Sailors' Union.

President McComb, of the Sailors' Union, has returned from the old country, after an absence of three months and a half. He states that the Kingston branch of the Seamen's Union, as far as finances are concerned, is in a very low condition, and unless it is made simply a seaman's agency, to be controlled by the general branch at Chicago, it will prove ineffectual.
