Was it Asiatic Cholera?

A prominent physician stated this morning that he has within the past two weeks attended two patients, who had all the symptoms of Asiatic cholera. They had bad attacks but are now both well.

The Account is Paid.

The committee on streets having refused to pass the account of $1.25, for refreshments used by corporation labourers while working overtime recently, the city engineer and his assistant, J. Wright, have paid the bill.

Railroaders Picnic.

To-morrow the employees of the K. & P. RR., will hold their annual excursion to Verona by train. Good music will be on the grounds all day. A car load of skiffs will be taken out, so that lovers of boating and fishing will be able to enjoy themselves.

Big Deals in Crude Oil.

Scott Act Meeting.

Last evening a meeting of Scott Act Workers was held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, Princess street. There was a large attendance, and after considerable discussion it was decided to organize an association having for its object the securing of prohibition. Another meeting will be held next week to complete the arrangements.

Writing for Cadetships.

Six candidates are writing in the Deputy-Adjutant General's office for entrance to the Royal Military College. They will be under examination for four days. They are: E. T. B. Gillmore, Christopher W. Bermingham, W. K. Y. Macauley, Kingston; D'Arcy E. Strickland, Lakefield; John C. Howard, Hastings; S. H. Rogers, Peterboro'.

A Slight Reduction in Amount.

Mr. Hampton, of Sharbott Lake, says the statement that J. A. Griffith's book-keeper absconded with notes and cheques amounting to $2,000 is not altogether correct. The cheques, etc., which Mr. Griffiths missed after his book-keeper's departure, he has since discovered. Mr. Hampton thinks the sum total of the absconder's boodle is $3.

Police Court—Tuesday.

Matthew Stinson, laborer, said he had been struck by an edging. "You were struck by something else," said the magistrate, but the innocent fellow couldn't see the point. He was agitated and murmured "that none of the fellows had hit him." He admitted drinking too much. Discharged. E. Rutledge, for assaulting one Switzer, was fined $5 and costs. Several who had failed to remove nuisances were fined $1 and costs. An ex-Mayor, who allowed his cow to roam about, had his case adjourned. B. Allen left building material on the street for five hours. Charge dismissed.

VOLUNTEERS IN SERVICE

CITY COUNCIL REFUSE TO CUT OFF AID TO THE FAMILIES.

The Recommendation of the Finance Committee Rejected—The Soldiers Doing the Work of a Permanent Force—Help for the Midlanders—A Deadlock and the Final Rejection of the Clause.

The only discussion in the council last evening, occurred in regard to the aid to be given to the families of volunteers doing duty at the front. The finance committee recommended the discontinuance of aid at the close of the month.

Ald. Harty was not favorable to the cutting off of the volunteer aid. Men were detained in barracks against their will and their families should have civil support until they were released.

Ald. Bermingham held that the government should support the families of the volunteers. The members of the council would be agreeable to it. The garrison here was to all intents and purposes the same as a permanent force, and it should be maintained as such by the government. The exigencies of war being over the government should raise a permanent force and to make them do this it was desirable to withdraw civic assistance and ask to reimburse the city for the money already spent in caring for the dependants of those in active service. He would introduce a motion to that effect.

Ald. Harty would support such a motion. The city was in a position now to manfully ask the government to repay the city's disbursements to the relatives of those who were defending the country. He held that all Canada was benefitted in the defence of Kingston's fortifications. He was, however, opposed to the committee's recommendation. So long as the men were required their families should be sustained.

Ald. McDermott thought the time had not yet arrived when a demand should be made on the government in the matter. A request for recoupment should not be sent to Ottawa until the insurrection was entirely over.

Ald. Gildersleeve considered that the families of men in the Midland Battalion should still be supported. The families of the men in barracks, however, should not be supported. He felt sure that the commandant could easily let the married men in barracks off, thus removing the need of aid from the city.

THE AMOUNT ALREADY GRANTED.

Mayor Smythe said that if aid were granted to the end of the month the amount expended so far would reach $1,500.

Ald. Gildersleeve moved, seconded by Ald. Redden, that relief be continued to those on active service in the North-West. This was in amendment to the report.

Ald. Harty moved, seconded by J. Wilson, that the last clause in the report be struck out.

Ald. Drennan said the Lieut.-Colonel could not change the men, single for married. The militia department could alone do that.

Ald Gildersleeve said that was what they wanted. As long as no action was taken the married men would be retained in service. They wanted something done to remove those who were requiring more aid, and by cutting off the support they would have an opportunity of securing the relief desired the sooner.

Ald. Harty's amendment was lost by a vote of 7 to 9.

Ald. Gildersleeve's amendment was also lost, and the report was lost on the following division:

Yeas—Mayor Smythe, Ald. Adams, Bermingham, Carson, Drennan, Dunn, McKelvey, Robinson, Thompson—9.

Nays—Ald. Gildersleeve, Harty, Little, McDermott, O'Brien, Redden, Shannon, Wilson, J.; Wilson, W.—9.

A deadlock ensued. The rejection of the report looked like the endorsation of Ald. Harty's amendment, which, however, had been lost. Finally a reconsideration was secured on motion of Ald. Harty.

Ald. McKelvey moved the adoption of the report.

Ald. Harty moved in amendment that its last clause be struck out.

Ald. Gildersleeve moved, in amendment to the amendment, that support be continued to the families of those in active service in the North-West.

THE CLAUSE ELIMINATED.

Ald. McKelvey said that any man who would volunteer without having proper support for his family was not worthy the name of man. He was not prepared to help the families of such persons. The council was not a charitable institution. Already all the money they had to spare was utilized. For the future if aid was necessary the rich men should provide it.

Mayor Smythe was favourable to the committee's report as already the city had expended all the money it could possibly spare.

Ald. Harty made a stirring appeal for help to those who were defending the country. He held that the citizens would defend them in the expenditure.

Ald. Gildersleeve's motion was lost. Ald. Harty's motion was supported on the following division:

Yeas — Alds. Drennan, Dunn, Gildersleeve, Harty, Little, McDermott, O'Brien, Redden, Shannon, J. Wilson, W. Wilson—11.

Nays—Mayor Smythe, Alds. Adams, Bermingham, Carson, McKelvey, Robinson, Thompson—7.

The report as amended was then adopted.

ASKING FOR A REFUND.

Moved by Ald. Gildersleeve, that the Mayor communicate with the military authorities to ascertain if the married men in Fort Henry cannot be replaced, thus relieving the city from the necessity of granting aid to their families. This resolution was carried, also one authorizing the Mayor to communicate with the Dominion Government, asking for a recoupment of all the money granted to the families of volunteers on active service.

CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT.

Alleged to be Acting in Collusion with a Sharbott Lake Merchant.

Donald S. Betcone, for years traveller and latterly manager at Toronto for the firm of Messrs. John Garret & Co., Hamilton, was arrested on Saturday at Cobourg on a charge of embezzlement. It is alleged that the prisoner ordered goods from the wholesale house of Mullarky & Co., of Montreal, had them sent to a Sharbott Lake dealer, received invoices, caused the firm to settle for the stock, and received the money from the Sharbott Lake man. It is said that about $10,000 worth of stock belonging to Messrs. Garret & Co., disappeared during the latter half of last year. It was an open secret that one of the causes for the assignment of the firm was the mysterious disappearance of 150 cases of boots and shoes, about 7,000 pairs in all, valued at $10,000. The bulk of this had been taken from the branch store in Toronto.

A Race on Sunday.

On Sunday last a foot race occurred on the Indian reserve, five miles from Deseronto, between Quirk, of Brantford, and Cameron, alias Gus Carruthers, of Toronto, for $250 a side. The race was a hundred-yard dash. It was hotly contested and won by Carruthers. A few witnessed the race. The stakeholder was a Belleville hotel keeper. Another Bellevillian backed Quirk and dropped considerable. It is said that $513 changed hands. The party left for Belleville immediately after the race.

PERSONAL COLUMN.

The People Whose Movements, Sayings and Doings Attract Passing Attention.

Mrs. Hughes, mother of Mrs. J. Patton, is visiting the city.

Prince Frederick Charles, nephew of the Emperor William, has died of apoplexy.

Right Hon. John Bright is seriously ill, and his friends fear that his constitution is breaking up.

W. N. Rogers, postmaster of Peterboro, and his son are in the city.

Mr. R. Parsley, of Chicago, formerly a cabman here, is visiting friends in the city.

J. Deacon arrived in the city yesterday with a raft from South Crosby Mills.

Joseph Rymal, ex-M.P., is lying very ill at his home in Barton. He recently caught cold, and erysipelas set in.

James O'Connor Power, Home Rule member of parliament, was married on Thursday to Mrs. Wright, an American authoress.

Rev. Father Walsh has been presented with a very handsome buggy by some of his parishioners and friends in Escott and vicinity.

Yesterday James S. Barber, of Napanee, was married to Miss Maud Mackie, of Belleville. The presents were numerous.

Dr. C. A. Clancy, of Port Huron, Mich., is in the city. He comes here on an important mission. Kingston loses a favorite citizen in consequence.

Lord Salisbury has no intimate friends but lives a secluded life, taking his recreation in melo-dramatic romance, of which he is a generous patron.

Rev. T. J. Keough, of the Toronto Methodist Conference, has been deposed because of an act of immorality which he confessed. The reverend gentleman was for 35 years a minister.

Dr. Ryckman is chairman of the London district, and Dr. Sanderson of the Strathroy district of the Methodist church. Both are former Kingston favorites.

Farmers on the market this morning said the rain of the past few days was just what was required. They said the crops never looked better. The hay will be very fine.

E. B. Morgan, Oshawa; C. A. Clancy, Port Huron, Mich.; M. E. Ellis, Pittsburg, Pa.; Jas. F. Allen, Detroit, D. Graham, Belfast; H. E. Lyons, Toronto; D. McMartin, Cornwall; F. W. Perry, New York, are at the British American Hotel.

KINGSTON ART SCHOOL.

Distribution This Evening of Government Certificates and Exhibition of Work.

A public meeting will be held this (Tuesday) evening at 8 o'clock in the city hall, when Dr. S. P. May, superintendent of art schools, will give an address on the art education of our province, and distribute the certificates to the successful candidates at the May examination in industrial drawing. At the same time the awards will be given to the students of the Mechanics' Institute.

It is very gratifying to our citizens that the art students of Kingston have been so successful in the provincial competition. Some thirty-two students of the Art School competed and thirty of them took certificates. Only five of the Mechanics' Institute students competed, but they all took certificates.

Industrial drawing, applicable to the arts and manufactures, is now being introduced throughout the province under the administration of the Hon. Mr. Ross, Minister of Education, and will no doubt greatly benefit the people. It is a recognized fact that drawing is necessary in industrial life, and the nations which are the most prosperous are those which made industrial drawing the foundation of their education for all classes. A knowledge of drawing enables mechanics to finish their work better and to save material, but apart from this, there is the beauty of design. If we purchase an article we may not be satisfied with the strength and quality of material, but the beauty of design is taken into consideration, so it becomes a question of taste, and the best design commands the highest price.

The directors of the school are deserving of great praise for their perseverance in establishing an art school in our city, which is for the benefit of all classes of our community; and we hope to see a very large attendance at the meeting, which is free to the public, who will have an opportunity of judging for themselves as to benefits to be derived from industrial art education. The work of the school will be on exhibition.

A POPULAR PASTOR.

Rev. S. G. Bland Presented with a Dressing Case by His Bible Class.

Last evening a very pleasant time was spent at the residence of Mr. A. Chown, Queen street. Here the members of the Williamsville bible class assembled and presented the Rev. S. G. Bland, their late teacher, with a handsome dressing case, as a memento of their strong regard for him. Mr. Robt. Gowdy, jr., read the address, and Mr. Daniel Couper made the presentation. The address read:

"Dear Mr. Bland,—We have learned with deep regret that you are about to leave us, and in view of the pleasant relations which have existed during the past year we beg your acceptance of this dressing case as a slight token of our esteem.

"We would assure you, that as a class it shall ever be our highest aim to evidence our regard for you in the most effectual manner by walking as you have walked maintaining a conversation becoming the gospel so faithfully and effectually taught by you.

"While bidding you farewell we trust and pray that the divine favour may accompany you through life, and especially in your new field of labor."

Signed on behalf of the class.

Rev. Mr. Bland made a brief reply, in which he thanked the members of the class for their kind appreciation of his labors. He hoped they would always remain steadfast and true to their Saviour, and should he ever visit Kingston again he desired to find them firmly clinging to the cross.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

Items Gathered From Many Quarters—Along the Docks.

The str. Ontario is being fitted out at Clayton.

The schr Oriental left Port Colborne on Tuesday for Detroit.

The barge Bella is laden with 26,000 bushels of corn for Montreal.

The schr. Grantham reached Garden Island this morning from Toledo.

The schr. Abbis L. Andrews arrived at Portsmouth yesterday from Chicago.

The schr. Two Brothers is loading thirty tons of hay at Wolfe Island, for Cape Vincent.

The str. Princess Louise brought eight tons of cheese from Clayton to the city to-day.

The str. Passport was launched at Powers ship yard last evening. She has received general repairs.

The schrs. Bolivia and Bentley were expected to clear to-day for Oswego. The latter will load coal for Toronto.

Geo. Hall and Co., of Ogdensburg have chartered the barge Huron, belonging to the Kingston and Montreal Forwarding Company. It will be but into the coal trade.

The schr. Speedwell has for several weeks lain at Powers, ship yard. She has received new decks and been repainted. Now she is finished and has been chartered to load stone at Grindstone Island for Cobourg.

MARKET SQUARE MUSIC.

AN ENTERTAINMENT BY THE WIZARD OIL COMPANY.

Anxiously Enquiring About the Finding of a Committee—A Very Bad Taste in Seeking Publicity to a Case—Brought Before the Council by the Solicitor's Instructions—Should Not Occur Again.

The liver pad men initiated a new method of advertising novelties in medicine or medical appliances. They drew the people to their chosen rendezvous and held them there by song and sentiment, while the talking machine went over the wonderful virtues of the pad. The people liked the new departure, and others have not been slow in taking advantage of it. The Wizard Oil Company is the latest public attraction, and a powerful one it is. First there is the van, high and covered and roomy, illuminated by half a dozen bracket lamps and containing accommodation for the orchestra, composed of two violins, a cornet and an organ. But it is in vocal music that they excel, and give, in solos and chorus, a programme of musical merit. Each member appears to be as clever an accompanyist as a singer, as capable of delighting the audience with a sweet, tender air, as of throwing it into roars of laughter with a broad comic song, hitting off with irresistible effect the most amusing traits of character, English, Irish, American and German. Mr. H. M. Childs and Mr. J. D. Laurens are the comedians. They are great favorites, and so are Dr. Chas. Armour, the manager, J. S. Ludwick and B. W. Morris. The doctor's services as a musician were supplemented by accounts of the party's experiences and descriptions of the virtues of "Wizard Oil." The doctor and his colleagues represent the Hamblin Wizard Oil Company, which has a capital of $50,000. The headquarters are in Chicago, Ill., and, for Ontario, in Toronto. This band is known as Company No. 8. The orchestra van is drawn by four handsome piebald horses, sleek and high-spirited; and the manager has a private rig that will stand inspection. The Wizard Oil men bid fare to make as much money as the liver pad chaps. They cleared in one season $30,000.

PELTED OFF THE SQUARE.

A Man in Bad Odour About Town—Can't Fool the Antis.

The members of the Anti-Scott Association, at the close of the election, decided to have a demonstration, but it was limited to huge bon-fires and a display of fire works. Yesterday the recount gave them opportunity for further jubilation, and at dark another bon-fire burned upon the market square, and, under Old Sam's direction, rockets of various kinds were set off between the disturbance which packages of fire-crackers created when they were pitched into the flame. There must have been a couple of thousand people out, the attraction being increased by the presence of the Wizard Oil Company and their rendition of excellent music. Everybody enjoyed the frolic and the fun, save one. He had formerly been an Anti-Scott sympathiser, and spent his leisure moments in suggesting this, that and the other thing as likely to give success to the liquor men. Some of the Antis' best literature was looked up by this individual. He attended a rousing Scott-Act meeting, was touched by its enthusiasm, felt like being lifted into popular favor on the temperance wave, and finally found himself shouting for the cause as loud as if he had been in the army of prohibitionists for half a century. He didn't care about the snubs or the smirks of the licensed victuallers while the excitement lasted, but when he hauled up on the defeated side he was exceedingly sad. Of course there was a chance of the past being forgotten, and he essayed last night to do something by way of reconciliation. He met a leading Anti, and suggested the revival of former relations. The election being over he desired to be on kindly terms with the boys, and to that end volunteered contributions to the bonfire. The contributions were accepted, but when they were sent after they could not be found. This gave renewed offence, and, later on, when the jay deceiver appeared he was pelted with fruit of a rank smell and unhealthy appearance. Then he left the scene in an angry mood, and to-day enjoys the seclusion which his cabin grants.

HE WANTED TO KNOW, YOU KNOW.

Ald. McDermott Anxious to Learn the True Inwardness of a Recent Enquiry.

Ald. McDermott was very anxious last evening to learn all the particulars of the enquiry touching the charges of the chief of the fire brigade against Engineer Burke. There was a disinclination to discuss the unfortunate affair, but Ald. McDermott would not down, and when he could not find out the full particulars opened up on Ald. Thompson by asking if the enquiry was of a star chamber character and similar to the one in which Ald. Thompson was interested. "That man Tompkins" thereupon arose, and, with fire in his eye, declared that he was prepared to defend his action either in the city council or out of it. He hinted that possibly Ald. McDermott's estimable friend in Cataraqui ward knew more about the star chamber than he did. Ald. Bermingham also castigated Ald. McDermott for his inquisitiveness. Engineer Burke had erred, but he had suffered, and it was very bad taste on Ald. McDermott's part to revive the case and have him punished more than he deserved. All men were liable to err, and it was a charitable act to cover up rather than overhaul their offences. Burke's offence was not serious. If the fire, water and gas committee were incapable of judging of it, then the council could reject their report. Ald. McKelvey thought Ald. McDermott should not be castigated. He was quite right in seeking to know the true inwardness of the case. He thought the committee had done the wisest thing, for he understood the offence was not very serious. Ald. McDermott thought the bad taste was displayed in having the matter brought before the council at all. The committee should have investigated and settled it without reference to the board. Ald. Carson said the solicitor had instructed the committee to lay the case before the council. The matter then dropped, the mayor suggesting that cases of a similar character should be attended to without the council's attention being directed to them—unless they were of a very grave character.

Salvation Army Annoyances.

"I have a matter I wish to bring before the council," said Ald. Drennan as half a dozen aldermen were ready to leave the Council Chamber last evening. "Has the Salvation Army any right to play its band on the Sabbath? Ministers have spoken to me about the matter. So far as their services are concerned they are not disturbed, but in the afternoons the children who should attend the Sabbath Schools are attracted away by the band." Ald. Drennan did not finish his address as the aldermen moved off, one, speaking for the others, saying, "We have nothing to do with the matter. If the clergymen want the thing to be stopped they can interview the police magistrate. He's the proper authority."

A great corner in tin is reported in the London market, and prices here have advanced 2c. per lb.

Have your envelopes printed, and see samples at the WHIG office, both cheap and fine, from $1.50 per thousand upward, printed.

B. Watkins, from Clarendon, says that the spring crops in the back townships will give a poor return. Rye is an entire failure.

The ballots of No. 17, Victoria ward, were the most correctly marked in the Scott Act election. They do the veteran officer credit.

W. Carson's mare Sobelia will take part in the races to be held in Picton on Dominion Day, and also in the races which occur in Ogdensburg on July 2th.

What a difference there is between the price of strawberries in Chicago and Kingston? Here they are about 20 cents a box, while in Chicago they are only 5 cents a box.

Don't forget the excursion to-morrow (Wednesday) afternoon, under the auspices of the young men of Cooke's church. It will be a good one. Maud leaves Folger's wharf 1:15 p. m.

A very low line of sponges at the Pharmacy for this week. Boat sponges that are not rotten. Bath sponges, an immense assortment, good and low in price.—W. J. Wilson.

W. Barlow, who built and started the bon-fire on the Market Square last night, boasts that he burned the effigy of Sir Robert Peel, in Stokes, Staffordshire, England.

The statement of our contemporary, that Color Sergt. Davis had laid himself open to severe punishment in consequence of incapacity on guard, is untrue. Our contemporary will, of course, take it back.

Owing to his time being fully occupied by other business Mr. R. J. Eilbeck has resigned the agency of the Cunard Steamship Line, and Mr. J. P. Gildersleeve has been appointed in his stead. Persons intending to make an ocean voyage, and desirous of travelling by staunch, swift and magnificent steamers, should call at Mr. Gildersleeve's office, No. 42 Clarence street.

Don't forget the excursion on Saturday, 20th inst., per steamer Maud, under the management of the staff of Macnee & Minnes. Proceeds to be given to charitable institutions.

The str. Alexandria called here last evening, and after discharging and taking on freight she started down the river at eight o'clock. Shortly after she left a fog set in and she returned and remained here until about 5:30 a.m. She reached Clayton about 8 o'clock.

Mr. C. Burgess writes to Mr. S. Phippen, from Etiwanda, that the crops in in that section of the country promise to be extraordinarily good. He says he and his mother have 40 acres of land for fruit growing and 320 acres seeded with grain. He also stated that Mr. C. Maund, who works for Gunn & Co., has a very fine farm at Etiwanda.

CITY DIVISION COURT.

Decisions Rendered in the Various Cases—A Few Judgment Summonses.

The court assembled this morning, Judge Price presided. The cases were disposed of thus:

J. & W. Fisher, vs. G. Brown—Balance of account for beer $98. Brown had an offset larger than plaintiff's claim. Judgment for defendant.

Marcisse Circe vs. Charles Bostridge—Plaintiff sued on judgment obtained in District Court, Montreal, for $45.30. Case adjourned until next court.

Sophia McGrath vs. G. Fenwick—Action for $30, for board account. Judgment for defendant.

J. Y. Parkhill vs. D. McBlane—Suit for balance of account for groceries $26.23. Judgment for plaintiff, $15 and costs.
