LOCAL ELECTION

Our local contemporary kindly informs us that if the Conservatives had had the choosing of a candidate they could not have made a happier choice than that of the Liberals. This admission is very touching, and, regarding it in a friendly spirit, such as should give Mr C. F. Gildersleeve encouragement in his campaign. While he is such a very popular gentleman, however, he is to have battle. We are informed that he has a very "doughty opponent." Imagination does a great deal for the average journalist as well as politician. There is nothing certain in political life, and there is assuredly no certainty that Mr Metcalfe will go back to the Local House to proclaim that he is prepared to die as heroically as Leonidas and that his party is ready to imitate the Spartans whose bravery gave Thermopylæ an eternal celebrity. Mr Metcalfe is a happy tempered individual. He will try to win in the next election and if he has not success he will be merrier than the majority of his supporters.

But the News says he is "a doughty opponent." He is then to be the Conservative standard bearer—by virtue of his own invitation and consent. He did not ask the party in 1879 for permission to become their candidate. He announced that he was in the field and that he was going to stay there. He attended the Convention in a patronizing kind of way; he had enough of his friends there to carry out his wishes. He was nominated as a matter of course. He has not stated his intention to seek re-election, but he has done that which plainly indicates his purpose—he has solicited the votes of many.

The News accepts the inevitable; it acknowledges Mr Metcalfe as a doughty opponent and it will support him.

ONTARIO'S SURPLUS

The $4,869,366 is a huge exaggeration. Ontario has no such surplus. Mr Wood cannot show where it is.—Mail.

One would think that the Provincial Treasurer feared to make a statement of facts, that he left the politicians to guess at the financial condition of the Province whereas, at the time our contemporary gave publicity to the above declaration, Hon Mr. Wood had delivered his budget speech. He had shown that the assets of the Province amounted $5,353,028.06, and the liabilities to $427,568.18, leaving a balance the existence of which the Mail disputes. Mr Wood's speech supplies all the information any one can desire. If it is not convincing to the average Tory intellect the explanation of none other can avail anything. The fact remains, nevertheless, that there is a handsome surplus, and that it would have been much larger had the Government not been progressive and liberal in practice as in principle, desirous of meeting the growing requirements of the Province. We are reminded that during the past eleven years there have been received from the Crown Lands Department no less than $7,876,820, that of this sum there has been expended in the purchase of Rockwood Asylum, in building gaols and prisons $2,332,420; in public works, $481,086; in Colonization roads, $1,094,211; in railways, $3,430,082; in the distribution of surplus, $3,378,848. There has been spent in necessary public improvements $10,877,842, improvements which have been indispensable, which, if removed to-morrow, would have to be replaced. The receipts of the past eleven years have been $23,868,242, the expenditure $23,009,444; in other words the receipts, outside of Crown Land's revenue and public improvements, have been $859,798 more than the expenditure. Detecting the expenses of the Crown Land's Department from the expenditure and the receipts for eleven years appear to have exceeded the expenditure by $2,221,841. For two or three years Mr. Wood says the revenues of the Crown Lands were trenched upon, but if the whole eleven years be taken into account it will be found that the ordinary affairs of the country have been carried on, outside of the expenditure on capital account, outside of public buildings, colonization roads, aid to railways and refunds, independently altogether of the revenues of the Crown Lands Department, and still there were additions to the capital. The expenditure has increased—it could not be expected to remain stationary—but the advance is such as circumstances justify. The public institutions cost for maintenance in 1871 some $171,000; in 1882, $630,000. The grant for education was, in 1871, $831,000; in 1882, $1,00,000.—There was expended on education in 1871, $40,262; in 1882, $72,095. In 1871 the Asylum for the Blind, Mercer Reformatory, Provincial Refuge for girls, Asylum for Idiots, Agricultural College, Normal School at Ottawa, Central Prison, County Model Schools, Bureau of Industries, Insurance Board and Board of Health did not exist; there was no License Branch, no inspection of Division Courts, no inspection of public buildings, no grants to Dairymen's Associations. "It might go on," remarked the Treasurer, "throughout a long list, but I think I have adduced sufficient to show the impossibility of making any comparison between the expenditures of the two periods." And yet that is just what the Opposition, in their weakness and imbecility, are doing, and the more absurd the calculation and false the deduction the greater the caution with which it is repeated. We desire to see our Provincial finances husbanded, but we are opposed to any policy which means the accumulation of funds as Sandfield Macdonald accumulated them, at the expense of progress and development.

The Tories of Addington are making capital to the injury of Mr. Dorunla, M.P.P., because he, as counsel, appealed for the reprieve of Lott, the murderer. The man's personal career must be pretty good when his opponents are driven to such straits.

A New Passenger Steamboat Line Projected—Mr. Kirkpatrick's Statement—A Purchase.

The Montreal Herald had the following in its issue of Thursday morning: Messrs. Kirkpatrick & Rogers, of Kingston, have, we understand, given notice of application to Parliament for an Act of Incorporation for a Company to run a line of steamboats from Kingston to Montreal, with an additional line from Montreal to the summer resorts of the Lower St. Lawrence. The boats are to be built in Scotland, of steel, and orders for three of them have already been given. Some of the strongest men as well in Great Britain as in this country, are connected with the proposed Company. To-day the genial M. P. was asked about the proposed line. He informed us that the line had long been projected and that some days ago his firm had been requested to make applications for a charter for what is to be known as the "Royal Canadian Passenger Steamship Company." The men now interested in the line reside in Montreal and England. If the scheme be carried out a number of Kingstonians will, however, enter the Corporation. The boats will carry passengers only. Mr. Kirkpatrick thinks that the scheme has not been as far developed as the above intimates. He is not aware that any of the new boats have been ordered.

It is reported that the Deseronto Navigation Company have purchased the steamer Peerless. This boat ran on the Ottawa and Grenville route. She is an iron hull, 210 feet long, and is said to be very fast. She will have to be cut in two before she can be brought to Deseronto. She will take the Armenia's place on the lower route.

METHODIST episcopal CONFERENCE

On Friday morning the Conference opened with religious services, the Bishop presiding.

Memorial services were held last evening in memory of Revs. Benson, Smith and John Hill, ministers of this Church, lately deceased. The meeting was addressed by Revs. Messrs. Williams, Wilson and Dr. Gardiner.

Bishop Carman is to be a delegate to the General Conference from the Niagara Conference.

The Secretary was ordered to publish journals of this General Conference.

Resolutions were here introduced by Rev. Mr. Williamson, seconded by Rev Mr. Campbell, relative to the obtaining of a popular vote of the membership of the Church generally on the basis of union, this motion to be taken before the Quarterly Conferences and voted upon by every member over 21 years of age. After a warm discussion the motion was lost. The yeas and nays were demanded. The Committee on Finance reported the expenses apportioned to the various circuits. A Resolution of thanks was passed to the people of Napanee for their entertainment and to the Rev. Mr. Card for his kindness. A Committee was formed for the "levelling up" of the superannuated preachers' fund for the purpose of union. A Special Committee was appointed to canvass the various circuits for a special fund for this purpose.

Rev. Dr. Gardiner moved regarding the bringing of the union basis before the Quarterly Conferences, that the question be placed before the Quarterly Conferences at the fourth quarterly meetings of this ecclesiastical year, and that the vote taken at the first Quarterly Conference of next ecclesiastical year, and the Bishop shall announce it to be the law of the Church.—Carried.

The Bishop was requested to append a circular to the basis of union to be sent to the people.

A STATEMENT CORRECTED

A representative of this journal, hearing that Sheriff Ferguson had made some proposition about the grant of $100 towards the expense of the dairy show at the Fair, that gentleman was seen yesterday about the matter. He said that the statement of Mr. Graham, at the recent meeting in Belleville, was not correct, that the city never guaranteed a cent of the dairymen's expenses. The Sheriff said that at the meeting of the Association it was decided that butter and cheese should be manufactured on the exhibition grounds during the entire week. The Dairymen's Association granted $100 and the Arts Association $100. Another $100 was wanted and the dairymen asked Sheriff Ferguson if it could be secured in Kingston. The Sheriff told that if the Association carried out its programme he thought he could raise the additional amount required. Shortly before the Fair opened it was discovered that the dairy building had not been erected, for the reason that the Dairymen's Association had not forwarded the plan for it. With great exertion the building was made ready for the opening day, but none appeared with the apparatus for the manufacture of cheese and butter. Monday and Tuesday passed and still they came not. On Wednesday, however, the machinery arrived and during the day was put in operation. Before the Show was over Mr. Graham asked the Sheriff if he had raised the $100. The Sheriff said he had not and for a very good reason—that the Association had not carried out its proposition. These are the facts of the case. The city of Kingston promised nothing, therefore Mr. Graham's statement is untrue.

THE KINGSTON DRIVING CLUB.

The Driving Club was to have had their first turn-out this morning. The appointment had to be cancelled in consequence of the inclement weather. The Club was formed but a few days ago, the following being the officers:

President—Col. Irwin.
Vice-President—Mr. J. Muckleston.
Secretary-Treasurer—Capt. Farley.

The drives will occur on Wednesdays and Saturdays, weather permitting. The Club is composed of civilians and military men, but the formation of it was a suggestion of the latter, and the organization took place at the Tete du Pont Barracks.

A Conspiracy to Murder the Government Officials—Arrest of Several Prisoners.

Dublin, Jan. 13.—Mr. Carey and 20 others, charged with conspiracy to murder the Government officials, have been remanded. The arrests were the result of private investigation at the Castle. The police fruitlessly searched a number of places for arms and ammunition.

Later.—The Magistrates refused bail. Carey said the conspiracy was on the honour and throat as an action for false imprisonment.

Dublin, Jan. 13.—There were several arrests made lately, one last night and this morning under the Crimes act. A number of the persons arrested had weapons. The prisoners were principally artisans.

Dublin, Jan. 13.—One of the prisoners is a member of the municipality, arrested at midnight in his own residence and conveyed to the station under a strong escort. The prisoners are being privately examined to-day. The arrests number 15. The prisoners are charged with conspiracy to murder.

STATE OF THE BLESSED DEAD

The Editor, British Whig.

SIR,—There is something to be said in favour of public discussion on religious subjects so long as it is carried on in a reverent and brotherly spirit. But I think it is a pity to have useless and unprofitable controversies about matters so mysterious as to be far beyond our present powers of comprehension, and on which Scripture does not give us sufficient information to warrant dogmatisms concerning them. The "state of the blessed dead" is one of those questions on which I think we cannot do better than imitate the reticence of Scripture, even the conditions of it being far beyond our mortal ken. In reading a recent controversial letter on this subject it occurred so me to ask Is not the writer assuming far too much when he assumes that it is necessarily a definite place? Has he ever realized the contradiction in terms, so far as we can understand the terms, of supposing a disembodied spirit—pure spirit, to be in a definite material place at all? The truth is the old problem is utterly beyond our power to solve.

And Scripture allusions are both shadowy, vague and highly figurative. The word Heaven itself is held in a variety of senses. 1st, largely in a simply material sense as meaning the "firmament or atmospheric envelope of our globe. 2nd, in a figurative sense, derived from this, as the place where God specially reveals Himself and the abode of the glorified Saviour and the saints "made perfect." 3rd, in a purely spiritual sense, as in our Saviour's parables referring to the Kingdom of Heaven, meaning evidently His spiritual kingdom. The references to it in the second sense are too plainly figurative to enable us to form any definite conceptions of it beyond that of perfect holiness and eternal blessedness. "Paradise" is also evidently a highly figurative expression, and we cannot press it to any more definite meaning than that of a "blessed state," "absent from the body, present with the Lord." We frequently use the word ourselves in as figurative a sense. Take Longfellow's true and beautiful lines in his last poem of "Michael Angelo—"

"We ourselves
When we commune with the lost Paradise
As spirit as he did."

But where Scripture for wise reasons tells us so little definitely concerning the future state I do not think anything can be possibly gained by "doubtful disputations" on a subject on which none has a right to dogmatise. The only safe position it seems to me, which Christians can take, either for themselves or friends, is to accept our ignorance with the humble faith so beautifully expressed by the poet Whittier, beyond which, with our present means of knowledge, we can hardly go:

"I know not where His islands lift
Their guarded palms in air:
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond His love and care."

"RE FIDDLE QUESTION."

The Editor, British Whig.

SIR,—As you have had the history of several old fiddles played upon and in possession of great masters I think I should not be left out in the cold, being in possession of the oldest of the old violins, the father of them all. It is supposed to be the instrument Noah had in the Ark, as the tracks of the animals are still on the bridge. You have in recent issues assured us that previously mentioned fiddles took the cake. The above mentioned should surely take the bakery and settle the matter.—Yours, &c.,

O. F. TELGMANN.

COCK FIGHTING

The Editor, British Whig.

SIR,—I was under the impression that the barbarous and immoral "sport" of cock fighting was forbidden by our laws. If so, how is it that it can take place among us and be casually chronicled, like any perfectly harmless and legal proceeding, without any protest whatever? Cannot the participators in such things be brought to account for their inhumanity and lawlessness? Have our authorities no means of stamping it out? It is quite time.—Yours, &c.

"WITHIN THE PEARLY GATES"

We have received a copy of the work bearing the above title, and now running through its 22,000 edition. The reprint is Canadian, by McLeish & Co., Toronto, and a credit to the typographical art. We cannot improve upon the criticism of the Methodist Times, which said of it: "Why should the author of this book withhold his name? He need not be ashamed of his performance, for though it is not a great literary venture yet it certainly does equal credit to his head and his heart. It is a book to do one's soul good. It is creative, religiously. The idea of it is original and altogether unique. In allegorical guise it describes the glories of heaven, introducing some of the most distinguished saints of ancient and modern time. The author's descriptive powers are of a high order. Practice and culture will enable him to achieve wonders, and to take, not only a high stand among his brethren but a very respectable place among the authors." The book has found its way into the hands of royalty, the Queen and Princess Louise having acknowledged the receipt of copies. We make public that which has long been a secret, the name of the author—Rev. Mr. Harris.

MEN OF THE HOUR

R. M. HOE, Inventor of the Rotary Press.

The subject of this paragraph was born in New York, Sept. 12, 1812, the son of Robert Hoe, an Englishman who, in the year 1803, founded in the Empire City the great business which for half a century has been known as that of R. Hoe & Company. Robert Hoe was the first man in the United States who made saws of cast steel and the first in New York to drive the machine by a factory by steam. In 1803 he introduced the double cylinder press, an improvement on the cylinder press invented by his father, who died at the early age of fifty-three. In 1846 the firm of R. Hoe & Company consisted of Richard M. Hoe and his brothers Robert and Peter. The Rotary, invented by the first named in the year, soon acquired the name of the "Lightning press" by reason of its rapidity of working. By the use of its largest size twenty thousand impressions can be printed in one hour, but the Webb Perfecting Press, which prints, cuts and folds from fifteen to twenty thousand complete newspapers in an hour is the latest and best of the Hoe presses. It prints from a continuous roll of paper from four or five miles long both sides at one time. Sixty-nine thousand copies of the Philadelphia Public Ledger are printed in an hour by means of this machine. Such rapid production is possible, of course, only by means of stereotype or electrotype plates. Richard M. Hoe spends a great half his time in Europe. The firm have a branch establishment in London. His American home is Brightside, New York City. He has been twice married. His first choice was Lucy Gilbert of South Salem, New York State. Two daughters by this marriage were married by members of the Lawrence family of New York City. Mr. Hoe went to Philadelphia for his second wife, Mary Say Corbin. Two children born in second wedlock have been married by members of the Harpers firm. With a single exception all the members of the firm of R. Hoe & Company are sons or grandsons of Robert Hoe.

A PANICKY FEELING

New York, Jan. 13.—The Inspector of the Bureau of Buildings has directed the Examiners to visit the hotels as quickly as possible and report concerning the safety of the buildings. A smoking gas jet caused an excitement in the Union Square Theatre last night. The audience rose and crowded the aisles, making a rush for the doors. The panic was prevented by the assurance of cool headed persons. Several ladies fainted. Some lost jewellery. The performance was resumed.

TROUBLE IN ROME

Rome, Jan. 3.—The police last evening made domiciliary visits to 150 houses and arrested 126 persons. They also made 62 seizures of newspapers containing revolutionary accounts of Oberdonk's life and so called martyrdom. It is believed the arrests will lead to the discovery of important information. The trial for high treason is impending.

A PARDONED CONVICT'S DEATH.

Bryantown, Md. Jan. 18.—Dr Samuel Mudd, who set the broken leg of John Wilkes Booth, assassin of Lincoln, died on Wednesday, aged 50. Mudd was sentenced to life and sent to Dry Tortugas, where, during the yellow fever epidemic he afforded such valuable services that in a few years he was pardoned.

GOING TO WRECK

Park a Ferry, Ireland, Jan. 13.—The British ship Ux Wist Door, of Glasgow, for New Zealand, with 200 passengers, is ashore at North Rock, Cloughey. She will become a total wreck. The mainmast is gone. The passengers have been safely landed.

RECOVERY OF BODIES.

Montreal, Jan. 13.—The police found four bodies in the medical students apartment here, stolen from the vault in St. Martin's Cemetery. The thieves were absent at the time the officers made a raid upon the houses.

WORSE FIRE TRAPS

Chicago, Jan. 18.—A commercial traveller of long experience in hotels of the North Western States, mentions 15 cities, of medium size, in which there are worse fire traps than the Newhall House.

FROZEN TO DEATH

Moscow, Jan. 13.—Persons are frozen to death and found in the streets daily. There were four deaths from cold at Kharkoff recently.

A ROYAL BIRTH.

London, Jan. 13.—The Duchess of Connaught was safely delivered of a son at Windsor Castle to-day.

Beware of Imitations

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electrow and Eclectric Oil for the genuine Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of Northrop & Lyman, the proprietors for Canada, on the back.

In the ruins of the Newhall House, Milwaukee, three bodies were found burned beyond identification. A call was issued for volunteer labourers, and 60 responded.

INSANITY is in almost all cases the outgrowth of an overwrought brain. Dr. R. C. West's Nerve and Brain Treatment removes it, cures and effects a cure. Sold by W. J. Wilson.

Miss Mary Alice Almont Livingston, of Tom's River, New Haven, has recovered $75,000 from Henry Fleming, the millionaire oil king, New York, for breach of promise of marriage and betrayal.

A representative of the Louisiana sugar growers yesterday before the Senate Committee advocated the that duty on sugar be fixed by the Tariff Commission, said the sugar production was the almost exclusive support of 400,000 individuals.

Messrs Damer & Co., Toronto, wholesale boots and shoes are in trouble. They have been unable to meet their paper held by the Ontario Bank. Liabilities are about $64,000, assets between $60,000 and $90,000. A good deal of the stock, however, is unmarketable at present.

VERY ANCIENT FIDDLES

The Paradise controversy is giving place to that on ancient fiddles. Three citizens reported this morning that they had entries to make in the great competition, but on an examination of the facts only one is worthy of the distinction sought for it. Mr Jones has called to say that he seems to have the oldest and about the best fiddle in the city. It came from Leipsic, and by a German friend was willed to the present holder. Upon the inside, near the sounding post, are the figures 1722, a date two years anterior to that upon which a previous violin is said to have been made. It is venerable in appearance and valued very highly. Mr Jones says the instrument came from Leipsic, but beyond that he wishes to say nothing. He has no desire to compete with Dr. Curtis and T. Macaulay in the question of history. Next!
