The Washington treaty was signed in May, 1871. It referred to certain rights on lakes and rivers and fishing privileges, had to remain until certain sanctions of Provincial Legislatures and of the United States were given, but these did not take effect until July 1, 1873. The prescribed term of ten years for which the treaty was made will expire next July, but as Congress will not be in session then the joint resolution from him directs the President to give notice by that time.

THE COUNTY NOMINATION

We can unhesitatingly endorse the nomination of Mr. J. M. Fair as the County Liberal standard bearer in the coming election. He is a man of high personal honour, intelligent, conversant with the issues of the day, manly in action and decided in his opinions. He has been a resident of the constituency for many years and in various capacities identified himself with the public interests. Others were named as candidates, but all stated their readiness to abide by the decision of the majority and do what they could to elect the choice of the Convention. Mr. Fair accepted the nomination and made a speech which possessed the right ring. He was a pronounced supporter of Mr. Mowat, whose policy merited the favour of every one desiring good government, progressive legislation and the protection of provincial rights. He was certain the Administration would be sustained—a deputation of Conservatives must have regarded this certain also when they wanted Mr. Mowat to promise a grant to the Cornwall Rly. at the next session—and he hoped Frontenac would be represented by a Ministerialist. It is important to have a good candidate, it is equally important that his canvass should be both vigorous and successful. Mr. Fair will act his part; let his friends be up and doing. The meeting on Saturday was an enthusiastic one, free of the squabbles and free fights which characterized the assembly of the Conservatives. It looks as if the county is to be redeemed.

THE STREAMS BILL.

The difficulty anent the use of streams in the floating of timber dates farther back than most people are aware of. Some fifteen years ago Mr. Playfair, of the Township of Clarendon and Miller, brought the matter prominently before the Council of the County of Frontenac. At that time the people who were settling on lands and largely depending for income upon the sale of their wood complained that they could not profitably get it down the Mississippi in consequence of the tolls which Mr. McLaren exacted. They did not dispute that Mr. McLaren should receive a consideration for the benefit of his slides and dams, but contended that his charges were excessive, and such as forced them into conditions the reverse of comfortable. Some found that they suffered too many embarrassments to succeed; they disposed of their property and left the county. Mr. Playfair drew the attention of the Council to the manner in which the Township was being depopulated and urged the memorializing of Parliament for a law which would afford the people a measure of protection. It was not had, however, until the McLaren-Caldwell Chancery case demonstrated the necessity of it. The Streams Bill has been passed twice and twice disallowed. It is being again passed by the Ontario Legislature, and it is one of the things the people will be asked to pronounce upon in the Local election. It is based upon justice and aims at dealing fairly between man and man. Caldwell & McLaren are not only affected by it; it protects the rights of scores on other rivers besides the Mississippi. The local history we have cited will strengthen the candidature of the man, who, if elected, will vote for the Streams Bill a hundred times if necessary.

A DEGRADING ADMISSION.

A day or two since our local contemporary announced that a gentleman, talked of as a candidate in the Liberal interest, stated that had he known Mr. Gildersleeve was unpopular with the workingmen (which we deny) he would have seen that some other gentleman secured the nomination. We termed this a cock-and-bull story, a fiction, and called upon the News to name the discontent. We acted boldly, knowing that the assertion could not be substantiated. How was our challenge met? In this way:

"We have simply to say that we had the circumstance from a gentleman of the highest commercial standing in the city, who assures us that it is perfectly true. When [illegible] such an opinion it knows perfectly well that we have no right to make use of names where statements here been made not meant for publication."

Here we have an admission which is positively humiliating—that "a gentleman of the highest commercial standing in the city" indulged in unwarrantable gossip, and that some treacherous character betrayed his confidence by spreading broadcast statements "not meant for publication." We have never seen anything like this before, and we may never see its like again. We do not possess the refinement, the grace and touching simplicity of some editors; we cannot hope to imitate their composer, Gambetta, founder of La Franconie, in the use of phrases in which "all the knots, the sudden showers, the lightnings and the perfumes of the beautiful Midi appear;" our style may be crude and superficial, but we have some sense of the duty we owe to the public on the one hand and our confiduts and friends on the other. We will be hard pushed when we cannot make a point against an opponent without distorting a tale "not meant for publication." The only high-class journal in Canada would do such a thing.

A. G. Gould, Chicago, Ill., and N. A. Dave, Canadian Passenger Agent of the Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe Rly., are at the Windsor Hotel.

POLITICAL CONVENTION.

A RALLY OF THE COUNTY LIBERALS AT REFORM HALL—GREAT ENTHUSIASM MANIFESTED.

Mr. J. M. Fair in the Field—Speeches of the Delegates—The Duty of the Hour—"Work," the Watchword.

On Saturday afternoon, as we previously stated, there was a Reform Convention in this city attended by a great number of the yeomanry of Frontenac. The representatives of Liberal principles had a dual purpose in view—the formation of a Reform Association for the County and the selection of a candidate. There were delegates from all the municipalities present. The meeting would have been larger had the notification been longer, many of those present having only incidentally heard of the meeting on Saturday morning. During the session considerable enthusiasm was manifested. The organization was first proceeded with. The nomination of Mr. John Simpson, of Cataraqui, as President of the Association, was hailed with cheers. Mr. Simpson thanked the meeting for the confidence reposed in him. He felt unequal to the duties of the position and begged to be relieved of the appointment. He had always been a Reformer, still loved the principles they were fighting for, but thought there were more capable men for the place. A voice rang out, "In times like these every Reformer is expected to do his duty." There was loud cheering, and Mr. Simpson gracefully acceded to the wishes of the Convention. The associate Presidents elected will act as Presidents of the Township Associations. There was a determination to push the election of a county man to a successful issue.

HEARING FROM THE DELEGATES.

The next business was the hearing of the reports of delegates who attended the Toronto Convention. These were very interesting. John McGrath, Storrington, said the convention was the largest, most respectful and unanimous one he had ever seen in Canada. The assembly was such as to astonish Toronto. Halls could not be secured large enough to hold the Liberals in attendance. He had no doubt the Convention left an impression on the Province favorable to Reform and good government. He referred to the attempt of the Opposition press to disparage the Convention, but it failed and like other failures of the Opposition press it had done the Conservatives no good. He never saw such a Convention before, and never expected to see its like again. The speeches were favorable and fair. The resolutions were carried unanimously, and when they were put "it would have done your heart good to see the right hands of that vast assemblage go up at once." He held that the principles to be fought for at the coming election were the strongest ever placed before the people.

Thomas Dawson, Wolfe Island, carried away from the Convention the impression that the present Government in the coming election would sweep the Province from end to end. He felt that if the Reformers of Frontenac united upon a man there was no doubt of his election. He distinctly declined being a candidate, but promised his hearty support to whoever was the nominee of the Convention.

SELECTING A CANDIDATE.

The next business was the selection of a candidate and in this matter much interest was displayed. Thomas Clyde, Kingston Township, made a few interesting remarks. He advocated the selection of a candidate by representation from the municipalities. They all had their preference for local men, but it was necessary that all personal feelings should be sunk and the greatest unanimity shown in the support of the strongest man. He referred to the disallowance of the Streams Bill and the Boundary Award and declared that the country was alive on these questions.

Lyman Lyons, Storrington, said now was the time to strike and before the meeting adjourned a candidate should be in the field.

CHOICE OF MR. J. M. FAIR.

The voice of the meeting was in favour of immediate action and by vote it was decided that three representatives from each municipality (eighteen in all) should retire and select the man they considered strongest. The only names before the meeting were Messrs. J. M. Fair and T. C. Starke. The latter was absent, and we are informed, was not desirous of being a candidate. The choice of Marshall Fair was made unanimous, and when announced to the meeting was received with applause.

Mr. Fair addressed the Convention thanking it for the honour conferred upon him, and promising to do all in his power to carry the Reform banner to victory.

It is probable that Committees will be formed in every school section in order to bring out the vote.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

(As a Nerve Food.)

Dr. J. W. Smith, Wellington, O., says: "I have used it advantageously in impaired nervous supply."

Answer This Question.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of Food, Yellow Skin, when, for 75 cts., we will tell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. J. G. King, Wholesale and Retail Agent.

H. A. McLaughlin, Norland, writes: "I am sold out of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. It sells well and I find in every instance it has proven satisfactory. I have reason to believe it the best preparation of the kind in the market." It cures dyspepsia, biliousness and torpidity of the liver, constipation and all diseases arising from impure blood, female complaints, etc.

ANOTHER COLLISION.

The Steamships Cimbria and Sultan Collide—Sinking of the Former—Life Lost.

New York, Jan. 21.—The steamship Cimbria collided with the steamer Sultan during a fog, off Borkum island, North Sea.

Hamburg, Jan. 21.—The Cimbria sustained such severe injuries that she sank immediately. The officers did all in their power to save lives. Without a moment's loss of time life-preservers were distributed among the passengers and the order given to lower the boats. This, on account of the vessel heeling over, was found difficult on one side and impossible on the other. As the second officer was cutting spars loose, so that there should be as much driftwood as possible for the people to cling to when the inevitable foundering came, the vessel went down under his feet. He seized a spar, but as several other persons clung to it he was obliged to let go, and swam to a boat, which was subsequently picked up by the Theta. The second officer steered the Theta to Cuxhaven. Seventeen other persons have been saved by the steamer Damant, from the Weser lighthouse, making 56.

KNOWN TO BE RESCUED.

The Cimbria's engines were kept at full speed until 1:30 o'clock, then at half speed until 2 o'clock, after which they were kept at slow speed. About ten minutes past 2 o'clock another steamer's whistle was heard, and the engines of the Cimbria were stopped instantly. The Sultan's green light, owing to the fog, was not observed until she was 150 feet from the Cimbria. The latter was struck abaft the first collision bulkhead on the port side, and keeled over to starboard, speedily sinking. The Theta picked up one of the Cimbria's boats at 2 o'clock on Saturday and arrived at Cuxhaven at 6 o'clock. The Sultan has a large hole in her bow seven feet above the water line.

New York, Jan. 21.—The agents of the Hamburg American Packet Co. have received the following from Hamburg: The steamer Cimbria had 28 cabin passengers, 362 steerage and 92 of a crew. So far 59 persons have landed at Cuxhaven and 16 at the Weser Lighthouse.

HER PASSAGE AT SEA.

London, Jan. 21.—The Cimbria left Hamburg on Tuesday. She ran aground before leaving the Elbe, but got off with the flood tide with the assistance of the steamer Hansa without damage and put to sea at 3:30 p.m. On Friday morning she came into collision during a thick fog off Borkum with the steamer Sultan. The steamer Sultan sustained heavy damage. She has arrived in the Elbe.

London, June 22.—The Times says the officers of the Cimbria have done their duty and made every disposition for saving of all the lives possible at the moment.

London, June 22.—The Cimbria lies sunk in 9 feet of water. Three boats were launched before she sank. One boat was launched before the foundering. The Cimbria capsized immediately.

Hamburg, Jan. 22.—The steamer Hansa, returned from a cruise, saw the wreck of the Cimbria five miles northeast of Borkum Lightship. The topsail yards were above water. It saw no trace of the survivors or bodies although the weather was clear. Enquiries were made at the Borkum Lightship where nothing was known about any boat or person saved.

AN ARTIST'S DEFALCATIONS.

New York, Jan. 22.—John M. Falconer, aged 68, one of the earliest of American etchers, and who has been for 22 years Treasurer of the Artists' Fund, is a defaulter in $8,700. He has resigned. His interest of $4,000, due to the heirs of every member upon death, reverted to the payment of the defalcation. The defaulting has been going on for six or eight years. The Artists' Fund is a benevolent institution in flourishing condition, and will not be materially affected by the loss. The members are well known artists. Falconer will not be prosecuted.

AN EXPLANATION.

The Editor, British Whig.

Sir,—I was charged at the Police Court last Saturday with being implicated in stealing coal from the wharf of the K. and M. T. Company. I beg to state the true way I got implicated. I gave liberty to a couple of little boys, of about 10 years of age, as an inducement to keep them off the street in the evening to fit up a small room in the back part of the building which I seldom use. Accordingly the little boys made a picture gallery and termed it a club room, and one of the boys took a bag and his toy sleigh to get some of the rubbish that was swept on the wharf for their little club house. Directly after tea, after my day's work, I went to this same wharf for a pail of water, where the people in this locality generally get it, when observing the boy I went to send him home. The watchman fired a shot at me and accused me of taking coal. I can make a declaration that I have not been down on this wharf since my brother-in-law's schooner, the Pandora, was there last fall, with the exception for an odd pale of water. The boys draw it from the Ontario Foundry in the day time. Any person saying different to this statement falsifies me.

Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electros and Eclectric Oil for the genuine Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of Northrop & Lyman, the proprietors for Canada, on the back.

Hay that has been renewed by the Cuticura Hair Renewer never will again become gray. Sold at 50 cents per bottle by all druggists.

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

Powder Magazines Scattered, Destroying Property and Many Lives—A Sad Summary.

Berkeley, Cal., Jan. 21, 9 p.m.—The number of Chinese killed by the explosion is not as great as at first reported. Not over thirty are missing. The fire is still raging, and more explosions are expected momentarily. The scene is terrible. The bodies are lying near the fire but the men dare not rescue them. The Assistant Superintendent is missing, and is supposed to be killed. The Superintendent was not at the works. Oscar Tugaffsky was pulled from the ruins severely hurt. Seven Chinese, taken from the debris, are badly hurt. All the houses within a radius of half a mile have been completely shattered. The doors and windows of the dwellings of the employees on the opposite side of the hill have been blown in and most of the occupants thrown to the floor. The shed and barns have been laid flat. The buildings of the Judson works, on the side of the hill where the blasting powder was manufactured, were thrown over and will probably have to be rebuilt. The cause of the first explosion in the mixing house is unknown. The other explosion followed in the space of two minutes.

ALL THE BUILDINGS BLOWN UP

were on the bayside of the hill, but the fire crept rapidly around. Now the large magazine is in danger. No attempt has been made to check the fire owing to the danger. Many workmen escaped miraculously. To-day is the first Sunday in many months that work is running full blast. Seventy tons were loaded on schooners at the wharf. The driver with a team and load of powder on the wharf jumped when the first explosion was heard into the water and escaped when the waggon load exploded. The wharf has taken fire and is burning rapidly. Hospitals have been improvised in undamaged houses, and the wounded cared for. The physicians came from Oakland and other towns. This is the most disastrous explosion that occurred in these works. Should the magazine explode all the houses in Berkeley will be damaged. An effort will be made to smother the flames and avoid the danger.

THE LATEST PARTICULARS.

Later—Total loss $100,000; to the Giant Powder Works, the damage is $60,000; to the acid works of Judson & Co., $40,000. It is impossible to ascertain the exact loss of life, but is estimated at 30 to 40. The first explosion occurred in the packing house in which 200 cwt. of powder was stored. It is not known whether any one was killed by the first explosion. As soon as the packing house exploded a number of Chinamen of the other departments fled and reached the open space when the mixing house exploded, killing most of them. It is thought Fenlonnank, the Company's Superintendent, was killed by this explosion. In a minute one of the smaller houses exploded, followed immediately by the fourth explosion, which doubtless killed the surviving employees. The dead work men are all Chinamen. After each explosion the woodwork of the buildings burned for several hours. An effort to prevent the flames reaching the main magazine, containing an immense quantity of powder, was successful. The consequences of its explosion would have been frightful. Twelve bodies were counted lying in the debris. A coroner's investigation will probably disclose more than double the number. A force is engaged to night in extinguishing the fire and the recovery of bodies.

PANIC IN A THEATRE.

Milwaukee, Jan. 19.—At the Grand Opera House, during the performance of the "Lights o' London," a calcium light machine exploded, causing a stampede. Cries of "keep your seats," and the playing of the orchestra, restored order. Five of the stage people were hurt. Gustavus Stephen, was cut in the leg; Charles Reed, carpenter, was cut in the leg; James Foster, was wounded in the breast; Albert Seymour, had his skull fractured and was partly disemboweled; Robert Farrington, had a leg torn off. The last two cannot live.

FREDDY AND CUNNINGHAM.

St. Louis, Jan. 22.—Mrs. Langtry left for Memphis last night. Cunningham sent to Fred Gebhardt asking him to grant an interview and telling him he was unarmed. Gebhardt, instead of answering Cunningham, placed himself under the protection of the police and took the train for Memphis. Cunningham had bought tickets for himself and three friends, intending to follow Gebhardt to Memphis.

COLD WAVE COMING.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—The intense cold continued this morning, 23° at below zero. The only persons on the streets are those compelled to be. There are many cases of severe frost bites. The winds packed the snow in solid drifts which impeded the trains. The cold wave is moving east.

A BOILER EXPLOSION.

Elkton, Md., Jan. 22.—This morning a boiler at the Ledger paper mills exploded wrecking half of the immense building. Patrick McCormick was killed and John Garrett is missing. Eight others are injured and will probably die.

IRISH ITEMS.

Dublin, Jan. 21.—The whole of the North of Ireland is in a wretched condition. In one place such general destitution prevails that 30 tons of Indian meal a week is required to keep the people barely alive. Relief comes slowly. Placards signed "America" have been posted on the walls at Clanmore denouncing that "accursed, abominable journal, the Irish World."

The twenty-one prisoners recently arrestedin Dublin for conspiracy to murder were examined in court on Saturday. An approver gave important information which will probably lead to the conviction of several of the Fenian and Phœnix Park murderers. The plot to assassinate Mr. Forster failed upon three separate occasions. Six other prisoners have offered to turn Queen's evidence.

O'Brien, editor of the United Ireland, charged with seditious libel, has been committed for trial.

At the adjournment of the examination of the accused conspirators on next Saturday a list of the Government officials whose murder was arranged will be produced.

MR. WHITING'S EXPLANATION.

The Editor, British Whig.

Sir,—Mr. McGuire states that he alluded to an Alderman in St. Lawrence Ward as one who was a Conservative in the late elections, got votes as such, and went with the Liberals in the Council. Ald. Whiting may have something to say about this."

Since the quietest executive soul of Mr. T. H. McGuire is troubled, and since he not only went out of his way to say the above but has put himself about to apply it personally to me I have this to say. In the late Municipal Election I canvassed, myself, nearly every voter in St. Lawrence Ward. If one man can be named who voted for me because he was told either by myself or by any one with my authority that I was a Conservative, I shall be prepared to admit that on this occasion Mr. McGuire has spoken the truth. Until this is done I trust my own assertion, that I solicited no vote on political but every vote on personal grounds, will be deemed satisfactory.—Yours truly,
