Opinion our Opinion Done.

LENNOX AND ADDINGTON.

On Saturday next the Hon. Premier Mowat is announced to address the electors of Lennox at the Opera House, Napanee, at 2 p.m., and there will, no doubt, be a great crowd in attendance. It will be the only opportunity that any may have in this section of hearing him.

Mr. Hawley is announced to speak at Amherst Island on Thursday evening and at Wilton on Friday.

A grand mass meeting of the Reformers was held in the Opera House, Napanee, on Tuesday afternoon after the nomination. Mr. D. W. Allison, the late Reform candidate, presided and made a very earnest and effective speech, after which Mr. Hawley addressed the electors at considerable length. Mr. Hawley is an able and effective speaker, and has made himself thoroughly familiar with all the leading questions before the country. Mr. Hawley is one of the rising men of the party and he is destined to make his mark in our Provincial Legislature.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Hawley's prospects of election are most encouraging. There is no doubt now in regard to his success unless the Opposition come down to a "specie payment basis" of action.

Regarding the McLaren claim to the ownership of the Mississippi river because it is not a floatable stream Mr. Allison stated, at the Napanee meeting on Tuesday, that he was the owner of 2,000 acres of land just opposite one of McLaren's upper slides, and that he was there both in August and October. Instead of the river being so dry as "not to float a chip," as represented by Sir John last summer, he found it impossible at any time to cross it except by boat. He ridiculed the idea of the stream being so small or so insignificant as was represented.

During the time of the meeting a note was received from a gentleman just returned from the north of Addington saying that all classes there, irrespective of party, sustain Mr. Deroche in his position regarding the Streams Bill.

PRINCIPAL GRANT IN POLITICS.

We cheerfully concede to the Rev. Principal Grant, of Queen's College, the right to hold any opinion he pleases, and upon any subject whatever, whether politics, education, morality, or religion. We concede, too, that he has a perfect right to express these opinions in any way he thinks best, but while admitting this we do think that there are very weighty reasons why his opinions on political questions should not reach the public in the way they did at the nomination on Tuesday last. Dr. Grant is understood to favor a return to the old idea of having a Chief Superintendent, instead of a Minister of Education. Good taste, good judgment, and a regard for the interests of the institution over which he presides, should all have dictated to him the necessity of care in his correspondence before an election and the duty of seeing that his views upon the Education Department were expressed at a different time and in a totally different way.

It is unfortunate that a "protest of the Senate of Queen's University," against a well meant regulation of the Minister of Education, should be followed by the reading of a letter addressed to Mr. Metcalfe and written by Principal Grant, expressing a virtual condemnation of the Mowat Government for continuing the Department of Education. The protest is remarkable for having been mentioned in one of the educational magazines of the Province only to be condemned, and for being published in another periodical without editorial comment of any kind. The inference from this is plain. The opinions expressed by the Senate are not in accord with the views held by the teaching profession throughout the Province. Nor is the opinion expressed by the Principal likely to meet with any more favor. The system of having a responsible Minister of Education is being adopted all over the world. The old-fashioned system of having a Chief Superintendent may do for such small and thinly settled Provinces as Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, but Ontario has outgrown such a system and will never return to it.

There is a Minister of Public Instruction in France, Italy, Prussia, Austria, Belgium (created in 1878,) Baden, Bavaria, Denmark, Greece, Finland, Holland (Minister of the Interior,) Portugal (do.) Spain (do.) In Switzerland the proposal was carried in April, 1882. In Japan, Egypt, Cape Colony, South Australia, Victoria, New South Wales, Queensland and New Zealand there is a Minister of Public Instruction.

With the example and experience of such countries to guide us it will take a great deal more than a mere expression of opinion on the part of Dr. Grant to make the people of Ontario return to the antiquated plan of a Chief Superintendent of Education.

As in the case of the "Marmion" discussion the reverend gentleman has said either too much or too little. A considerate respect for the opinions of those who differ from him, not to mention a wise regard for his own position, must indicate to him the propriety of at once giving to the public the reasons in full for the course he advocates. Dubbing opponents "hopelessly and helplessly stupid" instead of giving reasons will convert no one, and while holding very decided opinions from him we await with considerable anxiety a full exposition of his views upon one of the most important questions of the day.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

Was it "common courtesy," as G. M. Macdonnell put it, for J. H. Metcalfe to read from the hustings a private letter written to him by Principal Grant and not intended for publicity?

Our contemporary has again gone into the prophecy business. Kingston, it says, is solid for Conservatism, but "for God's sake help or we perish." This is the kind of an argument which bespeaks a contested mind.

The Tory speakers have a neat way of doing things. They viciously attack Mr. Robinson in public and send their parties to make atonement for their offences by apologies. The assaults are not made in the heat of discussion, but deliberately and therefore without palliation.

The News says Mr. Dennison will have 200 of a majority in Addington. Friends bear this statement in mind, and reflect upon the fact that at the nomination the people were so decidedly in favour of Mr. Deroche that a Kingston barrister came home as he went out—with his speech in his pocket.

Mr. Tait, "the ignorant man" who made things lively at Portsmouth last week, has arrived in the city. There will be a grand meeting in the Opera House on Saturday evening, to be addressed by Mr. Tait and others. Those who want to witness some beautiful "scalping" will do well to attend.

Fence about it as he will our contemporary cannot deny that he misrepresented Mr. Dawson (1) by stating that his support of Mr. Fair was purchased by the promise of a position by Hon. C. F. Fraser, and (2) by favours from the Crown Lands Department in the shape of several thousand dollars. Mr. Dawson has proven these assertions to be false.

It is laughable to read what T. H. McGuire says about himself. In his report in the News of the Prince Edward nomination he remarks: "He (T. H. McGuire) then proceeded to reply to the arguments of Mr. Striker and handled that individual in a manner that he will not soon forget." Then again we are informed he was rewarded with enthusiastic cheers. Funny, is it not?

That all is not harmony in the Tory ranks, despite the yells of the Mail, is evident by the fact that in Carleton there are two Conservative candidates, in Hamilton two, in South Lanark three, in Ottawa two, in Russel four, and in East Toronto two. On the Liberal side there are two candidates in North Bruce and no Opposition, in Leeds and Grenville two and an Independent, in Brockville two Liberals and no Opposition. By such contests it is not likely that the Government will be injured.

Mr. Dawson is still a trouble to our contemporary. He has discovered that Mr. Dawson at first talked of not supporting Mr. Fair, and that he then changed his tactics, sank personal feeling and was prepared to do the party a service. Mr. Dawson's loyalty to Liberalism is wondered at, while at this moment half a hundred lackeys are scouring the county and doing their best to coax or bulldoze the Conservative into line. Will our contemporary dare to call the Stalwarts of his party purchased partizans?

The Tories say Hon. C. F. Fraser is going to be beaten. Well, supposing he is—of which there is no probability—how much will the Opposition be benefitted? Our readers may judge by the following extract from Mr. Tennant's speech: "I will support the Mowat Government just as firmly as Mr. Fraser. I will be found there every time. I approve of all their acts, and am with them on all their issues now before the people. I am a supporter of the Mowat Government in power or out of power, whether elected or not elected. I want you to distinctly understand that I'm not the kind of stuff of which Tories are made. I will get the Conservative vote, not that they love George Tennant more, but that they love Fraser less."

"Mr. Meredith, inspired by the organ of culture, has," says the Montreal Post, "proposed the abolition of the Education Department, which has a responsible Minister at its head, and the restoration of the Council of Public Instruction with the administration of educational affairs under a Chief Superintendent. This proposition lacks wisdom, and is against the best interests of education. No responsible administration, such as is involved in Mr. Meredith's proposal, can ever be better than an administration which is over and at all times responsible for its slightest act. Quebec Province knows to its cost what an irresponsible school administration means, and Ontario would be far better off without a taste of our experiences."

Dyspepsia & Liver Complaint.

Is it not worth the small price of 75 cents to free yourself of every symptom of those distressing complaints. If you think so call at our store and get a bottle of Shiloh's Vitalizer, every bottle has a printed guarantee on it, use accordingly and if it does you no good it will cost you nothing. J. G. King, wholesale and retail agent.

How to Cure a Cold.

Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagyard's Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

SECURING A WIFE.

THE BOLD STROKE OF LORD CANTYRE—SCORED OF ROMANCE—SUNNY ITALY TO SNOWY CANADA.

The Adventurer Marries a Lady Well Known in Kingston—He is only a Common Person After All.

For some time stories have gone the rounds of the press relative to the marriage of a bogus Lord to an heiress of Perth. Little by little the facts have leaked out, and now we are able to say that the duped young lady is Miss Fannie Chaffey, daughter of the late John Chaffey, of Massassaga Mills, Rideau Canal, and niece of the Chaffey Bros. formerly of Kingston but now of Riverside, California. She is wealthy and will have between $100,000 and $200,000 in her own right when she attains her majority. She at present resides in Newboro, or was there but a few days ago, in handsome but somewhat self-willed. The story of her adventure with "Lord Cantyre" goes as follows. Miss Chaffey was sent some years ago to France to finish her education. Last year Mrs. Judge Sankler, of Perth, took her for a trip to sunny Italy and while travelling on the Continent fell in with a gentleman who

CALLED HIMSELF LORD CANTYRE.

At Florence this gentleman, being of good and distinguished appearance, soon made an impression on the young lady. Her aunt discouraged his attentions, but he was not to be put off, and followed his fair friend to Paris and afterwards across to her quiet home in Perth. Here he moved around with considerable style, paying much attention to the charming lady. He spent considerable time in Newboro, Delta and Perth. At Delta dwelt a brother of Miss Chaffey and the Lord got himself on the right side of this gentleman, in fact, says our informant, became so intimate with him that he borrowed money giving Mr. Chaffey drafts on the estate for the amounts. When the carnival at Montreal was mooted the Lord announced his intention of going

WHAT HAPPENED IN MONTREAL.

The Montreal Star thus gives his performance there: On the morning of the 24th of January, the gentleman arrived at the St. Lawrence Hall and inscribed himself in the register as "Cantyre," from Perth. The proprietor had an interview and found him to be a gentlemanly looking man over six feet high and somewhere in the neighborhood of thirty years of age. He was of fair complexion, wore an eye glass and looked like an Englishman. His conversation showed that he had been well educated, and there was no appearance of vulgar ostentation. Lord Cantyre engaged a flat in the house of Dr. Turgeon, on St. Catherine street, for himself and party, and made arrangements for the party to have their meals in a private dining-room at the hotel. The names of the party were as follow:—Mrs. Sankler, Miss Sankler, Miss J. Sankler, Miss Chaffey, Mr. B. E. Chaffey, Lord Cantyre. The party did not arrive with the Lord but in the evening of the 24th they were expected. Lord Cantyre went to Calumet to meet them, missed them, went on to Ottawa and at an expense of $100 secured a special train to take him back to Montreal. The Doctor, whose apartments the party occupied, noticed that his Lordship paid particular and, in fact, understood that they were to be married. He also thought that his guest spent his money in a lavish and rather foolish manner. About this time the ladies of the party thought that they would like to attend the Carnival ball, and accordingly the fair friend of the Earl wrote a letter to Secretary Starke, in which the words "His Lordship," figured conspicuously, asking for particulars concerning the affair, and strongly hinting that complimentary tickets were expected. This effusion was signed "F. C., per Lord Cantyre," and was taken down to the Secretary's office by the accommodating doctor. The Ball Committee rather hard heartedly informed the messenger that if his Lordship wanted any tickets his Lordship had better send the money for them. When this decision was given to Lord Cantyre he immediately sent the wherewithal to purchase tickets for his friends. Between five and six o'clock in the afternoon preceding the ball, Lord Cantyre and Miss Chaffey managed to elude for a while the vigilence of the chaperone, Mrs. Sankler, which up to this time had been unceasing and sleepless. The young lady evinced a strong desire for flowers to wear to the ball, and her high born lover insisted upon procuring some for her. The twain left the hotel together and after rather a prolonged absence returned with some exquisite bouquets. It was noticed by the others that these floral tributes were composed entirely of the purest white roses.

THE CHARMED MOMENTS.

The same afternoon the Rev. Mr. Galbraith, of the Ottawa Street Methodist Church, was called upon at his residence, No. 1154 St. Antoine Street, by a young couple who requested him to make them man and wife. S. A. Lebouveau accompanied them and produced a license drawn up in proper form. He stated that the lady was over age, and that they were from the country. Seeing no reason why the ceremony should not be performed the reverend gentleman soon made the twain one, the lawyer and the carter acting as witnesses. The gentleman signed his name to the register as John George Bruce Allan, and the newly married pair betook themselves off. When the time came for the departure for the ball, Lord Cantyre and his wife, for the mysterious couple alluded to in the preceding paragraph were no other than themselves, refused to accompany the rest of the party, making some slight excuse for thus changing their minds. The others departed, and left the loving pair to muse over past events and weave sweet plans for the future. The next day the whole party returned to Perth. His Lordship left behind him at his lodgings a visiting card on which was written in ink, "Right Hon. Earl of Cantyre, Cantyre Castle, Perth." When the party arrived back at Perth, Lord Cantyre, by certain indiscreet statements, aroused the suspicions of Judge Sankler, who telegraphed to Rideau Hall concerning his Lordship, and it was informed that no such nobleman existed. In the explanation that ensued the secret of the marriage came out, and the relatives and the bride found themselves in a disagreeable predicament.

SECRET FOR THE STATES.

"My Lord" has since left for the States. Judge Sankler, of Perth, has investigated the matter and finds that the twain are legally joined together. Our informant states that Lord Cantyre promised to his wife £11,000 for pin money, and that in the event of his death she was to receive £700,000 would be hers. The papers were drawn up in Perth. It is generally believed that the Lord has successfully swindled the girl.

PRISON TROUBLES.

Sing Sing in a State of Disturbance—Convicts Refusing to Work and Locked Up.

Sing Sing, Feb. 21.—It is stated that Superintendent Baker told the Warden that the Governor urged upon him the necessity of using the most vigorous measures to restore and maintain discipline. The revolt, he said, must be suppressed at all hazards. It is said that the pink accord upon is to give the convicts a chance to-day to reconsider their determination not to work, and if they still hold out to remove as many of them as the place will accommodate to the old female prison and there confine them in bare cells without bedding, upon half a pound of bread and a cup of water a day.

It is ascertained that the long term men and those who have had their commutation are for carrying the revolt through to a desperate end, and the short term men are opposed to the plan. Yesterday there were 14 fights between the representatives of the two classes. Several of the non-revolting convicts were severely injured. Three were carried to the hospital. Wynn and Snyder selected to lead the revolt yesterday, refused to do so. The men stopped work but Wynn said he had had trouble enough and Snyder said he did not want to risk it. The men after ten minutes delay resumed work. Later three convicts, headed by Alfred Miller, attacked Snyder and would have killed him but Texas Jack came to his rescue. Snyder was badly beaten and was in a weak condition last evening. Two ringleaders were all locked in the cells.

In the morning shop John Callahan and another convict unmercifully beat Richard Kilduff. Geo. Phelps, the convict who refused to lead the company of revolters, was knocked down by Chas. Leach and kicked and trampled by several others. To day it is expected that the whole foundry will go out with the rest. Keeper Thorn received ugly cuts on the head yesterday, but the manner in which he got them could not be ascertained. He was taken to the hospital, too weak to stand. Warden Brush is confident that he can cope with any ordinary outbreak. In the arsenal there are 30 new Winchester rifles and the guards on the walls are armed. The Warden says the majority of the convicts wish to maintain order and discipline.

In all 244 men are locked up for refusing to work, and of these 182 are employed under the contract system. The Warden expects before the end of the week that the whole prison may be in revolt. Extra guards will be employed to-day.

Sing Sing, Feb. 21.—Affairs this morning were more favorable. The men are quieting down.

LATE IRISH NEWS.

Cork, Feb. 22.—John O'Brien, member of the Corporation, and ex sheriffs Mockett and Gilhooley, whose sentences to imprisonment for using intimidating language against jurymen have been confirmed, have been jailed.

Dublin, Feb. 22.—A private examination occurred yesterday in the case of Jos. Smith, arrested for complicity in the assassination conspiracy. His statement agreed with that of Carey. A complete alibi has been proven for MacAdam, accused of being Number 1. The authorities no longer think it necessary to guard the Judges and Government officials. This is regarded as proof that the Government has a strong hand in the Assassination League.

Dublin, Feb. 22.—It is stated that the Government is in possession of documents connected with the Land League which afford a clue to where the funds of the League went. An abundance of money is forth coming for the defense.

London, Feb. 21.—Gen. Mardirdas telegraphs from Paris: "Publish an emphatic denial of the infamous accusation made against me regarding the Irish conspiracy. I have to-day invited an inquiry into the matter at the hands of the British Embassy, and have taken steps to trace the cowardly libel against me."

THE LATE WAR

Paris, Feb. 22.—Marshal Bazaine's book is entitled "Episodes of the war of 1870 and the siege of Metz." It is dedicated to ex-Queen Isabella, of Spain. Among documents in the work are Bazaine's autograph report to Emperor Napoleon while the latter was at Wilhelmshope and letter from Marshal to Empress Eugenie Sept. 14, 1870, advising her to take horse and resume command of the Metz division. The Marshal considers that the defensive qualities of Alsace Lorraine were not utilized to the fullest extent. He asserts that the disorganization of the War Department at the beginning war rendered it impossible to obtain useful information or instructions from headquarters, and mentions that he never saw a mitrailleuse until that weapon was brought into Metz.

A PECULIAR CASE.

New York, Feb. 22.—Stephen Marsan, sentenced to Albany penitentiary for life for murdering Alexander Durham in Alexandria, Egypt, in 1879, arrived here yesterday on the United States ship Nipsic. The crime occasioned a great deal of interest in diplomatic circles at the time. It was the second murder investigated by the representatives of this Government in a country not Christian. Marsan is 35, was born in Smyrna, came to this country 27 years ago and became an American citizen. After the civil war he went to Egypt. He established a newspaper which the Government suppressed. Marsan attributed its suppression to Durham, a friend of the Khedive, and therefore shot him.

AN IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL.

New York, Feb. 22.—The funeral of fourteen of the victims of the school disaster took place to-day. There was an immense crowd in the streets through which the procession passed. Fourteen white hearses were used and the bodies carried through two lines of a rifle company to the front of the altar rail in the church. Twelve little girls, dressed in white and wearing black crape sashes, stood at the head of the coffins in the church. Twenty-six girls, similarly dressed, ranged along the altar rail. The service was most impressive. A touching sermon was delivered by Fabiani Schanzer. All the bodies were taken to Calvary Cemetery.

A SERIOUS COLLAPSE.

A Floor Gives Away and a Crowd of Electors Fall Into a Heap—An Exciting Scene.

Belleville, Feb. 22.—There was a bad accident at Thrasher's Corners in the barn which was used in connection with the nomination. Mr. P. J. M. Anderson has just concluded a terrible speech in support of the Mowat Administration when the large mass of electors applauded him with considerable vigor. This caused too great a strain on the building and without a moment's warning twenty-four feet of the flooring in the west end gave away with a crash, and between 200 and 300 people went pell-mell down upon the horses and cutters below. Those who were mostly alarmed by the crash, gave vent to their feelings by crying out "We're going!" "Murder!" "Fire!" and all had their eyes fixed on the roof above.

ALMOST A RUN.

A show with considerable fire in it was standing on the floor which gave way near the Returning Officer, and came tumbling down with the people who stood around it, but fortunately no fire was burnt, and the fire was extinguished. On the ground floor were standing three horses and a couple of sleighs. The weight of the people coming down upon these forced two horses through the south side of the building, which made a large opening for many people to escape into the open air. The door on the north side of the building served a similar purpose, and after considerable trouble the people all got out. It is impossible to ASCERTAIN THE STRANGE INJURED.

Those seriously hurt were Thomas Kelly and Mac Palmer, of Tweed. Thompson will probably prove fatal. Palmer had his right leg broken between the knee and ankle, and was otherwise injured. Some who were injured were not aware of the fact until they reached home, owing to the intense excitement that prevailed.

During the night Dr Wilson was summoned to administer proper treatment to John Hoskins, of Thurlow, who was among the number injured. The base of his skull and upper part of his spine are injured, also his chest. He is in a critical state, and so is Kelly, who is still at Thrasher's Corners.

THE LOTTERY DENOUNCED.

Toronto, Feb. 22.—At the Masonic dinner last night Past-Grand Master J. K. Kerr, Q.C., condemned the lottery recently held in London, and asserted it was held in direct opposition to the protest of the Grand Lodge. It was merely a joint stock enterprise in which the fraternity had no interest.

VOLCANIC DISTURBANCES.
