LENTEN SERVICE. — This evening at 7.30 o'clock full evening service with sermon in St. Paul's school chapel.

FROST.—Lakes and St. Lawrence, upper and lower, fresh northeasterly to northwesterly winds, fair weather, lower temperature.

MR. TAIT, the ignorant man, who metaphorically scalped another Tory last night, will speak in the Opera House on Saturday evening.

PROGNOSTICATIONS. — Vessel Captains begin to prognosticate in regard to the opening of navigation. Some think the lakes will not be free of ice until May. Lake Ontario may open sooner.

IN THE CITY.—Lieut. Col. Macdonald, of the Guelph Field Battery, is at the British American Hotel. He is the gentleman who will be in command of the Canadian team that goes to Shoeburyness this year.

WAITING FOR FREIGHT.—Many business firms are anxiously awaiting the arrival of freight from the country via the K. & P. RR. The timber, lumber, poles, &c., lie at stations along the line. Cars cannot be secured to bring the freight to the city.

ARRESTED AGAIN.—A young man a late offender, who has been drinking up between $700 and $800, was arrested again to-day. He was in a terrible state, suffering from prolonged irritation. He has been placed in the Hotel Dieu for treatment.

U. S. TARIFF.—The revised Tariff has passed the United States Senate and is now before the House of Representatives. Hop poles will be admitted free from Canada. There has been a reduction on the tariff on iron and lumber. Shellac varnish exportations from Kingston can only be made by payment of a heavy duty.

A SUCCESSFUL TEA MEETING.—Last evening a successful tea meeting occurred at Woodman's School House, Wolfe Island, in connection with the Methodist Church congregation. The evening was pleasantly spent, the features of the occasion being the addresses of Rev. Mr. Weese, Mr. W. Bell, Kingston, and Mr. Thomas Dawson.

POLITICS.—Though it is the duty of every citizen to take an interest in the political welfare of the country yet it is well to bear in mind that to-morrow F. X. Cousineau will commence the great sale of the bankrupt stock of J. Guest, Toronto. Thousands of bargains will be offered. Come one, come all, and come early.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.—The arrivals at the hotels during the past week have not been remarkably large. To-day Messrs. W. D. Beardmore, C. R. Wilson and J. J. Dyas, of Toronto, and Enos Scott, a prominent portman from Aylmer, were at the Burnett House: G. P. Paterson, lumberman, Quebec and A. Gunn, M. P., were at the windsor Hotel.

A CHURCH SUPPER.—On Wednesday evening an oyster supper was given in the C. M. Church, Collinsby, the proceeds to be applied to the fund for completing the basement. Addresses were made by Rev. Messrs. Brown and Baker, and Mr. Baker, the Chairman. The choir of the church, Miss Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Baker and Mr. Ryan filled the musical and literary programme.

A BOOKSELLER'S JOKE.—McAuley, the bookseller, to-day received a letter from London, asking him if he sold three cent stamps at the same price as ones, and ordering two dollars worth—all the result of his joking advertisement in the Wasp offering 100 postage stamps for 40c—half cent stamps, of course! He has received 100 such letters in answer to his jokes, but not so far off as London.

LIQUOR SELLING.—Clayton has voted against the issuance of licenses for the sale of liquor, the prohibitory measure to remain in force for two years. The Hub House and Grennal's Island House are included included in the restricted limits. The town of Gananoque, in which the Thousand Island Park is located, has elected a License Commissioner, giving them a majority for license. The Wellesley House, in Orleans, will probably be licensed.

ELECTIONS AT THE CAPE.—Tuesday was election day at Cape Vincent. The Democrats won by about 120 majority. The following are the elect: John A. Scobell, Supervisor; Dyer E. Pierce and Sheffield Burdick, Justices of the Peace; Silas Ainsworth, Collector; Gustavus Spangl, Overseer of the Poor; George Zimmerman, Commissioner of Highways; Michael Bell, Bruce Wheelock, William Robertson, Andrew J. Harts, and Martin Doctor, jr., Constables; Joseph Lanagan, Game Constable.

The Chaffey affair has caused quite an excitement in this city as the young lady and her family are well known here.

We reserve until to-morrow our reply to the News in regard to the manner in which the licenses were issued and who are responsible for that issue.

P. E. W. Meyer, editor of the Berlin News, is the Conservative candidate for North Waterloo. He will be buried beneath an overwhelming majority.

A Conservative in the city to-day stated that the Grits got out the lights on Wolfe Island last night. So they did, but the lights extinguished were those sent from Kingston to enlighten the people.

When will the Kingstonians, who lost money in the bucket shop of Flemming & Merriam, take action to recover their money? The Montreal creditors are being settled with. Flemming is in Toronto.

And now the students of Queen's College are agitated in politics. A majority of them are admirers of the Mowat Government, notwithstanding the fact that they have been asked to condemn the Administration because Tom Dunn did not get a license.

THE WILMOT ASSAULT CASE.

Some one, signing himself "Fair Play," snaps at the WHIG for daring to involve Henry Wilmot in the difficulty which occurred between his brother, the Captain, and Mr. W. Donaldson. We have only to say that although H. Wilmot did not participate in the proceedings which led the unseating of Mr. Donaldson, he knew of them and he did not use his influence to stop them. On the contrary when Mr. Donaldson said perhaps no other man in the Township would act towards him as his brother had done the candidate (then unthought-of for parliamentary honors) turned upon him and said he had no right to complain, he had no right to be a Councillor when he did not possess the necessary qualification. This is Mr. Donaldson's statement and we challenge Mr. H. Wilmot to deny it. The rib-stabber proceeds:

"Mr. Donaldson is not so singularly constituted nor so meanly constituted either, as the WHIG would make him out to be, and we are of the opinion that he will not thank that journal for placing him before the public in such a false light."

The WHIG has only to say that it has been thanked by Mr. Donaldson and his many friends for its defence of him, a decent man and a friend of the WHIG for long years. Mr. Donaldson has been enjoled, and coaxed and beseeched to forget the past, the law expenses to which he has been put were offered to him, every endeavor has been made to mollify him and his win support and good will. He remains manly and independent and will not brook insult for the sake of any party.

MRS. RODENSTEIN'S TRIP.

A New York paper, referring to Mrs. Rodenstein's remarkable walk, says that in passing through the principal towns and cities, she was received with uniform kindness and respect, was fed and lodged and sent on her way. At no place did she conceal her name and address, and it is very remarkable that, in view of the large publicity given her disappearance, no one should have recognized her. After many weary steps she arrived at Yonkers, where the Rodensteins are well known. Friends surrounded her there, and the rest of her journey, some twelve miles, was made by rail. Her sudden appearance at Dr. Rodenstein's residence startled the inmates, but it was a joyful surprise. She wore a diamond ring all through her trials and no one appears to have attempted to rob her, and for those she met on the way she has no words but of praise.

Chaplain—J. Hamilton.
Secretary-Treas.—W. J. Sussens.

This lodge is in a prosperous condition and is about starting a benefit scheme, and meets the first and third Wednesday of every month in Bethel Hall, corner of King and Brock Streets. At the close of the meeting the Master-elect invited the members to an oyster supper at Mr. S. Thornton's.

LETTING IT SHINE.

The talent of Kingston is not allowed to remain under a bushel, but is in active demand, not only in political but in social circles. A trio of events occurred last night, and in them Kingstonians took part. The St. Andrew's Church Choir made melody for the people of Sunbury and surrounding country, while a quartette of persons from the Queen Street C. M. Church Choir performed in the musical line at a tea meeting held at Zion Church, Pittsburg. The crowd was very large and a happy time was spent. Mr. Galloway, Mr. Crumley and others, including the Cameron Bros., of Queen's University, did good service at a concert at Centreville.

LOCAL ELECTION.

MEETINGS IN THE COUNTY—MR. TAIT ON THE WAR PATH—SCALPED MR. J. BOOMER WALKEM.

A Fine Meeting in Cataraqui—Fifty Ladies Present—Description of Speakers—A Strong Meeting.

There was a rousing meeting at Cataraqui last evening in the interest of Mr. J. M. Fair. The audience was composed of about 300, some 50 of whom were ladies. Mr. T. Clyde was called to the chair and made an excellent opening address.

Mr. Whiting followed, making a capital speech on the Boundary Award. His statement of the case was declared to be one of the clearest that the people have heard, and it made a decided impression upon the audience.

Mr. Harty followed, dealing commonly and in an intelligent way with the finances of the county. No man is more capable of speaking on this subject.

Mr. J. M. Machar came next and made an interesting survey of the political questions which are now engaging the attention of the public.

Messrs. J. L. Haycock and W. Craig moved and seconded a resolution to this effect: That having heard the public questions ably discussed, and the charges against the Mowat Administration fully refuted, the meeting pledges itself to support the policy of the Government and secure if possible the return of Mr. Fair.

The resolution was put to a standing vote, and carried by an overwhelming majority.

Mr. E. Joyner ventured to say a few words on behalf of Mr. Wilmot, but failed to elicit the sympathy of his hearers. Not much was thought of his arguments when Mr. Whiting criticised them. The reply was pungent and to the point. Mr. Whiting speaking with a personal warmth and power which is remarkable for one who but recently entered politics.

Mr. S. S. Baker appeared and stated his reasons for resigning the office of License Commissioner. He had attended a couple of meetings and undertaken to correct Conservatives who had grossly misrepresented him and his colleagues. For doing this he was persistently abused, and, freed of relations which had kept him in restraint, he was now ready to defend himself against all attacks. He showed that the license system had not been misused in the county. He said he had not known the politics of some of those licensed, but since the election had learned that of the sixteen hotel keepers 10 were Conservatives, 3 Liberals and 1 a woman non political in opinion.

The meeting was a success, and such augmented the election of Mr. Fair.

FUN ON WOLFE ISLAND.

Last night a spicy meeting occurred at Mr. Spoor's, Wolfe Island. It was called in the interest of Mr. Wilmot, but it turned out to be strongly in favor of Mr. Fair, by at least 10 to 1. The audience was so Gritty that an effort was made to get a gentleman to assume the chair and manage affairs without a motion. Somewhat late J. Boomer Walker came booming along, accompanied by Dr. Sullivan, and then Mr. D. Staley was moved into the chair. Mr. Staley is a decent farmer, but he was somewhat unfortunate in the expression of his views, as at the very outset he announced that the meeting was called in the interest of the Mowat Government. Mr. Walkem caught his eye and crowded savagely and Dr. Sullivan felt in his pocket for his medicine box. Wilmot's case had a sick appearance. Of that fact there could be no mistake. Mr. Staley endeavored to put himself right, but the more he said the heartier the audience laughed.

HOW WALKEM TRIUMPHED.

Mr. Walkem, when invited up the platform, laid himself out for a powerful speech. He made a bold attack upon Mr. Tait, saying of him a great many uncomplimentary things, and calling him "feather weight." Mr. Walkem was conscious of the fact that before him, among the farmers, sat this same "feather weight" smiling and mentally taking Joseph Boomer's measurements. It took the speaker long to discover that he had again landed in uncomfortable quarters. He was still talking about Mr. Tait when some electors laughingly remarked, "You'll know more about him by and bye." Walkem caught the idea, stammered, forgot his peroration, and sank nervously into a seat.

Mr. McGrath asked the Chairman if he would allow anyone to speak for Mr. Fair. Mr. Staley said he would: "Then," said Mr. McGrath, "I will ask Mr. Tait, of Toronto, 'that ignorant man' to address you. Mr. Walkem may feel sore that he did not know that Mr. Tait was here, but he should have been more circumspect in his references to a previously absent person. He has laid himself open to the dressing he is likely to receive."

THE IGNORANT MAN'S SPEECH.

Mr. Tait now came forward and was loudly cheered. Mr. Walkem coloured and looked unhappy. Mr. Tait, glancing at him in a kindly yet sarcastic way, said he had thought Mr. Walkem was an educated man, one learned in his profession, a gentleman, but his reflections, unnecessarily, upon a stranger did not bear out his supposition. "I am," said he, "an ignorant man, and I know it. There are some men just as ignorant, infinitely more so, but they don't know it. Such is the difference between man and the distinctions in character." We need not say that such a rally was well received, and that all laughed but one—and that one Mr. Walkem. He regarded the remark as exceedingly personal, and a reply to it he could not find in the literature which filled his pockets. Mr. Walkem had nothing to say when Mr. Tait was finished, and the feeling of the meeting is fairly indicated by the remark of a waggish individual, "Mr. McIntyre was pulverized, but Walkem has been tied in a knot and fastened with a tack."

AN EMBARRASSED POSITION.

Dr. Sullivan followed Mr. Tait but did not make as effective a speech as usual. He combined small applause with a little of his wounded colleague, that he was embarrassed and laboured at a disadvantage in undertaking to discuss questions which had been relegated to Mr. Walkem. Joseph Boomer looked easily at the speaker but said nothing.

Mr. Tait came after the Dr., was light upon him, but made a fearful wreck of his argument.

ANOTHER UNLUCKY COLLISION.

Mr. Hogan tackled the baker, and wanted to know why Hon. Mr. Mackenzie had not ratified the Boundary Award when he was in power. He became funny at Mr. Tait's expense, by referring to the manner in which his opinions were founded.

Mr. Tait reminded the audience of the fact that Hon. Mr. Mackenzie hadn't a chance to do as Mr. Hogan suggested. He added that Mr. Hogan had plenty of self-confidence and would make a splendid stump speaker—provided his audiences did not know more than he did himself.

Eventually there was hand shaking all around, and the meeting broke up with cheers for the Queen, Mr. Fair and Mr. Tait. Not a chirp was heard for Mr. Wilmot.

"MY NOBLE LORD."

The Bubble Bursts — Actions Taken to Annul the Marriage—His Lordship in Gaol.

The newest phase in the Cantyre-Allan Chaffey scandal was the entering of a civil action in Montreal by Judge Senkler against Henry Allan, of Whitchurch, England, to nullify the marriage contracted on the 27th of January with Julia Frances Chaffey, of the town of Perth. The Counsel for the petitioner felt confident that there would not be the slightest difficulty in annulling the union; more especially as it is distinctly affirmed by the wife that the marriage has never been consummated. The unfortunate victim is said to have become completely disenchanted and regards the bonds that unite her to her late lover with horror and disgust. The efforts of her guardian to release her from the dilemma into which she has so foolishly thrust herself, will receive her cordial sympathy and assistance.

Judge Senkler informed his legal friend that Cantyre alias Allan was in gaol in Brockville on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences. Judge Senkler introduced the fraud to the bankers, and the pseudo Earl drew on a London bank for £200.

The witnesses to the secret marriage were S. A. Lebourveau and a Mrs. Cunningham, who happened to be in Rev. Mr. Galbraith's house at the time. Mr. Lebourveau said that he had never seen the so-called Lord Cantyre either before or since the day of the marriage. Allan consulted him about his marriage, and showed him a list of names of clergymen, from which list Mr. Galbraith was selected. A license was procured, and when all arrangements were perfected the bride was brought to Rev. Mr. Galbraith's house and the ceremony performed. Mr. Lebourveau saw no more of Lord Cantyre.

The witnesses summoned in the civil action are Ewen McLennan, broker, of Montreal; in his character of curator; Charles Cushing, notary; and the Rev. Wm. Galbraith.

Judge Senkler, of Perth, and A. R. Richards, of Winnipeg, formerly of Brockville, are Miss Chaffey's guardians. The trial of the case has been fixed for the 20th of March. Mr. B. E. Chaffey, brother of the young lady, in a resident of Brockville, not Delta as mentioned in last evening's issue.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Dominion Artillery Association in Session—Address from the Governor General.

The annual meeting of the Dominion Artillery Association occurred in Ottawa yesterday. Kingston was represented by Major General Strange, Lieut.-Col. Montizambert, Major Smith, Major Walker, R.E., Lieut. Col. Kirkpatrick and Lieut. Donaldson.

Lord Lorne attended and made an address. He gave the Association prizes similar to those offered last year, and advocated the sending of another team to Shoeburyness this year. He congratulated them on the acquisition of the four ten-pounder guns, and was sorry they could not get more. He now asked the members of the Association to join him in a vote of condolence with the family of Major Hebert. Upon the outbreak of the Egyptian war Major Hebert was the first to offer himself for service. His Excellency knew that all such applications had been previously refused in England, and that it was not at all likely the application from Canada would be entertained. But Major Hebert pressed his claim with great persistency, and as he was the first to offer his services His Excellency finally yielded, and was pleased to recommend him for service in the field, with such results that he was attached to the artillery in Egypt. Many no doubt recollected the fond hopes of Major Hebert when he left Quebec, and they would feel with him that his death, met in the path of duty and honor, was as meritorious as if he had fallen on the ramparts of Tel-el-Kebir. It afforded His Excellency the melancholy pleasure of expressing the deep regret at the loss they had sustained in the loss of Major Hebert of "B" Battery, who was one of their members. The Association also desired to place on record this expression of their greatest sympathy with the family of the deceased officer at the loss sustained not only by them, but also by the country which he had so gallantly served. Col. Irwin, Inspector of Artillery, in seconding the motion reminded the Association of the terms of the general order issued on December 1st, 1888, in regard to the death of Major Hebert. The motion was unanimously carried.

A motion of regret was also passed to Major-General Strange on his retirement from force.

The Association then lunched with the Hon. Speaker of the Senate.

INLAND REVENUE.

Statistics of a Local Character—The Business Taxes and the Aggregate Collections.

Hon. Mr. Costigan has transmitted to Parliament the annual report of the returns and statistics of the inland revenue of the Dominion for the year ending 30th June. By it we perceive that the revenue received during the year, just closed (the fiscal year) was $6,610,222 as against $6,131,655 received in 1886-87, being an increase of $478,769. We do not purpose noting general results, but such facts and figures as have a local interest and application. First we have a minute of the number of hides inspected in the city—7,136 of No. 1, 616 of No. 2, and 618 of No. 3. The fees collected amounted to $344.90.

LIQUOR, SALT, TOBACCO.

The collections in connection with the Excise Department were as follows: On spirits $63,070.80; on malt liquor, $150; on malt, $8,478.61; on tobacco, $60,143.30; from gas inspection $948.00; honored manufactures, $6,203.42; other receipts, $1,824.06, and these items, added to a balance of $1,264.89, due on the 1st July, 1887, gives a total of $140,879.67.

There was deposited to the credit of the Receiver General $134,809.73, due on 30th of June 1887, $2,421.73, making a total of $140,813.60.

The expenditure account, Excise Department, in this constituted: Received from the Department to meet expenses, $6,890.40; deducted from salaries for superannuation, $111.84, a total of $7,102.55. The outlay for salaries was $6,388.15, rent $180, travelling expenses $35.02, and sundries $449.78. A total of $7,102.55.

OTHER RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The canal tolls payable at Kingston afforded a revenue of $10,941.14, to which add a balance in July 1, 1887, and the total will be $21,043.16. The abatements aggregated $72.40, the amount deposited with the Government, $20,247.76, and the balance due $1,823.00. The collections at Kingston Mills amounted to $2,070.08, including hydraulic rents and a balance of $110.67.

The refunds to Kingstonians are not numerous. D. Brounsdum got three of $17.19, $403.97, and $828.48, and J. McMillan one of $1.30.

In connection with the Weights and Measures Department it is stated that there was deposited to the credit of the Receiver General $1,028.55; value of stamps on hand, $1,044.70, and cash $11.60, a total of $2,084.75. The receipts were $2,973.00 the salaries $2,849.00, rent $80, travelling expenses, $284.85, sundries, $140.20, a total of $2,874.10.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

As far as the inspection of gas is concerned it has been remunerative. The Government allowed, to meet the expenditure, $448.06; the salaries $248.04; which sum put to the items of rent and sundries make up an amount equal to that estimated.

The duty on tobacco and cigars amounted to $2,040.80; on petroleum $948.60; and on methylated spirits and vinegar $4,012.86. The canal tolls paid at Kingston amounted to $20,941.14; at Kingston Mills the receipts were $2,244.41.

Agents—Lamont, Corner Princess and Bagot Streets, Kingston.

Sole Proprietors reserve right to Dr. Austin's Phosphatine, recently sold to Dr. Smith, of this place, and have received great benefit from it. I believe that other patent medicines of the kind I could be with him, but a serious illness prevented me from taking it. I feel it my duty to state that I was ill, and now I am all right, as a proof of which I am willing to make any sacrifice.

Yours truly,

J. S. VETTERLA.
