IRISH AFFAIRS.

Record of Outrages—Implication of the Land League—Its Use of Funds An Enquiry.

A Parliamentary return has been issued of outrages reported to the Royal Irish Constabulary Officers in each month of 1881 and 1882, and in January 1883. The total number of agrarian outrages in 1881 was 4,439. Last year the agrarian outrages decreased somewhat in number, amounting altogether to 3,433. In January 90 agrarian outrages were reported. The total number of agrarian outrages committed in 1881, exclusive of threatening letters, was 2,948; last year the number sank to 1,428. The total under this head for the month of March, 1881, was 86; for November it was 237. Last year the monthly totals steadily decreased. In March 224 cases were reported to the Constabulary office—in June, 129; in October, 64; by November the number had fallen to 53, and in December but 21 were reported. In January the number of agrarian outrages, exclusive of threatening letters, was 82.

The Sun's London cable says: No embarrassments have been developed during the week for the Irish party. Mr Healy's flight has added to the consternation arising from Carey's evidence, and with the release of Byrne by the French Government has served to intensify the hostile feeling which exists. That the Treasurer of the Land League should have been an active correspondence with Carey, as the Government claims to have established by the letters surrendered by Mrs. Carey, is eagerly used in support of the general attack upon the Land League, but is open to a dozen doubts.

In the House, during the debate on the distress in Ireland on Thursday night, when Parnell was appealing on behalf of the suffering people, he was asked why he did not apply the Land League funds. He made a spirited reply, stating that the funds of the League were only $27,000, that they were subscribed to stem the tide of landlord oppression, and that they would continue to be used for that purpose, and they would be inadequate to relieve a fifth part of the distress existing.

Attention was called in the House to the cost of recent Irish prosecutions, amounting already to $600,000, and consisting not only of extravagant fees to the counsel prosecuting, but of lavish retainers to counsel in order to deprive the defence of their services, which Mr. Labouchere described as bribery of the Bar. This expenditure was attacked in the House on Friday night with great vigor and effectiveness.

Five Doctors; no end of medicine; no relief. Dr. Benson's Skin Cure has driven away all eruptions and I'm near well.—Ida C. Young, Hamilton, Ills.

Pleasant to the Taste.

Children and persons with weak constitutions have always found great difficulty in taking Cod Liver Oil, and from this fact it has not been universally used, but with Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, this prejudice is removed. It is so thoroughly disguised that you cannot detect the Cod Liver Oil. One physician writes us that it is used almost as a necessary in his family, another person informs us that he had to hide the bottle from his children. For Coughs and Colds, Broken down constitutions and all Lung Diseases, it has no equal.

Answer this Question.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of Food, Yellow Skin, when for 75 cts., we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. J. G. King, Wholesale and Retail Agent.

A Rope About our Necks.

A weak stomach or enfeebled circulation is like a rope about our necks. We are strung up and nearing alternately till extremes become unbearable. Burdock Blood Bitters will arrest all this misery. Burdock Blood Bitters is a boon to the sick. Let us remember this fact.

AMONG THE WARMEST ADVOCATES of the use of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspepsia Cure are ladies formerly in delicate health, whose vigor and bodily regularity have been restored by it. Cases of debility of long standing, chronic biliousness, weakness of the back and kidneys, feminine ailments, and obstinate types of nervous indigestion, are overcome by it.

Mr. Henry Marshall, Reeve of Dunn, writes: "Some time ago I got a bottle of Northrup & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery for Mr. Harrison, and I consider it the very best medicine extant for Dyspepsia." This medicine is doing marvelous cures in Liver Complaints, Dyspepsia, etc., in purifying the blood and restoring manhood to full vigor.

Sam Davis:

Can draw you to her with a sing'n hair."

Headache, Biliousness, Dyspepsia and Constipation promptly relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. As a family medicine they are far superior to Pills. In large bottles 50 cents.

Why should a man whose blood is wrong within not know his condition and be ashamed to? Or if his hair grows poorly, scant and thin. When "Vitalized Sulphur" will make it grow thickly.

TWO MIDGETS MARRIED.

Major Littledinger Three Feet Six, Exposures Miss Ida Hosmer, Three Feet Two.

(New York Tribune.)

It was a day of reveling at Bonnell's Brooklyn museum yesterday. The occasion was the marriage of Robert Reeza and Ida Hosmer, two dwarfs. The groom's name is Major Littledinger. He is 24 years old and 3 feet 6 inches high. The bride is one year older and four inches shorter. She was wooed and won by the Major six weeks ago, while he was on exhibition at Hartford. He is a widower of eight months, his wife having died from the Cesarian operation. His child is living and weighs five pounds—the same weight it had at birth. The theatre of the museum was crowded and at the close of the regular performance the bridal party marched on to the stage. The bride wore a dress of sun's veiling with a train and a tulle veil and orange flowers. The groom was attired in black broadcloth. In the train of the couple came the curiosities. There were the fat women—"one vast substantial smile;" the dancing spider and his only rival, the living skeleton, and the Irish giant, whom the audience suspected of being the missing "Number one."

The tattooed man had touched up his decoration for the occasion and the pink eyes of the Albinos danced more wildly than usual. An Indian in full war paint sprang upon the stage with a bound that suggested scalps. Count Rosebud and Baron Littledinger, both half a head shorter than the groom, sat with a solemn gravity on little chairs on the stage.

The civilized and uncivilized world and the nightmare realm of monstrosities and deformities were represented in the group that gathered around these two little people in the centre of the stage. Then from the wings came the Rev. Hugh O. Pentecost and made them man and wife. They went through their part seriously enough, and then received the congratulations of the curiosities. The people attached to the museum gave them a set of silver napkin rings, and several bouquets were cast up from the spectators.

COUNT TOLSTOI'S SHOT

The District Criminal Court of Samara recently disposed of a case which presents another illustration of the life and morals of the upper ranks of Russia. Count N. A. Tolstoi, a brother of the Russian Minister of the Interior, was charged with an attempt to murder. The Count, a wealthy land proprietor, is universally entreated for his personal qualities. A couple of years ago his wife, already past the middle years, formed a liaison with a poor nobleman, M. de Bostrom. Count Tolstoi spared no pains to induce the Countess to return to a sense of her duty. In September last accident confronted the husband once more with the faithless wife and her seducer. As Count Tolstoi was travelling from Orenburg to Syzranyi two passengers entered the carriage at Beezutshuk. They were the Countess and M. de Bostrom. The Count once more endeavored to persuade his wife to return home, but was received with derision. Stung to madness he drew a revolver, when the Countess seized his arm, and the shot, being diverted, only wounded the paramour in the foot. Bostrom seized the weapon from the Count's hands and threw it out of the window. At the trial the jury found a unanimous verdict of "not guilty" against the wronged husband, and he was instantly liberated, amid the enthusiastic applause of the crowd.

Well as Ever.

Lottie Howard writes from Buffalo, N. Y.:—"My system became greatly debilitated through arduous professional duties; suffered from nausea, sick headache and biliousness. Trial Burdock Blood Bitters with the most beneficial effect. Am well as ever."

James Cullen, Fool's Island, N. F., writes: "I have been watching the progress of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil since its introduction to this place, and with much pleasure state that my anticipations of its success have been fully realized, it having cured me of bronchitis and soreness of the nose; while not a few of my rheumatic neighbours' (one old lady in particular) pronounce it to be the best article of its kind that has ever been brought before the public. Your medicine does not require any longer a spokesman, but if you wish me to act as such, I shall be only too happy to have my name connected with your prosperous child.
