FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 6, 1883

The result of the meeting of Presbytery last evening affords a pleasing evidence of the affectionate regard in which the Rev. T. G. Smith is held here. His translation to St. John will have a good effect in a public sense, though it calls forth regret in that it severs private relationships. The Church in the Lower Provinces feels itself isolated from its sister in Ontario, and, there fore, a clergyman of Mr. Smith's missionary zeal and breadth of view can induce a warm feeling between the two sections of the united church.

A telegram from Weldon, N.C., received to-day relates the blood curdling intelligence that a conductor who failed to receive his instructions in time yesterday tried to collect $47 fare from the Presidential party! Truly the commonwealth had a narrow escape. Dear knows how it would have recovered from the shock had the conductor outraged the traditional custom of executive deadheading by collecting the fare. And if he had put the distinguished party off the train for non payment, he would probably have been torn limb from limb.

PRISON LABOR.

Penitentiary management has been developed into a flourishing business in the United States. Georgia has let its convicts to contractors at $20 a year for each man, the lessees to feed and clothe and to get 10 hours a day work out of him, if they can. The net profit to the state is about $25,000 a year on the whole lot. However, the wholesale abandonment of the prisoners to the contractors must be highly injurious to the reformatory objects of penal punishments. In such a case the profit to the state is the very dear price of a sacrifice of morals. Still, convict labor can be made to pay without impairing the proper influences. The New York prisons are managed with due regard to discipline and restraint, and yet yielded in two cases, those of Sing Sing and Auburn, a profit of $4,000 each for March. We trust that the Government will adopt Mr. Creighton's plan for the more steady and profitable employment of convicts, for the Kingston Penitentiary ought to be self sustaining to a much greater degree. The work contemplated is either for Government Departments or such as does not interfere to any extent with the artizan classes of the country.

THE ORANGE BILL.

At last some explanation is given of the causes which have delayed the pressing of the Orange Bill to a second reading in the House of Commons. Despite announcement of the Mail that the responsibility for a defeat of the measure would rest upon the "Grits" of Ontario, Sir John felt deeply concerned about the matter. He had deliberately promised that he would see that the Orangemen got incorporation, and he realized at the eleventh hour how awkward was his predicament and how seriously his party threatened to compromise him. And so he sought to reconcile the conflicting elements. He had a conference with some of the Quebec members and pointed out how deplorable it was, in a party sense, that his wishes should be gratified. It is stated, however, that he utterly failed to harmonize the Frenchmen on this subject, that instead of the outlook being more favourable it is positively discouraging, and that John White, who has charge of the Bill, rather than court failure will either withdraw it or defer its presentation again until there is no time for discussion and necessity hosts it over until the next session. It is well that these facts should be understood, especially when an attempt has been made to fasten blame for a miscarriage of the Bill upon the Opposition.

COMPLETELY FAILED.

We frankly confess that we have failed in our estimate of our city contemporary. We knew it to be capable of a great deal in the line of falsehood, but it has generally been somewhat judicious in its excursions in that direction, by having some plausible defence. We did not give it credit, however, for reckless falsehood in the face of incontestible testimony. It is, therefore, now adding bad generalship to its slippery element, for last evening it repeats the denial of having stolen the Wave's tariff list on Saturday last, making it a trifle stronger by stating that our charge is "a wilful falsehood." Its first blunder in the way of denial has let it deeper, probably, than it had anticipated. We have shown that the two lists are identically the same, word for word, paragraph for paragraph, except a few corrections which the several hours given for revision allowed opportunity for; that words interpolated by our own staff had been copied and recognized; that similar errors occur in both; that the arrangement and cross-head lines are the same, and that the list is very different from that appearing in the alleged source of supply, the Toronto papers. There is not the shadow of a doubt as to the piracy, and it is stupid as well as dishonest on the part of the News to place itself in the position it has. None will feel sorry, since it is so brazen about it, that it has dugged a pit for itself.

One of the employees of the News has stated publicly that the list was received by telegraph. We have made enquiry at the telegraph office, and find this is absolutely untrue. Another has stated that it was taken from the Mail. This is equally untrue, as the Toronto papers were late that day, and time to copy was not afforded; besides the arrangement is very different and Mail has errors where the News is correct and the News is wrong where the Mail is correct. The News itself apparently is too much perplexed, to name definitely its source of supply. If it had an honest defence it would have done so unhesitatingly at first. As it is impervious to evidence or argument we, as a last resort, offer to place any sum it pleases in the hands of one of its own friends, to be decided by the affidavit of its proprietor. This is the only way to discover where "the wilful falsehood rests." Will it accept the test?

POLICE DUTY AND AUTHORITY.

The public mind is engrossed with the details of a case in connection with which police authority and discipline have been severely criticised. Many people are too hasty on the formation of their conclusions, some are subject to misleading impulses, some form their opinions upon prejudice, and under all of these circumstances injustice rather than justice is done unto the interested parties. Our duty giving us long acquaintance with police affairs we can speak somewhat advisedly, and we declare that the best intentioned officer is occasionally most apt to expose himself to attack for performance of duty in an illegal way. The members of our police are intelligent and they are cognizant of what is required of them under certain named conditions; but unfortunately occasions will arise, without precedent, and on the exercise of his own judgment one does wrong as readily as the right. It is not wise to argue that nothing should be done in regard to which the most explicit orders have not been given, that arrests should not be made without a warrant, and the liberty of no one curtailed until a charge has been ceremoniously lodged against him. We have known offenders to escape punishment while the usual red tapeism was being resorted to, and if our officers remained idle in troublesome times and declined to act without authority expressed a great many would demand a pretty thorough remodelling of the police institution. We conceive the difficulty to be, not in the delivery or transmission of orders; but in the execution of a trust under trying circumstances. Men are not alike, and there are cases for the conduct of which some are better constituted than others. Judgment above all things is needful, and those who have least of it should do most in the way of its cultivation. The girl Burns was (1) not an offender, and if it was not intended to arrest her it would have been more sensible to send the child to her than request her to call at the police station for it, (2) she should not have been taken out of the house at all, and (3) in her sickly condition the abominable, filthy and unwholesome cell was no place in which to confine her for a couple of nights, even though she were a consenting party. All the alleged blundering in this case could have been averted had the police used their heads as much as their hands, and we say this in all friendliness to them. We unite, too, in anticipation of the inquest, and without hope or desire of influencing the verdict, which will, no doubt, be according to the facts elicited.

DESERONTO DOINGS.

How the Industries of the Busy Place are Progressing—Enlargements—New Police Dignity.

On Wednesday at 1 o'clock p.m., fire was discovered in the shingle shed. The employees extinguished it before much was done.

Geo. Goayea, the new Chief of Police, made his first appearance in his brass buttoned suit on Sunday. The Napanee boys took advantage of him, however, and had a procession on the Sunday previous. It is thought if he succeeds in keeping them and the Mohawks quiet Deseronto will be quite a moral town.

Spring weather has at last appeared. The Picton stages are still running on the ice, but it is getting weak. The opening of navigation is not looked for for at least three weeks.

The machinery for the big mill has nearly all arrived. The interior of the mill is entirely new. With the enlargement of the building this season's cut will be large.

Unusual activity is now displayed at the shipyard. The str. Armenia, Quinte, Flight, Deseronto, Louise and Pilgrim are undergoing repairs. The str. Louise has been thoroughly overhauled.

A telephone exchange has been put in the telegraph office and new instruments added.

The enlargement of the chemical and gas works will shortly be commenced.

A Joint Stock Company is being formed here to erect a large boarding and lodging house, a great necessity, as the boarding accommodation at the hotels are inadequate. The "grand bounce" decree conferred on the guests of one of our hotels has had the desired effect.

PRINCE EDWARD ASSIZES.

Cummings v. Low.—An action brought as administrator for damages sustained by the failure of sale of his farm to John A. Shannon, with whom an agreement to sell was made. Dismissed without costs.

Parliament v. Anderson.—Plaintiff was a widow and about 84 years of age. Mr. Parliament proposed that they should get married. She consented on condition of his settling a house and some other property on her. After his marriage Mr. Parliament made a will leaving his property to his children by his former wife. Some time after making this will he died, and the present action was brought by the widow to obtain possession of the property. She was non suited.

Mottashed v. Phillips.—An action of slander on a charge of having taken some $70 from his purse. Verdict for $1 damages.

The Queen v. Wilkinson.—Larceny, found guilty, and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

Howard, who pleaded guilty to forgery, was sentenced to eighteen months in the Central Prison. His Lordship said that though it might be a very profitable thing for those ladies, Miss Rye and Miss McPherson and others, to bring these London waifs out here, he doubted whether the country was benefitted in a corresponding degree. Since he had been on the Bench he had to sentence a great many of these boys.

Davy & Clark, Druggists, Renfrew, date of June 3rd, write:—"Burdock Blood Bitters, though comparatively a new preparation, has taken the lead in this locality as a blood purifier, our sales of it being equal to that of all other medicines used for the purpose during the last year."

THE CAPITAL.

Row Over an Account—More Reduction of Postage—The Revenue and Expenditure.

Ottawa, April 6.—A row occurred in the Department of Agriculture yesterday. A clerk charged a city clothier with being an escaped Penitentiary bird because he had the "impertinence" to dun him for an account of long standing. The enraged clothier horsewhipped the offender in presence of his fellow clerks.

Mr. Trayes, of Port Hope, had an interview with the Postmaster General to-day, and asked that the postage on papers mailed in the city or town of publication be abolished. Hon. Mr. Carling promised to accede to his wish.

Mayor Boswell, of Toronto, is here asking for harbor improvements. The revenue for March reached $2,829,026. During the first nine months of fiscal year 1882-83, $16,581,385. Expenditure for nine months $18,902,149.78.

Speaker Macpherson last evening entertained a large number of ladies and gentlemen at a dinner party.

The 5 mile skating race at the Royal Rink was won by Kirkley. Time 41 min. 42½ sec.

Major Walkem, of the Militia Department, who has been ill for several weeks, was to day removed to Kingston by his son, R. T. Walkem. Frank Macdougall is ill from pneumonia.

At the divorce committee to-day the Nicholson case was resumed. Dr. Currie, of Harriseville, Mich., testified to having delivered a Mrs. Jones of a child in Detroit in 1882. The lady was formerly a Mrs. Nicholson. In cross examination Currie said he had never studied medicine, had never received a diploma from a University, but took up medicine because there was money in it.

Mrs. Reynolds, a sewing machine agent of Detroit, testified that Mrs. Jones (Mrs. Nicholson, the respondent) showed her a marriage certificate signed by Rev. Mr. Vauwinkle.

McLEAN VS. NEWS LIBEL CASE.

The last issue of the Detroit Evening News to hand (of date April 4th) indicates that the McLean libel case is nearing an end. What is termed the crisis was reached when an attempt was made to introduce depositions based upon photographic copies of the Brenton letter, and the original of the letter itself. The court rejected the evidence, the points in which rested upon a comparison of photographs, but admitted the Brenton epistle and several documents written by Prof. McLean to several parties, not connected in any way with this case but submitted in order that the similarity of penmanship might be noted. For expert evidence that of Prof. D. T. Ames of New York, was the most important. He made a close and technical analysis of the writing, and said: "To my mind the execution of the 'Brenton letter' by a forger would be beyond human impossibility." Having been shown several letters, alleged to have been written by McLean, and also the Brenton one, he said, "I think these are the same hand writing. I find the peculiar characteristics to be the same; I find also the mechanical arrangements to be the same." The testimony of James Gaylord, of New York, Assistant Postmaster, and a witness in the celebrated Mercy letter case, last Presidential election case, was rejected because it was based on an examination of photographs. It was, however, against the plaintiff. A day or two more and the case must close. It must prove a great disappointment to one side, and in value the loser of many thousand dollars of expense.

THAT SNOW GAME.

To the Editor, British Whig.

DEAR SIR,—Mr. Bell's statement in last night's News reminds me of the man who invented the guillotine to cut off his own head. Mr. Bell says he measured the boardwalk and found the snow had been cleaned off only two feet eight inches instead of three feet. I am thankful to my old friend for this statement, as it proves the evidence given against me to be imperfect, even allowing this measurement to be correct. I measured the boardwalk in the presence of the Superintendent of the Orphans' Home, (a man whose word is as good as my old friend's) and he can prove that my statement was correct. But I suppose it never occurred to the fertile imagination of the P. C. that the snow that melted in the late part of the day ran on the boardwalk and froze at night and reduced the space in consequence, and that this is the first day that there is any visible decrease of snow near the boardwalk. My neighbor can prove that a man and woman walked along the front of my property on Wednesday night last, 27th March, arm in arm without any inconvenience.

Yours truly,

April 5. CHAS. FIELD.

THE NATIONAL POBJECT.

Again the Bystander points out the fact that the Finance Minister has abandoned the safe ground of adjustment and passed to protection. He "is leading people to believe that he can make them rich by increase of taxation and by raising the cost of living." Over-investment of capital in manufactures, and a general inflation, with its consequent Nemesis, will be the sure results. Canada used to be a cheaper country to live in than the United States; now there is but little difference, and "should the balance turn the other way, the Finance Minister will be taught by an increased exodus what are the real effects of his system."

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Nervous Irritability.—No part of the human machine requires more constant supervision than the nervous system—for upon it our health—and even life—depends. These Pills strengthen the nerves, and are the safest general purifiers of the blood. Nausea, headache, giddiness, numbness, and mental apathy yield to them. They dispatch in a summary manner those distressing dyspeptic symptoms stomachic pains, fulness at the pit of the stomach, abdominal distension, and regulate alike capricious appetites and confined bowels—the commonly accompanying signs of defective or of diminished nerve tone. Holloway's Pills are particularly recommended to persons of studious and sedentary habits, who gradually fall into a nervous and irritable state, unless some such restorative be occasionally taken.

BE ADVISED in time, and do not allow what may appear to you as a simple back ache now, to run into a disease of the kidneys, which invariably proves fatal in the end. Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure will at once ease your pain and positively prevent those unfortunate results. Take it at once. Any druggist will have it.

IMPERIAL CONSPIRACIES.

The Men Arrested and the Death-Dealing Stuff they had on Hand Great Excitement.

London, April 6.—The man arrested yesterday at Lambeth is named Norman. Two further arrests have been made in connection. The latter is now said to be an American. Nearly half a ton of nitro glycerine has been seized in London already. The sentinel guarding the magazine at the infantry barracks, Newry, Ireland, last night challenged a man he discovered scaling the wall. The sentry fired.

There was a sensation in the House of Commons as well as elsewhere when the arrests were announced. Sir Wm. Harcourt said that 150 pounds of highly explosive liquid was found at Norman's quarters, stored in skilfully devised rubber bags, enough to blow up Scotland Yard.

Henry Dalton, taken into custody tonight, came from the United States two weeks ago, and was found at the American Exchange. He is a man of short stature, pock marked, and his arrest was effected owing to information derived from papers foiled on other prisoners. The man arrested with Wilson at Lambeth is named Gallagher. Papers on him prove his connection with Whitehead. The Woolwich authorities pronounce the compound found at Lambeth nitro glycerine, and identical with that in Norman's quarters. Gallagher's portmanteau was packed with explosives. The police are seeking another gang of dynamite fiends at Edgeworstown. A large quantity of documents were found in the factory seized to day at Ladywood. The premises were taken two months ago by Whitehead, an Irish American, who displayed a sign indicating the business of a paper hanger. Whitehead was arrested, and a considerable quantity of nitro-glycerine was seized. The detectives say this is the central manufactory of explosives, and the most important depot of all the infernal contrivances in the kingdom. Whitehead is aged 23, dark complexion, with a marked American accent. He has been in the habit of purchasing nitro glycerine and tools necessary to carry on the business. The apparatus for preparing and mixing the explosive compound was constructed on scientific principles. There was a shrewdly devised method of carrying the fumes up the chimney and consuming the odours.

London, April 6.—The house in Lambeth where Wilson and Gallagher, the dynamite fiends, were found has been placed under police surveillance. All persons entering it are carefully scrutinized. The police are convinced that there are numerous accomplices of prisoners at large.

Large sums at regular intervals have been deposited at the Bank of England to the credit of the prisoners at Dublin, charged with the Phœnix Park and other murders. The authorities have vainly tried to ascertain the source of these deposits. Dalton, arrested in connection with the dynamite plots, reached England in February was unassuming and maintained reserved demeanor.

London, April 6.—The dynamite prisoners were arraigned to-day. The detectives gave a number of points towards Norman's guilt and his intimate relations with the other prisoners. The prisoners were remanded without bail.

The interest in the nitro glycerine discovery continues to grow. The excitement is intense.

Wm. Doveton Smith, prominent Counsellor, will defend Norman on the plea that he was an innocent agent employed as clerk by a man from the United States, who has not been arrested. Norman is of respectable birth and education.

The papers are selling frequent editions with headings "Plot to blow up London." They seek to connect arrest dynamite prisoners with a crew O'Donovan Rossa to Irishmen to burn up everything of English except coal.

Birmingham, April 6.—The Government inspector reports 175 lbs. of nitro glycerine found at Whitehead's manufactory.

In the London House of Commons Mr. Harcourt announced on Monday that he would introduce a Bill amending the law regarding explosives and would ask the House to facilitate its passage. (Cheers.)

NASTY AMERICAN SOCIETY.

East Union, West Virginia, April 6.—Weekly, one of the men crowded on suspicion of murdering Doyle and two children, was under bail for threatening to kill Doyle for alleged seduction of Weekly's wife. The citizens are excited and hundreds coming into town with threats of lynching Doyle.

Lexington, Ky., April 6.—Thirteen women recently indicted for keeping disreputable houses received letters from Judge Mulligan, a prominent lawyer, stating that a party from Frankfort offered to procure their pardon for one hundred dollars each. The women men were pardoned by the Governor, however, without intercession.

ANOTHER REVISION.

New York, April 5.—A commission of bishops, clergymen and representatives of the Episcopal Church is in session for the purpose of revising the liturgy of the church members. The commission includes Bishops Coxe, of Western New York; Huntington, of Central New York; Doane, of Albany; Rev. Drs. Dix, of New York; Harrison, of Troy; Judge Smith, of Buffalo. The deliberations are private, and will not be made public until convening of general conference in October. It is not expected many changes will be made.

FIRE IN TORONTO.

Toronto, April 6.—About 2:30 this morning a fire broke out in Parks' brass fitting shop, Adelaide Street, east, and did damage to the extent of $8,000; insurance $4,000. The Waterloo Yeast Co. in the same building had a loss of $2,000; insured for $1,500. Latham, a glass stainer, lost $200. Tommy Reid, one of the Court Street firemen, had a narrow escape from death by falling into the cellar of the burning building. He was almost suffocated when rescued.

BRUTAL PRIZE FIGHT.

New York, April 6.—There was a prize fight this morning between Harry Weston, known as "Black Diamond," and James McLaughlin. Little science was displayed. In seven rounds Weston won. Each round was desperately contested. In the last round "Diamond" struck McLaughlin on the nose, knocking him down. McLaughlin was unconscious for several minutes.

SPIRITUALIST REVIVAL.

Cincinnati, April 6.—Nearly two hundred members of St. Francis and St. John's Roman Catholic Churches here suddenly developed into spiritualists. Their action attending seances was severely denounced from the pulpits of both churches.

A PROFIT OF EVILS.—Biliousness, Constipation and Dyspepsia usually exist together. By invigorating the liver and toning the stomach simultaneously, they can be eradicated. The geniality and thoroughness with which Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and great blood purifier removes the trinity of physical evils is a fact widely appreciated throughout Canada.
