Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific RR., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

MACLEAN-SCRIPPS LIBEL.

A Stay of Proceedings Granted—Rendering the Verdict—Questions and Answers.

(Evening News.)

Wednesday afternoon in the Superior Court was as anxious one for everybody connected with or in any way interested in the Maclean Scripps libel suit. The jury went out at 11 o'clock and at 4 o'clock, when the Court re-opened, the word that they thought in a short time they could agree on a verdict. Another case was called and tried with James E. Scripps on the jury, where he was compelled to remain the entire afternoon listening to the narration of a petty quarrel between landlord and tenant. Long before the jury came in at 6 o'clock the friends of Maclean confidently asserted that they had agreed on a verdict for the plaintiff and were then engaged in fixing the amount of damages. Court had taken a recess until 6 o'clock, and when that hour arrived the court room was packed.

On instructions from the Court Deputy Sheriff Uebelacker, who was standing guard at the door, opened it and asked the jury if they had agreed. They answered that they had, and amid a solemn stillness slowly filed into the court room and took their places in the jury box.

REACHING A CONCLUSION.

Clerk Mahoney asked the usual question, "Gentlemen, have you agreed on a verdict?" and Foreman Wallace replied in the affirmative.

And almost breathless stillness the Clerk said: "For whom do you find?"

The foreman replied, "For the plaintiff."

Clerk—"For what amount?"

Foreman—"Twenty thousand dollars."

If a thunderbolt had struck the building the audience could not have been more dumbfounded. Mr. Kirchner gasped for breath, and his face assumed an ashen hue. A bland smile passed over the face of Dr. Maclean, and his friends crowded around him with congratulations. They seemed to have a desire to raise a cheer, but this tendency was quickly suppressed by Judge Chipman, who directed the Clerk to read the special questions which the jury were required to answer and on which they based their verdict.

ANSWERS TO THE QUERIES.

To the first question, "Did the defendant publish the article of September 17, 1882, because the charge had been published quite generally in Canadian papers, thus injuriously affecting, in his opinion, the best interests of the University of the state of Michigan, and for the purpose of calling attention thereto as a matter of public duty, and in order that there might be a public investigation thereof by the Regents?" they answered, "We say, not generally, to his knowledge, the evidence only going to show he had seen the two Toronto papers."

Foreman Wallace—"There are three answers to the different parts of that question."

Col. Atkinson—"To that answer we object, as it is not responsive."

The Clerk—"To the second part of the first question the jury say, "We do not think he had the University interests in mind."

To the third and last part of the first question, "We do not think so."

To the second question, "What other further or different object or motive did the defendant have in the publication of that article, beside what you have stated in your answer in the first question?" the jury say, "Sensation and increase of circulation."

To the third question, "What acquaintance, if any, did the plaintiff have with defendant on or previous to September 17, 1882?" the jury answer "We do not know of any from the evidence, must have known him by reputation."

THE QUESTION OF MALICE.

To the fourth question, "State whether on the 17th day of September, 1882, or at any time previous thereto, the defendant entertained or bore any spite, malevolence, ill-will or enmity of heart toward the plaintiff," the jury answered, "We have no means of knowing."

To the questions submitted by the plaintiff the jury answered as follows:

To the first question, "Did the defendant cause the article complained of to be published in disregard of the plaintiff's rights and reputation, not caring whether the same was true or false?" the answer was "Yes."

To the second question, "Did the defendant cause the article complained of to be published for the purpose of creating a sensation?" the answer was "Yes."

To the third question, "Did the defendant cause the article complained of to be published without any investigation into the truth of the charge?" the answer was "Yes."

The manner in which the questions were answered not pleasing the Court and counsel the jury were sent out again, and shortly returned with the following:

To the first, "No;" to the second, "Sensation and increase of circulation;" to the third, "Don't know;" to the fourth, "Don't know."

Concluding with the laughable farce entitled "The Phantom." The performance was good and was favorably received. Receipts of the evening, $230.00.

A TRINITY OF EVILS.—Biliousness, Constipation and Dyspepsia usually exist together. By disciplining the liver and toning the stomach simultaneously, they can be eradicated. The promptitude and thoroughness with which Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and great blood purifier removes this trinity of physical evils is a fact widely appreciated throughout Canada.

NOW THAT there is a reliable remedy for kidney troubles half the terrors attached to these complaints have been removed. For this let all be thankful, and to Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure award all praise for having thus removed a hitherto considered fatal disease from our path. It was never known to fail. Sold by all druggists.

G. W. MYERS, Parkdale, Toronto, writes: "My wife had several very severe attacks of cramps in the stomach. Hearing of Dr. Arnold's Prosmatrix and its pleasantness to take, I gave her two bottles, and she has not had an attack since, and her health is much improved." For sale by all druggists.

M. H., St. Boniface, Manitoba, writes: Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil is a public benefit. It has done wonders here, and has cured myself of a bad cold in one day. Can be relied upon to remove pain, heal sores of various kinds, and benefit any inflamed portion of the body to which it is applied.

Pattner's Emulsion.

In cases of pulmonic and emaciation its restorative powers have been manifested in the most remarkable manner both in children and adults, its peculiar tonic and nutritive properties having restored health to the most enfeebled constitution.

Be Annoyed in time, and do not allow what may appear to you as a simple back ache now, to run into a disease of the kidneys, which invariably proves fatal in the end. Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure will at once ease your pain and positively prevent those unfortunate results. Take it at once. Any druggist will have it.

A DEATH STRUGGLE.

Two Rough Iowa Rivals in Love Attempt to Exterminate Each Other—A Bloody Scene.

The Sioux City Journal gives the details of the recent brutal prize fight which occurred at Missouri Valley, Iowa. Dungan Points and Wm. Moss engaged in a mortal combat over a woman. Points was killed and Moss is supposed to be mortally injured. About a year ago Sailor Craig was the sweet heart and promised bride of William Moss, a young farmer, who resided in Loveland. In a few months it was agreed that they should be married. Before the wedding day arrived, however, trouble arose between the lovers over the too attentive presence of John Dungan, who resided near Blanco, Crazy Moss and the girl separated, and she was thereafter for a time the beau of his rival. Subsequently the first lover and the girl met and made up their differences. This enraged Points, who had come to regard her as his own, and he sought a quarrel which Moss. The two met on two occasions during the three months, each time had a quarrel and would have fought, but were prevented from doing damage by parties who separated them. At a dance the rivals again met and came to blows. They were separated and the girl appealed to determine the question by choosing the one she liked best. She said that she would go with the one who proved himself the best man. It was accordingly agreed that the men should fight it out. The dispute by this time had been widely talked of by the people of both Loveland and Money Creek that a natural jealousy between the two places easily caused the citizens of each to take sides. The place of the fight was agreed upon as half way between the respective residents. A man from Loveland seconded Moss, and Points brother acted as his second. The fight was to be conducted in the most approved rough and tumble style. When Thursday arrived about sixty people were on the ground, among whom was the girl. The seconds stood with cocked revolvers in hand and warned no one to interfere. The men commenced fighting fiercely. They used fists, heels and teeth, and in clinching and tumbling about rolled over a large area of ground. The fight lasted 55 minutes, and throughout was one of a most brutal character. It was brought to a fatal conclusion by Points strength entirely giving away, and then Moss, with the last efforts of his madness, stamped upon his prostrate foe and crushed in his breast and kicked in his head. The spectators at this overpowered the seconds and dragged the men apart. Points was lying where picked up and expired soon afterward. Moss had been severely bitten by his antagonist, having had two fingers, an ear and his nose taken off, and was in a deplorable condition from other injuries. He is not expected to live. Severe justice will be dealt out to the woman who caused the trouble and the seconds who kept spectators from separating the combatants.

DESCRIPTION OF A DEVIL.

It is a proof of the active character of the prevailing female, says the New York Morning Journal, that the Devil has only been in existence a few months, and we now have the outline. In all essential points she is the exact counterpart of her male type, except that, with a woman's subtlety, she has gone a degree deeper in wickedness. It must, however, be acknowledged that she has a more rational basis of existence than the male. She is a protest against the over-intellectuality of American women, and exactly represents in terra cotta colors the beautiful vegetation which a great many men fall in love with. She chews, weeps, sighs and giggles. She is trussed, harnessed, puffed, patched, laced and compressed. She has reduced the problem of existence to a flirtation, behind a fan. She walks with the aid of a chiropodist. She eats with the aid of pepsin and hot water. She sleeps with bromide of potassium. She exercises in elevator. She plays Camille in her dreams, and eats carmonels and reads dolls when she is awake. She is a sort of a bow of promise in the social sky that the continent will not be overpopulated.

"My skin, which has been covered with scaly sores, has become clean, smooth and soft as a lady's." My hands were covered with little, dry scabs. They have disappeared and I'm better than I have been for twenty years using Dr. Benson's Skin Cure. A M Noble, Selma, N C, July 8, 1882.
