SAFE RELIABLE STRONG. ATLANTIC MAIL.

CITY AND VICINITY.

FROM Strong winds and moderate gales, east veering to south and south west, generally fair weather to-day and rain to night and Sunday.

ON SHORE THE CITY.—After due deliberation Rev. John Lochhead, of Newburg, has accepted the call of his old congregations at South Gower, Rockton and Osgoode Line.

THE OFFICERS of the city militia holding a musical and literary entertainment, open to the public, on their anniversary, the 26th of April, in Cataraqui Lodge Room, Wilkinson's Block. Addresses will also be delivered by Rev. T. W. Jolliffe and others. Tickets 25c.

SALVATION MERTINGS.—Victoria Barracks being too small to accommodate the crowds that attend the Salvation Army services on Sundays the City Hall has been taken to-morrow afternoon and evening the meetings will be held there. The music and singing will be important features.

FIRE ON THE MARKET.—A horse on the market to-day bit the arm of a man named Hewett. He struck at the animal. A bucket up tumped out some of the waggon's contents, and then there was excitement. Several were slightly hurt by the panic that followed. The police were not called in.

AN ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon, while Mr. W. D. Argue, of Queen's University, was crossing the ice to Wolfe Island, he met with an accident by which several bones in his hand were broken. The accident occurred while holding on to an ice boat. He carries his hand in a sling now.

ANNUAL EXPORT.—The Auditors have concluded their work and their report is now in the hands of the Finance Committee. It will be presented at the Council meeting on Monday. The books were kept in excellent condition. The amount of debentures that the city have outstanding amount to about $400,000.

WELCOMED HOME.—On Thursday night Prof. McLean arrived at Ann Arbor and was given a grand reception. He was met at the train by several hundred students, who placed him in a carriage and hauled him through the town. Impromptu services were held over the office of the editor of the Detroit News. Prof. McLean made a short speech.

ICE GOOD CROPS.—The fall wheat has wintered well and now appears to be in fine condition. The quantity of snow that lay upon the ground and the steady cold helped to preserve the crop. The grass under the genial rays of the sun is assuming a bright, green aspect. The prospects for a fine harvest are bright just now.

POLICE BUSINESS.—Augustus Barnes was again in the dock this morning. He complained that he had been sick, and, in consequence, taken too much liquor. He was assessed to the extent of $2 and will rest at the gaol for ten days in default of payment. Patrick Hamilton, an old pensioner, was dismissed. He promised not to appear again.

FLOODED TRACKS.—The early train on the K. & P. RR. was cancelled this morning in consequence of floods at various points on the road. At Jackson's Mills the track is over two feet under water, and last night the fire in one engine was quenched. The track, too, has had to be weighted down. The interruption, however, is only temporary. The flood is already subsiding.

INSPECTING STEAMERS.—Mr. McHolmy is the inspector of Hulls and Outfits who is examining the Kingston boats. He is making careful notes of all the steamers' equipments, and will shortly intimate the requirements of the crafts. The law this year will be strictly carried out, and all necessary appliances for fire protection and the saving of life must be provided.

A CASE OF ILLUSION.

To-day about every person who looked across the harbor observed that the ice had disappeared and that the river was clear. This was an illusion, however. The ice, about half way across, had a blue appearance, as if there was open water. There was a slight white ridge along the blue, and one person imagined that he saw the water splashing over the edge of the ice. It is said that the sun shining on the water which stood on the clear ice produced the illusion.

A SENSATIONAL REPORT DENIED.

A member of the Salvation Army denies that a detachment of the force was sent out on Thursday night last with orders to break up a dancing party. The sensational report, published in last evening's News, was at variance with the truth. The gentleman said he was at the alleged party. It was given at a house on Princess Street, and as one of the household was a Salvationist the mother intimated that he might invite a few of his friends so that he could enjoy himself, as he probably would not dance. He did as requested and during the evening a goodly number enjoyed themselves at the party. Those who desired to dance were permitted to do so in another room; those who did not dance spent their time in singing etc. No picket was detailed to attend the party and no attempt was made to break it up.

COLLINSBY ROBBERY.

Hearing the Evidence—No Direct Testimony Against Babcock—Adjourned.

The Columbs robbery case came up for investigation this morning at the Police Court. The prisoner, who is aged about 25 years, had been in the employ of J. H. Smith. He claimed to be entirely innocent of the charge against him. The evidence was taken. R. Shaw prosecuting and J. McIntyre defending. Mr. Smith testified that on Monday or Tuesday he missed about $100, which had been abstracted from a pocket book he placed in a chest in his room. He did not say anything about the missing of the money, thinking that his wife had taken it. After enquiring he found that Mrs. Smith had not taken the cash and therefore came to the conclusion that it had been stolen. His daughter also discovered that a quantity of money she had in a box which stood on a window in her bedroom had been taken. The witness saw his money in the pocket book two weeks ago. No one was in the house on Sunday or Monday except the prisoner. The building is always locked at night and there are double sashes on all the windows except two. The house had not the appearance of being broken into. The prisoner came to town with Mr. Smith on Tuesday and borrowed $1 from him.

On cross examination the witness said he had not seen some of the gold in his chest for a month and he could not tell what amount had been stolen. The chest was kept locked, but the key of it hung upon the wall.

Eliza Smith stated that she had money in a box in her room. She saw it on Monday evening, but on Tuesday it was gone. There was no one in the house on Monday except Babcock.

Mrs. Maria Smith was aware that her husband and daughter had money in the house. On Monday night the prisoner was with the family. She thought it hardly possible that he could get into the rooms without them seeing him do so. A week ago he wanted to go out on the Kingston & Pembroke RR., but as it was stormy Mr. Smith could not come to the city.

Detective Sullivan related the substance of an interview he had with Babcock at Murvale and on the Kingston & Pembroke RR. train. He said Babcock wanted to know if he the detective would take him to Smith's as he desired to settle the case. He claimed to be innocent however of the offence. Babcock said he would draw up writings and work for Smith for two years in order to settle the affair. The prisoner was anxious to have the handcuffs taken off him. He did not like to have the people looking at him while he had them on. He strongly protested his innocence, but said he would do anything to settle the disgraceful affair.

Police Officer Sheldon related the circumstances of the arrest and the subsequent conversations had with Babcock. The prisoner said he was willing to work for two years in order to make up Smith's loss, or until he found out where the money went to. He positively denied having taken it.

In the absence of a witness the case was held over until Monday. The prisoner was ordered to be taken to gaol.

THE MAJOR AGAIN ILL.

Major Moore is again unwell. He was taken very ill after his return from the City Hall meeting on Thursday. Dr. Lavell says he has been entirely overworked and that rest is essentially necessary. The Major, in coming across the ice on Saturday, took cold and resulted in a neuralgic attack. Hopes tended returning home to-day but the Doctor insists that he cannot leave until he is well. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Bajus took the Major for a drive around the city and the latter was much pleased with the appearance of the place. At Portsmouth a short conference was held with the Salvation workers there. The Army in that place may shortly be annexed to Kingston's on a harmonious basis. The Major offered the workers of Portsmouth some valuable advice. Mr. Bajus has invited Major Moore to visit Kingston during the summer with his family and enjoy a month's vacation. The invitation will probably be accepted. The Major's health will prevent him making his intended trip to Western towns.

SKIPPED THE COUNTRY.

The Cape Vincent Eagle says that on Saturday last a man called at the residence of Henry Canfield and asked to be taken to Kingston, saying that he desired to take an early train on the Grand Trunk and it was important that he should reach there that night. Robert Grimshaw, Mr. Canfield's son-in-law, concluded to take the man to Horne's Hotel, Wolfe Island, that night and cross to Kingston in the morning. When the island was reached the traveller said he was in no hurry, as he was out of the States. He said he was short $1,000 in his accounts and that the Sheriff was after him. He had walked from Watertown, and was almost exhausted.

THE DUTY ON FILES.

Mr. G. A. Kirkpatrick, Speaker of the House of Commons, telegraphed here to-day that the duty on files was 35 per cent. ad valorem. The changes in the tariff on these articles have been numerous; so much bother has been experienced in consequence of Sir Leonard's blundering that it is hoped this last decision will be somewhat permanent. There are a number of file factories in this country, but the goods turned out are not what the people will purchase. A traveller said to-day that American files would still be imported and the increase of tariff causes an increase of price to the purchaser.

A PAPER STOPPED.

After an existence of 11 years the Clayton Independent has ceased to be. The job printing paid well, but not the paper, and the publisher tired of sinking money in it. We regret that the editor's labours have been unremunerative. The Independent was well conducted, always newsy and interesting, and a great credit to the Messrs. Rogers.

CONTINUING THE LINE.

A RUMOUR THAT THE K. & P. RR. WILL RUN AN INDEPENDENT LINE TO PEMBROKE FROM RENFREW.

Interviewing Dr. Dickson of Pembroke—A Large Bonus Doubtful at Present—The Town's Requirements—Line to Eganville.

The rumour having reached the ears of a Wing representative that the Kingston and Pembroke Railway Company would probably continue the road further north than Renfrew, even up the valley of the Bonnechere, he set to work to investigate. He learned that the Directors had discussed the matter and were favourable to such an extension, provided it seemed that the townships interested would assist the scheme. The road projected as proposed would become a competing line with the C. P. R. to Pembroke and do a great deal to develop the country. The Company would require good bonuses. The matter is at present in an embryonic condition.

While examining the register of the British American Hotel the name of Dr. Dickson, Pembroke, was discovered and the journalist sought out the medical gentleman, whom he found to be most intelligent and interesting person, one who was enthusiastic over the prospects of the section in which he lived. Dr. Dickson has resided in Pembroke for 17 years and is, consequently, well versed in the history of the town and vicinity. The reporter said:

"I understand that the Government have cancelled a bonus of $75,000, given by Pembroke to the Canada Central RR. How was that?"

Dr. Dickson stated that many years ago when there was an agitation for the extension of the Canada Central from Renfrew to Pembroke the town bonused the road to the extent of $75,000. The road was to terminate at Pembroke, the town to become the chief distributing point for a vast area of country including the great timber limits. After the road had been completed the C. P. R. was talked of and it was decided to use the Canada Central instead of building a road going up the valley of the Bonnechere. Thus Pembroke lost the position of a distributing centre and only become a way station on the main line. The town people felt that under the altered circumstances the country would receive the benefit of the bonus, though given for purely local benefit. The Canada Central has since passed into the hands of the C.P.R. and, consequently, when the true nature of the matter was explained to the Government, both sides of the House

AGREED TO CANCEL THE BONUS.

The town of Pembroke will not, therefore, be called upon to continue paying interest on the debentures, which has amounted to one third of the taxes collected annually. Pembroke is a place of 5000 inhabitants and the assessment is 13 mills on the dollar. The valuation of the property is above the average of places of its size.

The Doctor, when asked about, intimated that the Pembroke people were not pleased with the way in which they were treated by the C.P.R. They were at the mercy of the Company and were compelled to pay very high rates for all freight moved inward and outward.

"How would the town view the construction of an independent branch of the K. & P. RR. to it from Renfrew. Would they give the road a good bonus."

The Doctor replied that he thought the people would not be favorable to granting any bonuses at present, especially after their recent experiences. If a bonus were given it would only be on conditions which no company would feel like accepting. The doctor went on to say that the town was in a poor condition so far as public improvements and public buildings were concerned. Last year upwards of $70,000 were lost by fires and the people are alive to the necessity of fire protection. Even now a committee are considering a water system, for which, at the least calculation, about $80,000 will be required. Then the town, to keep pace with the times, must have a Market Square and town buildings, and the interest saved by the cancellation of the bonus will undoubtedly be devoted to such improvements. The people, he thought, would at this time be unfavorable to a bonus, because there was the prospect of another railway entering the town. The Pembroke and Quebec RR. was to terminate at Pembroke, and by it a connection could be had with Montreal. This, meanwhile, would suffice. He thought, however, that later on the ratepayers would be better disposed to a western outlet and then the K. & P. RR. Company should talk up extension.

Speaking in regard to the

over the C. P. R., Dr. Dickson said that the former Company could accomplish but little, as the C. P. R. would throw all manner of obstacles in the way. The K. & P. RR. could do much towards developing the Northern country by an independent line. He did not think a bonus could be secured from the County of Renfrew if the line was run to Pembroke in the same direction and near to the C. P. R. If the K. & P. RR. should diverge from Renfrew and strike Pembroke by way of Eganville a bonus of a considerable amount would probably be secured. Eganville is a great distributing point for the timber limits. The interview concluded by the Dr. speaking in glowing terms of the agricultural resources of Renfrew County. Better land between Renfrew and Pembroke could not be desired. It compared favorably with that of any county in Ontario. There had been a great transformation since 1870. The farmers were now energetic and making every possible endeavor to clear the land, for there was money in it.

A WONDERFUL CHILD.

A Case That Puzzles the Physicians—A Head That is Transparent—A Perfect Wonder.

Some days ago a couple of gentlemen requested a citizen to engage a building in which to hold a peculiar entertainment, and the City Hall has been secured. We learned this morning that the first part of this entertainment consisted of rare feats in legerdemain, and that at the close a freak of nature would be shown—a transparent head. It sits upon the shoulders of a boy, 20 months old, bright, lively, hungry at meal time and in full physical health. The phenomenon is, of course, especially attractive to the medical men, and the more they examine and study it the more contradictory it appears to prevailing and scientific and professional opinions. The head is most symmetrically formed up to the eyes, and in a line running back to the base of the skull, above this line is a remarkably well formed head, but no bone or other hard substance, and the feeling of the touch is exactly like that of a rubber ball, while the contents of this portion, in liquid form, is quite transparent. The brain appears to be located in the back of the head, low down, below the base line indicated and is in quantity very small. There is sufficient, however, to give the boy intelligence, and he recognizes friends and acted towards them as an ordinary child would. Frank, for such is his name, was born in Wayne County, Virginia, and is accompanied by his mother. Dr. Sullivan is said to have made an examination of the head, and he has been now pleased as all medical men are by its remarkable formation.

GARRISON THEATRICALS.

There was a very good house last night when the Garrison Theatricals were repeated. The parquette and dress circle were well filled, and by an audience which frequently manifested its appreciation of the performance. It is unnecessary to again outline the plays, and to criticise at length the manner in which each role was rendered. The cast in Charles II. was the same as on the occasion of its previous production and Cols. Campbell and Villiers, Major Short, Mrs. Worsley and Miss Merritt acquitted themselves most creditably, with quite as much success as many professionals. The farce was capitally performed, and again Major Short, Capt. White, Capt. Farley, Mrs. Neelson and Miss Carruthers did complete justice to the parts taken by them. A handsome bouquet was cast at the feet of The Area Belle and acknowledged by a graceful bow. The whole entertainment was such as reflected honorably upon all connected with it. The players did so well, give evidence of so much histrionic talent that we hope they will find it convenient to again amuse their many friends at some future date, we hope not far distant. The music of the fife band was delightful, the vocal quartette on Gazette Nursery Rhymes and Swedish Wedding March being especially admired.
