THE ORANGE BILL.

Surprise has not been felt that the Orange Bill suffered defeat in the House of Commons, but that the majority against it should have been so large. The total vote was 176, showing that the absentees numbered 35. Had all these been present and had they voted for the Bill, which is extremely improbable, it would still have got the six months' hoist, inasmuch as some 30 were opposed to its passage. Again the attempt is made to fasten the responsibility for the failure of the Orange Order to secure special incorporation upon the Liberals, our local contemporary remarking that the non-success of the Orange legislators is due to the action of Mr. Blake and his followers. It is quite true that the Leader of the Opposition and many of those politically associated with him voted yea in giving to the Bill a lift which effectually disposes of it for this session, but Mr. Blake does not include among his followers Sir R. Langevin, Hons. Messrs. Caron, Pope and Costigan. These latter are members of the Government of Sir John Macdonald, and were expected to help the Premier in implementing his anti-election pledges.

KINGSTON JOURNALISM

Again last evening the Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Kingston, in addressing the women of St. Mary's congregation, repeated his charges against the city newspapers of containing improper descriptions of crime. A few Sundays ago, in a temperate way, His Lordship referred to these journals in the line of mild reproof. Feeling that we make our errors of judgment as men do in other professions (even the clerical) not as fully open to criticism, we accepted the spirit in which it was given. But the lesson in we were utterly unprepared for the unmeasured and unconsiderate attacks of this week, and are yet quite unable to account for them, since they are not strictly just and far from generous. They cannot be explained by personal bias, since the Bishop has been more courteously and liberally treated by the press than any new comer to Kingston ever was and as probably no citizen ever will be. Had His Lordship sought merely the improvement of the journalistic pages he knows from experience of the respect in which his wishes have been met hitherto, that a private letter to the editors would have had a weight in increasing the care with which the journals have been conducted. This would have amply fulfilled his undoubted high mission to secure the cause of morality. But the ecclesiastical lash has been so abruptly and unsparingly applied that the sympathy which would have followed a reasonable movement in the same direction has fallen to our lot. Therefore we cannot utter a complaint beyond that we have already expressed, of not receiving that kindness and consideration we have sincerely practised towards the Bishop.

We are informed, (and failing to obtain an authentic report at the Bishop's Palace we have to depend on hearsay), that on Monday evening the Bishop, admitting that the press was a power, declared that he would prove that he was more powerful still in that he could prevent its circulation in Roman Catholic families. We should be very sorry, indeed, to engage in a test of that character with one whose sacred position places him above the range of ordinary warfare, and whose challenge is, therefore, not of a chivalrous character. Then we have not thrown down any gauntlet by way of defiance, and have enforced struggles in plenty without voluntarily engaging in one with the Bishop, unless a much greater occasion arises than we have yet seen. On Monday evening he declared that if the newspapers continued as at present he would have to forbid their circulation in Catholic families. Last evening, with strange precipitation, we are told that he did formally state the prohibition under the usual pains and penalties. He promises on Sunday morning next to more fully unfold his plans, and they are reputed to involve the publication of a Roman Catholic paper here. This is a matter clearly personal to His Lordship and his parishioners. The sun of journalism is a free and open one and wide enough for all crafts, no matter to what creeds their captains of salvation belong. Again, therefore, we have no ground of complaint and shall not make even a business struggle with His Lordship. The Wasp will probably pursue for another forty-nine years the even tenor of its way, giving fair play to Roman Catholic, Protestant and Salvationist alike, no matter what Church or dignitary would fain exclude him.

In our defence we now say but little merely presenting the opinions of clergymen of every other denomination in the city, many of whom have known the two papers here for over half a lifetime. They are a sufficient vindication in themselves. We merely claim in support that we have never dished up crime in its tinsel or gloss, to encourage votaries, but these reports published to settle the Wasp to the character of a newspaper have presented it in its repellant aspects, if not a benefit to society is certainly not an injury. In two very recent cases, the Maclean libel and Nicholson divorce, for instance, there was a studied absence of detailed and lengthened report, though peculiar local interests attached to them. We are not so phenomenal as to claim that this is a paper better than others, but that it will bear comparison with any Canadian secular journal we are confident.

We thank many Roman Catholics for the warm feeling extended within the last two days. Nowhere else probably has such a liberality been shown by Protestant papers in a Protestant community to Roman Catholics, and we are glad to feel that this is appreciated and that their conduct will not be the agent that bears the relationship.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

As a result of the action of Mr. Fenton, County Attorney, Toronto, in the lottery cases, twenty-four convictions were secured and fines to the amount of $392.40.

The vote analysed stood thus on the second reading of the Orange Bill: Ministerialists who voted for the Bill, 61. Opposition who voted for the Bill, 9. Ministerialists who voted against the Bill, 56; Opposition who voted against the Bill, 55; total, 176. Members absent, 35.

For six weeks the men employed in Stranch Bros. Piano Action Factory, New York, have been on a strike. The closing of the factory for so long a time caused great trouble to piano manufacturers. Stranch Bros. being considered the largest and best house in their line in the United States. The strike ended on Saturday by the surrender of the men.

Mayor Harrison, of Chicago, at his inauguration, said he proposed to make his term a moral one and has vigorously commenced his term by prompt action among the disreputable haunts of the city. He was accosted by the hoodlums and roughs and gamblers of the city, and pays these men off in a different way from what he was expected to do. He may do a great deal to merit the favour of the respectable classes, and he had them almost unanimously against him in the late election.

The Tory papers are endeavouring to make it appear that Mr. Blake is opposed to the Bill which Sir John has introduced in the Commons and which has for its object the assimilation of the franchise for Dominion elections. Mr Blake offered no opinion as to the merits of the Bill. What he said was this: "I maintain that a measure of this description, which necessarily involves the consideration of enormous details—which goes so much into the consideration of questions which people should have an opportunity to consider for themselves—should be early introduced and the stages taken leisurely, that members should have every opportunity, not merely of considering it themselves, but of consulting with the constituencies affected, and of having what the hon. gentleman himself once called 'extra-parliamentary' discussion of the clauses.

"Dynamite Rossa has gone into statistics, and he figures that the cost of burning London will be exactly £17,251 0s. 10d. He wants some one else to provide £12,000 to pay the passage both ways of 1,000 evicted Irishmen, each to take a room at a separate hotel, at a cost of 5s. (£250) and each man to be provided with a box of matches (£1 10d.) In the course of the night the 1,000 men are to set fire to 1,000 beds, and in this way London is to be burnt.

In a long and eulogistic article on the retirement of the Minister of Railways the Regina Leader (Davin's paper) says: "Sir Charles has suffered because of injudicious and over-eager friends, and because of circumstances which gave a color to calumny. A superficial observer would have said when Mr. Martin Griffin supplanted Edward Farrer as editor of the Toronto Mail, and another Nova Scotia journalist became editor of the News, an evening edition of the Mail, that the very citadel of the party was in the possession of Sir Charles Tupper's friends. Put that moment Sir Charles' stock began to go down. The belief got abroad, no doubt ill-founded, that Sir Charles had promised Bunting a place in his Cabinet if he took Griffin on the Mail, and the contrast between the large force of Farrer and the lighter though considerable ability of Griffin reflected on Griffin's supposed patron. Then the Mail fell into violent and vulgar abuse, and mistook mere billings gate for strength, and the more educated portion of the Conservative party in Ontario sighed to find the heroic vituperation of Yankeedom domiciled amongst them. It also seemed to some as though Sir Charles Tupper was not content to receive, but meant to wrest from Ontario, the leadership. No doubt all these were misconceptions. Yet they had their weight, and the ill-judged zeal of the editor of the Mail gave color to what was perhaps a pure invention.

A MYSTERIOUS CASE.

Firing Shots at Rideau Hall—Who Did it, and What did He Mean by Doing it?

Ottawa, April 17.—His Excellency, and the Princess Louise arrived at Ottawa yesterday. The Princess looks exceedingly well, and received a hearty welcome from the large crowd who assembled at the station to witness her arrival. At midnight there was an attack (shooting) on Rideau Hall.

Ottawa, April 18.—The circumstances connected with the affair do not bear out the thin theory that wag has been at work, for it is fair to assume that no sane individual would be idiotic enough to emerge from a grove in the immediate vicinity of a residence guarded by a dozen armed men, empty four chambers of his revolver and then retire just for the fun of the thing. The incident has caused considerable alarm in the Vice Regal household and this morning the matter was discussed in Cabinet Council.

The particulars as told by a policeman are as follows. Shortly after midnight, whilst Officer Geddes was on his beat, his attention was attracted by the report of a pistol shot proceeding from the grove about midway between the Government House and the residence of Lieut. Col. DeWinton. Following this, in quick succession, were three other shots. Geddes made a rush in the direction of the grove and observed the form of a tall man retreating. Remembering that he had implicit instructions from the Superintendent of Police not to leave his post of duty on any account he returned to his beat and the wretch escaped.

Officer Fallon, who was on the adjoining beat to Geddes, heard the shots fired. The superintendent of the Police, in discussing the matter with members of the press, attached little importance to the occurrence. He expresses the belief that there is nothing in it and would lead one think that the officers who reported the matter were drawing on their imagination. In the vicinity of the grove there is a small lake and it is asserted that the shots were fired by a Frenchman who occasionally hunted muskrats in the "wee sma' hours."

A Toronto detective to-day stated that they had one man under surveillance, that an arrest might be effected within twenty four hours which would show light on some mysterious movements.

BABCOCK IN THE CELLS

It is now a week since Babcock was arrested on a charge of stealing a quantity of money from J. H. Smith, of Collingby. During all this time he has been confined in the cells that have been publicly condemned as unfit for for human habitation. To-day it was hoped bail would be secured and liberty granted. There is a general disposition on the part of those who come in contact with the young man to believe him innocent. No person could feel his position more keenly. He has wept and prayed for something to turn up to show that he has been wrongly accused. The poor fellow gives clear statements in regard to his movements. He claims to have bought a ticket carrying him only to Murvale, and that he got off there to see relatives. His remarks to the police officers about the affair indicate his innocence. Mr Smith had been a friend to him and to show that he was wrongfully accused Babcock was willing to do anything even to working for two years for nothing, or until the money was heard of or found.

FIRE HALL REPAIRS.

Mr. Power has completed the plans for the repairs and improvements to the Fire Hall. The Chief approves of the scheme and thinks that if the alterations are at once made the Fire Hall will be one of the best in Canada. The drain to be built will run from the stables to Ontario Street. Pipes from the closets and bath room will also connect with the drain. Upstairs in the place where the Hall now is, there will be bunk rooms and a drawing room. The two places will be connected by folding doors. Six cots will be erected in the bunk room and in one corner will be the sliding pole. The striking of the gong will raise the trap around the sliding pole and also turn the gas on in the Hall. The bath room is off the bunk room, and is very handy. The bank and drawing room will be ventilated from the roof.

A NOTED LAND CASE.

A case of interest is now on at the Belleville Assizes. It is an action brought by Lee, of Trenton, against J. A. McMahon, of this city, regarding a mortgage given in part payment of land in Portage La Prairie. Baker, one of the Syndicate, was in Kingston during the boom, selling lots in Portage La Prairie. Defendant bought a block for $1,500, paying $500 cash, and giving a mortgage to secure balance. When payment on the mortgage matured, defendant discovered, he alleges, that he had been deceived when he purchased, that statements made at the time he purchased were untrue. McMahon resists payment of the mortgage, and endeavours to recover the $500 paid. Considerable evidence and much difference of opinion as to the land and statements made by Baker were put in.

FREE COOKING SCHOOL.

The attendance at the free cooking school has not been as large as the projectors anticipated. The ladies should certainly visit the place and see the way the nicest of cakes and bread is made, and taste the excellent doughnuts and buns there manufactured. The firm introducing the compressed yeast have been in Canada seven months, and hope soon to have a sale of 1,000 lbs. per day of the article. They expect to build a factory in Canada shortly. They sell 18 tons of yeast in the United States every day. The school will be kept open all this week, and the ladies from now out should attend daily.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

Sensations in England and Ireland—Carley, the Murderer, Sentenced to be Hanged.

Dublin, April 16.—Clifford Lloyd's inquiry into the murder plot in the Cloukeen district in connection with which a number of arrests have been made, has led to remarkable disclosures. Tewbridge, who was wounded during an attack on an objectionable party by moonlighters, has given full particulars of the murder of one Kennedy by assassins brought from a distance to perform the deed. Tewbridge belonged to a secret society, in which he was obliged by threats to continue. The society was organized in January, 1882, with the special object of killing landlords, agents and spies. McKearney, a local leader, was introduced to the members as a stranger from Dublin, who said he travelled through other countries and formed societies. He stated the land league would supply the society with arms and promised that the league would pay the expenses incurred by the men sent out of their own districts. Members might have to go to barren parts of Ireland and even to England to shoot landlords and agents. The name of the new society was Invincibles or Vigilants.

London, April 18.—A box, said to contain explosives were found last night alongside the Cathedral of Salisbury. The office is now guarded by police.

AN IMPORTANT ARREST.

Liverpool, April 18.—Eugene Kingston, said to be an Invincible and to have been connected with the Phœnix Park murders in Dublin, has been arrested here.

THE CURLEY TRIAL.

Dublin, April 18.—In the Curley trial Mr. Adam, for the defence, declared that the evidence of Kavanagh did not show that Curley was in Phœnix Park on May 6th. His presence was indicated by James Carey, who said Curley was in command of the assassins, but Carey swore to save his own neck. He himself was doubtless in command.

Mr Porter, Attorney General of Ireland, responded for the Crown. The Judge charged the jury. The latter retired and soon returned and rendered a verdict of guilty. Curley was sentenced to be hanged on May 18th.

EXPLOSION AT DOVER

Dover, Eng., April 18.—An explosion, supposed to be that of dynamite, has just occurred in the coal cellars under the barracks. The shock shattered the windows and tumbled down chimneys in every direction.

In the House of Commons Mr. Maxwell (Conservative) asked whether it was true that Tynan, who has been identified as "No. 1" was in New York, and whether his extradition would be demanded. The Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs replied that Mr Maxwell must give formal notice of his question before a reply could be given.

CONVENTION NOT POSTPONED.

A Buffalo, N. Y., despatch says that Mooney, President of American Land League, has cabled Parnell:—"The Philadelphia Convention cannot be postponed. We regret that you cannot be with us, but everything indicates that the Convention will be the largest and most important ever held by Irish-Americans. It is understood that Patrick Egan intends to reside in America permanently."

KIDNAPPED AND QUESTIONED.

London, April 18.—The Telegraph publishes the affidavit of a clerk in the postal telegraph service to the effect that men he supposed to be Fenians accosted him, bandaged his eyes in a court near Broad street railway station, London, and compelled him, under threats of his life, to answer questions as to the whereabouts of the engines and the number and duties of the persons employed in the central telegraph offices. He was afterwards conveyed to Kingston and questioned by six men, some of whom were Americans. The clerk has a brother living in America. He does not know how the Fenians learned his name, which was the first excuse they gave for addressing him.

GROSS CORRUPTION.

Red Bank, N.J., April 18.—The tramp investigation show that gross abuses have been created by the committing of justices, and the county spends from $300 to $600 per month for the entertainment of tramps alone. The free holders refuse to audit the jailor's bill until it is considerably reduced.

AN AWFUL FALL.

Chattanooga, April 18.—On the Lookout Mountain last evening Tross Griggs was driving with his sweetheart. The horse shied at the top of the mountain and plunged over a precipice of 200 feet. The man and horse were killed. The woman was badly injured.

LOUISE MICHEL'S TRIAL

Paris, April 18.—Louise Michel is held for trial at the next Assizes on a charge of inciting to riot. She will conduct her own defence.

BUTLER IRREPRESSIBLE.

(To the Sporting Editor of the Mail.)

SIR,—Enclosed I send you a telegram from Jas. Butler, of Kingston, as follows:

"Kingston, April 12.

"To E. S. Tisdale

"I see by the Mail of Tuesday that you challenge any man to run one hundred yards and give one yard start. I will run you if you give me three yards on the come-in for $100 or $200 a side. Answer through Mail.

"JAS. BUTLER."

In answer to the above, I think Butler belongs to the class who are always making challenges, but of such an unreasonable character that they will not be accepted. If Mr. Butler or his friends are at all conversant with running matters they must be aware that there are no races run where one man gives another at the come-out. And in the second place, three yards is too much to ask. At any rate I will not give it, nor will I give anything at the come-out. Now, I will run Butler on the following terms: I will give him 1½ yards' start, standing mutual consent start, in Kingston or any place that can be agreed upon, three weeks from signing articles, for $200 or more. If Butler wants to run on these terms he can write me to that effect. If not I will not pay any more attention to the matter, for I mean business and want to run, not to get a cheap reputation.—Yours, &c.,

E. S. TISDALE.

* The Age at which Premium will cease for evermore through division.

EXAMPLES. 1. A Policy in other companies, at age 35, he has now (1880) 40 years of age, would, on completing the 8th year, be free of all further ordinary payments of premiums.

2. A Policy-holder entering at the same time at age 35, and being now 40, 10 years of age, would, upon completing his 7th year, be free of all further ordinary payments of premiums.

When the premiums become thus extinguished, the profits will be paid in cash to the Policy holder after each succeeding division. A Policy would thus become free from ordinary premiums in 10 years and upwards, according to age at entry, and thereafterward would be a source of income.
