MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 30, 1883.

A re-construction of the Dominion Cabinet is said to be contemplated next week, on the arrival at Ottawa of Hon. Mr. Chapleau. The Globe says: It is very commonly reported that Sir Alex. Galt wishes to retain his position, and that Sir Charles has also repented of his resignation, and it begins to look as though the Government would be compelled by the imbecility of its remaining members to take back to its arms the hero of Section B and Cardion.

TWO LICENSE LAWS

It is not very complimentary to the Select Committee of the House of Commons to say that they have not been able to improve upon the Crooks Act. Sir John's promise to have new legislation affecting the liquor traffic was made rashly, and, we are prone to believe, without intention of redeeming it. The issue, however, has been forced upon him; the climax is near at hand. The proceedings of the Committee having the matter under consideration point to grave and embarrassing difficulties. The lawyers are, of course, at sixes and sevens as to the powers of the Dominion and Provincial Houses, their opinions being largely influenced by their political feelings. The Liberals contend that in any event the Crooks Act will remain in force, that the House of Commons cannot legislate it out of operation. The judgment of the Quebec Court of Queen's Bench gives strength to this position. This judgment, disposing of the case of the Corporation of Three Rivers v. Suttes, is to the effect that the power of the Dominion Parliament to pass a general prohibitory liquor law as incident to its rights to legislate as to public wrongs is not incompatible with a right in the Provincial Legislature to pass prohibitory liquor laws as incidental to municipal institutions. Upon this decision certainly a very important one—the Montreal Commissioners have resumed their functions pursuant to Provincial appointment. If the Dominion Homogenes ds Act there will, we suppose, be [illegible] of Commissioners, two [illegible] a conflict of interests and a collision of authority, and the people will rebel against the impositions placed upon them. We hope the evils will not arise as they promise to do, but if difficulty come we desire to see Provincial rights vigorously and successfully defended.

CRY OF THE VICTIMS

A great deal having been said about Flemming it is scarcely necessary now to say who he is or what he did. In a word, however, it may be explained that he was the manager of a Chicago bucket shop, an institution to which every one having a dollar to spare could remit under promise of reaping immense profits. He was shrewd in his treatment of new patrons and managed to lead them on until he had received in trust, largely from Canadians, some $200,000. Then he bolted. He had, however, no sooner escaped one danger in the United States than he encountered another in Canada. He was arrested on a capias and imprisoned, and before he could see his way out of this difficulty the meshes of the law were tightly drawn about him. Half a hundred creditors clamoured at one time for satisfaction and a dozen capiases were issued and placed in the hands of detectives for execution. Every device was employed by the prisoner to escape, and the ingenuity of his creditors was exercised in employing plans to keep him in limbo. At length one of the Montreal creditors induced the Toronto people to let him be taken to the commercial metropolis for trial. Before Brockville was reached a settlement was effected. Flemming paid the claim of $110, and costs, $430, and, accompanied by his sister, crossed to Ogdensburg. His whole restitution in Canada was less than $2,000; his gains many thousands. Great is the wailing of the victims and little the sympathy they receive. Men of limited means have no business to speculate, especially through the medium of the bucket shops. Some one is bound to suffer by a mindeal, and he is not the man who handles the capital and yet has nothing personally or individually to lose. He cannot hope with his facilities and small means to cope with the millionaires who control the market at will, and the men who trust their cash to him under the delusion that he can manipulate it to advantage for them rightly misplace their confidence. Flemming's case will cure some people of the speculating fever; others will now learn a lesson without having to pay dearly for it, but still there will be some whose experience goes for nothing, who will contribute to the wealth of the sharpers and continue to cry out from time to time for law and protection. They deserve neither, and, if not more sinnerful than the Toronto dupes, will get neither.

THE HAY MARKET.

The Philadelphia market reports of last week state that the hay market is in better shape, as stock is well cleaned up and the market firm for No. 1 timothy, but receipts are very light. The statistics of the United States prove that hay is among the foremost crops raised in the country, if not the first. There are in the States 40,000,000 sheep, 40,000,000 cattle, and 20,000,000 horses, and in two-thirds of the country these require to be fed from three to five months and therefore the consumption in the aggregate is 20,000,000 tons. At $8 per ton, even this represents $480,000,000. Hay is a king.

SORE THROAT.—The best cure we know of for sore throat is a gargle of Pain-Killer and water—it acts like magic.

ST. GEORGE'S SERVICE.

The Anniversary Service of St. George's Society—A Fine Choral Service—Graphic Sermon.

Yesterday afternoon the St. George's Society attended a special service at St. George's Cathedral, in a body, marching from St. George's Hall. The attendance was not as large as usual, either of Englishmen or the general public, for several reasons, easily determined. The custom of this service extends back to the juvenile days of the Society, nearly forty years ago. There is one thing just as old, though, the generosity of the Rectors and Church Wardens of the Cathedral in yearly placing it at the Society's disposal. This Church, too, has a marked English origin beyond that of being a Church of England. It was built over sixty years ago, with the substantial assistance of the Imperial Government, over $10,000 being given by it on the condition that the troops in garrison should always be free to attend it.

The Rev. Thos. Bousfield, Society's Chaplain, read the service, choosing most appropriate lessons. The choir, under Miss Morrish's direction, sang several spirited hymns, a solo in one being taken by Mrs. Bettis. A solo was sung also by Cadet Leonard during the offertory. The choir deserves praise not only for willing service but for very fine music.

A FLOWERY SERMON.

The Rev. W. Lewis took as text the words from II Kings vii. "The Lord our God be with us as He was with our fathers. let Him not leave us or forsake us; that He may incline our hearts unto Him to walk in all His ways and to keep His commandments." He expressed the pleasure it gave him to be able to respond to the invitation of his fellow countrymen in Kingston to address them on the anniversary so dear to them and in a church dedicated to their patron saint, whose very name is the rallying cry, "For St. George and Merrie England," had served England's hosts to victory. He pictured the bustling up from fragments of many peoples and rough tribes the greatest of free and enlightened empires, the prowess and skill of whose sons gave them a foot in every clime and rank of life. Great Britain was not only a seat of empire but the mother of countries as well. Her language, formed out of rude dialects and polished up into power, strenuous and beauty, is the most used and most admired in the world. Her growth and success as a nation were more like the creation of a fairy land than the workings of a studied order of things. How did our fathers accomplish so much? God truly must have been with them in the spirit of the text. The Church of the nation sent out its missionaries for the amelioration of mankind here and for his happiness hereafter. Then our land in the outset was in darkness, but the Church of England affected a union of several diverse peoples or tribes into one powerful monarchy which has wrought wonders in the way of humanity.

PROGRESS AND CIVILIZATION

and gained for us privileges which our very freedom in this advanced age makes us incapable of valuing. The building up was not done in a day; our fathers passed through many storms and tribulations; they searched and labored, for confidence is a plant of slow growth. But the foundation was sure, because His promise is always sure. Storms beat against the fabric in vain. The promise given to Joshua at the swollen water of thes Jordan was open to our fathers and is free to us now. But our difficulties are not as they then were. Science and religion have made all things easier and plainer, and yet out of this science has arisen an unbelief begotten of pride of knowledge, out of which in turn have grown Nihilism, Communism and other low grades of socialism, feeding their barbarity upon a bitter hatred of works of industry and good order. It would almost seem that the Lord God had turned against us for our individual sins, pride and perverseness. Ought we not to pray that He would incline our hearts in the spirit of the text?

SUBSTANTIAL WORKS.

Feelings and thoughts were but the flowers of life. Deeds, good deeds, were the fruits. Our works shall be the test upon which eternal life shall be given or withheld; they spring from the grace of God, just as the light issues from the sun. The soul must be sustained by grace as the source of all good work, enlisting our humility and unselfishness. Our Saviour denied Himself for our sakes; we must deny ourselves for Him, and even a cup of cold water given in the right spirit will not be despised. Anybody, by some daily act of kindness can become a ministering angel.

LOYALTY TO HOME.

Just as the Celt, the Pict, the Scot, the Anglo and the Dane were fused in the old land in the common name, so here in Canada ought we, of many origins, be indistinguishably blended in one faith, in one love for our adopted country. We must restrain our love of mother land so that it may never reach the tide of angry faction, and we must reprise sharply the demagogue who would make a bad use of national prejudice.

He would be unworthy of his English birth if he closed without a reference to our beloved Queen, who for about half a century has ruled so beneficently and happily for her people; who, while living in the fierce light of publicity which surrounds the throne, has won golden opinions as Queen, wife and mother. Her sympathy, love and purity have been thought in one beautiful character, engraven upon the hearts of her people. Long, long the fervently prayed, might she yet reign.

The choir sang "God save the Queen" with fervor and the service ended. The Society, upon returning to the hall, passed a warm vote of thanks to the Rev. Mr. Lewis, who responded in an interesting address. The choir and Dean and Wardens of the church were thanked for their kind offices.

Mr. Booker Kirkpatrick gave a private dinner in his Chambers, at Ottawa, on Saturday night.

LATE A. SUMMERVILLE.

Death of Perhaps the Oldest Engineer in the Dominion—Sketch of His Career.

This morning, after a brief illness, Alexander Summerville passed from earth. He has not been ill very long. It is but a few days ago that the writer met him at the corner, smart and cheerful, but not fully recovered from an illness which he thought was of but a temporary character. Next day he was confined to his house, and gradually sank until death came. Mr. Summerville was one of the oldest and most respected citizens, and he was also the oldest steamboat engineer in the Dominion, a fact of which he was not a little proud. His experience in navigation commenced when in 1832 he became second engineer of the six Great Britain, described as a perfect palace, built by the late Hon. John Hamilton and commanded by Capt. Joseph Whitney. The boat plied between Montreal and Prescott, was liberally patronized. Deceased recently spoke to the writer on this steamer during the prevalence of cholera, the boat having to be stopped frequently on her trips and the bodies removed; he has also referred to his narrow escape when Bill Lett, who destroyed Brock's monument, left on board a trunk which exploded in the saloon, doing great damage and causing a fire which he helped to extinguish. In 1837 Mr. Summerville was put on the steamer Commodore Barry, running between Prescott and Hamilton, and in 1838 he became chief engineer of the Sir James Kempt, built by the late Capt. Gildersleeve at Bath and making trips between Prescott and the River Trent. This boat, during the battle of the Windmill, was engaged to carry a large number of prisoners to Kingston. Still in the employment of Mr. Gildersleeve Mr. Summerville in 1840 became engineer of the Prince of Wales, then he went on the Henry Gildersleeve, chartered by Mr. Hamilton and ran in opposition to the Donald Bethune between Toronto and Hamilton. Her

ABOUT HIS EXPERIENCE

CHIEF OFFICERS WERE EXPERIENCED,

Messrs. Brown and Trowell, the latter was the Captain of the steamer Algerian. Deceased remained on the Gildersleeve until 1876, when the New Era came out, and he was put in charge of her machinery. This boat ran between Montreal and Toronto, and Mr. Summerville remained upon her for two seasons. In 1847 he went on the six Magnet, in 1852 on the Bay of Quinte, and in 1855 on the Rankin. In 1863, with a splendid certificate of competency, he retired from engineering and, with his sons, went into the grocery business. He did not like it as well as he expected and in 1871 resumed his position on the Rankin; in 1874 he was appointed engineer of the Bohemian; in 1876 he was assigned a place on the Algerian; in 1878 he went to Passport, whose engines he handled until 1881.

SOME COULD DO MORE CAREFUL,

some more fortunate in his engagements. Last summer he spent visiting his sons in Michigan. They are prospering, and one has obtained the position of a District Judge. They will be shocked by the death of a parent for whom they entertained the greatest love. Mrs. Summerville and her family will be deeply sympathized with in a bereavement which is wholly unexpected and will be hard to bear.

A RIPE AGE.

Yesterday there died here an old and respected resident, one of almost a public character, owing the part he has filled in the improvement of the city and the enjoyment arising from his work. The late Bryan O'Donnell came to this city thirty-one years ago, to take charge, under the late Father McDonnell, of the Vicar General's Garden at Sagonpolis College. The bush had not long been cleared away from what is now even below the heart of the city, and Mr. O'Donnell planted the first tree in the garden. Under his care for twenty-two years it became so rich in summer dress and yielded so plentifully the abundant fruit, as to stand at the head of the cultivated spots in the city, gaining him the credit he deserved as a skilled gardener. About nine years ago he took charge of the garden of the House of Providence here and made it a verdant picture. His reputation then brought him an engagement at Boston, but his health being poor he returned to his old charge at Kingston and kept it until his death yesterday at the age of 81 years. He is now going to his long home just as the seed is being fitted for the earth he loved to cultivate, and we trust that the life work he has planted will spring up, too, in flowers of everlasting peace.

GOOD DRILL INSTRUCTOR.

Sergt. Major Fields, of the 14th P.W.O. Rifles, will drill the Salvation Army, or No. 4 Company, on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, until further notice. It is 37 years to-morrow since Sergt.-Major Fields enlisted in the First or Grenadier Regiment of Foot Guards, known as the Household Troops. He served in the Grenadier Guards for 12 years and on coming to Canada served in the Royal Canadian Rifles for over nine years. He was Sergt.-Major of the Military School here from its opening in 1865 till his discharge in 1867. He then acted as Drill Instructor of the G.T. Brigade for nearly two years. He became Sergt.-Major of the 14th Battalion in 1869 and continues in this capacity to-day. He has done duty as Acting Quarter Master Sergeant, Clerk in the Brigade Office, and Commissariat Issuer at London.

CHURCH BUILDING.

Yesterday afternoon there was a meeting of the Special Committee having in charge the laying of the corner-stone of the new church at Sharbot Lake. Those wishing to witness the ceremony will be conveyed from the city in railway coaches, and arrangements will be made for their comfort at the Lake. Father Twomey went out this morning to see to the decorations and final arrangements.

IRISH AFFAIRS.

Dublin Trials Continued—Subscriptions to the Parnell Fund—More Informers.

Clifden, Ireland, April 30.—O'Keefe & Coen, merchants, have been arrested on a charge of being connected with the marmor conspiracy. The informer implicated a number of apparently respectable people in the conspiracy.

MILITIA MEN AND POLICE.

Limerick, April 30.—Several drunken members of a militia regiment in uniform attacked the police last night. Several of the militia men and police men were injured.

THE PARNELL TESTIMONIAL.

Dublin, April 30.—The Freeman's Journal publishes 6,000 subscriptions to the Parnell fund, most of which came from Tipperary. The fund now amounts to $6,000.

TRACING CARY'S ANTECEDENTS.

The police have evidence implicating James Carey, witness for the Crown in the State trials, in the murders of Talbot, the police informer, of Clarke, the Fenian informer, and of Brecklaner Boban, and also in the attempted murder of Murphy, bookkeeper of the Irish People. It is likely that he will yet be tried on one of these offences.

THE TRIAL OF FITZHARRIS.

Dublin, April 30.—The trial of Fitzharris, on a charge of participation in the murder of Cavendish and Burke, began this morning. Nevin, arrested on Saturday on a charge of being concerned in the murder conspiracy, has turned informer. The prisoner pleaded "not guilty." Porter, Attorney General for Ireland, argued that although Fitzharris merely drove the murderers in the course of his avocation as a cab driver, and did not know the object of their errand

AN EXTRADITION WANTED.

London, April 30.—Documents containing charges against a dozen persons now in America, accused of the murder in Ireland of Kelly and Caird, have been forwarded to the British Minister at Washington. Depositions will be lodged in the case of five more alleged murderers. Secret negotiations are now proceeding between the British and American Governments with a view of the extradition of these men.

IRISH PARLIAMENTARY PARTY.

It is believed that Tynan could convict the Parliamentary party directly with the crimes if he could be extradited. No effort would be spared to identify the member of the House of Commons who attended the meeting of assassins.

Fagan's conviction partly reassures the Crown officers, who began to dread the complete success of the conspiracy by tampering with the jurors.

IMMIGRANTS ARRIVED.

Boston, April 28.—Nine hundred immigrants, nearly all evicted Irish farmers, sent over by the English Government, arrived to-day.

AN ENGLISH OPINION.

London, April 30.—The Times says the Irish Convention at Philadelphia be gan in a clap trap of folly and malignity and closed after the same fashion. The whole scene would be painful were it not supremely ridiculous. The only practical suggestion made by the Convention to injure Great Britain is the advice to the people of Ireland to buy nothing from England unless they are obliged to. It is a confession of impotence when Irish malice is driven to such a paltry expedient, which, if tried, would only injure its adopters. The lesson for Great Britain is to ignore the Irish people and abandon the hope of bringing them to a better frame of mind by the continuance of numerited favors. They have already convinced the rest of the world that they are unfit to have a national independence and they must be made to feel the strong hand of the law.

THE HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

In the House of Commons Mr. Trevelyan stated that he believed a widespread conspiracy to murder existed in the County of Clare. The Government hopes to bring the conspirators to justice.

O'Donnell, member for Dungarvon, accused Clifford Lloyd, Special Magistrate, of altering the depositions made on oath. He asked whether the Government would retain him in office. Messrs. Trevelyan and Gladstone refused to answer.

O'Donnell presented evidence, which he claimed would sustain the charge against him.

A WARNING NOTE.

Parnell Said to be Deeply Compromated in Conspiracy—His Counsel to Americans.

Chicago, April 30.—A Washington correspondent gives an account of an interview with a person supposed here to be an attache of the British Legation. The attache says Mr. Parnell sent several despatches to Mooney, Egan and Brennan at the Philadelphia Convention, warning them to act with the utmost caution. Threats against England would be the sign for strong measures by the British Government and might endanger the future usefulness of the Irish members of Parliament. Before the Convention met the leaders of the moderate party agreed that the resolutions should not countenance anything but constitutional agitation, but acts of violence were not condemned. The attache also says the Council of Seven will be closely

WATCHED BY ENGLAND.

It is understood that one member is a United States Senator. That increases the danger of a rupture between the two countries. Great Britain will never give up Ireland and the Irish patriots know it. Certain demands have been made by Great Britain and are in the hands of your State Department. They will be passed upon very soon. The peaceful tone of the Irish Convention may lead to hesitation on the part of your Government, but the decision must if necessity be reached in a few weeks. There will be more arrests in England and Ireland and increased activity on the part of the conspirators here. You can put it down as a positive fact that Parnell is afraid of his personal safety. He is implicated in

WORST CLASSES OF CONSPIRACY.

He knows that the platform of the new League will not prevent the continuance of the outrageous crimes perpetrated in the name of Irish freedom. Parnell had better keep a close watch over himself. Egan had better reconsider his decision to return to Ireland at an early day. It will also be advisable for Brennan to be circumspect in his utterances. Before these gentlemen know where they are there will be a thunder clap from the "Right little, tight little Island" which may stop for ever the floodgates of their patriotic eloquence.

A FESTIVAL ROW.

Brazoria, Texas, April 30.—Convict guards John Leonas and S. Bonfreaux, in a row at the colored people's festival, fired at Jim Wright, colored, nine effectual shots. Wright fired, killing Leonas and fatally wounding Bonfreaux.

THE MINOR NEWS.

The local stock market was very strong this morning. The Toronto Bank shares sold up to 230, and were higher at the close. Other bank stocks also improved somewhat.

Great alarm has been caused in Kingston by the theft of all the keys of Wind sor Castle by unknown parties. Information now in the possession of the police incriminates Carey, the informer, in active participation in several mail robbers prior to the Phoenix Park assassinations.

TERRIBLE CYCLONE.

Minden, La., April 30.—There was a cyclone at this parish a few days above here on Saturday. The force of the track is 13 miles. Many buildings were wrecked. Fences were carried away and trees blown down all one plantation.

Eight negro men and several children were injured. On another forty acres of heavy timber were blown down. On the Gamble's place Mrs. Youngblood was severely and several children slightly hurt. Miraculous escapes reported. Several negroes were found across the field but unhurt. No one was killed or mortally wounded.

A SAD SUICIDE.

Nashville, April 30.—Mary Ballorum on Saturday night poured oil over her clothing, ignited it and stood on the floor watching the progress of the flames. The efforts to rescue her were futile, she resisting any approach until burned from head to foot, the flesh peeling off wherever it was touched. Though suffering acute pain she makes no complaint. It is thought she will die. She became insane two months ago on account of the death of her children. She attempted suicide twice before.

HOSPITAL ENDOWMENT

Scranton, Pa., April 30.—The plans for the Moses Taylor Hospital have been completed. The cost of the buildings will be $300,000. Additional endowments will be made by Percy Pegyne and the heirs of the Taylor estate, probable to the extent of $200,000. It is also reported that the Lackawanna Iron and Coal Co. and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western will each make a subscription, thus raising the fund to nearly a million.

COUNTERFEIT MONEY.

Washington, April 30.—The first counterfeit of the new $5 National Bank note was discovered the other day by a woman at the counter of the Treasury after it had passed the New York banks. It was rather a poor photographic copy. The women experts of the Treasury say there is a much greater amount of counterfeit money in circulation than is commonly thought.

A SALARY GRAB

Ottawa, April 30.—The "Round Robin" asking that the members salaries be increased this session by $400 is being largely signed. It is said that the request will not be granted, but that probably the sum of $200 will be voted.

STRIKING MINERS.

Youngtown, Ohio, April 30.—It is stated that 1,100 miners, at the secret meeting on Saturday, resolved to strike against the 10 per cent. reduction.

Mr. George Swezey, of Memramcook N.B., writing from Moncton, N.B., under date of May 7th, 1878, says: "In January last I came to Moncton from Memramcook to consult a physician, as I was in the last stages of consumption. When I arrived here I had at once to go to my bed, and was so low I never expected to leave it. A physician was called who pronounced my case as hopeless; that I might live a week or two, but not certainly more. As a last resort he recommended "Robinson's Cod Liver Oil with Lacto-Phosphate of Lime." I purchased a bottle and after taking the first dose commenced to improve. It seemed after taking a dose, as if I had eaten a good, hearty meal. I have continued taking it ever since and am rapidly improving. I am confident that had it not been for your Oil I would have been in my grave to-day. You are at liberty to use this in any way you wish, as I am anxious to let others, who are afflicted in the same way, know, in the hope that they too may receive the same benefit."

For sale by Druggists, $1 bottle.

COTTON MARKET

Liverpool, April 30.—Cotton, 6000 Uplands 5 11-16, Orleans 5¾.

Mr. Thomas Lees, Dragged Gravenhurst, Ont., writes: My customers who have used Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspepsia Cure say that it has done them more good than anything they have ever used. It has indeed a wonderful influence in purifying the blood and curing diseases of the Digestive Organs, the Liver, Kidneys, and all disorders of the system.

Be Advised in time, and do not allow what may appear to you as a simple back ache now, to run into a disease of the kidneys, which is variably proves fatal in the end. Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure will at once ease your pain and positively prevent those unfortunate results. Take it at once. Any druggist will have it.

Sanford lost his strength with his hair. Thousands of men and women lose their beauty with theirs, and very large numbers restore the ravages of time by using the famous Cingalese Hair Restorer. Sold at 50 cents per bottle by all druggists.

Would you avoid the biliary complaints incidental to spring and summer? Cleanse the system with Burdock Blood Bitters. It regulates the liver, bowels, kidneys and blood, and is the purest tonic in the world. Trial bottles 10 cents.

C. A. Livingstone, Plattsville Ont., says: I have much pleasure in recommending Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil, from having used it myself and having sold it for some time. In my own case I will say for it that it is the best preparation I have ever used for rheumatism.

The Month of April is the time that the wise man takes a blood purifier. You cannot get a better or safer medicine than Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. Price 50 cents a bottle. Ask your Druggist about it.

Consumptive.—A name well known in connection with the Hair Renewer which restores grey hair to its natural color by a few weeks use. Sold at 50 cents a bottle by all druggists.

The Most frightful scourge of humanity is Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Commencing with a little pain in the back, it harrows the sufferer to a premature grave. Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure is the only known remedy that prevents the fatal result. Take it in time.
