LABOUR TROUBLES.

The Ottawa Free Press has the following:

"There is great reason to believe that there will be an unusual amount of labour troubles during the coming Summer and Fall. In various places the workmen in important industries threaten to strike, in most cases to resist the attempt of employers to lower their wages. One thing which labouring men should not forget is that, so long as the present tariff remains so long will they be expected to keep their wages cut down. High tariff means low wages, necessarily. With low or no duties on material any workingman can see that wages could rise, because what would be saved by low duties could be safely added to wages. Of course workingmen have free rubies, free sawdust and free sausage skins (unchanged), and they should therefore be happy."

Four years ago the N.P. was inaugurated. It has not done what was expected of it; it could not keep open some of the industries opened under its auspices, notably the St. Lawrence Sugar factory; it could not prevent the prophesied over-production of sugar, cotton, etc., and the consequent cutting of rates now advertised in the leading papers; it could only add to the taxation of the consumer, and this taxation will be more deeply felt when the pinch of hard times comes. We don't long for business reverses, for experiences which will vindicate any man's views on political economy, but depressions will come periodically despite the fiscal policies of the wisest of Governments, and such a fact may be demonstrated in Canada much sooner than expected.

TRADE POLICY.

The American Democratic party will fight the next election on the tariff question, and when they take possession of the House of Representatives next December they will proceed, if the advice of the New York World is heeded, to deal with such brazen swindles as the imposition of a duty of 121 per cent. on the shopkeepers' plate glass and 140 per cent. on the poor man's blankets. After that they will take up the Treasury decisions under the new tariff, one by one, and carefully examine them. The tariff question will thus be straight way reopened sufficiently to enable the consumers of the country to get in and trample out a brood of protective taxes the enactment of which was notoriously a matter of bargain and sale last session. The men who paid for the enactment of such taxes meant to prohibit importations, which are the source of public revenue, for the benefit of a few Shylocks like the plate-glass and earthenware men. The policy of the Democratic party, if the advice of the World is followed, will bring over to the support of the Democratic ticket every well conducted and self-sustaining manufacturing industry in the land, but no such tariff trimmer and Pennsylvania protectionist as Mr. Randall, who failed to denounce the corruption of the last Congress, can be Speaker! The one great mistake of the Democrats in the past, especially in the Presidential election, was its trimming on the trade question. This is now quite apparent, and the leading party organs are determined that, if they can prevent it, the blunder shall not be repeated. The outcome of the ensuing political battle will be interesting to Canadians, even to those Tory journals which denounce in the United States that which they applaud and support in Canada.

DIFFERENCE IN MEN.

Liberalism and Conservatism vastly differ, and we hope it will always so continue. We may misjudge Toryism, somewhat by looking upon it as the same thing in both England and Canada, its professors being actuated by only one desire, the elevation and perpetuation of party. At one time the Conservatives became monotonous and wearying in their descriptions of the similarity which existed between Sir John and the late Lord Beaconsfield, and believing their methods to be in some measure alike we must conclude that the Canadians have a greater fondness for jugglery than their prototypes since the tricks that succeeded in one country failed in another.

In the old land the brilliant tactics of the Tory leaders for a time pleased the people, but their confidence could not be retained without some show of progress, without the exhibit of a policy which meant the public weal at any cost and sacrifice. Mr. Gladstone's course has been one of straightforwardness, of unflinching determination to do right, and he has never been known to falter because the attainment of his purpose threatened to deprive him of the support of any class or community. It was only the other day that he rose to say that he favoured the Affirmation Bill, that he believed it embodied principles which appealed to his judgment, and that he meant to see it through the House. He was aware that he ran counter with the opinion of many eminent persons, clerical and lay, and that the passage of the bill would not be helpful to him in a purely party sense. This only made his convictions more deep-seated, and he remarked that considerations of a personal or party nature would not deter him from following the path which duty dictated. He would not, he said, truckle to the whims of any sect; he meant to act conscientiously though the heavens fell. This has been his custom in the past, and history proved that the right not might always prevailed.

The contrast is an unfaithful and unhappy one, but we cannot refrain from contemplating the differences there are between the politicians of England and Canada. Sir John Macdonald is regarded as a great man, as the "greatest statesman that ever breathed," to use an expression of a local speaker in the late election, and yet his best thoughts have been associated with schemes calculated to prolong his term of office and sustain his party in power. He is ready to propose or abandon any measure if by so doing he promotes his unworthy objects, and the proceedings of the present session of Parliament afford ample evidence on this point. His last iniquitous measure is his Franchise Bill. Its evil does not lie in its extension of the right to vote to many people not now possessing it, but in the begging to a partisan officer the duty of preparing the lists upon which an election is to be decided. There is no doubt of the political intention of this clause, and there need be no doubt of the misuse of the authority it conveys should occasion for such arise.

We hear every day of how the political atmosphere in Canada is clearing, of how noble and patriotic, and poor because patriotic, our public men are, but lines like these contained above all things appear to be few indeed. For one thing plain Mr. Mackenzie should be praised—he would not yield to what he thought was not for the country's good, that he chose to go under rather than become a mere placeman. Time may demonstrate his wisdom, as it has demonstrated the wisdom of the grand old man who leads the Government of Great Britain.

Rev. E. A. Stafford proceeded to-day to Toronto to attend the meeting of the Methodist Transfer Committee. He will know to-morrow whether Kingston or Winnipeg is to be his future home.

THE EXEMPTION QUESTION.

The owners of the K. & M. Forwarding Company do not want exemption. They think it wrong to pass such a sweeping measure as that which received the Council's sanction last night. They are at all times willing to pay their taxes. Ald. Gildersleeve last night gave the reason why exemption was granted to the Forwarding Companies on all their property. It was to have the Companies to permanently anchor here, to erect large elevators, and when the canals were deepened prevent the trade from being carried to Prescott and other points east of Kingston. The exemptions will be to the city's advantage.

CAPTAIN ABBIE'S PRAYER.

When Ald. McIntyre arose at the Council meeting and presented the petition of the Salvation Army he was received with a "volley." He presented the prayer of the petition because he was the most military looking man around the board. The civic papa were anxious to see Capt. Abbie's autograph, and the petition was passed about for that purpose. The Judge Advocate from Ritchie Ward bid a motion introduced granting the "exemption" asked for, and it passed without opposition. There were no obstructionists. The City Hall will only be let to the Army when not otherwise required.

WELCOME SOCIAL.

A Cordial Greeting to Rev. Mr. Hooper—An Original Song—Speeches.

One of the most enjoyable events of the season occurred in Johnston street Baptist Church last evening in the welcome given to Rev. Mr. Hooper and the social in connection. There was a large gathering to welcome the Rev. gentleman, the choir, most of the congregation and also nearly all the members of the city being present.

The first item on the programme was the supper, and a large item it was. Three large tables were set with everything good to eat, from the coconut pie and sandwich to the four-story cake, which never lasts long. The tables were well patronized for upwards of an hour.

The ladies deserve much credit for the manner in which this part of the programme was carried out, and the guests deserve cash for the manner in which they took the cake.

After the supper Dr Jackson took the chair and Prof. Mowat led in prayer. The Chairman, after a short interlude, called upon the choir for a song of welcome. The piece was original and given in excellent style. It ran thus:

SONG OF WELCOME.

Welcome pastor to the mission,
May the God who reigns above
Bless us by this new addition
To new favors of his love.

And may Zion's increased affection
Hold our hearts with warmest ties,
While we live beneath the protection
Of our Father in the skies.

Long we hope to see, word and deed, as
On the strength and success was
When through Jackson are twenty in
We can see a brighter day.

May those strangers flitting hither
As they come, grace to win,
Cast their burdens on the Master
And be led the guide within.

So with welcome song we greet you
May the life be full of joy
And we sincerely never meet you
Or this happiness destroy.

A number of other welcomes were given by the choir during the evening.

EXPRESSIONS OF WELCOME.

The Chairman called upon the Rev. Mr. McClung to express the welcome extended to their new brother, which he did in a very appropriate address. It welcomed Mr. Hooper as a man, his physiognomy indicated that he was such an ambassador of the king of kings and Lord of Lords, she as a Baptist minister. He expressed the wish that Mr. Hooper's congregation would protect his house and character.

Rev. Mr. Hooper made a telling reply. He had been given a unanimous call and made a unanimous response. He heartily thanked all for their cordial welcome.

A UNANIMOUS GREETING.

Revs. A. Wilson, Prof. Mowat, McKay, Madge, Elliott and Hagar concurred with Mr. McClung in welcoming Mr. Hooper to his new sphere of labor, and as a brother and co-worker for Christ. The congregation also gave him and Mrs. Hooper and family a hearty greeting.

REVIVED TO CONGRATULATIONS.

During the evening a telegram was received from Mr. and Mrs. Cook, of Toronto, extending hearty congratulations to the congregation in their choice of Mr. Hooper.

DISCUSSION REGARDING FENCES.

Last night while the Consolidated by-laws were being considered a clause making the height of fences not greater than seven feet, with face to the street planed smooth and well painted was expunged but not before there was some lively talking. Ald. Allen called the clause "Nonsense. The measure would be very feasible and an ornament to the business portion of the city but could not be carried out in the suburbs. Many Aldermen agreed that a man could build his fence to the moon if he desired. Ald. Carson made a vigorous address in which he pointed out that spite and vindictiveness oft a caused fences of unnecessary height to be erected. He knew of many instances. A gentleman here intended erecting a brick row that would have brought the city $120 in taxes but he was prevented by a neighbor who built an unsightly fence obstructing the view from the intended houses and the scheme had to be abandoned. Ald. McIntyre defended Mrs. Grimason in her action in erecting a high fence at the back of her lot. Ald. Carson had other persons in mind than Mrs. Grimason. Ald. McIntyre repudiated fences altogether. He trusted the tastes of the people would be cultivated up to his own during the next fifty or one hundred years. He had attempted to inaugurate the system but it was impossible to carry it out and he dropped on the affair owing to the annoyance from stray bovines.

STREET WATERING ORDERED.

The City Council have taken time by the "top knot," and the citizens are not to suffer this year from dust as in previous years. The Aldermen's promises to their constituents will be faithfully fulfilled. At last night's meeting Ald. Whiting took early action and moved:

That the Chairman of Fire, Water and Gas be instructed and empowered to take such action and incur such expense as may be necessary, during the year, to properly water and keep the dust thoroughly laid upon the following streets:

Princess, from Ontario to Barrie.
Brock, from Ontario to Sydenham.
Clarence, from Ontario to Bagot.
Ontario, from Johnson to Queen.
King, from West to Queen.
Wellington, from Johnson to Queen.
Bagot, from Brock to Queen.
Montreal, Brock to Queen.

And that he have control of the city horses and power to hire, from time to time, such other horses and drivers thereof as may be required for this purpose, and have power to purchase another watering cart.

There was an interesting discussion, the chief opponent being the hotel Lord Bagbas, who brought up the old cry that the out-lying wards had to pay the expense of watering, but got little benefit by it. The motion passed as the clock struck 1 o'clock.

CANADIAN ROMANCE.

Hearing From a Father After Thirty Years—Securing an Ample Fortune.

Hamilton, May 1.—Thirty years ago Mr. Hyland, living in Thorold, suddenly left home, leaving his wife and two children unprovided for. Two years after Mrs. Hyland learned that her husband had died in California. Since then the family ceased to think of Mr. Hyland as in the land of the living. Her husband's unaccountable absence so preyed on Mrs. Hyland's mind that she lost her reason, and was for fourteen years confined in the Toronto Asylum, where she died. One of the daughters married Mr. Wright, of St. Catharines. About two months ago Mrs. Wright saw an advertisement asking for heirs of one Hyland, who left Canada about 30 years ago. Mr Wright learned that Mr Hyland died a year or two ago in California and left all his property to two daughters now in Canada. Negotiations were opened and a copy of the will sent to Mrs. Wright. There is no doubt that the Mr Hyland who made the will is Mrs. Wright's father. The will leaves all his real property to his daughters Ann Mrs. W. and Bridget. But Bridget died when a child, and consequently all the property reverts to Mrs. Wright. The property consists of one farm, 400 acres, in Sutter County, Cal. ornia, 640 acres of leased land, and a farm of 800 acres in Placer County, California. On one of these farms are 1,000 sheep, and 800 lambs. The property is variously estimated at from $150,000 to $200,000.

ARRESTED FOR ROBBERY.

Baltimore, May 1.—John Fisher, white, Henry Marcus and Henry Smoot, both coloured, were arrested in Highland Town last night for robbing graves. They had the bodies of two white men and a coloured woman in a waggon and stopped at the brewery to get a drink. The policeman came along and inspected the load. A large crowd then started to lynch the prisoners. The robbers say they were employed by leading physicians here, who promised them $5 a piece for bodies. They assert that they took bodies from the pauper cemetery, Bayview, but believed they were stolen from Mount Carmel. The last Legislature made grave robbery a penitentiary offence.

REVOLTING REVOLUTIONS.

New Brunswick, N. J., May 1.—The keeper of the poor in East New Brunswick, Township, since last May has been Adolph Hamm, who received $2.25 per week for each inmate. It is alleged that each pauper has been given barely enough to keep up life in them, have been starved and never had any fire in their rooms during the winter. The sick has been kept in the attic where the snow drifted through the roof and without proper covering. One man lay with the flesh rotting from his bones from a neglected sore. Another was treated to rum and whiffs from a tobacco pipe while the death rattle was in his throat.

A REPORT CONTRADICTED.

Washington, May 1.—The statement from London that secret negotiations are now proceeding between the British and American Governments, about the extradition of certain murderers, is contradicted. It is stated that there can be no secret negotiations for such a purpose. The State Department cannot under the Extradition Treaty, refuse the issue of a warrant if called upon by the British Minister, who must in due form allege what is charged, but the question of evidence of criminality is a matter for review by the State Department. At no time can the hearing be secret.

DESPERATE SLUGGING.

Chicago, May 1.—There was a prize fight in the town of Laxe on Sunday between John Kelly, of New York, and Rodney Cunningham, bar-tender for Adj. Appleton. It was a slugging match from the beginning. Eight rounds were fought in 26 minutes. Both men were dreadfully punished. Kelly had his face cut and his nose broken. Cunningham lost four teeth, and it is believed that he had his skull fractured. The fight was awarded to Kelly. It is believed that Cunningham will die. The police are in search of Kelly.

INCREASE OF CHARITY.

New York, May 1.—At the annual meeting of the Charity Organization Society last night it was stated that alms have gone into houses that would make a street 32½ miles long. The greatest number of alms families congregated at any one house was 83. A selection of 100 houses gives 1,775 of such families. The habit of looking to charity for support is contagious, spreading through the tenements. Over 138,000 people here, or about one-eighth of the population of the city, are alms receivers.

A HARD SCENE.

Atlanta, May 1.—James Stringer has been convicted of the murder of his brother-in-law, named Gaddes, at Lumpkin. The men married two sisters shortly before the murder. The prisoner was convicted, mainly on the evidence of Mrs. Gaddes, who stated that Stringer and a crowd came to her house at night and Stringer shot her husband while the latter was fleeing. While the widow was testifying her sister sat beside Stringer. After the conviction Stringer broke down and wept, but would say nothing. He was sentenced to death.

SHARP LEGAL WORK.

Toronto, May 1.—Mr. Marsh of the law firm of Marsh & Macdonald (Sir John) wrote to a Brighton firm of lawyers asking them for the payment of a bill given for collection. They sent a constable with a warrant calling for the arrest of Mr. Marsh for trying to obtain money under false pretences. Mr. Marsh, who was taken East last night, intends, as soon as the affair is settled, to sue the Brighton firm for malicious arrest. Heavy damages will be asked.

IRISH NEWS

Fitzharris Dublin Trial, Acquitted In Pursuit of Tynan, "No. 1" Army Reorganization

Dublin, May 1.—Fitzharris, charged with being one of the principals in the Phœnix Park murder, has been acquitted.

No witnesses were called by the defence. The evidence against Fitzharris was that given by the informers. He was besides identified by independent witnesses, who swore that they saw him in the Park on May 6th. McInerney made an eloquent speech for the defence. He said that although Peter Carey swore that the prisoner recounted the story of the murders to him, his narrative of the assassination differed from the ascertained facts. He closed with a pathetic appeal to the jury to restore the poor man to his starving family with the good name which was his sole possession.

The Judge in charging the jury said it was clear that Fitzharris was in the Park when the murder occurred, but if the jury doubted that he was innocent of a knowledge of the mission of the murderers whom he drove then the jury was bound to acquit him.

After the verdict was rendered Fitzharris was taken back to gaol to await trial on a charge of conspiracy to murder, the penalty for which offence is 10 years' penal servitude.

The organization of improved military transport facilities, especially in Ireland, causes no small attention in England. Another attempt has been made upon Mr. Forster by means of explosives in a letter sent through the post.

Be Aseptic in time, and do not allow what may appear to you as a simple back ache now, to run into a disease of the kidneys, which invariably proves fatal in the end. Dr Van Buren's Kidney Cure will at once ease your pain and positively prevent these unfortunate results. Take it at once. Any druggist will have it.

Samson lost his strength with his hair. Thousands of men and women lose their beauty with theirs and very large numbers restore the ravages of time by using the famous Cingalese Hair Restorer. Sold at 50 cents per bottle by all druggists.

Would you avoid the biliary complaints incidental to spring and summer? Cleanse the system with Burdock Blood Bitters. It regulates the liver, bowels, kidneys and blood, and is the purest tonic in the world. Trial bottles 10 cents.

C. A. Livingstone, Flatsville Ont. says: I have much pleasure in recommending Dr Thomas Eclectric Oil, from having used it myself, and having sold it for some time. In my own case I will say for it tha it is the best preparation I have ever tried for rheumatism.

The Month of April is the time that the wise man takes a blood purifier. You can not get a better or safer medicine than Dr Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. Price 50 cents a bottle. Ask your Druggist about it.

Celtaline. A name well known in connection with the Hair Renewer, which restores grey hair to its natural color by a few weeks use. Sold at 50 cents a bottle by all druggists.

The Most frightful scourge of humanity is Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Commencing with a little pain in the back, it hurries the sufferer to a premature grave. Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure is the only known remedy that prevents the fatal result. Take it in time.

Mr. George Stewart, of Memramcook N.B., writing from Moncton N.B., under date of May 7th, 1878, says:

"In January last I came to Moncton from Memramcook to consult a physician, as I was in the last stages of consumption. When I arrived here I had at once to go to my bed, and was so low I never expected to leave it. A physician was called who pronounced my case as hopeless, that I might live a week or two but not certainly more. As a last resort he recommended "Robinson's Cod Liver Oil with Lacto-Phosphate of Lime." I purchased a bottle and after taking the first dose commenced to improve. It seemed after taking a dose, as if I had eaten a good, hearty meal. I have continued taking it ever since and am rapidly improving. I am confident that had it not been for your Oil I would have been in my grave to-day. You are at liberty to use this in any way you wish, as I am anxious to let others, who are afflicted in the same way, know, in the hope that they too may receive the same benefit."

For sale by Druggists, $1 bottle.
